However, I believe we will announce when you come back next week a different convening time for the following Monday. I believe it will be 11:00 in the morning on the 3rd of June. On the 10th of June, if we are here on that day, we will convene at 1:00 o'clock on that Monday.

On Monday, May 27th, our convening time will be at 1:00 o'clock.

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, the Majority Floor Leader, of course, has been well informed that there are no hotel rooms in the Penn Harris or the Harrisburger Hotel for a majority number of our Members of the House. Are there facilities available through the Secretary or the Chief Clerk of the House to take care of our House Members on Wednesday and Thursday nights?

Mr. JOHNSON. In answer to your query, there will not be any rooms at the Penn Harris Hotel those three days. The Harrisburger Hotel has informed the Secretary of the House that they will use every effort to take care of as many of their Legislators as possible. There are six rooms still available at the New Governor Hotel. Those who do not have facilities, or a room, can contact the Secretary of the House and every effort will be made to place you in adequate quarters. The rooms at the New Governor are reserved under the name of the Secretary of the House, in order to hold the rooms.

We might say that the three days we will be back here will be exceedingly important days because we expect to have the General Appropriation Bill on the calendar for discussion, for debate and for action so we feel that we should all be here on those three days.

The Secretary of the House will make every effort to provide sleeping facilities.

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, I thank the gentleman from McKean, Mr. Johnson.

We have checked with the Majority Floor Leader continuously now week after week for this particular week. We basically had not been assured, other than as Mr. Johnson assured us today, that it would be a full working week, Wednesday, Thursday and Friday, the 22nd, 23rd and 24th of May. Actually, we do not believe that Wednesday will be too much of a working day, but the major problem involved is hotel space for our Members.

I would like to insert in the record again that we feel we will go along and try to get as many of our Members as possible out for the full working session, but we certainly do not like the policy of the hotels in Harrisburg on a situation that they have created again for our House Members.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS HOUSE

Mr. VAUGHAN asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

Mr. Speaker, when I first came to Harrisburg in 1947, I presented a bill asking the General State Authority to build a hotel for the benefit of the Members who are thrown out at the will of the hotels.

However, at this time I would like to congratulate the Harrisburger Hotel for the fine job they are doing for the Members of the House. There are no words in my vocabulary bad enough to say anything about the Penn Harris, believe me, because I have quite a vocabulary.

The SPEAKER. The Chair will assure the gentleman that he can probably get some help from other Members of the House if he does not have the proper words.

Mr. VAUGHAN. However, the Penn Harris is doing very fine, I understand. They insult you and they are still making a million dollars.

So in all seriousness I do want to say that the Harrisburger Hotel is to be congratulated for the fine job they are doing for the Members of the House. They are trying to take care of the Members who are thrown out of the Penn Harris.

Mr. LOPRESTI. Mr. Speaker, I suggest we roll the bill along with the vocabulary.

Mr. BELL. Mr. Speaker, as one of the suburban Members of the House, may I invite you to join us in our wonderful motels, quiet, cool, comfortable and available.

The SPEAKER. The Chair would like to inquire of the gentleman, what are the rates?

Mr. BELL. I find them a little bit cheaper than the hotels.

SENATE

WEDNESDAY, May 22, 1957.

The Senate met at three o'clock, p. m., Eastern Standard Time.

The PRESIDENT pro tempore (M. Harvey Taylor) in the Chair.

PRAYER

The Chaplain, Right Reverend WILLIAM J. SPIEGEL, Pastor of St. Paul's Catholic Church, Butler, offered the following prayer:

Our help is in the Name of the Lord, Who made Heaven and earth.

O Lord, hear my prayer and let my cry come unto Thee.

The Lord be with you and with your spirit.

Let us pray.

O Lord, we adore Thy unseen majesty and confess Thy infinite sovereignty as we, Thy creatures, turn to Thee to invoke Thy guidance in this serious hour. We recognize good government as a blessing from Thy infinite wisdom. We are mindful that every good gift is from above, coming down from Thee, the Father of Lights, with Whom there is no change nor shadow of alteration.

Realizing our shortcomings, we ask Thy inspiration to precede our actions. May Thy eternal wisdom, Who has brought order into a world of chaos and from Whom all just laws have emanated as their source, look down upon these, Thy creatures, who ask Thy guidance. May Thou strengthen them in their will to serve Thee by formulating wholesome laws for the peace and prosperity of the Commonwealth. May their efforts redound to Thy honor and glory and good will among men.

At the opening of this Session, we express our gratitude for Thy protection from the calamities of nature which have had such disastrous effects in various other parts of our glorious republic.

May we ask a special blessing for our stricken fellow citizens whom Thou, in Thy providence, has visited so severely. Thus, may all our prayers and all our deeds ever take their beginning from Thee, and so begun may, through Thee, reach their completion.

We ask Thee, O Lord, our God, to hear us and grant our petitions through Jesus Christ, our only God and Savior. Amen.

JOURNAL APPROVED

The PRESIDENT pro tempore. A quorum of the Senate being present, the Clerk will read the Journal of the preceding session.

The Clerk proceeded to read the Journal of the preceding session, when, on motion of Mr. PECHAN and Mr. MALLERY, further reading was dispensed with, and the Journal was approved.

COMMUNICATION FROM THE GOVERNOR

He also presented communication in writing from His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth, which was read as follows:

SENATE BILL No. 327, PRINTER'S No. 140,
RETURNED WITHOUT APPROVAL

May 20, 1957.

To the Honorable, the House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

I return herewith, without my approval, Senate Bill No. 327, Printer's No. 140, entitled "An Act authorizing the board of directors of railroad companies to constitute an executive committee from among their number and conferring such authority upon the committee as the board shall provide."

The purpose of this bill is to permit the board of directors of any railroad company to adopt a resolution by a majority vote of the whole board which would delegate to two or more of its members as its executive committee, the right to exercise the authority of said board in the management of the business of the company to the extent provided in said resolution.

It is true that a similar provision now exists under the Business Corporation Law, the Act of May 5, 1933, P. L. 364, Article IV, Section 402, 15 P. S. Section 2852-402, and it is, furthermore, true that such a provision permits management to act expeditiously in cases where expedition is deemed necessary by management. The existence of precedent and such advantage, however, cannot outweigh the risks which attend this provision. We must never lose sight of the rights of dissenting and minority shareholders. Their voices must continue to be heard if we are to be assured that responsible management exists.

Therefore, we must find that this bill is defective in that it could permit the board of directors of a railroad company to delegate all of its duties to a so-called executive committee by mere resolution. The provisions of the resolution could be such that the delegation of the authority and the duties of the said board might amount to a complete abandonment of the duties and authority which have been entrusted to the whole board of directors by the shareholders.

A broad and unrestricted resolution could effect such an abandonment of duties and authority by the whole board of directors that the rights of minority shareholders are rendered less effectual.

Thus by majority vote of the whole board the voices of dissenting shareholders and directors could be stilled. For these reasons, the bill is not approved.

GEORGE M. LEADER.

HOUSE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION No. 107 REFERRED TO COMMITTEE

He also presented extract from the Journal of the House of Representatives which was twice read as follows and referred to the Committee on Education:

JOINT STATE GOVERNMENT COMMISSION TO STUDY THE PROBLEM OF HIGHER EDUCATION

In the House of Representatives, May 13, 1957.

Whereas, The problem of equal opportunity of all for higher education in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania has become a matter of widespread concern, particularly the question of state subsidization of qualified secondary school graduates without adequate financial means to continue their schooling at the college level; and

Whereas, A number of plans have been advanced seeking a solution to this problem and containing in many instances meritorious features; and

Whereas, The participation of the State in this field involves broad questions of financial feasibility, revenue sources, adequate administration and overall effectiveness and has led to widespread controversy; and

Whereas, The General Assembly requires additional specific and detailed information in order to determine intelligently the form and extent of any such program or programs; therefore be it

Resolved (the Senate concurring), that the Joint State Government Comm. conduct a thorough study of the problems of higher education by considering the following factors:

1. Advisability of establishing free or loan scholarship funds for worthy students who have displayed a capacity for higher learning to be based upon a study of various existing scholarship programs.

2. Authorizing use of existing high school facilities as Junior colleges on a community level.

3. Extension of college centers similar to those throughout the Commonwealth to be operated by and through existing institutions of higher learning.

4. Whether the Commonwealth should expand its present system of State Teachers Colleges with a view to their eventually becoming State Universities.

5. Determining the capacities of existing institutions of higher learning in Pennsylvania and the point at which they will have reached their maximum capacity.

6. Make a detailed analysis of the cost of such programs for higher education including, in addition to outright grants, the cost of overall administration.

7. Compile any other data or information that will be needed by the General Assembly to appraise the problem of higher education in the Commonwealth, while considering the task of doing a good job with respect to primary and secondary education; therefore be it further

Resolved, That the Joint State Government Commission submit a report to the General Assembly on its findings and recommendations as soon as completed but not later than January 1, 1959.

SENATE RESOLUTION

REFERRED TO COMMITTEE

DIRECTING THE JOINT STATE GOVERNMENT COMMISSION TO MAKE A STUDY OF THE PRACTICE OF INCLUDING THE VALUE OF MACHINERY IN A MILL OR MANUFACTORY IN REAL ESTATE TAX ASSESSMENTS IN COUNTIES OF THE SECOND CLASS

Messrs. KOPRIVER, JR. and FLEMING offered the following resolution which was twice read and referred to the Committee on Local Government:

In the Senate, May 22, 1957.

Resolved, That the Joint State Government Commission make a thorough and complete study of the practice of including the value of machinery in a mill or manufactory in real estate tax assessments in counties of the second class, giving attention to all questions and problems involved in the practice, and be it further

Resolved, That the Joint State Government Commission make a report of its study and findings together with its recommendations for appropriate legislation to the next General Assembly.

SENATE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION

REFERRED TO COMMITTEE

GENERAL ASSEMBLY TO EXAMINE ALL PROPOSED LEGISLATION RELATING TO BUSINESS, INDUSTRY AND AGRICULTURE IN TERMS OF ITS EFFECT UPON THE BUSINESS CLIMATE OF THE STATE

Mr. KESSLER offered the following resolution which was twice read and referred to the Committee on Rules

In the Senate, May 22, 1957.

Whereas, Good business climate is hereby defined as follows:

1. Fair and equitable treatment in legislation and administrative regulation for all segments of Pennsylvania's economy.

2. A framework of government, the support of which adds no greater cost to doing business than the cost of government imposed by other industrial states.

3. Equitable tax policies, and restriction of the cost of government to reasonable levels.

4. Fair treatment for all in legislation and administration of labor-management relations affairs.

5. Fostering, in the public interest, an economic atmosphere which will enable Pennsylvania's agriculture and industry to compete for out-of-state markets, remembering that wide marketing of Pennsylvania products brings wealth into the State, thereby raising the standard of living of all of our people; and

Whereas, For reasons herein after set forth, it will be critically important for Pennsylvania to create and maintain a good business climate; and

Whereas, Pennsylvania's population is increasing at the rate of about 60,000 persons per year; and

Whereas, The capital investment necessary to provide jobs for the expected 20,000 new workers each year will be in excess of three hundred million dollars ($300,000,000) annually; and

Whereas, Industry and agriculture are the prime movers of the rest of the business economy; and

Whereas, Healthy industry broadens the tax base, thereby providing much-needed revenues for community facilities and government services for all our people; and

Whereas, In this era of rapid industrial expansion and relocation throughout the United States, industries, selecting locations, are vitally concerned about the comparative business climates among the states; and

Whereas, A good business climate attracts needed industrial payrolls, while a bad business climate tends to deter new payrolls from coming to a state and to drive established payrolls away; Now, Therefore, Be it

Resolved (the House concurring), That the General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania henceforth shall examine all proposed legislation relating to business, industry and agriculture in terms of its effect upon the business climate of the State, and shall determine whether such legislation may have any future discriminating or deterring effect upon the investment of capital and the creation of needed payrolls in Pennsylvania; and Be It Further

Resolved, That the Members of the General Assembly hereby request the Governor, and the head of each department, board and commission in the State Government to examine their own discretionary actions and orders in any way relating to business, industry, and agriculture in terms of the effect of such governmental action upon the business climate in Pennsylvania; and Be It Further

Resolved, That the Chief Clerk of the House of Representatives and Secretary of the Senate are hereby directed to transmit suitable copies of this resolution to the Governor, and to the head of each department, board and commission in the Government of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. PECHAN asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. PECHAN. Mr. President, during the time that I have been a Member of the Senate, one of the disturbing things to me has been the number of pigeons and the amount of dirt which they create on our State Capitol and the damage they do to the buildings.

I understand that the Audubon Society is agreeable to a method being devised whereby these pigeons could be humanely removed from the Capitol buildings without any harm being done to them.

In most of our offices now, there are air conditioners which bring the stench and debris into our rooms. I think it is unhealthy. Not only that, but they bring in pigeon lice; you can see them flying around. That is probably one of the reasons you see me scratching so much. A good many of the pigeons seems to like my offices and we have them on both sides.

Therefore, Mr. President, I am offering the following resolution.

I understand that in no way will these birds be harmed. If this resolution is adopted, it certainly will save hundreds of thousands of dollars which we now use to pay people to clean the windows and ledges. Not only that, but I think the people who occupy the Capitol will be much healthier.

SENATE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION REFERRED TO COMMITTEE

DIRECTING THE DEPARTMENT OF PROPERTY AND SUPPLIES TO MAKE INQUIRY AND DETERMINE A MEANS OF PERMANENTLY RIDDING THE STATE CAPITOL BUILDINGS OF PIGEONS WITHOUT HARMING THEM

Mr. PECHAN offered the following resolution, which was twice read as follows:

In the Senate, May 22, 1957.

The large number of pigeons which make their home on the Capitol buildings not only render these otherwise beautiful structures unsightly but also cause widespread damage and unnecessary expenditures of funds for cleaning purposes.

It is reported from authoritative sources that a method has been devised to rid any specified area of pigeons without doing them any physical harm; therefore, be it

Resolved (the House of Representatives concurring), That the Department of Property and Supplies is hereby directed to make inquiry and determine a means of permanently ridding the State Capitol buildings of pigeons without harming them, and to immediately expend such funds as may be necessary to put the plan derived from its inquiry into effect; and be it further

Resolved, That a certified copy of this resolution be forwarded to the Secretary of Property and Supplies.

REQUEST THAT RULE 39 BE SUSPENDED

Mr. PECHAN. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that Rule 39, which requires resolutions be referred to an appropriate committee, be dispensed with and the Senate proceed to the consideration of the foregoing resolution.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Is there objection?

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, I rise to oppose the immediate adoption of this resolution for this reason. The Department has made a study and has asked for an appropriation. Perhaps Senator Pechan does not know about that. I presume he is in the same position as I am, whereby he is not let in on anything that is going on. That money was cut out of the budget by the Republicans in favor of the pigeons.

Mr. PECHAN. Mr. President, I will support it if we can get rid of the pigeons.

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Armstrong, Senator Pechan.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Will the gentleman from Armstrong, Mr. Pechan, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. PECHAN. I will, Mr. President.

Mr. BARR. Am I to understand that if I withdraw my objection, you will see to it that this money is put back in the budget? Senator Kessler has been one of the chief visitors to the Department of Property and Supplies, complaining about these pigeons.

Mr. PECHAN. Is there an appropriation for that this year?

Mr. BARR. There was, but it has been cut out by those butchers over there. I do not know who they are.

Mr. PECHAN. I would not call them butchers. I did not know there was an appropriation for it. I do know, however, that someone in the Department of Property and Supplies feels it can be done for about $15,000. It certainly would be a worth-while and saving proposition to the Commonwealth if that were taken care of. However, if you object to the adoption of this resolution, I will agree to it going to the Committee on Rules where you and I can discuss it privately.

Mr. BARR. I will still object. Perhaps we can get the appropriation put back into the budget.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. There being objection to the immediate consideration of this resolution, the resolution is referred to the Committee on Rules.

BILL INTRODUCED AND REFERRED

Mr. WATKINS. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to introduce a bill at this time.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Is there objection? The Chair hear none.

Mr. WATKINS read in place and presented to the Chair Senate Bill No. 828, entitled:

An Act providing for the selection of suitable lands throughout the Commonwealth for the erection thereon of new mental outpatient clinics.

Which was committed to the Committee on Public Health and Welfare.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. BARR asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. BARR. Mr. President and Members of the Senate, in case you do not know it, yesterday there was a Primary Election held throughout the State and a Special Election was held in the county of Montour. Therefore, to enlighten some of the Republican Members as to what happened, I want to tell you that in 1954, the Democrats won that seat with a plurality of 458 votes, or they received fifty-four per cent of the votes. In 1956, when President Eisenhower ran there were 300 less votes cast than in 1954 and we lost the seat by 800, the Democrats receiving only forty-three per cent of the votes.

Mr. President, yesterday in this Special Election, we won this seat by 733 votes and the Democrats received fifty-nine per cent of the votes in that county.

That, to me, is positive proof that the rank and file of the people are in favor of the Democratic Party and the program it is putting forth in Pennsylvania. I know that the Pennsylvania Manufacturers' Association opposes the program; the Chamber of Commerce is against it; the Republican State leaders are against it and their representatives in the Legislature are against it. I suppose there is no one in favor of it except the people.

Mr. President, last Friday I found out what was going on in connection with the General Appropriation bill. I went to the News Room and told the newspapermen that I had a statement which I wanted to issue. However, some of them were afraid to use it and said that what I had to say, they did not know to be a fact regarding these figures. I told them I received the figures from a reliable source and, still, some of the newspapermen were reluctant to use them. I hasten to tell you that I did not get my figures from any employees of the Appropriations Committee of the House or the Senate, or from any employees of the Republican State Committee. Therefore, no one shall face the hatchet by any of the Members on the other side. I told them I was going to read this news release:

"The news appearing in Friday night's papers"—which was an AP report—"is the most shocking blow to representative government that has happened in my twenty-odd years of public life.

"These budget cuts were made in the Republican State Political Headquarters on Front Street in Harrisburg and not one Democratic member of either the House or Senate Appropriations Committee was even given a look-see.

"It was shocking enough, at the Joint Senate and House Republican-controlled Appropriations Committee Hearings, to see the politically paid Republican State Committee publicist sitting in as though a member and at times even bold enough to ask questions which were reserved for Committee members."

I could offer a little amendment there, Mr. President. I even understand now that the Republican paid publicist is on the payroll of the House Appropriations Committee. I think that is quite wrong. I read further as follows:

"But to have the services, which the public demands, cut in a political headquarters is so out of bounds that I am sure every interested Pennsylvanian, whether he or she be Republican or Democrat, will demand that the powers and provinces of the duly elected members of the Legislature be restored to the committee rooms on Capitol Hill and not to the plush rooms of the Republican State Committee."

Mr. President, I want to say to the newspapermen that if they did not believe me then, I know they believe me now. On that same day, on the 17th day of May, the Democratic Members of the Senate and the House, belonging to the Appropriations Committee,—I cannot speak for the Republican side—had not even been told one thing which appeared in this budget. The Pennsylvania Manufacturers' Association sent out their bulletin as of May 17, and it arrived in my office in Pittsburgh on Monday, the day before the Primary Election. It said, "GOP Balances Leader Budget by Cutting $100,000,000 and Sets June 15." Here are the reductions which they stated they are going to attempt to accomplish. I say "attempt" and I know what I am talking about.

Mr. President and Members of the Senate, I think this is a shocking blow to representative government. I do not think that even the Members on the other side would be in favor of the Pennsylvania Manufacturers' Association sending out information as to what is in the General Appropriation Bill before they know it.

INTERROGATION

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, I would like to interrogate the Chairman of the Appropriations Committee, but I see he is not here. However, I would like to interrogate the Majority Floor Leader and, perhaps, he can enlighten me just a little bit as to what is going on on Capitol Hill.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Will the gentleman from Crawford, Mr. Mahany, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. MAHANY. I will, Mr. President.

Mr. BARR. Senator Mahany, are you a Member of the General Appropriations Committee?

Mr. MAHANY. I am, sir.

Mr. BARR. Have you been made aware of the cuts that have been made in the budget?

Mr. MAHANY. Not all of them, Senator. I have heard reports of cuts being made, also, I understand that the General Appropriation Bill is in print. If I would have had the time to go over and get a copy, I could have found out all of the cuts which have been made.

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, I want to inform the young gentleman that he cannot get the information from House Bill No. 1700. However, in a few minutes I will be able to give him what the various budget amounts were in the last biennium, what was in the budget and what is in House Bill No. 1700. I will give it to you better than House Bill No. 1700.

Do you think it is right that we on the Democratic side, who are Members of the General Appropriations Committee,—these were Joint Committee Hearings and this was supposed to be a joint bill and it was agreed to bring it out in the House—were not allowed to know anything that was in the bill; that the bill went out on the floor and no Democratic Member was even called to a committee meeting about it?

Mr. MAHANY. Senator Barr, I understand that we were all invited to attend those hearings which were held by the Joint House and Senate Appropriations Committee. I have no doubt that you did attend some, with Senator Dent and others. This is a bill which was drawn up by, I understand, the Chairman of the House Appropriations Committee and submitted by him. You have opportunity, of course, in the House to present amendments to it or you may even present amendments in committee before it comes out of committee. Certainly, after the House gets finished with it, it comes over to the Senate and then we will have an opportunity to wrestle with it here.

I think it is wrong, Senator, for us to debate a bill which is not before us and anticipate something which might come before us next week. Maybe we will not get it for two weeks.

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, I am not debating the bill. I take exception to the fact that the gentleman says I am debating the bill. I am just debating what happened in the Appropriations Committee.

I did not wish to interrupt the Gentleman.

Mr. MAHANY. Senator, nothing has happened in the Senate Appropriations Committee. If something has happened in the House Appropriations Committee, I am not aware of it. I have no idea what they are doing in the House. They have not conferred with me lately about the contents of the bill. They did mention some cuts that would have to be made if we were to bring our expenditures in line with the revenue which we expect to receive from the present tax structure.

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, I do not intend to debate any cuts that were made. I am going to send over to you some very enlightening literature, which is more than I received from the House or Senate Appropriations Committees.

It is true they had these hearings. It was stated that after the hearings were held, the Joint Committee would sit down and deliberate as to what was to be done.

Mr. President, that was said in bad faith, because that was not done. There was no member of the Democratic side, on either the House or Senate Appropriations Committee at all, who was called in on any one of these cuts.

I ask you, Mr. Mahany, do you think that is the type and the form of government which we should operate under on Capitol Hill.

Mr. MAHANY. I am not going to pass on what was done in the House. That was entirely up to them. I presume they would have to start the bill sometime, and that is what they have done. As you know, many bills are started and when they come out of committee, they have amendments made to them and when they come over to the Senate, they have some more amendments made. You have to start somewhere and I imagine that is what was done. They had to start a bill. They put it in and from that time on, it will be subject to any improvements or anything else that we want to do with it. That is the democratic process, Senator, and I cannot find fault with it.

Mr. BARR. My fault, Senator Mahany, is that the Democratic processes were not followed through.

I speak now as the Democratic State Chairman. Why did Mr. Bloom get this information to give to his Manufacturers' Association before the Democratic Members of the House Appropriations Committee got it? Can you answer that question?

Mr. MAHANY. No, I cannot, Senator. I do not know that they did get the information. What they have in there might be wrong, I do not know. They might anticipate something that is not quite correct or they may have misinformation on what happened.

I am sorry that we do not have our Republican State Chairman here to answer you. You seem to act in two roles, as Senator and State Chairman, and we are not in that fortunate position here on this side.

Mr. BARR. Sometimes I think it is an unfortunate position for the Democratic Party that I am here in two roles. Nevertheless, as I understand House Bill No. 1700 today, I find this report to be ninety-eight and one-half per cent accurate. There may be a change of several hundred thousand dollars here and there.

The thing I do not like about what the Pennsylvania Manufacturers' Association put out is that they did not get down to enough detail. For instance, I do not find here any mention that they cut the school lunch program. Is that not peculiar?

Mr. President and Members of the Senate, I am not going to belabor this problem any more today, but I promise you that I think you will hear from each Member of this side tomorrow. I think I am speaking as the people in Montour County spoke yesterday, that they want representative government returned to Capitol Hill. They do not like steamroller tactics.

I took it upon myself today to answer a question of Time Magazine by criticizing the Majority Leader in the United States Senate, Senator Lyndon Johnson, who I thought was asking for cuts in Eisenhower's budget which I do not think are good for the people. I will do that anytime I think I am right. Mr. Johnson is entitled to his opinions. I told Time Magazine I was going along with the way Senator Clark, from Pennsylvania, felt about the budget.

I wish you would read last night's Evening News, or this morning's Patriot, where they said in an editorial that Governor Leader made the best defense of the Eisenhower budget that has been made yet, even better than the President himself.

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, I do not intend to argue this General Appropriation Bill before it gets to us. I think we will have lots of time to argue about it.

As I remember, two years ago, when the Democrats were in control of the House, we were not consulted in any way about the manner in which the bills were drawn or the content of them before they came out of committee. It seems that the majority party in the House must assume some responsibility for the preparation of this General Appropriation Bill and get it out on the floor where they might debate it.

I do hope the House will take ample time to debate this in full in order to present all the facts concerning it, because I am fearful some of these newspaper editors are leading off without knowing too much about the content of the bill or what it might do.

As I understand it, adequate funds are being supplied to carry on the present services; also funds supplied to match Federal grants. When this all comes over to us, we can examine it. That is the reason we have two houses in the Legislature. That is the reason we have the advantage of the bicameral system, so that one house may initiate a bill and then have it come over here and we can also study it. If we cannot agree, we can throw it into a conference committee where we might be able to agree on the contents of the bill.

I do not think this is the time to argue this bill. I want to tell the gentlemen of the press that they should not anticipate what the final form of this bill is going to be and say that we are cutting off a lot of State services. We fully expect to carry on the State services which we now have. However, it should be pointed out to all these people, who are interested in more expenditures, that the more expenditures we have, the more taxes we have to raise.

I understood when Governor Leader was a candidate, he was against raising the taxes. Ever since he came in, he has been bombarding us over the head because we do not give him more money. He is spending millions and millions of dollars more than the Administration which he succeeded and which he said was spending too much money.

We feel that if we are to encourage the business of Pennsylvania and see that people have jobs and see that factories come into Pennsylvania, and also that they expand here, then we must have our tax structure in line with the taxes in the other States and not bombard these people over the head with a whole lot of expenses which they cannot stand.

If we are going to have more taxes, we will probably have to have another broad base tax. I am wondering, now that the Democrats have voted against the sales tax, whether they are now ready to vote for some other type of tax of a broad base nature. In other words, we are faced with the necessity of raising more money if we are going to go for all of these things which are in Governor Leader's budget. We feel that the people have shown that they do not want any more new taxes put on them. We have adopted that as our policy of no new taxes. Whether we are right or wrong will depend upon the people in next year's election. If they are like the people up in Montour County,—I do not know whether they voted on that particular issue or not—then maybe they will vote us out and the Democrats can come in and tax the people to death in Pennsylvania. Maybe up in Montour County they had a good looking man running against someone else who did not appear so good on television. I do not know why the people in Montour County voted the way they did, and I do not know whether I will ever be able to find out. It is always difficult to find out why people vote for one man against another. Maybe Senator Barr has the answer. I am frank to say I do not have it right now.

We do have a whole lot of work to get to on this Calendar and we would like to adjourn within the next hour. Therefore, I would suggest that we leave all these things and get to the work which is now before us, instead of anticipating something which we are going to have to wrestle with a week or so hence.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. DENT asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I will not hold the Senate up. I just want to correct one erroneous statement.

When the Chairman of the House Appropriation Committee offered the Governor's Budget during the last biennium, it was done in the presence and with the consent of the full committee, both Democrats and Republicans. Here we find ourselves in a very serious position in so far as representative government goes. We find ourselves presented with the facts contained in a bill, which is yet to be presented to the House of Representatives, by an organization in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania which is vitally interested in cutting the services to the people, the Pennsylvania Manufacturers' Association by name.

We also find that the committee, or the Committee Chairman, has had the audacity to have the bill printed in complete print, numbered and ready for submission to the House this afternoon without ever calling a committee meeting of the Appropriations Committee of the House.

I do not know what the House position will be. I am like Senator Mahany, and agree that we ought not debate the bill until it comes over here. However I do know that if I were a House Member at this time, under no conditions or under no circumstances would I permit any Member of the House, whom I could persuade to stay with me, to cast a vote one way or another on any of the features of that bill until it was returned to committee for proper consideration by the duly elected representatives of the people.

Some of the things that are contained in that budget are reflected in some of the statements being made by individuals over the State. For instance, here is a man who talks about the bill—incidentally, I have here the bill, already printed before it came out of committee and without the committee even considering it. However, we have my old friend, Colonel Rockwell, doing another somersault. What do you think Colonel Rockwell says now? He says that the reason we have so many mentally ill people in Pennsylvania is because of the high taxes on corporations.

Here is his statement contained in the paper. If any of you want to read why we have so many mentally ill people in Pennsylvania, Colonel Rockwell will tell you. I would like to quote:

"The high rate of mental disease in Pennsylvania could be attributed to the high tax rate, according to the Pittsburgh Industrialist Col. Willard F. Rockwell."

He said, in effect, that small businessmen cannot carry on a profitable business because of high taxes. Who knows how many mental cases are the result of these high taxes on small businessmen.

Mr. President and Members of this Senate, he goes on to talk about the possibility of lowering taxes. He said:

"Isn't it quite probable that, if taxes were lowered, the proposed enormous expenditure for more mental institutions would prove unnecessary? If taxes are raised again, there certainly will be a greater demand for mental hospitals and services'."

Gentlemen of the Senate of Pennsylvania, I have heard some things said and read some peculiar statements coming out of the mouths of those who have been as Charlie Wilson said, "Complaining with a ham under each arm." This is the man who Charlie Wilson said is better off today than he ever was in his life; that he represents a few who have vested interests and are not interested in services to the people or the needs of the people, but only in piling up more money.

I want you all to remember one thing. If Colonel Rockwell has his way, instead of cutting, as I understand from the newspapers, $37,000,000 from the mental health program in Pennsylvania, Colonel Rockwell would close down every mental institution in Pennsylvania if you would relieve him from all taxation in this Commonwealth.

This is the very same person who led the fight so that you could relieve taxes in this State, and you have exempted he and his kind from $42,000,000 worth of taxes by eliminating the capital stock tax exemption in Pennsylvania. You have given him $40,000,000 to $60,000,000 worth of relief under the sales tax. Now you stand up and say if we have any more expenditures, we will have to have new taxes. No you would not. Just do not exempt the favorite people, and let them pay on the same equal basis as you and I and the rest of the citizens of this Commonwealth.

All Colonel Rockwell ever talks about is the wasteful expenditure. I wonder how he bought, and did he think it was not wasteful to buy ermine seatcovers for his wife's car. That would not be wasteful. I imagine that whoever the young lady is, she ought to sit on a nice soft ermine when she drives her Cadillac. If anybody in government, were to do a thing like that, I can imagine a speech even worse than this mental health one on things to be cured by cutting taxes.

We all agree that taxes create a strain on people, but I do not think that the 50,000 unfortunates in the mental hospitals of Pennsylvania are affected or were affected by tax problems. I do not think that the 12,000 to 16,000 retarded children in Pennsylvania, whom he wants to cut out, are affected by the tax problems in Pennsylvania.

Incidentally, when Mr. Rockwell was making his famous mental health speech in Pittsburgh, why did he not say that although his company and he, himself have been able to be exempted from the greater burden of taxation in Pennsylvania, the families of those who are responsible for the mental health patients in Pennsylvania were not exempt. He did not take any taxes off those who have to take care of the mentally sick in their family, but he took them off himself. There comes a time when we have to set aside this wild blabbering of men who do not realize the problems and the provisions of government nor the responsibility of government itself.

I say to you, Senator Mahany, if you can cut this budget in any phase whatsoever and not deny the simple and decent services to the people of this State, I will support you in every cut that you make. However, I will fight until the last ditch if the cuts are going to be along the lines that I have seen in the papers. I say that advisedly, because I have not had a chance to read House Bill No. 1700.

I want to say to you, Senator Mahany, that you do have the right idea. However, when you say we will have proper time to study the General Appropriation Bill, do not forget that you have passed a sine die resolution for the 15th of June. If anybody in this room believes that they can study that budget and come up with a proper answer to all of the items in that budget between now and the 15th of June, they are in error, because we probably will not even see the bill, if the House does its duty, until the first of June or maybe the 15th of June. If it took this committee five months to do this job, a few men with the help of some outsiders and probably the statisticians of the Pennsylvania Manufacturers' Association, and I imagine some help from the Economy League and a few others outside of the halls of this Legislature, how can we intelligently vote on it in a week or two or three weeks?

I say to you that we should not fool the people; that we should not tell them that we are going to quit on the 15th of June with this monstrosity yet to be studied by the Membership of the House and Senate.

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, I rise to a point of order. The PRESIDING OFFICER. The gentleman will state it.

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, I would suggest that we go on with the work of the Senate rather than get into this wrangle.

I would also suggest to the Members of the Senate that instead of getting up here during this particular order of business and asking for unanimous consent to make a few remarks, they wait until we get to the order of business of Petitions and Remonstrances in the future.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The point of order is well taken. The Chair feels that the Senators should wait until the regular order of business to make their remarks.

Mr. DENT. I want to concur in the position taken by the Chair, but I would reflect, however, that the gentleman from Titusville was on the floor long before I was.

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, I would like to direct Senator Dent's attention to the gentleman who sits immediately to his right, who did the leading off, Senator Barr.

THIRD READING CALENDAR

BILL ON THIRD READING

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 16, entitled:

An Act amending the act of March 10, 1949 (P. L. 30) entitled "Public School Code of 1949" requiring excusing of children for non-attendance for treatment by physician osteopath chiropractor optometric or dentist.

And said bill having been read at length the third time, and agreed to,

And the amendments made thereto having been printed as required by the Constitution,

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. HAYS. Mr. President, this bill, Senate Bill No. 16, is a matter which I think should not have State Legislation. It seems to me this is a matter which could be worked out with the medical and professional people in the community and the school principal. However, if they cannot work it out cooperatively, it seems to me that the responsibility for the school and the pupils must rest with the school authorities and not with the medical and professional people of the community.

Therefore, Mr. President, for that reason I must vote "no."

Mr. PECHAN. Mr. President, the purpose of this bill is to clarify a condition which exists in the Commonwealth. The administrators in a great many school districts will excuse children to go to a doctor if need be. Others will not excuse them, causing their grades to be lowered because their parents asked them to go to a doctor, a dentist or whomever it might be.

Let me say why this legislation is necessary. A great many children who live out in the rural areas, and come to a city school, arrive by bus sometimes as early as seven-thirty or eight o'clock in the morning. The school bus leaves the school about three o'clock and the children are taken home. By the time they get home and then go for their medical or dental care, the doctor or the dentist is not there.

We spend a lot of money to examine these children medically and dentally in the schools. I think at the present time we do it every other year. Under the new act, we are going to do it four times a year. There is no use in spending the taxpayers' money to give these examinations if you are going to deny that child the privilege of seeing a doctor.

There are just not enough hours in the day. The only time the children can go to a doctor is in the evenings or on Saturdays. A great many of the doctors' offices are closed at those times. That was one of the reasons the amendment was added to the bill. The child would only be excused during an assembly, a recess or—I forget what the other provision is. There are three provisions concerning when the child would be excused. Under these provisions, being excused from school would not take away from the grades of that child attending a class in Algebra or English, or any of the other classes, and would not interfere with the child's education. We do feel that it is necessary.

A great many of the superintendents, principals and teachers just arbitrarily say, "You cannot go." If the child has an excuse from his parents, they penalize the child by taking something off his grades. That is the reason this bill was introduced.

MR. SEYLER. Mr. President, I think the remarks of the Senator from Armstrong cast a reflection upon members of another profession which it seems to me, should require a statement from him as to just what incidents and in just what places illustrate this point he is making. If there has been unprofessional conduct on the part of school principals or other administrators, I would like to know about it. I do not like to have the gentleman make statements unsupported by facts.

What this bill does, Mr. President, is it takes out of the hands of the principal or the school administrator, the discretion as to whether the child shall attend school at a given time in the school day and transfers that discretion to the hands of a dentist or doctor or other professional person, who has no exact concept at all of what the various times of a school day are allotted for, and provides that if that doctor or dentist submits a note calling for a person being excused at a given time, the principal or the administrator of the school, in whose charge the child is given for educational purposes, has no discretion but to say at that time that the child must be dismissed. Senator Pechan said that if it is only at assembly or recess times when the child will be excused. Recess is becoming a thing of the past in a large number of schools in the Commonwealth. Assembly periods are periods which are given up to an educational purpose. If they do not serve an educational purpose, they should not be in the school day. What we used to call the recess period is, in many cases, now given up to physical education which, again, is an educational purpose.

Mr. President, I have no objection to the purpose of this bill, which is to make some sort of professional agreement between the school authorities and the professional people of the community who give these other services to children. However, to make it compulsory, and to take out of the hands of the school authorities the ability to say when shall be the proper time for these pupils to be dismissed is, in my opinion, an improper thing which will go a long way toward lowering the influence of the school administrator on the children in his care because, in any case of dispute or difference of opinion between he and a professional man not in the school, this bill would force him to give in.

Therefore, Mr. President, I do not think it is a good bill. I think it could possibly be made an acceptable bill if provision were made allowing some discretion and providing, perhaps, for a conference in cases of dispute. I would support such a bill. However, in the form in which it now stands, it seems to me it is a bill which would undermine the authority of school principals and school administrators. Therefore, Mr. President, I think it is a bad bill.

MOTION TO RECOMMIT BILL

MR. SEYLER. I would like to move that this bill be recommitted to the Committee on Education for amendment of the sort that would allow some discretion to the school principal.

MR. LANE. Mr. President, I just discussed this problem with our floor leader and we thought it might be a good idea if we would carry the bill over in order, so that the school people and the professional people could get together because we do see some good points in the bill.

I do not like to see the bill killed. Therefore, if Senator Seyler will withdraw his request, I will request that the bill go over in order and we will discuss it.

MR. SEYLER. Mr. President, if an agreement is made to put the bill over, I will, of course, withdraw my motion.

MR. WAGNER. Mr. President, I just wanted to make an observation. I do not believe that this is the most important school bill we will have before us this Session nor do I think it requires lengthy argument.

As Chairman of the Education Committee, I held this bill in committee for a period of at least two months. I made it a point to sound out the sentiment of professional schoolmen in whom I have great confidence. Their considered opinion seemed to be that they saw no objection to making provision for school children to get out of school at times when they were not engaged in recitation or examinations to have this dental or medical work done.

Schoolmen do not like the idea of being told that little Johnny must leave a Latin class or chemistry class to get his teeth fixed or his eyes examined. However, my experience has been that the better educators seem to be in agreement that it is perfectly proper and helpful, in these days of jointures and youngsters being in town for a limited number of hours, to release them during the time of the day when they are not in recitation in order to have these professional services.

It is my personal opinion, Mr. President, that we have nothing to fear from the passage of this bill.

MR. PECHAN. Mr. President, I do want to say just a word to Senator Seyler in reply to the statement he made about his profession. I want him to know that I have worked with school teachers for some twenty-nine years. I have been on the school board for twenty-nine years.

It is not the intent of this bill, just because Johnny has an appointment with Doctor Jones, that he must be excused. Certainly, the school has certain rules and regulations.

Senator Seyler wanted a specific case. I want to tell you that I had been on the school board for some twenty-five years before we, in my community, were able to get children excused from school and they were excused on the same premises as Senate Bill No. 16 provides. The children in Ford City are not excused during any period other than during a study hall period or assembly period or a recess. We still have recesses. We think we have a pretty good school.

I might also say to Senator Seyler that we have physical ed classes and the children in Ford City I think are given one-half of a credit for that class. It is not a recess. They are given a prescribed time of fifty-five minutes just like they do when they take an Algebra course or when they take English or any other subject.

I want to say this, Senator Seyler. Before Johnny Jones goes to Doctor Brown, he must go to the principal's office with an excuse. If you did not have such a thing, Johnny Jones could walk out any day and say, "I have an appointment with the dentist," and you would not have any rhyme or reason with which to run the school. I certainly am opposed to anything like that happening, just as Senator Seyler is opposed.

Mr. President, I am willing to let the bill go over until tomorrow. Senator Seyler and I can talk to some people I am hoping that by tomorrow Senator Seyler will take another look at the bill and look at it with more favor.

MOTION TO RECOMMIT BILL WITHDRAWN

Mr. SEYLER. Mr. President, I wish to withdraw my motion to recommit this bill.

BILL OVER IN ORDER

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, I now ask unanimous consent that Senate Bill No. 16, Printer's No. 196, in final passage, go over in its order.

Will the Senate agree to the bill on third reading?

BILL OVER IN ORDER

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that House Bill No. 582, Printer's No. 586, on third reading, go over in its order.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection?

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I would like to make a suggestion on House Bill No. 582. House Bill No. 909 and the bill just recently introduced by Senator Mahany, Senator Yosko, myself and others, which all deal with the same subject. I would like to suggest to the gentlemen on the other side that House Bill No. 582 and House Bill No. 909 be moved back to the Committee on Rules in order for us to study this bill and the other bills dealing with the same subject; namely, budgetary knowledge and control by the legislative branch of government. I think all of the bills have something in them worth-while. We might be able to come up with a solution to this biennial dogfight on the budget and budget requirements of the Commonwealth.

Mr. President, if there is no objection, I would like to request that House Bill No. 582 be re-referred to the Committee on Rules for further study in conjunction with some like legislation.

Mr. PECHAN. Mr. President, I believe Senator Dent is referring to House Bill No. 909, on page 12.

Mr. DENT. I am referring to House Bill No. 582, on page 4, and House Bill No. 851, on page 8. It is the same bill, dealing with the same subject.

Mr. PECHAN. What is the number of the bill on page 8?

Mr. DENT. House Bill No. 851, on page 8, sponsored by Representative Wood, joined by Representatives Johnson and Gibson.

Mr. PECHAN. Both bills are sponsored by Representative Wood.

Mr. DENT. That is right. The next one is by Representatives Wood, Johnson and Gibson. They all deal with the same subject. The subject matter is that of a legislative budget commission, or control, in order for us to know what is in the budget long before the Legislature finishes up its Session, as we are doing this year.

Mr. YOSKO. Senator Mahany, when we had our last meeting of the State Government Committee, I think you said at that time that you would be agreeable to the suggestion which was just made by Senator Dent. If you will recall, before we acted on these bills, I told the group in committee that Senator Dent was introducing a bill and you said, "Let us report them out and maybe we can send them back to committee after they have passed a couple readings and after Senator Dent introduces his bill." In that way, we could take out the best features of all three bills and try to incorporate them into one bill and get a really good bill out of it.

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, I would suggest that we leave these bills on the Calendar and let them go over in order today. We will then take a look at this new bill in the Rules Committee tomorrow morning. If we think that is the best one, we will move that one out and get it on the Calendar. That will allow both Caucuses to study all these bills. We can choose from them after we get them on the Calendar.

Mr. DENT. All right, Mr. President. However, I want to remind the Senate to take into consideration three bills, Senate Bill No. 311, on page 3; House Bill No. 582, on page 4; and House Bill No. 851, on page 8. All three of these bills are related subjects.

The PRESIDENT. There being no objection, the bill will go over in its order.

BILLS OVER IN ORDER

Mr. PECHAN. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that the following bills, on third reading, go over in their order:

Senate Bill No. 590, Printer's No. 193;
Senate Bill No. 591, Printer's No. 224;
Senate Bill No. 592 (Pink); and
Senate Bill No. 593, Printer's No. 194.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 616, entitled:

An Act amending the act of June 1, 1945 (P. L. 1242) entitled "State Highway Law" fixing the manner of changing altering or establishing the width grade or lines of State highways and intersecting streets in certain cities and providing for payment of damages by the Commonwealth cities and counties

And said bill having been read at length the third time, and agreed to, be recommitted to the Committee on Rules.

Mr. MILLER. Mr. President, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, I feel first that the Rules Committee has a sufficient number of bills now to consider and, therefore, it does not need any more.

Most important, of course, is that this legislation should be put to the Senate on an open vote. There has certainly been no Caucus action requested. We do not have Caucus action on our side, and I hope the Democrats do not take any Caucus action on their side. Some of our Members would like to vote for this legislation; there are other Members who would like to vote against it. We feel it is only fair to allow each Senator to vote the way he would like to vote on this. We would like to have the bill moved up to third reading in order for us all to have the opportunity of voting either "yes" or "no" on this legislation. I imagine the votes will cross party lines, but we feel each Senator should be entitled to vote on it.

For that reason, Mr. President, I see no necessity to recommit the bill to the Rules Committee. I, therefore, oppose the motion.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Titusville, Senator Mahany.

The PRESIDENT. Will the gentleman from Crawford, Mr. Mahany, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. MAHANY. I will, Mr. President.

Mr. DENT. How did you vote on the motion to send Senate Bill No. 309 back to committee?

Mr. MAHANY. I do not think I voted, Senator. I was busy looking around here and I did not get my vote out. If I had voted, I would have voted "yes," to recommit it.

Mr. DENT. Will you tell me the fundamental difference between Senate Bill No. 309, Senate Bill No. 316 and Senate Bill No. 317? Why do you demand that everybody be permitted to vote on one bill because some want to vote "no" and some want to vote "yes."? Is that not true also of Senate Bill No. 309, sir?

Mr. MAHANY. I did not understand it that way, Senator. If you would have said that you wanted a chance to vote on that bill on third reading, maybe we would not have recommitted it. However, this bill is a lot different than Senate Bill No. 309. That has to do with plants and this bill has to do with eyes and eyeglasses. There is a lot of difference between those bills.

Mr. DENT. Is it not true, Senator, that these bills all deal with the same subject; the licensing under State law of certain specific activities within the Commonwealth, whether you are grinding an eyeglass or whether you are landscaping in an architectural fashion for some public development or private development?

These bills are all part of the craft and guild scheme all over the State where they are attempting to pass legislation to cloak with a license certain activities. We have some bills in the House dealing with plumbers, watch repairmen and auditors, and they all want the same right, to be licensed by the State.

If you state that the landscape architects, who are college men, and many other university persons have not the right to be licensed, how do you take it that an ordinary mechanic, grinding an eyeglass, would have to have a license under the Commonwealth, and thereby shut the door on future eyeglass grinders who want to come into the field of competition in this activity?

I think these bills all belong to a certain pattern and should be treated alike. If you are going to vote on Senate Bill No. 309, then you should vote on Senate Bill No. 316 and Senate Bill No. 317. However, if you are not going to vote on one licensure bill, you certainly should not vote on any of them. They should go back to committee to be studied.

Mr. MAHANY. Senator, there is no reason to study this any further. I am ready to vote on it. As far as I am concerned on this other one, if you had wanted to vote on it, I would have been glad to have put it up on third reading and we would have voted on the landscaping one, too. I do not think we should bury that type of bill in committee. If you want to insist on it, we will get that bill out again. Right now, we are talking about whether or not Senate Bill No. 316 and Senate Bill No. 317 should go back to committee. You are out of order when you talk about Senate Bill No. 309. I feel that these two bills should be passed on second reading, allowing us to vote on them tomorrow.

Mr. DENT. I support the motion to send Senate Bill No. 316 back to committee. I hope I am in order in doing that.

And the question recurring.

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

(During the calling of the roll, the following occurred:)

Mr. FLEMING. Mr. President, I desire to be recorded as voting "no."

The PRESIDENT. The gentleman from Allegheny will be so recorded.

The roll was called and was as follows:

In the name of the Father and of the Son and of the Holy Ghost, Amen.

Almighty and Eternal God, whose Providence watches over us and every human event, we earnestly beseech Thee to keep us from all pettiness; let us be large in thought, in word, in deed.

Let us be done with fault-finding and leave off all self-seeking.

May we put away all pretense and meet each other face to face without self pity and without prejudice.

May we never be hasty in judgment and always generous.

Let us take time for all things, and make us to grow calm, serene, and gentle.

Teach us to put into action our better impulses, straight-forward and unafraid.

Grant that we may realize that it is the little things of life that create differences, that in the big things of life we are as one.

And, O Lord God, let us not forget to be kind.

In the name of the Father, and of the Son, and of the Holy Ghost. Amen.

BILL PASSED OVER

There being no objection

House Bill No. 537, Printer's No. 568

was passed over at the request of the SPEAKER.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 600, entitled:

An Act amending the "Unemployment Compensation Law" approved Dec. 5, 1936 (1937 P. L. 2897) making persons discharged for failing to give testimony claiming immunity under the Fifth Amendment of the Constitution of the United States ineligible for compensation.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. McCORMACK. Mr. Speaker, this bill is designed to plug a loophole in the existing Unemployment Compensation Law whereby today communists, fellow travelers, communist sympathizers, reds and pinks are entitled to unemployment compensation when they lose their employment as a result of pleading the Fifth Amendment before a court or legally constituted body.

The Unemployment Compensation Law was designed to confer a benefit on those persons who became unemployed through no fault of their own. It is a privilege conferred on them by the state. The Unemployment Compensation Law was not designed to help these communists.

The amendment I propose is expressly limited to inquiries into the national security or national defense of the United States where treason, espionage or other subversive activities are concerned. If a person appearing before such a body or a court in that type of inquiry refuses to testify and as a result of that refusal is dismissed from his employment, this amendment would prohibit him from receiving unemployment compensation.

I do not want to belabor this at length. I do want to say that the Veterans' organizations are solidly behind this, it is good legislation and it is necessary because of the constant threats in this country today. I think those men who are called before committees should, in fairness to the United States, give information, but if they choose to claim that privilege, then I think this Commonwealth should take away from them the privilege of receiving unemployment compensation.

I ask everybody regardless of party to vote for this bill.

Mr. LOPRESTI. Mr. Speaker, this is one of those bills which is rather difficult to discuss and keep within its proper scope.

I have no more sympathy with communists, pinks, and fellow travelers than has the gentleman from Philadelphia. However, as I view it, this particular bill raises a constitutional question. We are in effect denying equal protection of the law to a person who chooses to invoke a privilege and a right guaranteed him under the Constitution of the United States.

I would like to think for a moment what we would do with these individuals. We deny them unemployment compensation, but I presume they must live. Probably, if they did not get unemployment compensation, they would qualify under our relief laws.

Our Unemployment Compensation Fund is set up by contributions made by industry. The employer makes contributions to a fund which is created and managed by the Commonwealth and all persons who have worked under the law for a certain length of time, who are qualified, are then entitled to participate in the benefits of that fund.

I am afraid if we pass this bill we will, in effect, be passing an unconstitutional law. We will be denying a man a right because he chose to exercise a constitutional right.

If the gentleman from Philadelphia would tell us how we could get rid of these particular people and not have them on the relief rolls, or not have them living off of some other tax money, if he could tell us how we could get rid of them from this country even before they have been convicted of any crime, if there was some legal way of disposing of the problem, this bill might have merit. But the fact that we deny a man unemployment compensation is not going to get rid of that particular individual. He is still a human being and he is either going to be supported by his labor, or from other tax money, or by some other more insidious sources.

If a man is working for a foreign government, they will see that he gets paid in some form or another. If he just happens to be a man who, for some reason or other is stubborn and insists upon his constitutional right, even though he is not actually proven to be a communist or fellow traveler, but just one of those fellows who insists he has a constitutional right and he is going to use it, then I do not know of any way of disposing of that individual and we have the problem of maintaining him in some form or another.

I hate to pass an unconstitutional bill and find that we still have the problem of keeping that particular fellow in one way or another. I believe we accomplish nothing by passing this bill, except perhaps putting him on the relief rolls and making it worse for the taxpayers.

Mr. BELL. Mr. Speaker, with all due respect to my friend, the gentleman from Cambria, I would like to support the gentleman from Philadelphia with respect to this bill.

If by this legislation we drive fellow travelers, reds and subversives, from the unemployment compensation rolls into the relief rolls, I say it is time to amend the relief law. The type of man who claims the Fifth Amendment when a subversive matter is being inquired into is a threat to the security of this country. I think it is time that we as Americans stand up and shake that type of person loose. Why should we support, either through unemployment compensation or any other type of support, the type of man who does not stand for the things you and I stand for?

I do not want to make a long speech, but I urge everyone in this House to vote for this bill. If the courts strike it down, let them take the responsibility for striking it down.

Mr. LOPRESTI. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate the gentleman from Delaware, Mr. Bell.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Delaware, Mr. Bell, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. BELL. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. LOPRESTI. Mr. Speaker, I am wondering what the gentleman would suggest we do with the children or those people who are dependent upon such a man? How would we take care of them?

Mr. BELL. That is a very difficult question to answer. May I suggest that the Communist party collect funds to support the children the same as we in this country have had to support the children of those boys who were killed in Korea.

Mr. LOPRESTI. Would the gentleman like to dismiss that problem altogether, dismiss it from his mind and let these dependents, who perhaps through no fault of their own, would have no food? What would you do with them? Do you just want to dismiss them?

Mr. BELL. I am afraid I would, May I complete this? Perhaps you are going to call me hardhearted, perhaps you are going to call me ruthless, you can use any expression you want, but ladies and gentlemen of this House of Representatives, in this case I say you are dealing with enemies of our country.

Mr. LOPRESTI. Mr. Speaker, as I pointed out in the very beginning, I do not believe we who might vote against this bill are any more in love with the communists than is the gentleman from Delaware. However, we want to be practical, we want to recognize a problem that exists.

I was hoping, and I still hope, that some day we will find a way of convicting the men of whom we speak of the crime of which they are guilty and separate them from society. I am just as much opposed, I believe, to communists activities and I do not like to see people taking refuge behind the Fifth Amendment. However, simply closing our eyes does not eliminate the problem.

We are dealing with human beings. They must live in one form or another. If the gentleman can come up with some other solution for taking care of the dependents, or some other way of getting this man incarcerated (taken care of properly, I would be glad to go along with him. I do not think passing this bill and shifting the burden from the unemployment rolls to the relief roll is going to accomplish a single thing. Therefore, I have to vote against this bill.

Mr. McCORMACK. Mr. Speaker, just a brief reply to the gentleman from Cambria.

I might say that in the criminal field, where I have done a lot of work, many times I have made a plea to the court that a defendant who had committed a serious crime and was about to be sent to prison had a wonderful family, he had five children and he had a beautiful wife, but the court was not deterred by that fact, it sent him to jail.

With respect to relief these children or these wives, if any are involved, are still entitled to relief, and I am certainly for that. I do not want to deprive them of anything because they are pawns, but I think that is a collateral issue which is not before us now.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows:

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. MAHANY asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, I am about to introduce a bill regulating the discharge of gas and ash, dust, smoke and other matter into the open air within the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

I very well remember the time when Senator Fleming struggled through similar legislation, governing the city of Pittsburgh I believe when he and I were both Members of the House. Senator Yosko said that he would like to co-sponsor this bill. He is standing alongside of me and I might let him do it when I finish.

Mr. President, this type of legislation, as you know, meets with some opposition, as Senator Fleming's did when he sought to govern air pollution in Pittsburgh. However, after the legislation was passed and the job was done, all of us are now proud of the progress that Pittsburgh has made. No longer is Pittsburgh referred to as the "Smoky City." The people are proud of the clean faces of their buildings. When I used to go to Pittsburgh, especially on foggy mornings in the wintertime, it was almost impossible to see. All the lights in the streets were turned on, and the street car lights and so forth were lit. The store window lights were lit. However, even with all those lights lit, it was a dark, mucky city.

Senator Fleming is to be congratulated upon his efforts to clean up the city of Pittsburgh and make it a finer place in which to live. This bill would do the same thing for the rest of the Commonwealth, as we were successful in doing for Pittsburgh.

Therefore, Mr. President, I am presenting this bill on behalf of myself and Senator Yosko, who now feels that he wants to co-sponsor this bill.

Which was committed to the Committee on Rules.

SENATE RESOLUTION

DIRECTING THE JOINT STATE GOVERNMENT COMMISSION TO MAKE A STUDY OF THE PROBLEM OF THE PHYSICAL FITNESS OF OUR YOUTH

Mr. WHALLEY offered the following resolution, which was twice read as follows:

In the Senate, May 23, 1957.

According to studies and tests, the percentage of American youths who are physically unfit with respect to muscular strength and flexibility is anywhere from thirty-four per cent to forty-nine per cent higher than that for youths of European countries.

This condition has been brought about to a great extent by indulgent parents, unwillingness of children to participate in exercise and excessive use of buses automobiles and television.

Our country will not long endure, as a leading power among great nations, if our youth is allowed to waste away and the time has come for us to attack the problem with a constructive program.

Our public schools are ideal places for carrying out a program of rehabilitating physically unfit youths. There, children may be made to engage in drills, calisthenics and exercises that will help to build healthy bodies therefore be it

Resolved, That the Joint State Government Commission make a thorough and comprehensive study of the problem of the physical fitness of our youth; and be it further

Resolved, That the Joint State Government Commission report to the next session of the General Assembly its findings and recommendations together with drafts of legislation necessary to carry the recommendations into effect.

RULE 39 SUSPENDED

Mr. WHALLEY. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that Rule 39, which requires resolutions be referred to an appropriate committee, be suspended and the Senate do now proceed to the consideration of the resolution just read.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Is there objection?

The Chair hears none.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the resolution?

It was agreed to.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. EHRGOOD asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. EHRGOOD. Mr. President and Members of the Senate, I am about to introduce, on behalf of Senator Fleming and myself, a resolution asking for a study of the problems of the State Police of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania. The aim of this study, I believe, is to make the State Police the best force in the United States and in the world. I do not think any Member of this Senate could object to such an aim. I think it is important that we have a real study made by an expert body, and perhaps an independent body, such as the Joint State Government Commission, to see how we can go about attaining that end.

As you know, and probably many of the Members have friends on the State Police force throughout the State, the morale and, perhaps, the efficiency is not of the utmost; at least, not to the great extent it used to be in prior years. I believe the Members will agree with me that a study should be made on the matters of equipment, and concerning compulsory retirement and its effect on promotion. All those things are indicated, and I believe the Joint State Government Commission could probably best do that job.

SENATE RESOLUTION

REFERRED TO COMMITTEE

DIRECTING THE JOINT STATE GOVERNMENT COMMISSION TO MAKE A COMPREHENSIVE STUDY OF THE PROBLEMS OF THE PENNSYLVANIA STATE POLICE

Messrs. EHRGOOD and FLEMING offered the following resolution which was twice read and referred to the Committee on Rules:

In the Senate, May 23, 1957.

The Senate of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania recognizes that the Pennsylvania State Police is one of the most important adjuncts of the State Government in enforcement of the laws of this Commonwealth. It is recognized that the Pennsylvania State Police is now faced with a problem of morale and efficiency. To improve both the morale and efficiency of the Pennsylvania State Police, the matter of incentive to those members of the organization, who all too frequently serve without any promotion or chance of promotion, is a matter of great concern. This is particularly true concerning married members of the force. Although there is a retirement provision for the State Police at age fifty, there is no compulsory retirement and it is generally recognized that the police officer, for the most efficient service, must have sufficient energy and adaptability to do an efficient job. It is also a matter of record that the long hours that the State Police put in are both wearing and tearing on the efficiency and morale of the members.

It is evident as well that no new and radical changes in equipment and law enforcement have been made available to the State Police, particularly is it noted that the State Police does not purchase from the automobile manufacturers the special police cars that are available which would enable the State Police to cope with speeders and "cowboys." It is noted that many other states have helicopters to take care of and facilitate the movement of congested traffic on main highways and around the metropolitan areas as well as said helicopters being useful in matters of searching. It is likewise to be noted that the State Police cars are not equipped with handcuffs, tear gas and other equipment and that the State Police as a whole do not have enough equipment so that each man is issued a pair of handcuffs.

The State Police Organization, aside from its numbers on the Turnpike, is at present composed of about 1900 men. This complement bears no relation to the increase in traffic and population and increased crime that is present in the present day and age.

As a matter of law enforcement, it is noted that narcotics detection and functions relating thereto are spread out in the Department of Health and to some extent in the Department of Revenue and it is thought advisable that a study be made to ascertain whether or not various functions relating to narcotics should be grouped under one department; therefore be it

Resolved, That the Joint State Government Commission be directed to make a comprehensive study of the problems of the Pennsylvania State Police with a view to increasing its morale, efficiency and incentives, giving particular attention to:

(1) The pay scale or a possible family allotment pay for the married members of the Force.

(2) A compulsory retirement at age sixty, as recommended,

(3) Modern, new and radical use of technological changes and equipment,

(4) The reorganization of the Pennsylvania State Police and increasing the size thereof along with the study of the State Police functions,

(5) Any other pertinent matter which the Commission deems appropriate to the State; and be it further

Resolved, That the Joint State Government Commission report to the next regular session of the General Assembly and to the Governor not later than January 31, legislation necessary to carry the recommendations into effect.

BILL ON CONCURRENCE IN HOUSE AMENDMENTS

Agreeably to order,

The Senate resumed the consideration of Senate Bill No. 423, entitled:

An Act amending the act of May 1, 1933 (P. L. 216) entitled "The Dental Law" regulating the use of dental technician services by dentists imposing duties on dentists and dental technicians and prescribing penalties.

which was returned from the House of Representatives with amendments.

Said amendments having been twice read, and printed as required by the Constitution.

On the question,

Will the Senate concur in the same?

SENATE CONCURS IN AMENDMENTS MADE BY THE HOUSE TO SENATE BILL No. 423

Mr. PECHAN. Mr. President, I move that the Senate do concur in the amendments made by the House to Senate Bill No. 423.

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Armstrong, Senator Pechan.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Will the gentleman from Armstrong, Mr. Pechan, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. PECHAN. I will, Mr. President.

Mr. LANE. Senator Pechan, will you explain to the Membership of the Senate the subject matter contained in Senate Bill No. 423, on which you asked us to concur, because the House has inserted some amendments in there? There are a couple of questions which we have in mind on this particular bill.

Number one, in my mind, I would like to know first why on page 3, line 1, you struck out the word "Pennsylvania"?

Mr. PECHAN. Mr. President, we did not take the word "Pennsylvania" out. That is a House amendment. However, it was placed there because a great many of the dentist may be practicing in Pennsylvania, but send their laboratory work to a technician in Ohio or in New York, or vice versa. New York dentists may send work to a Pennsylvania laboratory. It was to take care of the periphery or the fringe of the boundary of the Commonwealth. That is the reason we took the Pennsylvania license number out. The bill now reads:

"The signature of the dentist and his license number."

Mr. LANE. I want to thank you, Senator Pechan. I have one more question

On page 3, line 10, if you will read that, it says:

"It shall be unlawful for any dental technician to furnish services to any dentist without first obtaining a prescription therefor from him or to fail to retain the original prescription for two years or to refuse to allow the board or its agent to inspect his files."

How could an agent from Pennsylvania inspect the files of a dental technician out of the State? Is it possible?

Mr. PECHAN. Would you repeat the question, please?

Mr. LANE. How could a representative from Pennsylvania, an agent, inspect the files of a dental technician out of Pennsylvania? Is it possible to do so? Do we have a reciprocal agreement?

Mr. PECHAN. We are not particularly interested in what the New York dentist does; whether they have this type of law or not.

Mr. LANE. I am talking about the technicians, not the dentists.

Mr. PECHAN. The purpose of the bill, if I may, Senator Lane, is to keep people from practicing dentistry who do not have a license. This particular provision in the bill protects not only the patient, but it protects the technician and it protects the dentist. That is why this prescription must be kept on file for two years.

Let me say this to you, Senator Lane. It helps the enforcement agency of the Pennsylvania State Dental Society, or the dental profession, to police its own ranks.

I mean, we have people who make dentures in dark rooms, in laboratories or after hours who are not licensed. That is the purpose of this bill, to protect the profession from persons who are not licensed to practice dentistry.

Many of our cancer cases come from ill-fitting dentures which are made by people who can possibly take an impression—they have been someone else do it—they process the denture, insert it and do nothing more about it.

Mr. LANE. Senator Pechan, may I interrogate you further?

Mr. PECHAN. You may.

Mr. LANE. Is the Dental Society of Pennsylvania in support of this particular piece of legislation?

Mr. PECHAN. Yes, and the laboratories.

Mr. LANE. I see. Then getting back to my second question, you see we have here also a penalty, it is a summary conviction, for the violation of any of the provisions of this act. You stated in one of your opening remarks that quite a number of dentists in Pennsylvania may send their work out of the State. I understand they send it to Camden, New Jersey—at least some one told me so—and some other places in Ohio, too.

However, I think we will all agree that our inspectors would not have any jurisdiction to go over and inspect the dental technicians' laboratories in Ohio or in New Jersey. Is that not true?

Mr. PECHAN. That is true, Senator Lane. However, we are not concerned about licensing the laboratory. This has nothing to do with the laboratory. All we want this laboratory to do is to have on file a prescription, showing that Al Pechan ordered a certain type of denture so that, if this patient or this person is being sued by the Commonwealth for illegally practicing dentistry, this laboratory can show the prescription that this denture was made according to the prescription of Doctor Lane—we are going to call you "doctor." I am going to promote you.

Mr. LANE. Thank you, I think I am demoted.

I will ask you another question. We want to get this bill clarified. We have gone over this in Caucus for one-half hour. We want to get the thing straight.

Mr. PECHAN. Why do you not invite me to your Caucus once in awhile? I could have explained this bill to you.

Mr. LANE. I think we would be more confused than ever if you came.

Supposing you sent some dental work out to Camden, New Jersey. Would you send a prescription to the technician so he could prepare this work properly? You probably would, would you not?

Mr. PECHAN. I would.

Mr. LANE. All right, it says here that if this technician does not keep on file—I believe it says that—for two years the prescription which you wrote, he would be subject to a fine of fifty dollars. According to your thinking, this would just be applicable to dental technicians in Pennsylvania, is that right?

Mr. PECHAN. That is right, Senator Lane.

Mr. LANE. Thank you.

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

DIRECTING THE JOINT STATE GOVERNMENT COMMISSION TO MAKE A STUDY OF ALL MATTERS PERTAINING TO THE TRADING STAMP PRACTICE

In the Senate, May 7, 1957.

Trading stamps in the past two years are being used by retail establishments on a tremendously increased basis.

The useage of these trading stamps is unfair competition to the small business establishments of this State.

The usage of these trading stamps has created many abuses in that those housewives who are saving them cannot get the merchandise in trade-in as advertised and a number of the premium centers are poorly stocked.

A great portion of these stamps are never redeemed in merchandise, and therefore the trading stamp companies are accumulating unearned profits.

Some of the companies which have issued trading stamps have gone out of business, such action being to the detriment of the stamp collectors.

This entire trading stamp field should be given a thorough investigation and study in order to pass legislation to correct the existing and future abuses; therefore be it

Resolved (the House of Representatives concurring), That the Joint State Government Commission make a thorough and complete study of all matters pertaining to the trading stamp practice; and be it further

Resolved, That the Joint State Government Commission make a report of its study and findings together with its recommendations for appropriate legislation to the next General Assembly.

Laid over for one day under the Rules.

BILL ON FINAL PASSAGE

Agreeably to order,

The Senate resumed the consideration of Senate Bill No. 16, entitled:

An Act amending the act of March 10, 1949 (P. L. 30) entitled "Public School Code of 1949" requiring excusing of children for non-attendance for treatment by physician osteopath chiropractor optometric or dentist.

And the amendments made thereto having been printed as required by the Constitution.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

RECONSIDERATION OF SENATE BILL No. 16

Mr. SEYLER. Mr. President, I move that the Senate do now reconsider the vote by which Senate Bill No. 16, passed third reading yesterday.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. How did the Senator vote?

Mr. SEYLER. Mr. President, I voted with the prevailing side.

Mr. SCHMIDT. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. How did the Senator vote?

Mr. SCHMIDT. Mr. President, I voted with the prevailing side.

The motion was agreed to.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. SEYLER. Mr. President, this is the bill which we discussed yesterday. It is a laudible bill, and we have agreed upon amendments to make it possible to realize that. There is no question, with the jointures and necessity of transportation which we have in many of the schools today, that dentists, physicians and other professional people performing such services have a difficult time arranging for these children in their schedules, and taking into consideration the school program of the youngsters, in order to give those services. We have now agreed upon a formula which, I believe, will make it possible to give greater service. It calls for the cooperation of the dental profession and the teaching profession.

It seems to me that in every community it would be a very wise idea for the members of those two professions to meet together and draw up a policy in order for both the schools and the members of those professions to carry out this important duty in a manner agreeable and suiting the convenience of both groups.

BILL ON THIRD READING AMENDED

Mr SEYLER. Mr. President, on behalf of Senator Pechan and myself, I now ask unanimous consent to offer amendments at this time.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

The Clerk read the amendments as follows:

Amend Sec. 1 (Sec. 1329), page 2, lines 14 and 15, by striking out "and shall do so" and inserting in lieu thereof: "only"; Amend Sec. 1 (Sec. 1329), page 2, lines 17 and 18, by striking out "If The Period Is Devoted" in line 17 and all of line 18.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the amendments?

They were agreed to.

Ordered, That the bill as amended lie over for printing.

BILL OVER IN ORDER

Mr. PECHAN. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that Senate Bill No. 311, Printer's No. 189, on final passage, go over in its order.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

So the question was determined in the negative.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. SCHMIDT. Mr. President, I desire to read a statement issued by the Banking Department in opposition to the passage of this bill.

"This Bill would amend Section 1001-A(4) of the Banking Code by increasing the limits of consumer installment loans from $3,500.00 to $5,000.00. Such loans are made at the interest rate of 6% per $100.00 on a discount basis, making the effective rate nearly 12% simple interest.

"This Bill is sponsored by the Pennsylvania Bankers Association. The Department has indicated to the Pennsylvania Bankers Association that it will oppose the Bill.

"The Banking Code was amended in 1945 to provide for installment loans on a 6% discount basis not exceeding $3,500.00 for any one loan. Granting authority to banking institutions to make installment loans on this basis is sound. It enables banks to furnish consumer credit on a basis more favorable to the borrower than would be available through small loan companies and consumer discount companies. The increased rate of interest that may be charged for such loans is justified because of the greater risk involved and because of increased cost of handling.

"The Department of Banking opposes the extension of the limits from $3,500.00 to $5,000.00 because it does not feel that there is need at this time for such extension. Loans in excess of $3,500.00 should be made available to borrowers of banking institutions at the legal rate of 6% simple interest."

And the question recurring,
Shall the bill pass finally?

(During the calling of the roll, the following occurred):

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, I desire to be recorded as voting "aye."

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The gentleman from Crawford will be so recorded.

STUDENTS OF SCOTSDALE HIGH SCHOOL PRESENTED TO SENATE

Mr. HAYS. Mr. President, the fine, young people seated in the gallery are young constituents of Senator Dent. They are from the Scottdale High School and are under the supervision of their teacher, Mr. Wilson.

I think these constituents should know that Senator Dent is attending to his duties with the General State Authority; and that is the reason he is not on the floor of the Senate.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The Chair, on behalf of the Senate of Pennsylvania, welcomes the visitors of Senator Dent from the Scottdale High School. We hope that your visit in the Senate of Pennsylvania will be most interesting and instructive to you.

SENATE RESOLUTION

MEMORIALIZING CONGRESS TO ENACT SENATE BILL No. 946, KNOWN AS THE AREA REDEVELOPMENT BILL

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to offer a resolution at this time.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

Messrs. LANE, MAHANY, PECHAN and BARR offered the following resolution which was twice read as follows:

In the Senate, May 23, 1957.

Pennsylvania has had to face serious economic and unemployment problems for decades; and Pennsylvania's unemployment rate has consistently run higher than other states and the Nation for many years, all of which problems derive from the fact that the State's unemployment has always been very heavily concentrated in certain distressed areas of the State; and as a consequence, Pennsylvania has continuously had for more than its share of areas of substantial labor surplus, or so-called "depressed areas"; and

Pennsylvania currently has eleven areas classified as Areas of Substantial Labor Surplus on the official area classification list of the United States Department of Labor, four of which are major metropolitan areas which are regularly included in the classification system and seven are smaller areas which are classified because they have substantial labor surpluses, and all have been continuously classified as surplus areas for two years or longer; and

In the United States as a whole, only nineteen major areas are currently listed as Areas of Substantial Labor Surplus, so that the four major areas in Pennsylvania alone account for more than one-fifth of the total in the entire country and the seven smaller areas of substantial labor surplus represent one-eighth of the United States total of that type; and

The basic cause of Pennsylvania's unemployment problem arises out of the fact that the State and its depressed areas have a heavy preponderance of basic national industries in which severe and sustained long-term employment declines have been occurring due to the toll of progress and technological advancements of which anthracite and bituminous coal mining, railroad transportation, railroad equipment manufacturing, textile manufacturing, and metals manufacturing are notable examples; and

The persisting heavy volume of unemployment has contributed very substantially to the large volume of unemployment compensation activity in Pennsylvania, as represented by over fifty-six million claims filed and over nine hundred ninety million dollars—almost one billion dollars—in benefits paid during the year of 1950 to 1956, inclusive; and

Public Assistance costs in Pennsylvania have been swollen as a result of the continuing high levels of unemployment in the years 1950-1956, inclusive, to over seven hundred thirty-two million dollars in direct payments to people in need; and

Although extensive efforts have been undertaken by the State Government and by local communities to increase employment in the "depressed areas", the gains have not been sufficient to stem the rising tide of unemployment flowing from continued job losses in problem industries and from the continued normal growth of local Labor forces; and

In order to reduce unemployment to three per cent of the labor force in these eleven surplus areas in Pennsylvania 56,941 additional jobs are needed, requiring a total estimated capital investment of $427,095,000, approximately twenty-five per cent of which, or $106,774,000, would be required for factory buildings alone; and

Assuming that ten per cent of this total, or $11,000,000, is raisable from community subscriptions for equity capital, and fifty per cent of this total, or $53,000,000, is raisable from private banks, insurance companies and other sources of private investment capital as first mortgages, a balance of forty per cent, or $43,000,000, in second mortgage revolving capital funds would be necessary from State and Federal Government sources; and

The job to be done is manifestly enormous, and it is obvious that the problem of chronic unemployment with its vast waste of manpower and severe drains on the economy of a State as large and important as Pennsylvania should be a matter of grave concern to the Nation and to the Congress, as well as the State itself and the communities directly involved, and since various aspects of the problem transcend State boundaries and are sectional and even national in scope, and therefore are not susceptible to State and local remedies; therefore, be it

Resolved, That the Senate of the General Assembly of Pennsylvania, in behalf of the people of Pennsylvania, hereby memorialize the Congress of the United States to enact Senate Bill No. 964, known as the Area Redevelopment Bill; and be it further

Resolved, That copies of this resolution be transmitted to the President of the United States, the Vice-President of the United States, the Secretary of Labor and Industry, the Secretary of Commerce, the Speaker of the House of Representatives, the Chairman of the Committee on Banking and Currency of the Senate, and to each Senator and Representative from Pennsylvania in the Congress of the United States.

RULE 39 SUSPENDED

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that Rule 39, which requires resolutions be referred to an appropriate committee, be suspended and the Senate do now proceed to the consideration of the resolution just read.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Is there objection?

The Chair hears none.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the resolution?

It was agreed to.

BILLS INTRODUCED AND REFERRED

Mr. VAN SANT. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to introduce a bill at this time.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

Mr. VAN SANT read in place and presented to the Chair Senate Bill No. 862, entitled:

An Act amending the act of March 10, 1949 (P. L. 30), entitled "Public School Code of 1949," providing for review of county plans for administrative units and for elections for mergers thereunder changing the qualifications of school districts for supplemental payments by the Commonwealth on account of instruction; and harmonizing the language of existing amendments.

Which was committed to the Committee on Education

Mr. PECHAN. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to introduce a bill at this time.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

Mr. PECHAN, on behalf of Messrs. MAHANY and DENT, read in place and presented to the Chair Senate Bill No. 863, entitled:

An Act amending the act of March 31, 1949 (P. L. 372), entitled "The General State Authority Act of 1949," increasing the power of the Authority to borrow money and issue evidence of indebtedness therefor and allocating the proceeds of the increased borrowing.

Which was committed to the Committee on State Government.

SENATE RESOLUTION

DIRECTING THE JOINT STATE GOVERNMENT COMMISSION TO STUDY THE VARIOUS SUNDAY OBSERVANCE LAWS AND PARTICULARLY THE SUNDAY "BLUE LAWS"

Mr. YOSKO. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to offer a resolution at this time.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

Messrs. YOSKO and MAHANY offered the following resolution which was twice read as follows:

In the Senate, May 23, 1957.

During the early history of Pennsylvania its colonial and state legislative bodies enacted many statutes. All of these with the exception of the Sunday "Blue Laws" have since been supplanted by other laws more expressive of modern demands.

Even the amount of the penalty prescribed by the act of 1794 for engaging in business on Sunday is still the law; and no violator can be fined more than $4 for keeping open his place of business on Sunday.

The law under present day conditions is obsolete, ridiculous, unenforceable and a mockery of justice; therefore be it

Resolved, That the Joint State Government Commission be directed to study and investigate the various Sunday observance laws and particularly the Sunday "Blue Law," as well as their operation and effect; and be it further

Resolved, That the Joint State Government Commission report to the next regular session of the General Assembly its findings and recommendations, with drafts of legislation necessary to carry the recommendations into effect.

RULE 39 SUSPENDED

Mr. YOSKO. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that Rule 39, which requires resolutions be referred to an appropriate committee, be suspended and the Senate do now proceed to the consideration of the resolution just read.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Is there objection?

The Chair hears none.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the resolution?

It was agreed to.

SENATE RESOLUTION

URGING THE SETTING ASIDE OF A ROOM IN EACH STATE-OWNED BUILDING THROUGHOUT THE COMMONWEALTH FOR MEDITATION AND PRAYER

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to offer a resolution at this time.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

Messrs. LANE, RUTH and MILLER offered the following resolution which was twice read as follows:

In the Senate, May 23, 1957.

The firm belief of the American people that God is the creator of all good things and that only through Him are we enabled to achieve greatness in the eyes of both God and man is the one great secret to the success of our Commonwealth and our Country.

In realization of the continued need for inner strength and a wisdom greater than our own and for communion with the invisible and the omnipotent, a channel is needed where, in solitude and silence, persons desiring or feeling the need to do so, may meet with God and draw upon the never ceasing springs of strength through the medium of prayer; therefore be it

Resolved, That the persons having jurisdiction thereof be urged to set aside a conveniently located room in each State-owned building throughout the Commonwealth, including office buildings, hospitals, penal institutions and all other State-owned institutions for the purpose of providing employes, patients, inmates and visitors in such buildings with a place of meditation and prayer, so that they may communicate with God in a quiet atmosphere and look to Him for strength and guidance for the betterment of their lives.

RULE 39 SUSPENDED

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that Rule 39, which requires resolutions be referred to an appropriate committee, be suspended and the Senate do now proceed to the consideration of the resolution just read.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Is there objection?

The Chair hears none.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the resolution?

It was agreed to.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. WEINER asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, about two Sessions ago, we passed what is known as the Uniform Commercial Code. This, allegedly, was supposed to solve all our problems in the Commonwealth. If I remember correctly, this bill had something like 800 pages to it. As a matter of fact, it solved the problems so well that last Session another bill was introduced to amend the first bill, and this bill contained about 600 pages. We have done the job so well that after going through both of these bills and both of these acts, we find some of the finer pieces of legislation, which have been passed in this Commonwealth, and which have proven themselves over a period of years, have been taken out.

I understand since the amendments to the first bill, failed during the last Session, they have introduced a bill in the House, consisting of about 600 pages, which is now over in the House waiting to be acted upon intelligently and brought over here.

Therefore, Mr. President, I am presenting a bill to amend the first act which we introduced and passed.

BILL INTRODUCED AND REFERRED

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to introduce a bill at this time.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

Mr. WEINER read in place and presented to the Chair Senate Bill No. 864, entitled:

An Act amending the act of April 6, 1953 (P. L. 3), entitled "Uniform Commercial Code," prescribing affidavit forms in bulk transfers and prescribing penalties.

Which was committed to the Committee on Judiciary General.

REPORTS FROM COMMITTEE

Mr. WATKINS. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to make reports from committee at this time.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

Mr. WATKINS, from the Committee on Appropriations, reported as committed, House Bill No. 1632, entitled:

An Act making an appropriation to the Department of Public Assistance and providing for certain allocations therefrom for the purpose of carrying out the Public Assistance Law for the two fiscal years beginning June first one thousand nine hundred fifty-seven.

PETITIONS AND REMONSTRANCES

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, I think this will be of interest to the Members of the Senate.

I want you to know that tomorrow night your distinguished Presiding Officer, Senator Fleming, and I are going to participate in a round-table discussion on public welfare on Television Station WQED in Pittsburgh. It will start tomorrow night at 8:30 o'clock p. m., and I think you fellows should listen in because you are going to hear some very good arguments.

Mr. YOSKO. Mr. President, on the same subject, I noticed from the compilation that was given to me that the mental institutions were given a budget cut totaling $17,000,000.

One of the institutions involved is the Allentown State Hospital. I want to say here and now, and I do not say this as a threat, that unless the superintendent of that institution and the members of the board of trustees are given an opportunity to come up here and appear before the Appropriations Committee and present their budget needs, and if there is an attempt to pass the appropriation as is written, I might say that we have not had a filibuster during this Session, but we are going to have one.

I think it is silly to adopt the stupid policy of hold-the-line on taxes when mental health is involved and when the efficient operation of these hospitals is concerned.

I do not believe there is a person in this Chamber who wants to see these hospitals go back to operation by, as I have always said here on the floor of the Senate, drunks, bums and floaters. Under the new mental health policy, this condition has been relieved to a great extent and an attempt has been made to get some qualified people to administer the affairs of these hospitals. I do not think it should be disturbed; I do not think that program should be scuttled; and I do not think the people who are making these cuts should grab their figures out of the air, without giving the people from these institutions a chance to be heard. They should not grab these figures out of the air and just cut these budgets without foundation.

I repeat, if there is any attempt to cut these budgets, as is now indicated in the House General Appropriation Bill, there is going to be a filibuster on it.

Mr. PECHAN. Mr. President, I would like to state that we do have some bills in the House and Senate to repeal the Loyalty Act. I would like to place in the record, at this time, a statement which was published by John L. Snyder, of York, Pennsylvania. I would like to have the record show his publishing.

There being no objection, the article was ordered to be printed in the Journal as follows:

WAKE UP AMERICA

Before it is too late

These United States declared their independence from outside influences and abuses many years ago. They declared through a Constitution that people shall henceforth be free from the dictates inflicted upon the people of other Countries. As a result we developed into the finest Nation in the World. Who will challenge this?

BEWARE

We have in Pennsylvania, and throughout our land, some persons who expound the theory that our Loyalty Oath should be done away with. I contend that this is a dangerous step backward which will lower the morale of our Country which is what our enemies want.

Who among us is ashamed or so conceited that he or she cannot pledge allegiance to the United States of America as set forth in the Loyalty Oath printed herein.

It is this writer's opinion that our status would be enhanced if all of us declared our loyalty, not only by pledge, but by precept and example. Sober reflection should be given the following:

- (1) Next to God our loyalty should be to our Country where we live, raise our families, earn our living and enjoy the freedom provided through our Constitution.
- (2) Either as native born or naturalized citizens, to have the protection of this Country, we should stand up and be counted as Loyalists to our Government. We should be glad to pledge loyal support to these United States of America or get out. Where could we have it better?
- (3) No one has any more right to refuse the oath than to defy the laws of the land or the rights of society. Every person on public payrolls including schools should take the Loyalty Oath or be dismissed. Refusal can create a subversive influence on others.
- (4) A violation of the Loyalty Oath gives our Government the instrument it needs to deal with perjurers who would sell us short. Our lives and properties and the general welfare of the Nation are at stake.
- (5) Enemy Countries thrive on the knowledge that we have softies in our midst. They see us as a divided people, stupidly helping to destroy ourselves. Make sure that this condition does not help to disrupt the normal lives of our younger people by necessitating their going into training and war with the loss of thousands of lives to protect these very persons with their mistaken ideas.

- (6) Some may think because they obtained advanced education which by the way was at the expense of the public, the State or endowed schools, that they know it all. Let me tell you that education or knowledge in any field is not necessarily a badge of wisdom or common sense. There can be some well educated eccentric persons with warped ideas.
- (7) A concerted effort should be put forth to defeat any attempt to outlaw the Loyalty Oath. One way is to let your Legislators know where you stand and the other is to vote only for candidates who whole heartedly pledge to uphold the Oath.

Let's be real Americans, First, Last and Always

LOYALTY OATH

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

THURSDAY, May 23, 1957

The House met at 12:00 noon EST.

The SPEAKER (W. Stuart Helm) in the Chair.

PRAYER

Father Regis O'Brien, Professor of Philosophy and Homiletics, St. Francis Seminary, Loretto, Cambria County, guest Chaplain, offered the following prayer:

In the name of the Father, and of the Son, and of the Holy Ghost, Amen.

Our Father Who Art in Heaven, hallowed by Thy Name forever within the walls of this Hall of Legislature.

And now, Most Loving Lord, the members of this Legislature in unison of mind and heart earnestly beseech You to make them instruments of Your peace in our very much disturbed society.

Where there is hatred—let them sow love.

Where there is injury—prompt them to pardon.

Where there is doubt—let them champion faith.

Where there is despair—let them practice hope.

Where there is darkness—let them be bearers of light.

Where there is sadness—let them create joy.

Now, in conclusion, O Divine Master, grant these Legislators that especial gift, reserved for those You love dearly; namely, that they do not seek to be understood so much as to understand.

In the name of the Father, and of the Son, and of the Holy Ghost, Amen.

RESOLUTIONS INTRODUCED AND REFERRED

By Messrs. BRAND, TOMPKINS and BRETH.

RESOLUTION No. 114.

In the House of Representatives, May 22, 1957.

Recently, the practices of the Pennsylvania Fish Commission, with respect to the personnel of the commission, have been subjected to severe criticism by sportsmen and other persons interested in the Fish Laws and in a position speak authoritatively.

It is alleged among other things that competent employees of long tenure have been demoted or otherwise discriminated against for light, transitory and capricious reasons.

If any of these allegations are true, then the entire administration of the Fish Laws is in extreme danger; therefore, be it

Resolved, That the Speaker appoint five members of the House of Representatives, three from the majority party and two from the minority party, who together shall constitute a committee to investigate into the personnel practices of the Pennsylvania Fish Commission, including the recruitment, hiring, promotion, demotion and dismissal of employees to determine whether any action of the Commission with regard to personnel has been taken with justification or for reasons which jeopardize or would frustrate the purposes of the Fish Law and destroy public confidence in the Fish Commission; and be it further

Resolved, That the committee may meet, hold hearings and take testimony. It may issue subpoenas under the hand and seal of its chairman, commanding any person to appear before it and to answer questions touching matters properly being inquired into by the committee and to produce such books, papers, records and documents as the committee deems necessary. Any person who willfully neglects or refuses to testify before the committee or to produce any books, papers, records or documents shall be subject to the penalties provided by the laws of the Commonwealth in such cases. Each member of the committee shall have power to administer oaths and affirmations to witnesses appearing before the commission; and be it further

Resolved, That the Committee make a report of its findings and recommendations to this General Assembly.

Referred to the Committee on Rules.

By Messrs. BLAIR and TOMPKINS.

(Concurrent) RESOLUTION No. 115.

In the House of Representatives, May 22, 1957.

Serious questions have arisen as to the ownership of streets, lanes, alleys, lakes, parks, commons and squares which have been included in recorded plans but which have never been opened, used or accepted by the public.

Whether or not there should be a reverter of such property to the original owners or their successors, heirs or assigns after a period of years, or whether other owners of lots on the plan have an interest in such property is a problem which is constantly arising and badly in need of clarification; therefore, be it

Resolved (the Senate concurring), That the Joint State Government Commission be directed to study and investigate the problem of ownership of streets, lanes, alleys, lakes, parks, commons and squares which form a part of a recorded plan but have never been opened for use by the public; and be it further

Resolved, That the Joint State Government Commission report to the next regular session of the General Assembly its findings and recommendations with drafts of legislation necessary to carry the recommendations into effect.

Referred to the Committee on Rules.

SENATE MESSAGES

The Clerk of the Senate being introduced, presented extracts from the Journal of the Senate:

Senate Bills for concurrence Nos. 160, 359, 370, 521, 535, 566, 616, 729, 758 and 760.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS HOUSE

Mr. BARTON asked and received unanimous consent to address the House.

Mr. Speaker, the April 28th edition of the Harrisburg Patriot featured an article on dangerous road conditions existing on Routes 11 and 15 in the Duncannon and Marysville areas in Perry County where the highway is subject to rocks falling from the mountainside.

This creates a continuous danger to the traveling public, including a large number of commuters, and particularly to many school buses carrying children back and forth to school every school day.

In recent years these areas have been the scene of numerous accidents some resulting in fatalities and a great deal of property damage to vehicles.

On May 7th I introduced a resolution requesting the Governor to order and direct the Department of Highways to take immediate action to eliminate these hazardous conditions.

On May 10th the Harrisburg Evening News saw fit to make this resolution the subject of an editorial which I would like to read:

A Resolution now in the House Rules Committee, urging Governor Leader to spur the Highways Department into removing dangerous rockslides along Routes 11 and 15 near Marysville, may be just the goad needed to hasten correction of this long-standing danger to human life.

The hazards of this stretch of road, down which approximately 1,000 school children have to travel twice daily during school months, are more than potential. In recent years, five people have been killed and dozens more injured by the falling rocks.

Despite a series of letters sent by school officials and others living in the area, the Highways Department has not, as yet, taken action to end the danger of falling rocks.

Of course, there are signs along the highway reading:

"Danger. Falling Rocks. Slow."

A careful motorist, seeing these signs, can slow down and avoid crashing into any rocks that may have fallen onto the highway. But no matter how carefully the driver steers his vehicle down this portion of the highway, a falling rock from above may crash unseen into his car.

Rocks just won't read safety signs. They just won't slow down to avoid hitting automobiles, trucks or school buses that may be in the way

Definite action is needed to curb this menace.

This newspaper has reported the rock slides and accidents which have occurred in this area. In the April 28 issue of the Sunday Patriot-News, Reporter Hans Knight traced the history of what has come to be known as "Rock n' Roll Alley," detailing the attitude of the residents in the area and the status of Highways Department plans to correct the situation.

Secretary Lawler's Department has the matter under advisement of engineering experts who have been determining the best methods of overcoming the falling rock problem and have taken a number of surveys and test drillings. This report is expected to be completed by June 1.

By past performance, however, the completion of a report and the start of work do not necessarily closely follow each other in Pennsylvania Highways projects. The Department's own statement does not hold out too much hope for immediate action.

This project may take two years to complete.

Recognizing this and realizing the extent of the danger, Rep. Carl M. Barton of New Bloomfield introduced his resolution in the House.

Its passage would spotlight the interest of the Legislature and focus the Governor's attention on any further delays in his Highway Department. Further dawdling on eliminating these treacherous rock slides is risking the lives of people who must use this road every day."

I would like to take this opportunity to express the gratitude of the people of Perry County for the Harrisburg newspapers calling the public's attention to this dangerous condition.

The latest report I have received on it was from an insurance friend of mine who settled a claim wherein a lady was driving down this one stretch of road with a small child on the front seat of the car beside her when a falling rock crashed through the windshield of the car. Somebody must have been looking after them, because the rock fell between them in the automobile and no one was injured.

PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Mr. GOLDSTEIN. I rise to a parliamentary inquiry.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state it.

Mr. GOLDSTEIN. Mr. Speaker, when the House is in session, is it proper for a Member of the House to wear a hat?

The SPEAKER. The Chair informs the gentleman that back many, many years ago it was necessary that every Member of this House wear a hat. The only way the Speaker of the House knew that a Member wished to be recognized was when he removed his hat.

The gentleman has raised the question, and the Chair notes in the Hall of the House today, a Member of this House wearing a hat.

Mr. GOLDSTEIN. Mr. Speaker, I suggest in case that Member rises, that the hat be taken off, if she wishes to be recognized.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman requests that the lady from Lehigh, Mrs. Markley, remove her bonnet.

The Chair recognizes the Lady from Lehigh, Mrs. Markley.

Mrs. MARKLEY. Mr. Speaker, I am here today as a resident of Macungie. They are celebrating their 100th anniversary during the week of June 23rd to the 30th.

I extend a hearty invitation to all Members to come and join with us.

The SPEAKER. The Chair thanks lady and believes she is as attractive in the bonnet as she is out of it.

ANNOUNCEMENT

The SPEAKER. The Chair would like to announce to the Members of the House and our guests that the Legislative Chorus, will make its television debut tonight on television station, WTPA, Channel 71, at 10:30 p. m.

I am sure that every Member of this House who is not a Member of that chorus would like to listen to their first television performance.

LEAVE OF ABSENCE

The SPEAKER. The Chair has been requested by the gentleman from Beaver, MR. HAMILTON to request a leave of absence for him because of the sudden death of his brother this morning. The Chair hears no objection, and leave is granted.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The Chair requests the Speaker to return to the rostrum.

The SPEAKER (W. Stuart Helm) IN THE CHAIR

The SPEAKER. The Chair thanks the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Amarando, for the able manner in which he presided.

MEMBER WELCOMED

The SPEAKER. The Chair calls the attention of the Members to the triumphant entry of the successful nominee for judge on the Democratic ticket in the County of Berks.

Good afternoon, "Judge."

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS HOUSE

Mr. ANDREWS asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

Mr. Speaker, I rise for the purpose of reminding the prospective judge that he does not yet wear the imperial robe and also to call attention to something that has never happened before in the history of this Commonwealth, particularly something that has never happened down in old Berks County.

The gentleman from Berks has been delayed by reason of the fact that the published reports of his vote in the recent primary were simply incredible. He had to spend his time checking to find out whether the usually accurate Press was hewing to the line or was in error. Knowing the redoubtable powers of the gentleman, even knowing his sway in old Berks, I was inclined to question the figures.

Here is the Evening News of Wednesday, May 22nd, the first headline is, "Fine Turned Down." Spare your tears, gentlemen, spare your tears. It is not manly to weep.

"Twenty-five State Judges Retain Posts." Curiously enough, they do not headline the incredible, because down in the seventh paragraph it says, "The Reading lawmaker held a (now hold your breath) 16,876,776 margin over Emanuel Weis with 179 of the 206 precincts reporting."

What the gentleman from Berks had to remain back home for was to find out what was happening in those precincts between the 179 and the 206. I do not doubt but what in the course of his research he has dug up another million or two.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS HOUSE

Mr. JOHNSON asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

Mr. Speaker, I believe it was two weeks ago I was coming into Harrisburg and happened to have the Reading radio station turned on. They said, "Ladies and gentlemen, keep tuned in because in a few minutes you will hear an address by Albert S. Readinger, the candidate for judge on the Democratic ticket in Berks County."

Naturally, I perked up my ears. The thing I really got a kick out of in his very splendid talk was when he said:

Ladies and gentlemen, I am using this medium to reach you because of my very busy, hard, arduous labors which confine me from 10 to 16 hours a day at my desk. Therefore, I will not be able to get around and see each one of you personally."

I got a big kick out of that. My wife was in the car with me and we certainly laughed about it.

Then as we have been marking the calendar here with the Minority Leader the last few weeks, one day I said to him, "Al, why don't you let somebody else take over this week and you go home and really do some electioneering? It is too bad you are here and the other fellow has that advantage over you." Al said this: "I have been serving the people of Berks County for pretty nearly 25 years now. If they don't know me and know the job that I have done for them, and know the job that I can do by this time, I feel it is too late to go out and do a great deal of electioneering."

I am sure now that on Tuesday the people of his county expressed the high regard they have for him and I am sure he did not have to electioneer.

I want to join with everybody in this House in extending him our sincerest congratulations. Of course, as a Republican I will say if they must have a Democratic judge in Berks County, we certainly want Al Readinger to be it.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS HOUSE

Mr. TOMPKINS asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

Mr. Speaker. I want to add my congratulations to those of the gentleman from McKean and state that I hope when he does don those imperial robes he will put upon his decisions the legislative interpretation and intent that he said they were from the Floor of this House.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS HOUSE

Mr. READINGER asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

Mr. Speaker, I am deeply grateful to you and to all the Members of the House for the warm reception you gave me a few minutes ago.

It is unnecessary for me to say that I am very happy with the results of the election in Berks County on Tuesday, and now, I think you will probably know why it was impossible for me to get around to see all of these constituents. Anybody who can get a majority of over 16 million would have a lot of trouble seeing them all.

I do not know what the result of the election will be next fall. I will do my level best to see that the result is favorable to the Democratic ticket, but if I do get elected, as I hope I will, the hardest part of the whole thing will be to know that I will be leaving these hallowed halls, probably never to return again as a Member.

As Charlie Smith said to us some weeks ago when he was speaking to us before his inauguration, one of the hardest things that he found to get used to was not being a Member of this House.

Thanks again for your kind and warm welcome.

ANNOUNCEMENT

The SPEAKER. The Chair desires to make an announcement concerning the Social Security program, which he is sure the employes and Members of this House are interested in knowing more about.

Mr. Paul Moomaw will be in the New House Caucus Room beginning at 5:00 p. m. today. The Chair would suggest that House employes who are not employed on the floor of the House should perhaps avail themselves of the time from 5:00 o'clock until the House adjourns.

Mr. Moomaw has advised the Chair that he will remain there until after the close of our session so that Members of the House might meet with him and direct any questions they might have concerning the program to him. He will be there today at the close of our session.

RECESS

The SPEAKER. Without objection the Chair now declares a recess for one hour and thirty minutes for the purpose of holding a Republican and a Democratic Caucus immediately.

The Chair hears no objection and a recess is declared.

AFTER RECESS

The time of recess having expired, the House was called to order.

The SPEAKER (W. Stuart Helm) IN THE CHAIR

FORMER MEMBER WELCOMED

The SPEAKER. The Chair is pleased to welcome to the Hall of the House a former Member, the gentleman from Clearfield, Mr. DuBois.

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1169, entitled:

An Act amending the act of July 18, 1951 (P. L. 1010) entitled "A supplement to the act approved the twelfth day of June one thousand nine hundred thirty-one (P. L. 575) * * * authorizing the Governor on behalf of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania to enter into a supplemental compact or agreement with the State of New Jersey amending Articles I II IV XI and XII of and adding a new article to the compact and agreement * * * limiting the scope of the act with respect to powers and purposes of certain municipalities.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. LOPRESTI. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate the gentleman from Delaware, Mr. Lippincott.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Delaware, Mr. Lippincott, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. LIPPINCOTT. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. LOPRESTI. Mr. Speaker, I think I, myself as well as a lot of other Members would like to have an explanation of the purpose that is behind the bill.

Mr. LIPPINCOTT. Mr. Speaker, this bill is purely a correctional bill to clarify the intention of the Legislature in amending the act that it does.

Under the Municipal Authorities Act of 1945 any city or county can form an authority to establish, among other things, a port terminal.

In 1951 the Act which this bill amends was passed and that authorized a compact with the State of New Jersey for the development of the Delaware River Port facilities.

The 1951 Act was not intended in any way to repeal or amend the 1945 Act, which, as I said, permits cities and counties to establish their own facilities. However, since some communities in the Delaware Valley area are intending to use the 1945 Act to establish their own port facilities bonding counsel have raised the question as to whether the 1951 Act impliedly repealed the 1945 Act.

The only purpose of this bill is to spell out that the 1951 Act was not intended to repeal the 1945 Act. We think the bill will be of benefit to these communities in establishing port facilities. We think it is a good bill for that reason.

Mr. LOPRESTI. I thank the gentleman.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows:

BILL PASSED OVER

There being no objection

House Bill No. 1438, Printer's No. 463 was passed over at the request of the SPEAKER.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1349, entitled:

An Act amending the "Intestate Act of 1947" approved April 24, 1947 (P. L. 80) clarifying rule for taking by persons in same degree of consanguinity.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

The SPEAKER. Does the gentleman desire to be recognized?

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, I do not. I was prepared to ask quite a number of questions, but I understand they have been boning-up and at least three of the gentlemen I was going to interrogate have actually read the bills.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows:

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1351, entitled:

An Act amending the "Wills Act of 1947" approved April 24, 1947 (P. L. 89) clarifying the law with regard to devises and bequests to trusts.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. McCORMACK. Mr. Speaker, I would like to ask the gentleman from Blair, Mr. Auker, to explain this bill in layman's language.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Blair, Mr. Auker, permit himself to be interrogated?

The Chair has been informed the gentleman is an attorney and unable to talk layman's language.

Mr. AUKER. That is pretty true, Mr. Speaker, so far as this kind of bill is concerned. Personally, I have never had any personal dealings with matters of this kind.

I will say, however, that the bill is recommended by the advisory task force to the Joint State Government Commission composed of all the orphans' court judges in Pennsylvania, as well as many of the leading orphans' court attorneys throughout Pennsylvania. They unanimously adopted this amendment to the bill.

I can read you their comments, if that will explain it to you.

Mr. McCORMACK. Mr. Speaker, I would like to ask if that comment is in layman's language?

This is a very difficult bill to comprehend and I do not know, maybe the other sponsor Mr. Tompkins, could explain it in his own language.

Mr. TOMPKINS. Mr. Speaker, I yield to the gentleman from Blair, Mr. Auker.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman from Blair, Mr. Auker, has the floor.

Mr. AUKER. Mr. Speaker, as I understand, there has been considerable difficulty in interpreting wills and that kind of trusts as to whether or not they were taxable and as to whether or not the gifts made in the wills were valid. Similar problems arose for interpretation by the orphans' court judges of Pennsylvania when a will was made and a bequest made by that will into a trust which was created and signed after the will was made, and so forth. The amendment we are voting on now carries this comment from that task force:

This new section is suggested by similar statutes in Illinois, Indiana, Wisconsin and North Carolina. It is intended to clarify the numerous questions which arise when a gift is made in a will to an inter vivos trust. These "pourover provisions" have been dealt with extensively in law review articles and were recently the subject of an address by Judge Rauhauser to the Pennsylvania Judicial Conference.

They feel that by adopting this it very much simplifies and helps the orphans' court judges throughout the state in interpreting documents of this kind.

That is about as much as I can help you out with it. As I say, I am not, myself familiar with this kind of document. I do not think we get too many of them throughout the so-called rural sections of the state. Perhaps some of the legal lights of the bigger cities where these estates are more or less of a common practice can shed further light on it, but so far as I am personally concerned I think it is all right and I urge the Members of the House to vote for it.

The SPEAKER. The Chair would say to the gentleman from Cambria, Mr. Andrews, if he was not thoroughly confused before the explanation, he surely is now.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, I desire to further interrogate the illuminating legal light from Blair County, if I may.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Blair, Mr. Auker, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. AUKER. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. ANDREWS. Is it true that under Section 14.1 of this bill a devise or bequest in a will may be made to the trustees of a trust (including an unfunded life insurance trust, although the settlor has reserved any or all rights of ownership in the insurance contracts established in writing by the testator or any other person before or concurrently with the execution of such will, and here is the question, or to such a trust to be established in writing at a future date, provided that any such future trust instrument or amendment thereto shall be signed by the settlor. Now, should it be signed by the settlor?

Mr. AUKER. Mr. Speaker, in answer to the gentleman's question, I would say it should be, yes. If it was not, it would not have any basis in fact or in law, and I would advise the gentleman if he is thinking of making such an instrument that he be sure and sign it.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, I desire further to interrogate the gentleman. We cannot become too careful, as some of these legal instruments become invalid.

Is it true that such devise or bequest shall not be invalid because the trust is amendable or revocable, or both, or because the trust was amended after execution of the will? Now, is it possible to amend the trust after the execution of the will as a legal proposition?

Mr. AUKER. Yes, Mr. Speaker, it is under this amendment.

Mr. ANDREWS. Can the gentleman give me any instances in the decisions to substantiate such a view?

Mr. AUKER. I cannot, Mr. Speaker. I am simply relying on the experts in the matter, the gentlemen whom I quoted on the task force. They say it can, and so far as I am concerned, I am willing to take their word.

Mr. ANDREWS. One further question. Unless the will provides otherwise, the property so devised or bequeathed shall not be deemed held under a testamentary trust of the testator, but shall become and be a part of the principal of the trust to which it is given to be administered and disposed of in accordance with the provisions of the instrument establishing such trust and any amendment thereof.

Mr. AUKER. What would the gentleman like to know? I would like to know, also, Mr. Speaker, just how much the Minority Leader is in on this thing and how much he is trying to find out before he assumes the judge's robe in Berks County.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, I am very sorry that I did not avail myself of the opportunity given me by the Speaker to inquire of the gentleman on a previous measure concerning the duality of consanguinity in relation to a progenitor.

Mr. AUKER. Mr. Speaker, the gentleman, being older than I am very materially in age and in years, probably knows more about duality of consanguinity than I ever thought of knowing.

Mr. ANDREWS. There was some other word I wanted to ask about, but I thank the gentleman. I am willing to ride along with his learned opinions and I am glad he has given this bill such study. I think we are mistaken when we accept simply the verdict of these panels and do not address ourselves to the content of the measures which are submitted. I thank the gentleman very sincerely.

Mr. READINGER. May I say that I am happy to know I might get on the bench. The problems of this House are getting way beyond me.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows:

Less than the majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the negative and the bill falls.

Agreeably to order,
The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1314, entitled:

An Act providing for payment to counties townships and school districts of a portion of moneys derived from the sale of timber or any forest product on State owned land located therein.

On the question,
Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?
It was agreed to.
On the question,
Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. GOODLING. Mr. Speaker, I hesitate to talk against several of my good friends who are sponsoring this bill, but I feel obligated to do it.

I want first of all to say that my remarks apply only to the Game Commission. I have not made any study of what it might do to the Department of Forests and Waters.

This bill proposes to divide a certain amount of money for timber which is taken off of game lands. The figures I have available at the present time would indicate that this might take $100,000 per year out of the budget of the Pennsylvania Game Commission. I submit to you that $100,000 out of that budget is a sizeable sum. But I question when you are going to divide 25 percent of that in three different ways, which this bill proposes to do, you are giving the political subdivisions back home sufficient mony to make any appreciable difference.

They propose to divide this 25 percent, 32 percent for the county, 14 percent for the townships and 54 percent for the school districts.

As I stated previously, I think this possibly raids the Game Commission. The Game Commission is now paying a tax on all the land they own. Taxes and abatements to be sure do amount to ten cents per acre. That again does not seem like a great amount of money, but when you think that they bought a lot of this land for as low as thirty cents an acre, it would indicate that the people in the counties affected did not think too much of the land when it was purchased, otherwise they would have gone in and purchased it themselves.

I personally have tramped over a good many thousands of acres and frankly there are a lot of acres that I would not give thirty cents per acre to own because they are never going to produce anything. They never have and they never will produce other than maybe game, but they will not produce any timber. I submit to you, ladies and gentlemen of this House, that the sportsmen of Pennsylvania are paying their fair share now into the counties which are affected.

I might say that my own hunting camp is in one of the northern parts of the state. I wanted to check the figures over the week end but did not have time to do it. However, I definitely know that our taxes have been multiplied by about four since 1932. We are glad to pay that, of course, but I point it out to show you that the sportsmen are paying a considerable amount of tax money into these various counties.

The Pennsylvania State University made a survey a few years ago and they came up with these figures, and these are not figures of the Pennsylvania Game Commission, they are figures put out after a study by the Pennsylvania State University. It is in bulletin form, a copy of which I have here at the present time.

These two studies were made in Potter and Monroe Counties. In Potter county in 1951 this survey shows that there were 881 hunting camps. In Monroe county there were 54. In this same year the study shows 30,000 hunters hunted in Potter County; 12,000 hunted in Monroe County.

The study states further that deer hunters alone that year spent $1,057,568 in Potter County; $372,576 in Monroe County. That meant that for every deer taken from either of those counties the sportsman who shot that particular deer spent $181 bucks.

I want to state further that these figures apply only to deer hunting. They do not take into account small game hunting, fishing, and those who go there just for strictly recreational purposes.

As I stated previously, I hesitate to talk against the sponsors of this bill, but I felt obligated to point out to you people that the sportsmen, as I see the picture, are definitely paying their fair share of the tax money that goes into those particular counties.

Mr. GOODRICH. Mr. Speaker, I wish to interrogate the gentleman from York, Mr. Goodling.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from York, Mr. Goodling, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. GOODLING. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. GOODRICH. Mr. Speaker, I read the statistics that the gentleman presented from the University. I wonder if he has the statistics as to the deer damage in Potter County of the same year?

Mr. GOODLING. They are in the same publication, but I do not believe that enters into this picture.

Mr. GOODRICH. Did the gentleman state that the acreage cost to the Game Commission is as little as 30 cents. If that were a public sale now, would the gentleman know what it would be worth?

Mr. GOODLING. I think if a lot of it were sold right now it would probably still be worth 30 cents per acre.

Mr. GOODRICH. What does the gentleman base his figure of 30 cents on at the present value?

Mr. GOODLING. They are the actual figures. The present value I would not know. I am only using the 30-cent figure as I stated. I have walked over a lot of this land and a lot of it is not worth more than 30 cents per acre.

Mr. GOODRICH. I thank the gentleman.

Mr. Speaker, in Potter County—I can't state for all the counties concerned—the present tax rate is running between 20 and 41 cents per acre per year, and that is a high tax rate on 30-cents-per-acre land.

The present appropriation in lieu of taxes is ten cents. This bill based on last year's figures would amount to four cents per acre in addition.

I talked to a gentleman from the Game Commission and they figure that their over-all picture would be an annual gain of $200,000 per year. A quarter of that is $50- and not a $100,000.

This is a problem that has been solved in many other states. The Federal government provides 25 percent of the sale of the forest products from Federal land.

This bill, and I have studied quite a number of them, I believe is the best solution in the United States. It will solve this problem in Pennsylvania permanently.

I ask the House to support the bill.

Mr. AUKER. Mr. Speaker, I sympathize very strongly with the problems facing these school districts and the road people, in some instances the school districts as a whole, in these counties where this land is owned by the state.

But I say to the Members of this House that they are approaching their problem to solve their school and road and county difficulties in the wrong way. This land was bought with funds in more or less of a trust capacity. They were paid for with moneys furnished by the purchase of hunting and fishing licenses, not general taxpayers' money, but paid for a specific purpose.

The land has had no value, that is true, in some instances. No question about that. Much of it is now grown up—I will take their word for it—in good second growth timber. The Game Commission and the Fish Commission, under the auspices of the Department of Forests and Waters and under expert supervision are now cutting off this timber in the interest of good lumbering and good forestry, and the money that was used originally to buy this land is now returning a good profit to the hunting fund, to the Game Commission fund, and in some instances on a smaller scale, to the Fish Commission fund.

I question whether or not we can constitutionally, by a bill passed here now, take that money and reallocate it in any percentage back to local taxing districts. I question very strongly whether it is constitutional to do that. Even if it would be constitutional, I think there would have to be companion bills to reallocate the money from the Game Commission fund and back to the localities of which he speaks.

I believe that a bill would be proper restricting in the future any lands purchased with Game Commission or Fish Commission funds to provide for such a thing as is set up in this bill, but to take these funds now is certainly going to throw the Game Commission budget and, to a certain extent the Fish Commission budget away out of line, and I do not think we have any right to do that.

I think these Game Commission funds are a trust fund set up for the benefit of the hunters and the fishermen. They have paid the bill and they have the right to it, even though I can sympathize with their problems back home in some of their rural school districts and in some instances in the counties.

Therefore, I ask the Members of the House to vote down this bill.

Mr. GOODRICH. Mr. Speaker, that is what we are asking, that they pay the bill.

Mr. BOWMAN. On pain of possibly being declared out of order I cannot refrain from commenting at this time, but I only regret that the Commonwealth-owned land in the city of Harrisburg is not timber land. Members of this Legislature from the city of Harrisburg are constantly calling the attention of this Legislature to the terrific problem faced by the city with all the Commonwealth-owned land in the city. We point this up by calling it to your attention again.

And said bill having been read at length the third time, considered and agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows:

Less than the majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the negative and the bill falls.

REASONS FOR VOTE

Mr. MOODY filed the following reasons for his vote on House Bill No. 1314.

As a realty taxpayer in a township in which there is presently extensive timbering operations on State Game lands which would result in a drastic lowering of realty taxes, I suppose that I might have reason to disqualify myself from voting for this bill, for the reason that there would be sufficient personal interest to justify a disqualification.

However, I do not believe that the hunters and fishermen of the state should be deprived of any of the monies received from the sale of timber on lands which were purchased from the proceeds of hunting and fishing licenses. It is my belief that all proceeds received from such timber sales should be returned to the respective commissions to be used not so much for the acquisition of additional lands as for the propagation of fish and game.

If political subdivisions are of the opinion that the money received by their respective counties under existing law is inadequate then the Legislature should see to it that additional money is paid to the counties in lieu of taxes.

I do not feel that the sportsmen of the state should be deprived of what rightfully belongs to them and I am accordingly voting against this bill.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1596, entitled:

An Act authorizing the Department of Property and Supplies with the approval of the Governor to grant and convey to the City of Harrisburg a portion of Forster Island situate in the City of Harrisburg Dauphin County

INTERROGATION

Mr. READINGER asked and obtained unanimous consent to interrogate the Majority Leader.

Mr. Speaker, is the gentleman in a position to inform the House now what the plans are for tomorrow's session?

Mr. JOHNSTON. Yes, Mr. Speaker. The plans for tomorrow are to come in at 10:00 o'clock in the morning and we are going to try to be through by 12:00 noon. We will roll controversial bills tomorrow as on any other day.

On the Republican side we are having a caucus between 9:00 and 10:00 in the morning. We will adjourn our caucus in plenty of time to start the session at 10:00 o'clock.

I might say further that the House will reconvene next Monday at 1:00 o'clock. As to the following day, we have not decided just when we will reconvene on next Tuesday, because that is the day the general appropriation bill will be up for action. Conceivably, we will plan for a longer day on Tuesday. We will announce that on Monday after the decision has been made.

Then we will be in session next Wednesday and recess for the week because of the Memorial Day weekend, but we will be back the following week.

Mr. READINGER. Does the gentleman plan to call a Republican Caucus next Monday after 1:00 o'clock?

Mr. JOHNSTON. Yes, the plan for Monday would be to come in at 1:00 o'clock, clear the desk, go over the calendar with the respective leaders and have a caucus on Monday just as soon as possible after convening at 1:00 o'clock.

Mr. READINGER. I thank the gentleman.

ADJOURNMENT

Mr. JOHNSTON. Mr. Speaker, I move that this House do now adjourn until Friday, May 24, 1957 at 9:00 a. m. EST.

PRAYER

Father Regis O'Brien, Professor of Philosophy and Homiletics, St. Francis Seminary, Loretto, Cambria County, guest Chaplain, offered the following prayer:

In the name of the Father, and of the Son, and of the Holy Ghost, Amen.

Almighty God, Creator and Sovereign Lord of the Universe, grant the members of this Assembly, your devoted servants, keenness of mind to apperceive full well that all law is a rule of reason adopted by those lawfully sharing your Authority for the Commonwealth.

Grant them grace always to subjugate what is of benefit to themselves as individuals for that which is the good of the Governed.

Enlighten them to realize that anything bordering on oppressiveness through increasing the burden of the Governed is categorically offensive to your Majesty.

Give them that especial gift of efficacious grace to put aside party fidelity where legislation runs counter to the basis of all legislation—the Natural Law which is the manifestation of Your Most Holy Will as written in the heart of every man.

In brief, Dearest Lord, grant both them and the Governed the serenity to accept things they cannot change, the courage to change things they can, and the wisdom to know the difference.

In the name of the Father, and of the Son, and of the Holy Ghost, Amen.

JOURNAL APPROVAL POSTPONED

RESOLUTIONS INTRODUCED AND REFERRED

By Mr. ADAMS.

RESOLUTION No. 117.

In the House of Representatives, May 17, 1957.

An extremely hazardous traffic condition exists in the Borough of Laureldale, Berks County, where a narrow and antiquated bridge carries the State highway over the East Penn Branch of the Reading Railroad.

This bridge not only endangers the lives of motorists but also slows traffic on the State highway to such an extent that the usefulness of the State highway is appreciably diminished; therefore, be it

Resolved, That the Department of Highways is hereby requested to study and investigate the safety and traffic hazards created by the narrow bridge which crosses over the tracks of the East Penn Branch of the Reading Railroad on Elizabeth Avenue in the Borough of Laureldale, Berks County, with a view towards determining the feasibility and necessity of constructing a new and wider bridge over such tracks, in order to connect State highways and increase the safety factor in crossing the tracks; and be it further

Resolved, That a copy of this resolution be transmitted to the Secretary of Highways.

Referred to the Committee on Rules.

By Messrs WORLEY and HAUDENSHIELD.

RESOLUTION No. 118.

In the House of Representatives, May 23, 1957.

The beginning of the permanent government of Pennsylvania under William Penn began upon his arrival in Chester on the 29th day of October, 1682. Penn immediately called the first meeting of the General Assembly which met on December 4 of that year. The year 1957 marks the 275th anniversary of that first meeting which established the principles of self-government for our State.

The original General Assembly was a close neighbor of the New England town meeting. The first year it consisted of all the freemen in the province, but this idea was soon abolished and it never exceeded five hundred people. One of the first acts of this ancestor of all later Pennsylvania legislative bodies was to "accept and confirm" the "First Frame" which can be regarded as Pennsylvania's first constitution.

Over the span of 275 years many great men have served in the General Assembly and many great deeds have been accomplished through their untiring efforts; therefore be it in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Resolved, That a ceremony be conducted in the 142nd General Assembly in 1957 that would commemorate the 275th anniversary of the founding of the first General Assembly in 1682.

Referred to the Committee on Rules.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

(Following the calling of the roll and before the result was announced)

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, I desire to change my vote from "aye" to "no." We have not caucused on this bill. I consider it a bad bill and advise the Members to change their vote and defeat this bill.

PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Mr. SHERMAN. I rise to a parliamentary inquiry.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state it.

Mr. SHERMAN. Mr. Speaker, considering the fact that a good many Members did not realize what they were voting on and also considering the fact that the minority party had not caucused on this bill and intended to caucus on it before it was taken up, is there any way of having the vote taken up to now retracted or recalled since no final vote has been recorded?

The SPEAKER. There is nothing in order except the calling of the roll.

The Chair informs the gentleman that the bill has been on the calendar since the 16th of May.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 372, entitled:

An Act amending "The Borough Code" approved May 4, 1927 (P. L. 519) increasing the amount of money which may be appropriated to community nursing services

And said bill having been read at length the third time, considered and agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows:

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk return the same to the Senate with information that the House of Representatives has passed the same without amendment.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 28, entitled:

A Joint Resolution proposing an amendment to article eight section one of the Constitution of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania permitting citizens eighteen years of age or over to vote.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. READINGER. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the Majority Leader briefly.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from McKean, Mr. Johnson, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. JOHNSON. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. READINGER. I desire to ask the gentleman whether the Legislature has previous to this time passed a Joint Resolution seeking to amend the Constitution in this manner?

Mr. JOHNSON. You mean to provide for voting by eighteen year olds?

Mr. READINGER. Yes.

Mr. JOHNSON. No, this is the first time for this bill.

Mr. READINGER. Can the gentleman advise the House how many states now allow eighteen year olds to vote?

Mr. JOHNSON. Kentucky and Georgia I believe are the states.

Mr. READINGER. I am not trying to embarrass the gentleman.

Mr. JOHNSON. You have taken us by surprise. I really do not know how many states. I know that Kentucky put it in and voted for the first time last fall, and I believe the results were quite satisfactory. We have two Republicans in the United States Senate.

Mr. READINGER. Satisfactory for whom?

May I ask one further question? Has the Republican party as a party ever taken a stand on the matter of a resolution of this kind?

Mr. JOHNSON. Mr. Speaker, I believe it has been in the platform of both parties previous to now.

Mr. READINGER. I thank the gentleman.

Mr. Speaker, I am not rising to oppose this resolution. I think it would be well to let the people of Pennsylvania vote on this question.

I simply raised some of these questions to get into the record whatever information was available from the Majority Leader.

I have heard many people say over the years that if a person is old enough to fight for his country he is old enough to vote too. I sometimes have my doubts about that, since I have an eighteen-year-old son.

I will give this very serious consideration as a citizen when it comes on the ballot some day, as it probably will, as to whether it should be adopted or not adopted. But I do think the people of the state of Pennsylvania should be allowed to vote on it.

I am going to support this bill.

Mr. WORLEY. Mr. Speaker, in the past and at the present regular session of this General Assembly I have introduced and sponsored bills to let eighteen year old persons vote.

On January 7th, 1957, I introduced and sponsored the first one of these bills of this session in either the House or Senate. That was House Bill No. 15.

The bill before us today was introduced into the Senate after two of its four signers attended an Adams County Young Republicans' meeting. They saw the young Republicans assembled there openly and unanimously endorse my bill to let eighteen year old persons vote.

I support the passage of the bill before us today not only because I am strongly for this legislation myself, but also because of our great Republican President of these United States, who has likewise reiterated his full support of this type of legislation.

I, therefore, feel that I am representing the President of the United States, who lives and votes in my legislative district, together with my own views, the views of the Adams County Young Republicans, and many others throughout this Commonwealth, when I now urge the passage of this joint resolution to permit eighteen year old persons to have legal voting rights by amending the Constitution of this Commonwealth.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, no one has welcomed the statement made by the gentleman from Adams more heartily than I.

There has been considerable disagreement on the part of statesmen, upon the part of editors, upon the part of the rank and file as to just who did represent the President of the United States to speak for him.

I am glad we have in this honorable body at last found the source, the fountainhead, the person empowered by residence and by talent to speak for and on behalf of the President of the United States. That has been something we have been seeking for some time.

Mr. FILO. I would like to interrogate the gentleman from Adams, Mr. Worley, Mr. Speaker.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Adams, Mr. Worley, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. WORLEY. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. FILO. The gentleman just spoke about the President living and voting in his district. Can the gentleman inform me as to whether the President voted in the primaries in his district?

Mr. WORLEY. Mr. Speaker, I do not know.

The SPEAKER. The Chair suggests to the gentleman that the question is certainly relevant to the subject before the House.

Mr. WORLEY. He votes in my Legislative District, but he does not vote in the same township.

Mr. FILO. Mr. Speaker, unless the newspapers are wrong, I can inform the gentleman that he did not vote at the primaries.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows:

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk return the same to the Senate with information that the House of Representatives has passed the same without amendment.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 81, entitled:

An Act concerning gifts of securities or money to minors providing for custodians of such gifts and their powers and duties defining the effect of the gifts on guardians of minors or their estates conferring jurisdiction on orphans' courts and absolving agents dealing with securities or money from certain responsibilities.

On the question,
Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?
It was agreed to.

On the question,
Shall the bill pass finally?
Mr. AUKER. Mr. Speaker, I just went to explain this bill briefly so that everybody will know what it is about.

It is a bill creating an entirely new class on minor's estates in Pennsylvania. We will have a new class of so-called guardians called custodians if this bill passes.

I am not going to debate the bill at length for various reasons. I do want, however, to read the comments of the task force on decedents' and minors' trust estates of the Joint State Government Commission on this bill as follows:

These are the uniform acts conveying gifts of securities to minors. They should be opposed. The objectives thereof could be obtained under the Act of 1945.

It is true, of course, that this bill is not mandatory. It is entirely permissive. It does, however, take many of the safeguards away that exist now around these minors' estates.

The custodian does not have to give a bond, that is very plainly set out in the bill, until after some discrepancy is found or somebody might be alarmed by what is happening to the minors' estates. They can then go into court and ask that the custodian be bonded and, of course, that very easily could after the horse has been stolen.

I know I would not advise any client of mine to make such gifts to minors under this bill because to my mind there are very few, if any, safeguards surrounding minors' estates.

There is no liability whatsoever on the transfer agents to look behind the signatures on the various certificates of stock, or bonds, or whatever might be going to be transferred. The custodian can do with the stock and the securities practically as he sees fit. I submit to you, ladies and gentlemen, that that is not too good a condition.

And of these things which are sought to be done under this bill, as the task force said—I might cite that the task force is composed of all the orphans' court judges in Pennsylvania and many of the outstanding orphans' court attorneys in Pennsylvania. Their opinion was unanimously opposed to this bill as not being necessary, as the objects sought to be carried out under this can be carried out under the Act of 1945.

I am going to vote against it. I am not going to urge one way or the other what you people ought to do, but I think it is bad legislation.

On the question recurring,
Shall the bill pass finally?

BILL POSTPONED

Mr. READINGER. Mr. Speaker, I move that this bill be placed on the final passage postponed calendar.

The motion was agreed to.

BILL PASSED OVER

There being no objection,
Senate Bill No. 99, Printer's No. 33,
was passed over at the request of the SPEAKER.

Agreeably to order,
The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Sena'e Bill No. 156, entitled:

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, before we leave the order of business of Resolutions, I would like to present the following resolution as it refers to the discovery of oil near the city of Titusville, in what is now known as the Colonel Edwin Drake Park, on August 27, 1859.

SENATE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION

THE DRAKE WELL CENTENNIAL COMMISSION

Mr. MAHANY offered the following resolution, which was twice read as follows:

In the Senate, May 27, 1957.

August 27, 1859 marks the one hundredth anniversary of the completion of the first commercial oil well in the world by "Col." Edwin Drake at Titusville, Pennsylvania and the discovery of the commercial production of petroleum thereby, marking the birth of the oil industry.

The black gold which poured from the soil of Northwestern Pennsylvania following the drilling of the Drake Well, marked the start of a world revolution in transportation and industry made possible by the application of petroleum and its by-products as a fuel and lubricant used in the "Machine Age."

The consequences of the discovery of oil make the one hundredth anniversary of the Drake Well at Titusville in Pennsylvania an event of not only State but National and even International importance which reasonably may be expected to attract world wide publicity and visitation from all parts of the country numbering hundreds and thousands of persons with consequent economic benefits to Pennsylvania; therefore be it

Resolved (The House concurring), That the Drake Well Centennial Commission is hereby established to consist of the Governor, the Lieutenant Governor, the Speaker of the House of Representatives, the President pro tempore of the Senate, the Chairman, Vice-Chairman and Executive Director of the Pennsylvania Historical and Museum Commission, the Secretary of Commerce, and Superintendent of Public Instruction, five members of the Senate who shall be appointed by the President pro tempore, five members of the House of Representatives who shall be appointed by the Speaker of the House, and five citizens of the Commonwealth who shall be appointed by the Governor; and be it further

Resolved, That the Drake Well Centennial Commission is hereby authorized to organize and to advise and cooperate with the Pennsylvania Historical and Museum Commission, the Drake Well Park Advisory Board, the American Petroleum Institute and representatives of the oil industry throughout the United States and elsewhere in preparing plans, raising funds from public and private sources, and otherwise preparing for the proper observance of the Drake Well Centennial and to report to the next regular session of the General Assembly its progress in raising funds and plans for the proper observance of the Drake Well Centennial together with recommendations for further legislative action.

RULE 39 SUSPENDED

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that Rule 39, which requires resolutions be referred to an appropriate committee, be suspended and the Senate do now proceed to the consideration of the resolution just read.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection?

The Chair hears none.

On the question,

CALENDAR

FINAL PASSAGE CALENDAR

BILL ON FINAL PASSAGE

Agreeably to order,

The Senate resumed the consideration of Senate Bill No. 311, entitled:

An Act regulating the budgeting and expenditures by departments boards commissions and agencies of the Commonwealth with respect to appropriations and allocations for specific purposes and prescribing penalties.

And the amendments made thereto having been printed as required by the Constitution,

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, on Senate Bill No. 311, I wish the sponsors would take a look at the copy of House Bill No. 1700, which is on second reading in the House today and purports to be the general appropriation bill. You will find that they have gone much further than just putting through an appropriation bill. They have incorporated into that bill a great deal of the subject matter contained in Senate Bill No. 311, House Bill No. 582 and House Bill No. 851.

All along, Mr. President, I have asked that the committee having the bill, setting up a legislative budget board, also consider Senate Bill No. 311, House Bill No. 582 and House Bill No. 851 at the same time. I would like to ask that this bill be sent back to the Committee on Rules, of which the sponsors are members, in order to discuss this bill in conjunction with the legislation—which I believe all of us are in favor of—setting up some kind of budgetary information bureau or board to serve the legislative bodies during the interim.

Therefore, Mr. President, I would appreciate it very much if the Majority Party would consider this action and have this bill re-referred to the Committee on Rules. Let us see whether we cannot get to some formula for doing exactly what this bill proposes to do, what House Bill No. 582 proposes to do and what House Bill No. 851 proposes to do, but try to incorporate them all into one piece of legislation. The proposal may come out as Senate Bill No. 311 or any one of the other bills. There is no pride of authorship. This suggestion is just aiming at doing a job in one fell swoop rather than doing it in a piecemeal fashion.

Therefore, Mr. President, I would like to ask the Majority Party to either hold this bill until we can discuss it with the Majority Leadership or allow it to go back to the Committee on Rules, where we can discuss it in conjunction with the other legislation dealing with the same subject matter.

I would like to have the reaction of the Majority Party on it.

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, all of us have wanted to have some way of considering budgets before we come into Session. As Senator Dent has said, we have all agreed that there should be some commission to which these budget requests could be referred and where they could be studied. In that way, we could come up with an answer to these budget items before we come into regular Session.

This is the vehicle by which this can be done. We feel this is the answer, at least the Republican answer to the problem. We hope we will be joined in by the Democratic Senators. This Session of the Legislature is drawing to a close and we feel that we should adopt one of these bills and we feel this is the best one to adopt.

Therefore, Mr. President, I ask my colleagues to vote for this bill.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, that leaves us no alternative except to vote against the bill, for the simple reason that the mere statement that this is a Republican answer does not, of course, answer the problem for the people in general in the State of Pennsylvania.

Mr. President, I would like to work out a mutual agreement which would be the people's answer and not a political party's answer. Perhaps that is one of the reasons we find ourselves in this terrific debate every two years on budgets and expenditures and revenues. It is because we take a partisan viewpoint of the matter.

This bill will not do the job by itself. It does not set up anywhere near the type of machinery which is required to handle the situation. This can be proclaimed to be more of a punitive piece of legislation rather than an enlightening bill. What it attempts to do, of course, is put straps around the expenditures of the various departments in such a manner that all freedom of action is denied. All of us want to see safeguards, but we do not necessarily want to see handcuffs and manacles. We want to see the governmental functions in their due process of law; we want to see that each department has the freedom to act.

This bill does not do the job. It was not conceived to do the job and, therefore, it cannot be anything except bad legislation, acting by itself. In conjunction with other thoughts and other legislation, this may well be part of a package which could accomplish the desired end. However, standing by itself, it is a very bad piece of legislation and, therefore, I request my colleagues to vote "no" on it.

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, I, too, am very much interested in budget control. However, as the Majority Leader has stated, this is the Republican answer to the problem. If you will take Section 1 of the bill, on page 1, you will find that it reads as follows:

"Not later than July 1, 1957 for the quarter-year ending August 31, 1957 and not later than thirty days preceding the beginning of each succeeding quarter year the head of each department board commission or agency of the Commonwealth shall submit to the executive committee of the joint state government commission a budget showing for each appropriation made to it the amount proposed for expenditure or commitment during such quarter."

It goes on to say: "The members of the executive committee and the chairmen of the appropriations committees of the House of Representatives and Senate who shall be deemed to be additional members of such executive committee."

Mr. President, I think there is an infringement here on the part of the Legislature as far as the Executive Committee is concerned. As far as calendar quarters are concerned, that is three months. Anything can happen in that three-month period.

On top of that, we have this legislation here today before use because we have a Democratic Administration. Everyone knows that the Joint State Government Commission, that is the executive group, is predominately Republican; we know that the Chairman of the Appropriations Committee of the Senate is a Republican; and we know that the Chairman of the House Appropriations Committee is a Republican. I doubt very much if these department heads are going to receive very good treatment if this goes on in this particular way.

Therefore, Mr. President, I cannot see where this is a good budget-control bill. I say this is a Republican strangulation bill, designed to try to hamper the proper operation of this Democratic Administration.

Mr. YOSKO. Mr. President, I have been advocating a Legislative Budget Committee since I have been a Member of the Senate, and I would like to see such a committee set up. I think we did pass similar legislation in 1951. It was a bill sponsored by Senator Taylor, I think, and Governor Fine vetoed it. However, I agree with Senator Dent that each of the bills on the subject should be considered so that we can take out the good features of each bill, make one bill out of them and pass it so we are sure that when it gets to the Governor's desk, he will sign it.

I am just a little afraid, if we send over a bill such as the one before us, the Governor may not sign it and we will be without any checks and balances as far as the Legislature is concerned.

I, therefore, request Senator Mahany to reconsider his position and go along with Senator Dent on the proposition of considering all bills on the subject, including the one he sponsored, along with a few Democrats and Republicans. I am sure if that is done, we will get the kind of a bill that will serve the purpose best.

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, these bills have been on the Calendar for some time and there does not seem to have been any effort on the part of the Senators on the other side to come down and try to work them out.

I looked them all over yesterday and I thought this bill was in line with the other legislation which has been introduced. About the only difference between this and the bill which Senator Dent and I introduced is, I think, that the Lieutenant-Governor would be one of the members of this board.

If Senator Yosko and Senator Dent will assure me that they will come to my office tomorrow morning and meet with Senator Berger and myself, I will agree to let the bill go over until tomorrow, with the understanding that we will vote on it tomorrow.

We are all so busy, but if you will agree to come down to my office tomorrow morning and work this out so that we may vote on this legislation tomorrow, I will go along with your request. Let us say 10:00 o'clock, a. m., tomorrow.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, if the gentleman will designate the Members of this side whom he wants to be at the meeting, I will see that they are there if I have to haul them in myself.

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, it is not up to me to designate which members. I would like to designate you. Who you bring along with you is up to you. I also suggest Senator Yosko, since he seems to have an interest in the bill.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, would like to know if we are going to decide it by a majority vote, so I will know how many to carry with me.

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, Senator Dent may bring the whole caucus, if he wants to.

Mr. DENT. I want to thank the gentleman. I think this may be an effort that might be very fruitful to us.

I want to also thank him for extending two gracious invitations in one day; one, to visit his home town in a big celebration next year, and now to go down to his domain on E floor.

And the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

BILLS OVER IN ORDER

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that Senate Bill No. 311, Printer's No. 189, on final passage, go over in its order.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

Mr. PECHAN. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that Senate Bill No. 414 (Pink), on final passage, go over in its order.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. SEYLER asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. SEYLER. Mr. President, the vote on Senate Bill No. 254, which was the bill just under consideration, was announced as 50-0. I voted "no." It was possible that the Reading Clerk did not hear me. I realize it is probably impossible to change this, but I would like to ask unanimous consent that a statement be inserted at the point at which the vote is recorded, saying that I made this statement that I had voted "no."

The PRESIDENT. The statement of the gentleman will be printed in the Legislative Journal.

BILL ON THIRD READING AND FINAL PASSAGE

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 422, entitled:

An Act amending the act of April 9, 1929 (P. L. 177) entitled "The Administrative Code of 1929" transferring certain departmental administrative boards within the Department of Welfare to the Department of Justice and conferring upon the Department of Justice supervisory powers over certain supervised institutions.

And said bill having been read at length the third time, and agreed to,

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, I rise to oppose the passage of Senate Bill No. 422, and I desire to interrogate the Majority Whip, Senator Pechan.

The PRESIDENT. Will the gentleman from Armstrong, Mr. Pechan, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. PECHAN. I will, Mr. President.

Mr. LANE. Senator Pechan, it is my understanding, under the provisions of this bill, that you are transferring the supervision of Morganza to the Department of Justice? is that correct?

Mr. PECHAN. Yes, to the Bureau of Corrections of the Department of Justice.

Mr. LANE. I see. I wish to thank the gentleman.

Mr. President, it is my understanding that Morganza and other institutions of rehabilitation are set up under the Department of Welfare for the rehabilitation of delinquent children. It is also my understanding that once a child is released from an institution like Morganza or a similar institution, they do have a record, so to speak. That is one reason why I feel we should not take this step.

In addition, Mr. President, I might say, if this is an economy move, I wish to advise the sponsor that Mr. Prasse, who I believe heads the Bureau of Correction, has appeared before the Appropriations Committee. It was brought out at that time that the per capita costs of operating our penal institutions are the highest in the United States. I might also say that this information was derived from an investigation which was made by the Bureau of Municipal Affairs when the Local Government Commission, quite some time ago, requested this data.

I do not believe that transferring this institution to the Bureau of Correction is going to save the Commonwealth any money. It might do a lot of harm to the inmates of these institutions.

For these reasons I must oppose the passage of this legislation.

Mr. PECHAN. Mr. President, I would like to correct the gentleman from Washington about the figures which he says he has from Commissioner Prasse.

It costs something like $13.00 a day to maintain an inmate at Morganza; at Huntingdon, it is $3.89; and at White Hill, it is $3.83. They are all correctional institutions.

When the Devers Committee made their investigation and report, their report showed that all of these correctional institutions should come under the Bureau of Correction.

Morganza has certainly been headlined in the papers, not only in the immediate vicinity of Pittsburgh but throughout the Commonwealth. It is being used as a proving ground for some armchair penologists, I call them. These boys and girls, who are committed to Morganza, are committed by the courts. They are not committed because they are mentally retarded. They are juvenile delinquents. At Morganza, they mix ten year old boys with eighteen, nineteen and twenty year old men. I think that is all wrong.

We now have something like eighteen psychologists at Morganza, trying to take care of about 200 inmates. They have an average of twenty escapees a week; whereas, over a seven year period in White Hill and Huntingdon, there were fourteen escapees or an average of two a year.

I am not saying that psychologists and psychiatrists cannot do some good for these children at Morganza, but I do believe that they belong under one supervisory head.

For instance, when you send a child to Morganza, he is committed by the courts, which come under one governmental body. When he is paroled, he is paroled under the Department of Parole. When he is in custody, he comes under the Department of Welfare. I feel those different phases should all come under one department. I am not sponsoring this legislation for economy. I am trying to do something for that child.

As I understand it, a lot of people whom we have talked about, like the ones Secretary Shapiro has going to school—those getting full tuition and being paid something like $200 a month to go to school—are down there at Morganza using these kids as guinea pigs. As I understand it, very often they bribe them with cigarettes and liquor just to get some sort of a statement from them so they can write a thesis.

Another thing, I think the girls should be taken out of there and put into another institution. I do not think they should be mixed as they are. I think Senator Lane should know that problem very well, because it is right in his own county. This institution is in his own county.

I know a judge in Armstrong County who will not commit any children to Morganza for various reasons; first of all, because of the adverse publicity which it has received over the Commonwealth; and, secondly, because of the tremendous cost to maintain a boy or girl at Morganza.

You know, with the thirteen dollars and something which it is going to take next year to maintain a boy or girl at Morganza, I can take five boys and girls, who want to go to school to become teachers, and send them to a State Teachers' College and give them a college education. You can give five children a college education for what it costs to keep one inmate at Morganza.

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, I am not arguing about the administrative staff at Morganza. I do not know anything about them. However, I do not think we should forget that the primary objective of the juvenile court law is to rehabilitate children. It is not to give them a record. As long as that law is on our statute books, I feel we should respect it. I am not arguing about the administration at Morganza at all, because I was on one of the committees which investigated Morganza, and I believe I know a good deal about its operation. I am thinking about the welfare of the children.

They talk about penal institutions. When you take children from Morganza and you put them into White Hill, you are going to give these children a record.

I agree with Doctor Pechan that the inmates at Morganza should be segregated. I do not think it should be a boys and girls school. However, I do believe that we must have rehabilitation centers. I do not think we are going to accomplish too much by transferring this institution to the jurisdiction of the Bureau of Correction.

I do not know whether the Republican majority is trying to take a crack at Secretary Shapiro by transferring this. Nevertheless, I say to you, regardless of personalities, I think we are doing the wrong thing.

I am not upholding this institution's operation at all. I know it costs money over there and the per capita costs are high. However, you must remember that there is a fixed cost in every institution; whether or not they have fifteen or 500, there is still a fixed cost as far as personnel is concerned. That is how your per capita costs get so high.

Speaking of the operation under Commissioner Prasse, I think if you will check, you will find at Muncy their cost is about $5.50 or $5.75 a day. They have a huge population. The same is true of our penal institutions. It is not going to save us any money, I can tell you that.

What we should do is pass legislation segregating the sexes at Morganza. I will co-sponsor such a bill with you. I think that would be a good thing. I still believe, though, we should have schools for the rehabilitation of children under the supervision of the Department of Welfare.

Mr. PECHAN. Mr. President, I certainly do not want to put a stigma on any boy or girl as far as a record is concerned. However, Senator Lane should know that when any child or a young man is committed to Morganza, he is committed by a court and, therefore, he already has a record. He is committed by the court to that institution. Nobody else has authority but the court to send him there. What about the boy who goes to White Hill or to Huntingdon? He is there for exactly the same type of offense.

I do not think these boys and girls are mentally retarded, but maybe they are. If they are mentally retarded, they do not belong in Morganza. Morganza is an institution, the same as White Hill and Huntingdon, to rehabilitate these boys and girls. You are not going to rehabilitate them by sending a lot of psychologists down there. There are eighteen psychologists, in fact, trying to take care of 200 patients or inmates; whereas, they used to have two or three to take care of 600 boys and girls and they may have had one runaway every month or so. I am no penologist. I do not know their theories, but I do know that it is all wrong.

I certainly do not want to put any stigma on any boy or girl. The stigma is already there when he has committed an offense and the court has committed him there. On the other hand, I do not believe in mollycoddling them either. I believe if a boy or girl has committed an offense, he should be rehabilitated by people who know how to do it. I believe that the Bureau of Correction, of the Department of Justice, has the facilities and the know-how.

Let us talk about, for instance, Grove City where they have the George Junior Republic. You take the boys who come out of there. For instance, about two months ago we passed a resolution here, honoring a basketball team which won the State championship. One of the star players—in fact, he was an all-State member of the P.I.A.A.—was a recent graduate of the Grove City George Junior Republic. They give those people something to do. They have their own government.

It is for economy reasons, too. I do not see any reason why we should spend $13.00 per inmate, to give them custodial care in Morganza where, when he has freedom, he runs off and comes back. It just does not make sense to me.

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, I wish to advise the distinguished Majority Whip that we have had children come from Morganza who are rehabilitated and they make very good citizens. It seems to me that the children who are committed to Morganza, in most cases, are those who may be guilty of truancy, breaking a window or something like that. They run away from Morganza because they do not have a jail. They do not run away from other places because they have guards.

I might say to Senator Pechan that the type of person who generally would be committed to Morganza would be the type of person you would have committed under the provisions of your kiddie car bill. In other words, if they ran over rose bushes or something like that; they are the type generally committed to Morganza.

Mr. SEYLER. Mr. President, I would like to place the discussion of this bill on a somewhat broader base than the question of the one institution which has thus far been the center of this debate; namely, the institution known as Morganza.

This is a fundamentally important bill on an important question confronting the Commonwealth; juvenile delinquency, the treatment of it, and the treatment of those unfortunates who are sent by the courts to institutions.

I would like to point out to the Members here some of the objections to this bill which have thus far not been mentioned and which perhaps have escaped their attention. Some of these deal with the fundamental purpose of the bill, which I think are not good. Some of them deal with the language in the bill which does things concerning which I am sure the sponsor of this bill perhaps has no idea.

In the first place, Mr. President, there are twenty-four institutions in Pennsylvania which are under the supervision of the Department of Welfare. This bill would take out of that group of twenty-four, eight institutions and would place them under the Department of Justice. It would leave the other sixteen institutions still under the supervision of the Department of Welfare. This is obviously, it seems to me, not something that would make for good administration, having eight institutions dealing with the problems of juveniles under one type of supervision, under one department, and sixteen institutions dealing with the same problems operating in the Commonwealth under a different type of supervision and administration.

In the second place, this would place the supervision of these institutions dealing with juvenile problems under a department whose chief function and experience, up to the present time, has been dealing with criminal offenders of an adult type. The Justice Department deals entirely with adult criminals, except for two institutions which we, I think, unwisely gave them last time; namely, Huntingdon and White Hill. In the case of those two institutions, it deals partly with adults and partly with juveniles. For example, at Huntingdon, those are people over fifteen and, therefore, you have two groups; those from fifteen to eighteen, and those above eighteen. The same thing is true of White Hill.

This bill places under the Department of Justice, which is well equipped to deal with adult criminals, the supervision of institutions which are set up to deal specifically with juvenile offenders.

There have been many studies made of this. I would like to refer the gentleman on the other side to a study made in 1949 by a conference called by the Attorney General of the United States to consider the problems of juvenile delinquency. It was a recommendation of that conference that the care of juvenile delinquents should be administered and supervised along with the services to other children, rather than under the same supervision as adult criminals. The American Legion in 1949 also had a committee on youth problems which reported and they, too, made the same recommendation. The White House Conference of 1950 considered this problem and made that same recommendation.

This bill would fly in the face of all the studies of which I know, which dealt specifically with the problems of juvenile delinquents.

Next I would like to call to the attention of the Members here the ages of some of the people who would be affected. One of the institutions which would be placed under the Justice Department, a department which deals with adult criminals, is the Boys Industrial School for Western Pennsylvania at Oakdale. I wonder if all these Members who are going to vote on this bill know, Mr. President, that there are children in that institution from the age of six to eighteen.

Another school which would be placed under this bill is the Thornhill School of Allegheny County. I wonder if the Members realize that there you would be putting children of eight to eighteen under the supervision of a department which deals mostly with adult criminals.

I would like to call to the attention of the Members that this bill would reverse, and set aside and place obstacles in the way of a piece of legislation for which this Legislature received great credit during the last Session. This was a bill which became Act No. 406. It was a bill dealing with juvenile delinquency on a local basis and it authorized the Welfare Department to provide supervision and support, Mr. President, for local efforts to control juvenile delinquency. That program is just getting under way and it has gotten under way in the majority of counties in Pennsylvania.

This bill would reverse that trend because under this bill, Mr. President, there are at least three local institutions, county institutions, affected. It would withdraw from under the Welfare Department, which is authorized to aid and supervise those local efforts, these institutions which themselves are local efforts to control and combat juvenile delinquency.

Under this same act, Act No. 406, arises the question of potential loss of Federal Funds, because this Act was set up, Mr. President, to make it possible for the Department of Welfare to receive Federal funds and to conform to the Federal bills which are now pending, in anticipation of when they are passed at this Session, as is expected. Then our Department of Welfare will be in a position to receive those funds.

Mr. President, it is my opinion, not only my personal opinion but the opinion of people who are qualified to pass on this, that if this bill were passed, there is great doubt that we would be eligible to receive the Federal funds which will be available if the bill is passed at this Session, as anticipated, down in Washington.

Finally, Mr. President, I would like to say that the way this bill was planned, to my mind, is not in conformance with the way this Legislature should proceed in taking such a fundamental step as a revision in the treatment of our juvenile delinquents in this State. To my mind, the people who know most about this question, and who are most interested in this question, should have been involved in the study which led up to the framing of a bill like this.

Senator Pechan is the sponsor of this bill and he, perhaps, can inform us of just which individuals and groups in the State are interested in welfare, children and youth work and so on. However, I am frank to say that I do not know. I do know that most of the organizations in the State, which have been consistently interested in this question and in legislation affecting this question and in the work of the Welfare Department as well as local effort to combat juvenile delinquency, apparently have not been consulted. According to their own records, they have opposed this bill.

This kind of a change, Mr. President, should be made after study and after consultation with many people. It should not be devised in the atmosphere which I believe has led to the submission of this bill. I cannot read the mind of the sponsor or anyone else. However, I do know that there is an inimical atmosphere pertaining at present to the Department of Welfare, particularly to the Secretary of Welfare. It seems to me, Mr. President, that perhaps this bill was framed in a somewhat punitive spirit or, at least, in a spirit of being a symbol of disapproval of something which the Secretary of Welfare has done. If that is the case, Mr. President, it certainly seems to me that we should not allow such a fundamental piece of legislation to pass in such a spirit. All of the people about whom I know, who are interested in real progress in this problem, are opposed to this bill and to this type of legislation. For example, the Pennsylvania Citizens Association, which has been one of the outstanding forces not only in the development of the treatment of juvenile delinquents, but in the advancement of the welfare program generally in Pennsylvania, and the Governor's Commission on Children and Youth, of which I have the honor to be a member, have taken a stand against this type of bill.

It is said that this is a ripper bill. As I said, I cannot read anyone's mind. I do not know whether it is or not. However, it is certainly strongly suggested that it might be. If it is not a ripper bill, then I think it behooves all of us to take a long look at this and to call in some of these agencies which I mentioned, and to pay heed to some of these studies which I mentioned. I think we should set up, under the Joint State Government Commission perhaps, or under some other agency, perhaps drawing in volutary agencies, a study which would really go to the roots of this problem. If changes are indicated, they should be framed by people who are friendly to the purposes of this bill and who are not attempting to carry out any personal ends in passing such legislation.

Therefore, Mr. President, I say let us take a broad look at this. Let us not discuss Morganza or any other individual institution. Let us think of this thing as it would affect all the institutions in the State and, especially, Mr. President, as it would affect the children and youth of this State; particularly, those unfortunate children and youth who became involved in difficulties, who have perhaps seemed to have begun, without some help, to turn out to have a criminal career, and who are sent to institutions where they should receive treatment and help and rehabilitation, such as the Department of Welfare is traditionally geared to give, rather than simply punishment and purely punitive treatment such as the Department of Justice is ordinarily thought to give.

I hope, Mr. President, that all concerned will think carefully about this problem and I hope you will vote against this bill.

Mr. PECHAN. Mr. President, the gentleman from York wants to know what inspired me to sponsor this legislation.

In 1953, Governor Fine set up the Devers Committee to make an investigation of our institutions. That Committee made a report which was pretty well lived up to, with the exception of a few institutions. Morganza was one of them which was left out.

Senator Seyler mentioned something about Oakdale. Oakdale is a private institution, but it is a correctional institution and it should be treated as such in so far as supervisory powers are concerned. The local courthouse or jail, in any of our communities, is now under the supervision of the Department of Justice. Up until a couple of years ago, it was under the Department of Welfare. If Morganza, Muncy and all the rest of them are correctional institutions, they should be under the supervision of the Children's Division of the Bureau of Correction.

Senator Seyler talked about how many institutions would be affected. I do not know how many institutions this bill would affect. However, it does not affect, in so far as the department being transferred, any except Morganza and this girls' school that they talk about. I think it is that in name only. I think it is a part of Morganza. Oakdale and the one down in Grove City only come under the supervisory powers in order that their facilities and their buildings can be inspected to see whether or not they are proper and fit to be used for that purpose.

Mr. President, I do not want to prolong this debate. I can read several paragraphs from the Devers Committee Report where it says, on page 6, of the April 1953 Report as follows:

"All correctional institutions within the Commonwealth should be integrated and operated as part of an overall plan. Each institution should receive prisoners regardless of the location of the sentencing court, and the Commissioner of Correction should have authority to transfer and retransfer prisoners at will between institutions in accordance with the principles of classification without the consent of the sentencing court. The only limitation to be imposed upon this authority should be the maintenance of the identity of women's institutions and those devoted to juveniles."

The following is another paragraph contained in the Devers Committee Report:

"Original commitments of male offenders not sent to White Hill, Morganza, or a defective delinquent institution should be limited to the classification centers referred to in Recommendation No. 17. Adult male parole violators should be returned to a classification center for further diagnosis and classification."

For instance, at Morganza we have ten year old boys mixed up with men who are eighteen years old. A ten year old boy, just by associating with an eighteen year old boy who does not want to be rehabilitated, is certainly going to be spoiled by the older boy whether he wants to be or not. The sex cases down there are all a result of mixing.

Here is another recommendation made by the Devers Committee:

"There should be no autonomous penal or correctional institutions within the corrective structure. All control should be centralized and therefore it is recommended strongly that the present powers of the Board of Trustees be taken away and that the Boards be maintained as advisory groups only. It is also suggested that each institution have a separate Warden or Superintendent and that the practice of having branch institutions be abandoned."

Mr. President, I want to say one more thing before I close. I cannot recall having received one letter from anybody objecting to this proposal. I have talked to Secretary Shapiro on several occasions. We did not discuss this, but I thought if he would have been terribly disturbed, knowing Harry Shapiro as I know him, he would certainly have let Al Pechan know about it. He has not mentioned anything about it to this very day.

I have talked to other people who are in the correctional bureau—I cannot divulge any names—and they, too, feel that this is where Morganza belongs. I do not want to bore you by reading the Devers Committee Report. It is available to you. It should be followed fully, just as it was at White Hill and at Huntingdon.

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, I would just like to say to my colleagues that if they will look over the Calendars of the last couple of weeks, they will find that bills have been introduced to slowly, but surely, whittle away the power of the Secretary of Welfare. This movement started by transferring institutions, by reclassifying workers and by even changing the general setup of the Department. Some of these bills passed, because of the number of votes on the other side and because of the action taken by their Caucus, over the violent objections from this side of the aisle.

They have also cut down the appropriations very materially. Once they remove the institutions and take away the appropriations, there will not be much need for that department. If I am wrong, I hope somebody from the other side will correct me, but I cannot help but think that these actions, the cutting of appropriations and these bills, are all aimed at the present Secretary of Welfare. I am not so sure that these matters would persist if, tomorrow morning or the next day, someone else were to take that position.

If it is the desire of the Members on the other side to do away with the Department of Welfare, I think they should be honest and do so, rather than go about it in this piecemeal fashion of whittling away another institution or another power now held by the present Secretary of Welfare. I find that after the action we took during the last Session, this is retrogressive legislation. If we persist in this type of thing, we will go back to the position that we occupied in this State when the present Secretary took over which, I believe, was No. 48 on the list.

Mr. SCHMIDT. Mr. President, I believe most of the Members here today will recall the early days of the 1955 Session when the sponsor of Senate Bill No. 422, I believe, was the sponsor or the co-sponsor of a resolution which proposed to conduct an investigation of the school at Morganza. At that time, I fought that investigation, not because of any desire to see that no investigation took place, but I felt that it was the beginning of a step wherein great harm would be done to that school.

I believe the report, submitted by that committee on the investigation of Morganza, will bear out the fact that, as a whole, conditions at Morganza were such that if the institution would have been left alone, the work which the school was to do could have been carried out and the children would have profited. However, by reason of that investigation and the publicity which took place, the children in that institution had a certain contempt for the authorities at the school. They felt that the Legislature of Pennsylvania was in some way siding with them and looking upon those who were operating that school as a group of barbarians.

That investigation brought out some very interesting side lights. The members of that committee, who are sitting in this body here today, will recall some of the types of people who made the accusations against that school.

Today, Mr. President, we have another piece of retrogressive legislation in so far as the juvenile system of this Commonwealth is concerned. Are we going to continue the theory of juvenile jurisprudence and administration or are we going to retrograde back to the days when there was no difference in so far as an adult was concerned, and every child who was charged was tried in a court of law?

I do not know what has come over this Senate. We do not have any confidence whatsoever in people who are devoting their lives to trying to progress in this Commonwealth in so far as the training of juveniles is concerned.

Mr. President, I want to say to the sponsor of this bill that I have in my hand a letter, addressed to the Governor's Office, from the Secretary of Welfare, regarding this bill. I feel it my duty to read it to the Members of the Senate. It reads as follows:

"The Department is opposed to the amendments to the Administrative Code in Senate Bill No. 422 for the following reasons:

"1. It has long been the thinking of people in the welfare field that children even though delinquent should be kept away from the penal atmosphere. The transfer of the training school at Morganza to the Department of Justice proposed by this amendment would violate the advanced thinking on the methods of dealing with delinquent children especially as evidenced by the Juvenile Court Act passed many years ago.

"2. I have no feeling about the transfer of Kis-Lyn, but there might be some objection by owners of this privately owned and operated institution. (There was a bill introduced several years ago providing for the purchase of Kis-Lyn by the Commonwealth but it was never carried out.)

"3. Page 6, clause B—we have just forwarded recommendations to the Appropriations Committees that the method of appropriating money in lump sums to these institutions through the Department of Welfare be discontinued and made to the Department of Welfare as a part of its general appropriation for the purpose of dealing with and developing proper programs for juvenile delinquency. The Department presently has the responsibility of supervising these institutions even though privately owned. They, too, are subject to the same thinking that has developed the theory and incorporated into the Juvenile Court Act that children should not be placed in a penal atmosphere.

"If on the other hand, the principle espoused in this bill is to be carried out, why should it be confined to eight out of a total of 26 institutions caring for committed juvenile delinquents. The weakness and the folly of this bill is pointed up by the amendment entitled Section 915.1 which transfers the supervisory powers over these institutions only to the Department of Justice and leaves the supervision of the remaining institutions in the Department of Welfare."

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, I do not want to prolong this debate, but I maintain my position that Morganza should not be transferred to the Department of Justice. I feel it is a rehabilitation center for delinquents and it should remain so.

Mr. President, I must however, defend the actions of the Morganza Committee, because it was strictly bipartisan. I do not believe any newspaper ever accused us of playing politics on that committee. We did make some constructive recommendations. I think the vote on the recommendations was unanimous. There were an equal number of Democrats and an equal number of Republicans who served on that committee. I think they did a marvelous job. One recommendation which we did make was for the segregation of the sexes, if I recall correctly, but we did not recommend that Morganza be transferred under the jurisdiction of the Bureau of Correction.

Therefore, Mr. President, I am going to oppose the passage of this legislation. I am going to vote "no" because I believe it is a mistake to put those children in Morganza under the Bureau of Correction, thereby giving them a record.

And the question recurring,
Shall the bill pass finally?

(During the calling of the roll, the following occurred:)

Mr. SCHMIDT. Mr. President, last week we promulgated an understanding that when there was controversial legis-

BILL ON THIRD READING

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 909, entitled:

An Act amending the act of June 13, 1883 (P. L. 122) entitled “A supplement to an act entitled ‘An act to provide for the incorporation and regulation of certain corporations’ approved April twenty-ninth one thousand eight hundred and seventy-four providing for the improvement amendment and alteration of the charters of corporations of the second class and authorizing the incorporation of traction motor companies” providing for the amendment of corporate charters to extend the term of existence of a corporation or the territory in which the corporation may perate and eliminating requirements relating to payment of taxes and filing of reports.

On said bill having been read at length the third time, and agreed to,

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. SCHMIDT. Mr. President, I rise in opposition to House Bill No. 909. I believe this bill has a lot of implications which are difficult to detect upon its face.

I would say to the Members of the Senate that if this bill were to pass and become law, many a corporation which has passed out of existence, by reason of the fact that it has failed to file its tax returns and pay its taxes, could now be rejuvenated. The life of the corporation could be extended and, in the case of corporations which were chartered for the purpose of conducting transfer businesses and so on, they could even amend the charter so that the territory they could cover would be enlarged. I think quite a number of people who now hold public utility certificates would be in a very, very ticklish position.

MOTION TO POSTPONE BILL

Mr. SCHMIDT. Therefore, Mr. President, I would move that this bill be placed upon the Final Passage Postponed Calendar until the Members of the Senate have a good opportunity to understand the implications of this bill.

Mr. SEYLER. Mr. President, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, I am advised that there is some thinking here that we passed a similar bill to this in the Senate previously. Therefore, we would like to have an opportunity to compare the Senate Bill, which we have already passed, with this House Bill. I would, therefore, suggest that we allow the bill to go over in order until tomorrow in order to give us an opportunity to make that comparison.

MOTION TO POSTPONE BILL WITHDRAWN

Mr. SCHMIDT. Mr. President, I withdraw my motion to place House Bill No. 909 on the Final Passage Postponed Calendar.

Mr. SEYLER. Mr. President, I withdraw my second to the motion.

And the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

BILLS OVER IN ORDER

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, I now ask unanimous consent that House Bill No. 909, Printer's No. 353, on final passage, go over in its order.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

Mr. PECHAN. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that House Bill No. 991, Printer's No. 308, on third reading go over in its order.

GEORGE M. LEADER.

SENATE BILL NO. 312, PRINTER'S NO. 156

RETURNED WITHOUT APPROVAL

May 27, 1957.

To the Honorable, the Senate of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

I return herewith, without my approval, Senate Bill No. 312, Printer's No. 156, entitled "An Act amending the compact contained in the act of June 5, 1937 (P. L. 1664) entitled 'An act to ratify and adopt a compact or agreement negotiated by commissioners designated by the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania and commissioners designated by the Governor of the State of Ohio relative to the development use and control of the Pymatuning Lake and the State owned land surrounding said lake for fishing hunting recreational and park purposes' designating the lake area on which motor boats may be operated limiting the horsepower of the motor boats operated thereon and fixing penalties."

This bill on its face would appear merely to increase the area on Pymatuning Lake upon which motorboats are permitted to operate.

Ostensibly, therefore, it is a bill to increase recreation. Yet it is opposed by the Department of Forests and Waters, the Fish Commission and the organized sportsmen of the State. The reason is that it would open a portion of the lake which has always been closed to motorboats because it is shallow, full of tree stumps and a hazard to navigation. In addition, it would destroy the wilderness aspect of the lake are in question, as well as its present attraction to fishermen and others desiring quieter forms of recreation. On the recreational aspect alone, together with the hazard it would create to the motorboating public, this bill is highly undesirable.

However, it does more than fail as a recreational measure. It represents a potential threat to the livelihood of every worker in the Shenango and Beaver river valleys, endangering existing industry and hampering that area in its competition with neighboring Ohio communities for industrial development.

Obviously the opening of an area not now suitable for motorboating would lead to increased pressure for a higher and stable lake level, for without it the users would face unnavigable mud flats when the water is low, as well as a forest of tree stumps which would make motorboating hazardous if not impossible.

Upwards of 200,000 persons would be adversely affected in three counties, Mercer, Lawrence and Beaver, all bordering Ohio and all in competition with neighboring Ohio communities for industry. Chiefly hurt would be the steel communities of Sharpsville, Greenville, Sharon, Farrell and Wheatland, together with West Middlesex, New Castle, Ellwood City and Beaver Falls.

In the past this region suffered depression because its industries had to shut down in summer for lack of water. That is the principal reason Pymatuning was built. With the development of this area it is now drawing virtually a maximum amount out of Pymatuning during dry periods. Should it continue to draw those amounts the recreational aspect of Pymatuning which this bill proposes to create would disappear; should the water be shut off in order to maintain Pymatuning as a motorboating haven industrial disaster would inevitably follow.

For these reasons, the bill is not approved.

GEORGE M. LEADER.

PRAYER

Reverend Harry Fulton Cost, Pastor of the Union Presbyterian Church, Cowansville, Worthington Presbyterian Church, Worthington, and West Glade Run Presbyterian Church, Kittanning, R. D., guest Chaplain and guest of the Speaker, offered the following prayer:

Or God, our help in ages past, our hope for years to come, we humbly bow before Thy throne of Grace as we enter upon another meeting of this House of Representatives of the people of the sovereign Commonwealth of Pennsylvania. May we consider carefully the work that comes before us, remembering always that a great trust has been committed to us by the people whom we represent and by Thee, our Father God.

May we be ever mindful of the needs of our State and Nation for the up-building of true democracy after the pattern devised and carried forward by the founders of this Nation which we love.

Guide and direct those in official position that the spirit of wisdom and of truth may be their watchword and may each Legislator seek only the path of personal integrity and look for ways and means of serving the State and his or her constituency in keeping only with the command of The Eternal, "Thou shalt love the Lord thy God with all thy heart, and soul, and mind and strength, and thou shalt love thy neighbor as thyself."

Deliver us all from selfish pride and all desire to benefit any special personal interest by denying some needful attention to a section of the State or segment of its inhabitants. May we fulfill our mission with honor as we carry out the mandate for good government, "of the people, for the people and by the people," entrusted to us. In the name of Him, who is "the way, the truth and the life," the Eternal Son of God, the Lord and Saviour of us all, we pray. Amen.

Mr. JOHNSON asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

Mr. Speaker, as the membership knows, we have on our calendar today the appropriation bills on second reading. Some of them are preferred appropriations and they require 106 votes. There are other appropriation bills on the calendar which are non-preferred appropriations and they require 140 votes.

I am suggesting that today we move all the bills from second reading to third reading, then tomorrow they will be on third reading. It is my understanding that the minority will want to offer amendments to some or all of the bills on third reading. It is agreed that amendments will be in order to be offered on third reading.

I believe the bills which require 140 votes will not be voted on until Wednesday, they being non-preferred appropriations.

It is also understood that amendments to the general appropriation bill will be offered tomorrow and we will vote on it finally on Wednesday.

There are, however, certain bills which require 106 votes to which the Minority does not intend to offer amendments. Those bills, being on third reading we will move tomorrow, unless between now and tomorrow there are some to which the minority would like to offer amendments. If that is the case, they will also lie over until Wednesday.

So you can see that tomorrow will be our big day. We expect to be here at 11:00 o'clock. The minority will offer amendments to various bills which will be on third reading and we will move some bills on third reading which only require 106 votes and upon which there will be no controversy.

Then on Wednesday the general appropriations bill and the non-preferred appropriation bills will move and be voted on for final passage. So we will hope to end the week here with action taken on all appropriation bills on today's calendar.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS HOUSE

Mr. READINGER asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

Mr. Speaker, I would say that the Majority Leader has correctly outlined the procedure which has already been discussed with me as the Minority Leader.

I want it clearly understood that we do not approve of the undue haste with which the majority is moving on these appropriation bills. However, since the majority does have the controlling votes and since they are going to give us opportunity to prepare amendments to all appropriation bills which we desire to amend and give us ample time to debate them, I have stated so far on behalf of the minority that we have no objection to saving some time by passing all of these appropriation bills on to third reading today. Otherwise they would simply be moved to third reading tomorrow and all of them would be before us on Wednesday, which would throw a great deal of the debate on amendments, and so forth, over to Wednesday.

I believe the Majority Leader has stated that none of the non-preferred appropriation bills will be voted on until Wednesday after the general appropriation bill has been disposed of one way or the other by the House. Also, we will have opportunity to offer amendments on third reading to all preferred appropriation bills other than the general appropriation bill tomorrow and, if in some cases the amendments to the preferred appropriations other than the general appropriation bill are not ready by tomorrow, we still will have an opportunity to offer those on Wednesday.

Mr. JOHNSON. Mr. Speaker, as I understand it, the plan is that amendments be ready and be offered tomorrow. I did not contemplate there would be any amendments offered on third reading on Wednesday, which would be three days from now. The idea was that the bills be in shape for final passage on Wednesday. If you have any amendments, we would like to have them presented tomorrow.

Conceivably there might be one bill, or something like that, but we are not going to be sticklers on it. The idea was, as we discussed, that we would try to offer all our amendments tomorrow so that Wednesday would be strictly a final passage day.

Mr. READINGER. Mr. Speaker, I pointed out the fact that while we think all the amendments which we will have to offer to the preferred appropriation bills will be ready for introduction tomorrow, if there is any legitimate reason why they cannot be prepared and ready to be offered tomorrow, we certainly are not agreeing at this time to closing the door to offering amendments on third reading on Wednesday to that particular type of bill.

It is a terrific job to get some of these amendments prepared and in the shape they will have to be. We are not trying to delay the passage of the general appropriation bill, we are not trying to delay the passage of any appropriation bill on this schedule, but we certainly are not agreeing, if our amendments are not ready for any specific preferred appropriation bill tomorrow, that we will give up our opportunity to even offer them on third reading on Wednesday.

Mr. JOHNSON. I believe the gentleman while he was conferring with Mr. Andrews, did not hear me state that certainly we are not going to be sticklers on it. I know he is going to do his level best. If he finds that he must hold something over until Wednesday, we are not going to close the door on it.

Mr. READINGER. I thank the gentleman.

Mr. JOHNSON. Mr. Speaker, I just want to make this additional statement.

It is hoped, on the part of the leadership on this side, that tomorrow we can pretty thoroughly exhaust the debate. We will be able to do it for this reason, when they are offering amendments they can state what is wrong with the appropriation and why they want it raised. They can state their economic position, their political position and any other position they might want to on the measure with the thought that, on Wednesday we will have exhausted the debate and the business before the House will be pretty much confined to roll calls. We did that on the wire tapping bill and it worked out very well. When we finally got to final passage, as you remember, there was practically no debate.

I know the Minority Leader will not agree to this, but it is hoped that tomorrow we can have orderly debate on the whole program so Wednesday can be devoted to roll calls, and so forth.

The SPEAKER (W. Stuart Helm) IN THE CHAIR

COMMUNICATION FROM GOVERNOR

The Secretary to the Governor being introduced, presented a communication in writing from His Excellency the Governor, which was read as follows:

VETO OF HOUSE BILL No. 39.

Commonwealth of Pennsylvania,
Governor's Office, Harrisburg, May 24, 1957.

To the Honorable, the House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

I return herewith, without my approval, House Bill No. 39, Printer's No. 259, entitled "An Act amending the act of August 5, 1932 (P. L. 45) entitled 'An act empowering cities of the first and second classes to levy assess and collect or to provide for the levying assessment and collection of certain additional taxes for general revenue purposes authorizing the establishment of bureaus and the appointment and compensation of officers and employes to assess and collect such taxes and permitting penalties to be imposed and enforced' prohibiting the imposition of wage income or occupation taxes on non-residents and abolishing such taxes heretofore imposed."

This bill would amend the so-called "Sterling Act," which authorizes cities of the first and second classes (Philadelphia and Pittsburgh) to levy taxes on persons and other subjects within the City, provided a State tax or license fee has not been imposed on any such subjects.

This bill would provide that on or after December 31, 1957, it shall be unlawful for Philadelphia to impose any wage, income or occupation tax on any person not a resident of Philadelphia. Its purpose would be to enable residents of the counties and states adjoining Philadelphia who are employed in Philadelphia to be immune from any taxes levied by Philadelphia on wages or income received from employment in Philadelphia.

Approval of this legislation would do immediate and great harm to the City of Philadelphia and its people because of the loss of revenues essential to the public services rendered by that City. It would also do great harm, less immediately but just as surely, to those it purports to assist—the people who earn their livelihoods in Philadelphia and maintain their residence beyond the city's corporate limits. The welfare of the whole metropolitan population is inseparable from the strength of the central city which is its core.

In this regard, I am deeply impressed by the statement of the full board of directors of the Greater Philadelphia Movement, sent to me under the signature of its co-chairmen, Gaylord P. Harnwell and P. Blair Lee. They urge "in the strongest manner possible," a veto of House Bill 39. "This bill, if enacted," they say, "would have dire consequences for the City of Philadelphia. The fact is that the economy of the City of Philadelphia simply could not stand the shock of a tax loss from twelve to fourteen million dollars. Furthermore, despite certain immediate appeal of this legislation to elements in Philadelphia's suburban counties, we believe enactment of House Bill 39 would be harmful in the long run to the economy of the entire Southeastern Pennsylvania area. We believe this because a center city which is economically weak could not continue to help sustain a vigorous regional economy and provide much of the employment in the area."

I accept as correct the statement of the Mayor of Philadelphia as to the disastrous effect which the approval of this legislation would have on the finances of the city which he administers.

In the light of these circumstances, I would become a party to a shocking irresponsibility already exhibited in the Legislature if I permitted this bill to become law. That I will not do.

In the communications that have come to me asking that I sign the bill, a repeated argument has been that taxation of non-residents by Philadelphia is taxation without representation. The actual fact is that all local taxing powers in Pennsylvania derive from the Commonwealth, in whose government all Pennsylvanians are represented. The Constitution of Pennsylvania prevents the City of Philadelphia from imposing any taxes on non-residents which it does not impose on its own citizens. The pattern for local purposes is set by the Commonwealth, and local officials may levy taxes only within prescribed limits.

Some of those limitations are in part imposed by the Sterling Act which this bill seeks to amend. In my opinion, the additional limitation is unwise.

It would be far more beneficial to seek a better understanding of the common problems of central cities and their suburban communities, and to act constructively for their solution, than to inflame quarrels between them for patently political purposes.

It is a fact of our public life that the financial structure of the State's largest city has for more than twenty years included the return from earned income tax payments by non-residents of Philadelphia. It is obvious that such funds cannot be withdrawn without serious damage to the financial base upon which Philadelphia presently depends.

Only a long-term approach to the fiscal relationships within the Philadelphia metropolitan area can change these facts.

I am morally certain that this bill was sent to me only because the Republican legislative leaders knew that the Governor would rescue them from their own irresponsibility. It is a devious kind of politics which does them no credit, and does the people of Philadelphia and its surrounding communities no good.

For these reasons, the bill is not approved.

GEORGE M. LEADER.

On the question,

Shall the bill become a law, the veto of the Governor to the contrary notwithstanding?

COMMUNICATION AND BILL LAID ON TABLE

Mr. FOSTER. Mr. Speaker, I move that the communication, together with the bill be laid upon the table.

The motion was agreed to.

SENATE MESSAGE

AMENDED HOUSE BILL RETURNED FOR CONCURRENCE

Mr. GIBSON. Mr. Speaker, I call up on page 25 of today's calendar, Amended House Bills Returned for Concurrence, House Bill No. 2.

The Senate message was read as follows:

The Clerk of the Senate being introduced, returned bill from the House of Representatives numbered and entitled as follows:

HOUSE BILL No. 2

A Joint Resolution proposing an amendment to article two section four of the Constitution of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania by providing for annual sessions of the General Assembly.

With the information that the Senate has passed the same with amendments, in which the concurrence of the House of Representatives is requested.

The SPEAKER. The Clerk will read the amendments.

The Clerk read the amendments as follows:

Amend Section 1, page 2, line 8, by inserting after the word "revenue" the word "and";

Line 9, by striking out after the word "appropriations" the following: "and laws pertaining to subjects designated by proclamation of the Governor prior to the first Tuesday of January".

On the question,

Will the House concur in the amendments made by the Senate?

Mr. GIBSON. Mr. Speaker, I request that the House concur in the amendments made by the Senate.

On the question,

Will the House concur in the amendments made by the Senate?

Mr. READINGER. Mr. Speaker, I do not rise to oppose concurrence in these Senate amendments, although I think we should.

The Senate has limited this Constitutional resolution for the even numbered years to the enactment of laws relating to fiscal matters only and has stricken out the right of the session during the even numbered years to legislate on subjects designated by proclamation of the Governor, prior to the first Tuesday of January.

I said I would like to oppose concurrence because I think it is nonsensical to ask the public to vote to allow annual sessions and then put a handcuff on the Legislature itself in what it may do during those annual sessions. Since I have been given to understand that the Senate will not accept any version of this resolution other than the way they have it, I am going to ask the minority Members to concur, because it will at least be a step forward if some day the people of Pennsylvania vote for annual sessions, even though they are limited, as they are by this bill.

Since we have adopted a new system of paying the Members annually and giving them expenses annually, and since the Constitution allows the Governor to call a special session at any time when we are not in regular session, it seems foolish to me to put in this limitation which this bill contains. For example, in the even numbered years we have a session in fiscal matters that might last three months or it might last four months. There is no time limit in it. Since the Governor could not by proclamation add other subjects to be legislated upon by that regular session, he could call a special session the day the regular session adjourned and he could designate the various subjects for legislation that he thought should be acted upon. So, while the Senate is insisting on this version, actually in practice if the public votes for an annual session we are going to have exactly what this House asked for when it passed this bill.

No great harm would come from this, but it simply does not make sense to so limit it, and I am asking the Members to vote for the resolution.

Mr. LOVETT. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate the Majority Leader.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from McKean, Mr. Johnson, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. JOHNSON. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. LOVETT. Mr. Speaker, if we pass this resolution at this session of the Legislature, will it be on the ballot this fall for a vote of the people?

Mr. JOHNSON. No, as I understand it, this is the first time for this resolution. It died in the Senate, I believe, last session.

Mr. LOVETT. I just wanted to say, Mr. Speaker, that I noticed in the Pittsburgh paper where this was one of the few things that the present administration, Republican administration in the House and Senate, was accomplishing for the people of Pennsylvania, that we were going to give them the right to vote on this at the coming fall elections. So I just wanted to make it clear that the delay two years ago—we could have had this resolution at that time—gives the people the right to vote on whether or not we should have annual sessions of the Legislature. I do not oppose the resolution, the only thing I say is that it has been delayed too long.

Mr. JOHNSON. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate the gentleman from Westmoreland, Mr. Lovett.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Westmoreland, Mr. Lovett, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. LOVETT. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. JOHNSON. Mr. Speaker, I would like to ask the gentleman what newspaper this article was in?

Mr. LOVETT. The Pittsburgh Press.

Mr. JOHNSON. And the gentleman says that the article said the only thing we are doing for the people of Pennsylvania is to give them the right to vote on annual sessions?

Mr. LOVETT. No, no. I did not say that. I said, it was one of the things.

Mr. JOHNSON. You say that it is one of the few things?

Mr. LOVETT. One of the few things that they had mentioned.

Mr. JOHNSON. I thank the gentleman.

Mr. Speaker, I was not going to make a speech but I am prompted to make a few remarks, and I ask unanimous consent of the House to do so.

The SPEAKER. The only question before the House is concurrence in the amendments to House Bill No. 2, Printer's No. 38.

Mr. JOHNSON. Thank you Mr. Speaker, I will defer until later.

The SPEAKER. The Chair thanks the gentleman.

On the question recurring,

Will the House concur in the amendments made by the Senate?

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the consideration on final passage of House Bill No. 1389, entitled:

An Act amending the "Liquor Code" approved April 12, 1951 (P. L. 90) providing that the population of a municipality to be used in determining the number of licenses to be issued therein shall be based on the last preceding United States census taken in such municipality.

On the question,
Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. GOLDSTEIN. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate one of the sponsors of this bill.

The SPEAKER. The Chair had ordered the calling of the roll. The Chair gave every Member an opportunity to debate the bill. Without objection the Chair will withdraw his direction for the calling of the roll and return to the question, Shall the bill pass finally? The Chair hears no objection.

Mr. GOLDSTEIN. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate one of the sponsors of the bill.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Berks, Mr. Piper, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. PIPER. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. GOLDSTEIN. Mr. Speaker, this bill provides that, based upon the information of the United States Government, the number of licenses can be determined upon those figures, is that correct?

Mr. PIPER. That is right.

Mr. GOLDSTEIN. Does this bill provide that if the population growth shows it to be in a different category that the license fees for this particular area will also be increased?

Mr. PIPER. They will not be, not until the next term.

Mr. GOLDSTEIN. I thank the gentleman.

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

Mr. STROUP. Mr. Speaker, I call up on page 17 of today's calendar, Bills on Final Passage, House Bill No. 800, which was passed over earlier in the day.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the consideration on final passage of House Bill No. 800, entitled:

An Act requiring State county township municipal and school district records and those of all boards commissions and authorities created by the Commonwealth or by any political subdivision to be open for examination and inspection by citizens of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania authorizing citizens under certain conditions to make extracts copies photographs or photostats of such records and providing penalties.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. STROUP. Mr. Speaker, I shall try to be brief in urging your support of House Bill 800,

When this bill appeared upon our calendar we sensed something of a controversial issue because there are some serious questions involved, and I wish to spend a little bit of time talking about those serious questions.

The questions involved first of all are:

Shall the records of governmental functions be open to public scrutiny; if so, to what extent shall those records be open; and third, how can those records of governmental function be open to the general public or made available to them and yet insure that such availability will not interfere with or will not in some way advance selfish ends of other individuals?

So we face a problem in this particular bill. I think a less conscientious House and a less conscientious leadership might have consigned this particular bill to the limbo of misbegotten bills and legislation. Nevertheless there is a sentinel bell ringing in our consciousness which tells us we cannot do that with this type of legislation because of the principle involved.

Here is legislation that strikes at the tap roots of the liberties of the people and, therefore, we must be aware of it and give it our thorough consideration. For woven into the fabric of a free society is the basic political concept that all governmental functions shall be open to the microscopic light of public scrutiny.

It seems to me it is one of the most necessary elements of a democratic government and that it is essential to the preservation of liberties of the people. I will grant you that in the complex world, in society and in the era in which we live, because of the intricacies and the complexities of our society, we therefore have a gigantically intricate and complex governmental system, and by reason of that fact, therefore, it has been necessary for the administrative arm of government to delegate a lot of its authority and power to certain commissions and bureaus, departments and agencies, which by the reason of that delegation, being far removed from the electorate and the ballot, sometimes arrogate unto themselves certain responsibilities, duties and obligations which they were not supposed to have initially. As a consequence, we find ourselves being faced with a government of officialdom. These officials sometimes become increasingly autocratic in their attitudes because they have no responsibility to the electorate.

We have seen these things happen in the rise and fall of nations across the seas and we have seen the same thing happen in our national government, when the creeping tentacles of bureaucracy fastened themselves in high positions in that government. I think we have witnessed in our lifetime, those of us that are here, the efforts of an aroused electorate to strike the shackles of government by edict and government by administrative prescription, from the daily lives of all of the people. To our regret, as a legislative body in this Commonwealth, we have found it necessary, and I would not doubt that again we shall find it necessary repeatedly, to resort to legal investigations, indeed to legal action and to legislative investigations of the very agents of government which we have created as a Legislature, and of the agencies of government, of the administrative arm of this government.

The reason for that is because certain agencies, departments bureaus and commissions have become little isolated mountains of power in their own right and are no longer responsible to our people.

Now it has been said, and I think it is a first truth which we are all aware of, and that is, in a constitutional republic the judiciary is the last bulwark of the defenses of the people, and in like manner I maintain that in a body such as this, the legislator constitutes the watch-dog of the growing power of the administrative arm of government. And as such, therefore, it is time that we initiate a program the nature of which we find defined in House Bill 800.

I realize now, and I do not wish to worry you, that I am merely speaking repetitious first truths, that you are aware of these facts that are known to all of us, but you know sometimes the repetition of these truths is absolutely necessary, because it is so easy for us to forget. It is very easy and it is very convenient for one to quiet a wilfully drowsy conscience. Many of us sometime feel too big when we get to places of high positions. We make ourselves big in our own minds; we may not be big in ourselves. As a consequence we forget to remember the things which we knew as we were climbing to the position we find ourselves in.

House Bill 800 I think will make us remember. It challenges our favorable consideration for it is but the statutory implementation of a political concept to which all of us have subscribed and which, without adverse consequence to us, we may not now successfully controvert.

This bill is designed to strike the veil of secrecy from certain governmental departments and agencies. The crux of the matter that is before us is, does the bill accomplish the objectives desired? For if we are going to deny this bill our voting approval, we must find a valid reason in the language of the bill, in the context of that language, since we cannot possibly deny the principle that is involved in this bill.

This bill was amended in committee after careful study before it came out. It has been amended twice upon this floor and has been held purposely on the calendar time and again so that all of us might have the opportunity to modify, to correct or to alter as we see fit, in order to preserve the principle that is confined in this bill. If some of you now find this legislation unpalatable, and you find fault with the language context, then it would seem to me that the burden has been yours to correct the fault that you find therein by reason of the long time that the bill has been before you, and thus aid us in preserving the principle that is involved.

Briefly, as the bill now stands, and as I have studied it—and I have spent considerable time with it, and with the language in the bill—a citizen of Pennsylvania may inspect, may make copies of certain public records and of certain agencies of government. But there are protective clauses thrown around that right. First, examinations may be made only at reasonable times; second, departments may establish rules relating to the inspection and the making of copies; and third, no report, communication or other paper may be inspected or copied if the publication would disclose the institution, the progress or the result of an investigation.

This language has been placed purposely in the bill on the second amendment of the bill in order to throw protective clause around the efforts on the part of some citizens to make a nuisance of themselves and in order to stultify any investigation, plan or design that an agency might have concerning its own plans or that the Attorney General's office might have concerning an investigation in any particular department.

I will undertake to answer questions from the floor on this bill, if I can successfully, and I do urge each and every one of you in support of the fundamental principle that is herein involved to say to the people of Pennsylvania, you the citizens of the Commonwealth in this democracy, and we who serve in the government of liberty, as your representatives say to you, you have a right to know what happens in your government and to inspect the records of that government.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Bedford, Mr. Stroup.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Bedford permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. STROUP. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, as the gentleman knows there is no disagreement between us as to the purpose. I am simply rising to ask him, as one learned in the law, whether in his opinion the bill protects the right of an executive to refuse a request for an examination of the records, say in the case of someone visibly intoxicated?

Mr. STROUP. Mr. Speaker, I am of the opinion that the bill does provide adequate protection in that, particularly under the phrases "at reasonable times" and "reasonable circumstances" and the department has the right to make rules and regulations concerning the making of extracts and the study and inspection of the records. It seems to me that under the interpretation of that, if an intoxicated person or one mentally incompetent would appear on the scene and demand to see certain records under those reasonable rules they certainly would be upheld on that type of an interpretation.

Mr. FINEMAN. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate the gentleman from Bedford, Mr. Stroup.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Bedford, Mr. Stroup, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. STROUP. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. FINEMAN. Mr. Speaker, there is only one situation for the moment that I am concerned about and perhaps the gentleman can enlighten me.

Does this bill, in his opinion, make it possible for someone to inquire, in the cases of adoption, of the Department of Vital Statistics, as to who are the natural parents of the adopted child?

Let me put it to you this way. You know as an attorney that when an adoption decree is forwarded to Harrisburg, a new birth certificate is issued by the Department of Vital Statistics, wherein the surname of that child is recited as the surname of the adopting parents. So that, actually, there is eliminated from the record of birth the fact that the child was born to parents other than to those by whom he was adopted.

I now want to inquire whether or not this bill would make it possible for a natural parent, by inquiry at the Department of Vital Statistics, to find out the name of the person or persons who have adopted his or her child.

Mr. STROUP. Mr. Speaker, the only protection thrown around a situation of that nature is to be found in the prohibition clause on the third page.

I would not be willing to make the statement that it might not be possible to get such information. I would make this statement, however, to the gentleman from Philadelphia, that if during the institution of the adoption proceedings, the progress of it and as a result of it, such information was sought, the Department would be within its right to deny it and to refuse to give such information.

Mr. FINEMAN. I am sorry, would you repeat the last part of your statement, I did not follow that.

Mr. STROUP. If during the institution of the adoption proceedings, or if during the institution of an investigation as to heritage, or during the progress of that investigation, or that proceeding, or the result of the proceeding, the Department would be able to withhold that information if the information would in any way stultify the particular procedure.

Mr. FINEMAN. Well, let us assume the proceedings are at an end and that a decree has been issued by the court and the investigation is closed. Could the natural parent at that point inquire as to the name of the person who adopted his or her child?

Mr. STROUP. I think that might be possible.

Mr. FINEMAN. I thank the gentleman.

If that situation should prevail, I say that this is an extremely bad and dangerous bill, because you can easily foresee the creation of a situation here that would be fraught with a lot of peril. It is a situation that can lead itself to blackmail; it is a situation that can lend itself to an awfully messy condition. You take any parent who has given a child out for adoption, after a decree has been issued, can then place herself or himself in a position whereby having learned the name of the adopting parents they can then proceed to blackmail those parents and, of course, you as an attorney as I do realize the unhealthy condition that might result.

Mr. STROUP. If that is the question, Mr. Speaker, I will answer the gentleman this way.

Adoption proceedings after they are completed, are available in the court records that are open as to the names of adopting parents in all court records. You can find out—you may not be able to find out, I will take one portion of that back—the proceedings are there, you may not be able to find out for a particular child because that child's name, of course, is . . .

Mr. FINEMAN. Wait, I am sure you must know as an attorney that all adoption records are impounded.

Mr. STROUP. I will take that back. I made a misstatement there to the gentleman from Philadelphia, they are not open for everybody to have access to, that is correct.

Mr. FINEMAN. As a matter of fact, I do not know that anybody can get access to them.

Mr. STROUP. That is right.

Mr. FINEMAN. And you are now creating a situation where these records would be available. Now, if the court as a rule impounds these records, it must be for the very obvious reason that we are trying to eliminate it, and my reason for these objections today. Here you are creating a situation where a person can go in and learn the name of the parents that adopted their child and the result could be an extremely unhealthy result. I say that this is a bad bill. It may be that the purpose and the intent of the bill is good, but the present language of this bill is bad if it will allow that situation, and you say that it will.

Mr. STROUP. Mr. Speaker, I will not make that categorical statement at all. If you will interpret page 3, and the language in the bill, it is very possible that your objection is taken care of by it, and that an interpretation of that language as it is put in the prohibition clause would make it impossible for such information to be made available out of the Bureau of Vital Statistics. It is my impression that it might be. However, I would not want to make that statement categorically.

Mr. FINEMAN. Well the point is, if this is susceptible of more than one interpretation, it is not a good enough situation. If you would agree to hold this bill over until it could be properly amended to exclude the situation about which I am talking—and that is a "must" situation—I would say I would vote for this bill. But, I cannot possibly support the bill in its present form. It is bad law.

Mr. STROUP. Mr. Speaker, in answer to the gentleman from Philadelphia, we have held this bill for a long time trying to seek assistance from others upon various facets of the bill to which they might take exception. The gentleman may have a verified exception to it, although I question whether or not it is a valid one under the interpretation of the clause that we have there. We have made efforts to use language which might help to take care of a situation such as he has propounded to us here. In our limited opinion, we thought that the word "investigation" and "the progress of the investigation" and "the institution of it as a result" would effectively keep confidential information needed by any agencies from coming to people that should not have it.

Mr. FINEMAN. That is true only during the pendency of the investigation, but I say to you again, let us take the situation where the investigation has been closed, what have we then?

I would say to the gentleman also, that we do not sacrifice justice in the interest of expediency. The mere fact that this bill has been pending a long time is certainly not a basis which would warrant our going ahead and pushing through something that is obviously bad. I say this is a bad bill, and I am certain that as an attorney the gentleman must recognize this one grave error that the bill has. No one disputes the intent, the valid intent and purpose of this bill. We all want to see that result accomplished, but in our desire to get that result we cannot overlook a very bad situation that this bill is going to create.

Mr. STROUP. Mr. Speaker, at the request of the gentleman, I shall be glad to cooperate with him and to seek his assistance in framing the bill in language such as he would be assured that the situation which he poses to us would be protected. For that reason, I will gladly hold the bill and ask his assistance in putting the proper type of language in it. Therefore, Mr. Speaker, I ask that the bill be placed upon the Final Passage Postponed Calendar.

Mr. FINEMAN. I thank the gentleman.

On the question recurring,
Shall the bill pass finally?

BILL POSTPONED

Mr. STROUP. Mr. Speaker, I move that this bill be placed on the final passage postponed calendar.

On the question,

Will the House agree to motion?

Mr. SCHWARTZ. Mr. Speaker, . . .

The SPEAKER. Does the gentleman desire to speak on the motion?

Mr. SCHWARTZ. I think it is on the motion, Mr. Speaker.

The SPEAKER. The only matter before the House is the motion to postpone.

Mr. SCHWARTZ. I believe it will be on the motion, Mr. Speaker.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will proceed.

Mr. SCHWARTZ. The one point I would like to make with reference to this bill is that another question should be considered, and that is, in any judicial proceedings where a court has impounded the records, I think that is another matter that should be taken into consideration, if this bill is to be amended.

The motion was agreed to.

HOUSE BILL No. 1598 MADE A SPECIAL ORDER

Mr. HOCKER. Mr. Speaker, I move that House Bill No. 1598, Printer's No. 589 on page 22 of today's calendar, bills on third reading be made a special order of business immediately.

The motion was agreed to.

The SPEAKER. The Chair lays before the House the special order of business fixed for this time, being House Bill No. 1598.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1598, entitled:

An Act amending the act of January 14, 1952 (P. L. 2046) entitled "An act authorizing the Department of Highways to erect and maintain toll bridges over the Susquehanna River * * *" making the erection of such bridges by the Department of Highways mandatory.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. READINGER. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Dauphin, Mr. Hocker.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Dauphin, Mr. Hocker, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. HOCKER. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. READINGER. Mr. Speaker, I notice this is an amendment to the Act of January 14, 1952. May I inquire whether the gentleman was the sponsor of the 1952 Act?

Mr. HOCKER. I was, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. READINGER. May I inquire whether the gentleman was a Member of this House during the 1953 session?

Mr. HOCKER. I was, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. READINGER. May I ask the gentleman to explain in detail the meaning of this bill, the cost of it and the need for it?

Mr. HOCKER. I think I can do that very briefly.

Mr. Speaker, there is an area in Lancaster County on the great, wide, beautiful Susquehanna—that is detail, I think—of 45 miles between Columbia and Conowingo where there is no bridge.

There is also an area of 40 or 45 miles to the north of Harrisburg in the county of Dauphin between the counties of Dauphin and Perry where there is no bridge. There are towns in these areas which are greatly handicapped by not having a bridge.

Mr. READINGER. Is that all the gentleman has to say?

Mr. HOCKER. Well, it all depends on how long you want to go.

Mr. READINGER. Mr. Speaker, it is not a matter of time, it is a matter of information.

May I ask the gentleman more specific questions, perhaps that will help him?

May I ask why this bill was one simply authorizing the Department of Highways to do this in 1952 and now orders the Highways Department to do it?

Mr. HOCKER. I will answer the gentleman this way, Mr. Speaker. I am trying to do somebody a favor by making this mandatory, I will be perfectly frank.

I have been told that when the gentleman from York County, who is Governor now, was a candidate, he told the people in York County he would see that that bridge was built. I am only trying to help him get the bridge.

Mr. READINGER. I believe this covers two bridges, one in Perry County too.

Mr. HOCKER. We are amending the Act and that was in the other Act, Mr. Speaker. That is the reason for that.

Mr. READINGER. Will the gentleman tell me whether he has any figures on the cost of these two bridges, or either of them?

Mr. HOCKER. At the time the bill that Mr. Wood and I sponsored in 1952 or 1953 went through the House, we had estimates which were about $2.5 million for each bridge.

I might say, Mr. Speaker, and I think the gentleman knows this, but I will give it for the information of the House, these will be toll bridges until they are paid for. I agree we just got rid of our toll bridges, but the people in these areas are perfectly satisfied to pay for the bridges without asking the rest of the state to do it. They need them so badly that they are willing to pay most of the freight.

Mr. READINGER. May I inquire how long this condition relative to these people in these areas has been in existence? Has it not been many years that they were settled as they are now?

Mr. HOCKER. If the gentleman wants an answer to that, I will go back as far as I can. I think the Indians waded across these rivers and crossed them in canoes. If you want to go back that far, that is how long there has not been a bridge there.

Mr. READINGER. It is now your desire to take perhaps $7 million out of the Highway funds to build these two bridges and eventually recoup that through tolls?

Can the gentleman tell us how long it would take to get the money back into the Highways Department?

Mr. HOCKER. Mr. Speaker, for the information of the gentleman, the Columbia-Wrightsville bridge was built under the same circumstances and was paid off in twelve years. That is the bridge just north of the one which is to be built now. It was a twelve-year period.

Mr. READINGER. Is the gentleman prepared to tell us what the effect will be on the over-all highway program if they take roughly $7 million away from it to pay for these two bridges?

Mr. HOCKER. I will put it this way. It might stop them from fooling away some money if it has to go into these two areas.

Mr. READINGER. Will the gentleman admit that if they take $7 million to build these two bridges, that is $7 million worth of roads which will not be built otherwise in the state of Pennsylvania?

Mr. HOCKER. I would not admit that, no. But I would say this, the money is available and it will be available in the next biennium to do this. I think from the standpoint of helping these communities, Mr. Speaker, if this cost $20 million, I would still introduce this piece of legislation.

Mr. READINGER. I thank the gentleman for his vague answers.

Mr. HOCKER. Mr. Speaker, may I say one thing? They are not lawyer's answers.

Mr. READINGER. We cannot blame the gentleman for trying, but I think all of us should realize he is seeking to take somewhere between $5 and $7 million out of the Highways Department funds to put up these two bridges.

We go back to the same thing which was argued on the floor of this House sometime ago on these special dispensation of Highway funds at a time when the Highways Department was saying that unless we get the extra penny on gas, which you refuse to give, they are not going to have enough money to do many of the things they know ought to be done. That does not include these two bridges.

So if you are prepared to vote away $7 million for these two bridges and you do not get any improvements in your own areas which are desperately needed, then you have nobody to blame but yourselves.

I think before we vote on this we ought to be given a lot more specific information on the costs of these two bridges today. We ought to have other information which has not been made available. It seems to me that we are asked to vote on a political matter here rather than one based on facts which are before us.

I am asking the membership to vote against this bill.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Dauphin.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Dauphin, Mr. Hocker, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. HOCKER. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. ANDREWS. Since these are to be toll bridges why did not the gentleman use his powers of persuasion and pursue his designs through the Highway and Bridge Authority which is empowered to issue bonds? The tolls would amortize the bonds and the Highways Department would not be depleted of funds?

Mr. HOCKER. Mr. Speaker, I will say this to the gentleman, since this bill was passed years ago I have done everything within my power—and as you know there were Republican Governors in the front office during that period. I did everything I could, but for some reason or other, unknown to me, I have been turned down continually. There was always something some place else which had to be done before this.

The only reason I have, Mr. Speaker, is the fact that 90,000 people in this county voted and elected me to this House. They elected me to this House to serve them, and this is the way in which I can serve them. That is my answer, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, that is the extent of the inquiry for the present, at least.

I appreciate the gentleman's desire to add to his political stature and serve the 90,000 people in his district. There are other Members of this House equally ambitious and equally desirous of increasing their local stature and they are entitled to consideration.

I was a member of the Highway and Bridge Authority during the years, and the particular reason why it was never on the schedule was because of the funds at the disposal of the Highway and Bridge Authority. There were more imperative projects. The way to have solved that difficulty was to have increased the power of the Highway and Bridge Authority to issue more bonds.

If we are going to build more toll bridges, that is the way to build them and not out of current revenue, as the gentleman well knows.

Mr. HOCKER. Mr. Speaker, I do not want to keep this House here any longer than I have to. It is not a personal matter with me whether there is a bridge up there or not, but, as Chairman of the Committee on Highways this session—I think Mr. Andrews will bear me out on this—I have tried to be fair, particularly with bridge bills. We were critized for them, but when I found out that the Highways Department as of June 1st will have an unexpended $124.6 million in that fund, I thought it would be much better to use that, than to make this Commonwealth sell bonds and go into debt farther. That was my reason for doing it.

Mr. Speaker, and I want to say to you Members here in the House, this is not a political issue with me, this is something for my people. I am not trying to build my stature, either political or otherwise. I am big enough otherwise and I do not care to go any place other than this House. I want to say to you right now I am only doing what any other Member of this body would do, trying to protect the rights of the people in my county.

Mr. PETROSKY. Mr. Speaker, may I interrogate the gentleman from Dauphin, Mr. Hocker?

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Dauphin, Mr. Hocker, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. HOCKER. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. PETROSKY. Mr. Speaker, does the gentleman have information as to what type highway these bridges will join?

Mr. HOCKER. Mr. Speaker, there are main highways on both sides of the Susquehanna River north and south. Any place they put these bridges in the area designated will connect main arteries.

Mr. PETROSKY. My specific question was, what type highway is it? Is it a Federal aid interstate, Federal aid primary, Federal aid secondary?

Mr. HOCKER. They are state highways, Mr. Speaker, that were in business before we got crazy about Federal this and Federal that.

Mr. PETROSKY. They are 100 per cent state highways?

Mr. HOCKER. Yes, sir, I am told they are.

Mr. PETROSKY. I thank the gentleman.

Mr. HOCKER. And I think they are primary highways, Mr. Petrosky.

Mr. PETROSKY. They are primary highways?

Mr. HOCKER. I think they are.

Mr. PETROSKY. Federal aid primary highways?

Mr. HOCKER. No, not Federal aid highways. These roads were built long before we depended on the Federal government to build highways in Pennsylvania.

Mr. PETROSKY. Are they in any category of highways for which we receive Federal aid?

Mr. HOCKER. Mr. Speaker, I do not think they are. I say I do not think they are. If they are, it is unknown to me.

Mr. PETROSKY. I thank the gentleman, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. Speaker, at the time of the presentation of the special funds budget to this House I made an observation on the issue that is before us here today, and that is, are we going to drive ourselves into a position to pass in this House, through the Senate and send to the Governor special highway projects for individual districts in this Commonwealth? In the event we do so, are we of sufficient courage to supply the necessary revenues to pay for those projects?

This is the initial mandatory bridge project bill we have had before us. We have passed upon many other bridge project bills, but of a different nature in their entirety, inasmuch as they authorized a survey to see whether there was need for such a project. We authorized the Department then to proceed under its authority to establish such a project in the event everything concerned met the standards and specifications for instituting such a project.

Now this is setting a precedent in this House. I know many Members who have had individual bridge project bills passed, here will have something to answer to their own constituency when they stand here and pass upon one of this nature and do not procure the same final result for their own legislative districts.

This is a dangerous precedent. It has a tendency to move toward logrolling with the Highways Department projects.

We have had a good operation up until today. I assure every Member of the House, if you pass one highway bridge project here making it mandatory for that project to be installed, then I believe every bridge project in each individual legislative district will have to be treated the same way. In the event you cannot place your own in the same position as this one, then you must answer to your constituency for it.

Personally, Mr. Speaker, I believe it is a bad precedent. I am going to vote against this bill and I ask the membership to vote against it until such time as we can develop the highway projects ourselves and get the revenues necessary to build all of the highway projects which we mandate. I am opposed to this system of trying to force such a high-cost measure upon the Highways Department. I have every right to take care of pet projects in my legislative district the same as 209 other Members have the right to take care of pet projects in their districts, in the event that we were going to stand up and vote for this project here today.

My advice from all the information I have is that we should resoundingly vote down this proposal so we can continue with a semblance of good operation in this House in the future.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows:

BILLS PASSED OVER

The SPEAKER. Without objection, all remaining bills on today's calendar will be passed over. The Chair hears none

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS HOUSE

Mr. JOHNSON asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

Mr. Speaker, in our caucus today I told our Members we would convene tomorrow at 11:00 a. m. DST. Since I made that statement the plans have changed and the time of convening tomorrow morning will be 10:00 o'clock DST. The general appropriation bill as soon as practicable after convening will be made a special order of business.

We will recess at 1:30 p. m. for lunch and reconvene at 2:30 p. m. The cafeteria will be open between 1:30 and 2:30 for the convenience of House Members.

There are various committee meetings to be announced. Some of them will be called at a time after the House has convened after 10:00 a. m. It will be permissible for those committee meetings to go on as planned, as the first part of the session after 10:00 o'clock will be of a preliminary nature.

I believe the Minority Leader will have something to say about the plans for the minority during that early period of the session.

Mr. Speaker, the important thing I wanted to impress upon the Members is that we will convene at 10:00 o'clock tomorrow morning DST.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS HOUSE

Mr. READINGER asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

Mr. Speaker, it is necessary that the Democratic Members of the House have a caucus tomorrow morning. I presume that will take place between 10:15 and 11:00 o'clock. I would like everyone of our Members to come to that caucus even though he or she is scheduled to be at a committee meeting. It may be necessary to be there for only a minute or two, but it is highly essential that all of the Members on our side come to that caucus tomorrow morning.

SENATE RESOLUTION, SERIAL No. 35, REPORTED FROM COMMITTEE AND LAID ON THE TABLE

Mr. MAHANY, from the Committee on Rules, to which was referred resolution offered by Messrs. FLEMING and

EHRGOOD on May 23, 1957, reported the same without amendment as follows:

DIRECTING THE JOINT STATE GOVERNMENT COMMISSION TO STUDY THE PROBLEMS OF THE PENNSYLVANIA STATE POLICE

In the Senate, May 23, 1957.

The Senate of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania recognizes that the Pennsylvania State Police is one of the most important adjuncts of the State Government in enforcement of the laws of this Commonwealth. It is recognized that the Pennsylvania State Police is now faced with a problem of morale and efficiency. To improve both the morale and efficiency of the Pennsylvania State Police, the matter of incentive to those members of the organization, who all too frequently serve without any promotion or chance of promotion, is a matter of great concern. This is particularly true concerning married members of the force. Although there is a retirement provision for the State Police at age fifty, there is no compulsory retirement and it is generally recognized that the police officer, for most efficient service, must have sufficient energy and adaptability to do an efficient job. It is also a matter of record that the long hours that the State Police put in are both wearing and tearing on the efficiency and morale of the members.

It is evident as well that no new and radical changes in equipment and law enforcement have been made available to the State Police, particularly it is noted that the State Police does not purchase from the automobile manufacturers the special police cars that are available which would enable the State Police to cope with speeders and "cowboys." It is noted that many other states have helicopters to take care of and facilitate the movement of congested traffic on main highways and around the metropolitan areas as well as said helicopters being useful in matters of searching. It is likewise to be noted that the State Police cars are not equipped with handcuffs, tear gas and other equipment and that the State Police as a whole do not have enough equipment so that each man is issued a pair of handcuffs.

The State Police Organization, aside from its numbers on the Turnpike, is at present composed of about 1900 men. This complement bears no relation to the increase in traffic and population and increased crime that is present in the present day and age.

As a matter of law enforcement, it is noted that narcotics detection and functions relating thereto are spread out in the Department of Health and to some extent in the Department of Revenue and it is thought advisable that a study be made to ascertain whether or not various functions relating to narcotics should be grouped under one department; therefore be it

Resolved, That the Joint State Government Commission be directed to make a comprehensive study of the problems of the Pennsylvania State Police with a view to increasing its morale, efficiency and incentives, giving particular attention to:

(1) The pay scale or a possible family allotment pay for the married members of the Force,

(2) A compulsory retirement at age sixty, as recommended,

(3) Modern, new and radical use of technological changes and equipment,

(4) The reorganization of the Pennsylvania State Police and increasing the size thereof along with the study of the State Police functions,

(5) Any other pertinent matter which the Commission deems appropriate to the State; and be it further

Resolved, That the Joint State Government Commission report to the next regular session of the General Assembly and to the Governor not later than January 31, 1959 its findings and recommendations with drafts of legislation necessary to carry the recommendations into effect.

Laid over for one day under the Rules.

MEMORIAL DAY ADDRESS BY SENATOR THOMAS A. EHRCOOD

Mr. EHRCOOD. Mr. President, two days from now we will be celebrating Memorial Day and, I believe, on an occasion such as this, it brings many memories to mind. Memorial Day is aptly named since it is a day for memories which we all have. We have all participated in Memorial Day parades and we have listened to speeches and we, perhaps, all remember the words, "Lest We Forget." As we become adults in this world, the words with their meanings become clearer.

Many in this Chamber today have faced either death or have served as members of the Armed Forces in the wars which have taken place within such a short period of time.

We honor those who have died in these wars. They were wars that were all too tragic and, yet, were so necessary in the promulgation of the freedom and the way of life which each of us cherishes. On this Eighty-ninth Anniversary of the first Memorial Day, I am sure that our memories and our thoughts will lead us to a better sense of what we are memorializing on this day.

However, Mr. President, to better understand this, I would like to relate a short story about a group of women who got together in 1867 in Columbus, Mississippi. The cessation of hostilities, as you will recall, in 1865 between the States, brought not peace but bitterness. High riding tensions swept this land and issues could not be settled. This group of women, in 1867, spread the first wave of love and brotherhood across a hurt Nation. They had been scarred by the conflict, scars that were indicated by markers in their town cemetery. In decorating the graves of their own husbands and brothers and fathers, these women turned to the graves of the Union soldiers and covered their final resting places with flowers. That is how Memorial Day began, in tenderness and deep pity by loving women whose hearts had known the horror and sadness of conflict between brothers.

The New York Tribune printed an account of this event and the story created a tremendous impact in the North. It aroused a feeling of national amity and love; sectional hatreds were lessened and the Country began to take the first faltering steps toward a common future.

Then, Mr. President, the first Memorial Day was celebrated in 1868 and we have been remembering each year those veterans who have done so much to make our future secure.

In this changing world, we must not only look backward in remembrance of those who have done so much for us, but we must live up to the responsibility thrust upon us and look to the future so as to secure to our children the kind of life that we have been privileged to enjoy. The fears and petty prejudices must be set aside in the interest of the national welfare in order to secure the common defense against those nations which desire to impose upon us their totalitarian way of life. This takes an intelligent realization that money and the weapons must be made available to those men and women engaged in the national defense effort.

Mr. President, it is only by a union of the memory of the past deeds of those we memorialize with a realization of the present dangers and our future hopes that we can properly pay homage to these brave men and women. That is what they would desire.

Mr. HAYS. Mr. President, I have appreciated greatly the fine tribute and remarks of the Senator from Lebanon.

I want at a later date, perhaps, to present some documentary evidence to substantiate the fact that the first Memorial Day was celebrated in Boalsburg, Centre County, Pennsylvania. I think I want that to appear in the record. At a later date, I believe I can document that fact.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. SCHMIDT asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. SCHMIDT. Mr. President, it is my privilege, and indeed it is a happy one, to present this privileged resolution at this time.

SENATE RESOLUTION

BIRTHDAY FELICITATIONS EXTENDED TO SENATOR JOSEPH M. BARR

Messrs. SCHMIDT, TAYLOR, MILLER, YOSKO, FLEMING, SARRAF, MCGINNIS, KOPRIVER, JR., MAHANY, PECHAN, BERGER, WEINER, LANE, RUTH, CAMIEL, DERK, KALMAN, MURRAY and HAYS offered the following resolution, which was twice read as follows:

In the Senate, May 28, 1957.

Tuesday, May 28, 1957, is the fifty-first anniversary of the birth of the Honorable Joseph M. Barr, one of our most distinguished and esteemed members of the Senate.

Joseph M. Barr, the son of James P. and Blanche E. Barr, is married to the former Alice White, and has one daughter and one son, and resides in Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania.

Senator Barr has capably represented the 43rd District since 1940, and has gained eminence as the Chairman of the Democratic Party for the State of Pennsylvania.

We all know Joe Barr as a man of honesty and intelligence who, through his untiring efforts, has made an outstanding contribution to the welfare of his fellowmen and the Commonwealth; Therefore be it

Resolved, That the members of the Senate wish Joseph M. Barr a very happy birthday and express the hope that we will have the pleasure of continuing our association with him for many years to come; and be it further

Resolved, That a certified copy of this resolution be transmitted to Senator Barr.

On the question,

Will the Senate adopt the resolution?

RESOLUTION UNANIMOUSLY ADOPTED

Mr. SCHMIDT. Mr. President, I move that the Senate adopt the resolution just read by the Clerk.

The PRESIDENT. It has been moved by the Senator from Allegheny, Mr. Schmidt, and seconded by all of the Democrats and some of the Republicans, that the resolution just read be adopted.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

Mr. PECHAN. Mr. President, I did not hear the statement that you made. Did you make a statement that the motion was seconded by all the Democrats and some Republicans?

The PRESIDENT. The Chair said, "seconded by all of the Democrats and some of the Republicans."

Mr. PECHAN. All of the Republicans would like to second the motion.

I want the record to show that all of the Republicans join in seconding this motion, Mr. President.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

The motion was agreed to and the resolution was unanimously adopted.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. BARR asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. BARR. Mr. President and Members of the Senate, I want to thank you for this kind tribute and say I will not be here too many more years keeping this job as State Chairman. I like being a Senator much better.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. MAHANY asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, I just want to read into the record what it says in the Pittsburgh Post-Gazette today about people who are born under the sign of Gemini. The sign of Gemini is usually pictured as a two-faced individual but, of course, that has nothing to do with Senator Barr.

The PRESIDENT. That must represent the two jobs he holds.

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, this gives advice to the Senator and those who were born under the sign of Gemini. Senator Taylor also says that he was born under Gemini, so I better be careful.

It says here, under advice to those people who have birthdays today:

"Quietly tackle whatever requires behind-the-scenes attention or investigation. Then you will later find you can get all spruced up, make your vitality more potent, go out on the town, be very, very social and/or have fun; be happy."

I am sure the Senator will probably be with me, and others present, to partake of the cornish hen which the Governor is going to have served to the members of the Supreme Court and other invited guests. Therefore, I will be happy to go along with you tonight, Senator, and be happy, have fun and be social.

In the meantime, you take care of the behind-the-scenes business which you have to do with the various county chairmen throughout the State.

SENATE RESOLUTIONS

FOUNTAIN IN THE MALL, BETWEEN MARKET AND COMMERCE STREETS, PHILADELPHIA, TO BE DESIGNATED AS THE EDWIN O. LEWIS FOUNTAIN

Messrs. CHAPMAN and STIEFFEL offered the following resolution which was twice read as follows:

In the Senate, May 28, 1957.

The Senate of the General Assembly of Pennsylvania has time and again in the past paid well-deserved tributes to the Honorable Edwin O. Lewis, President Judge of the Court of Common Pleas No. 2 for and in Philadelphia County, in recognition of his indefatigable efforts and inspiring leadership in the cause of the Renaissance of that part of old Philadelphia that adjoins the sanctum sanctorum of American Liberty—the Independence Hall.

In a Senate Resolution of July 18, 1955, (Serial No. 51, appearing on Page 243 of the Final Issue of the History of Senate Bills and Resolutions of the Session of 1955), unanimously adopted on July 26, 1955, on the occasion of the dedication of the then completed part of the State Mall on July 4, 1955, it was resolved inter alia as follows:

"And be it further resolved that the Senate of the General Assembly of Pennsylvania offer its congratulations and commendations to President Judge Lewis and to his associates in the Independence Hall Association for the success of their efforts, and records its belief that nothing that has occurred in Philadelphia in recent decades has done so much to insure the preservation of the historic shrines that are of interest and value to the entire world, because of the principles of individual rights and liberty under law, which had their most effective expression in the small building, once the Capitol of the Colony of Pennsylvania, where the Declaration of Independence and Constitution of the United States were formulated and adopted."

As Chairman of the Advisory Commission of Independence National Historical Park, created by Act of Congress, and President of the Independence Hall Association, the Honorable Edwin O. Lewis, President Judge of Court of Common Pleas No. 2 for and in Philadelphia County, had incessantly toiled and moiled for more than fifteen years in the face of initial lethargic apathy and inertia to transform into reality Pennsylvania's resplendent visions of a long-overdue Renaissance in the historic core of Old Philadelphia, and the resultant erection of the Independence National Historical Park (under Federal Jurisdiction) and Independence State Mall (under the Jurisdiction of the Commonwealth).

As the pristine emerald splendors of old Philadelphia are rapidly being restored to their imperishable colonial lustre and the sweeping majesty of the vistas of the Independence Hall Mall is rapidly emerging from the labyrinthian mazes of tedious and often baffling land acquisitions and slum clearance, the dedication, determination and vibrant zeal of Judge Lewis, that made possible the attainment of so much in so short a time, are universally recognized throughout the Nation and hailed by a grateful Pennsylvania.

Recently the second portion of the Independence Hall Mall, situate between Market Street and Commerce Street has been completed together with its magnificent pellucid fountain that promises to become one of the tourist attractions of Pennsylvania. The fountain is the center or heart of the pool which is located in the middle of the Mall about 110 feet from the north curb of Market Street. The pool is 75 feet square, edged in French Creek granite and lined with glass mosaic, and holds two feet of water. It is encircled by a forecourt paved in Belgian Blocks. The fountain consists of a central, vertical water jet of a 50 foot high capacity, surrounded by 13 additional jets angled towards the center. Each jet is lighted by underwater floodlights. The lighting is controlled automatically by astronomical time clocks. It may be regulated to conform with sunset and sunrise throughout the year, to be on at all times, or to turn on during the most effective hours of the day. An underground pump house and pumps controlled by time clocks that can be set to turn the fountain on and off according to any predetermined schedule govern the operation of the fountain. The pool also has what is loosely termed a vacuum system and will contain chlorinated and recirculated water.

As appropriate ceremonies are now being planned for the dedication of the aforesaid second portion with its fountain, the time is at hand to tangibly express the profound appreciation of the People of Pennsylvania to the Honorable Edwin O. Lewis for his incomparable and unexcelled services in the interest of the preservation of Pennsylvania's glorious historical heritage; now be it therefore

Resolved, That the Senate of the General Assembly of Pennsylvania, direct that the above described fountain in the Mall between Market and Commerce Street shall henceforth be designated and known as the Edwin O. Lewis Fountain, and be it further

Resolved, That the Secretary of Forests and Waters of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania forthwith proceed with the appropriate implementation of the instant resolve and directive, and be it further

Resolved, That the Secretary of the Senate forward certified copies of the instant Resolution immediately following its passage to the Honorable Edwin O. Lewis and to the Honorable Maurice K. Goddard, Secretary of Forests and Waters.

RULE 39 SUSPENDED

Mr. CHAPMAN. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that Rule 39, which requires resolutions be referred to an appropriate committee, be suspended and the Senate do now proceed to the consideration of the resolution just read.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection?

The Chair hears none.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the resolution?

It was agreed to.

MEMORIAL DAY, 1957

Mr. MILLER offered the following resolution which was twice read, considered and agreed to:

In the Senate, May 28, 1957.

May 30 is the day on which we pause to pay special tribute to those who have made the supreme sacrifice for our country.

These men, who laid down their lives on the field of battle in the name of freedom and right in the wars and armed conflicts of our Nation, will never be forgotten. Though there is only one day a year specially set aside in their honor, how many days, yes, how many times a day, do the mothers, fathers, wives and other loved ones of these brave men recall their smiling faces, never in this world to be seen again.

Though it is sad that these men were lost, we know that the loss was not in vain. Had it not been for them and those who fought by their sides, we would all be but living dead, merely existing, not living, under dictatorship and oppression.

When we pause this Memorial Day to decorate the graves of our lost veterans, let us think not only of the emptiness in our hearts caused by their absence, but let us also rejoice that there are such men who are willing to give their all to perpetuate the democratic ideals which we hold so dear; therefore be it

Resolved, That we express in prayer our eternal gratitude to the war dead, and vow on their graves that even though we dislike war, we too will answer the call if necessary to perpetuate our way of life for future generations.

CONTROLLING POISON IVY AND OTHER NOXIOUS WEEDS BY THE APPLICATION OF SYNTHETIC AUXINS

Messrs. YOSKO, BARR, DENT, RUTH, MAHANY, McMENAMIN and SCOTT offered the following resolution which was twice read as follows:

In the Senate, May 28, 1957.

Whereas, Poison ivy, with other noxious weeds such as ragweed, poison oak, and others, become a widespread menace to health in our Commonwealth, affecting our children and citizens in their play and work at great personal discomfort and needless expense; and

Whereas, These poisonous plants cause great cost in loss of time and services among our highway and parks departments, in diminishing services from our telephone and light companies whose workers contract these illnesses along our roadsides and in our public lands; and

Whereas, These poisonous weeds defeat our efforts to attract, at great advertising expense, industries, vacationists, and others to our Commonwealth; and

Whereas, Real estate values in otherwise beautiful land areas are diminished by the profusion of these poisonous plants, particularly poison ivy and ragweed which together affect up to ten per cent of our population annually; and

Whereas, Medical and agricultural authorities are agreed that many benefits are to be gained by the removal of these plants; and

Whereas, Our scientists have now made available to us synthetic auxins, the growth control chemicals which occur in plants, which are non-toxic to animals and humans, and have further developed a new field of growth control engineers who have successfully controlled this unwanted growth elsewhere; and

Whereas, This manner of growth control will effectively control poison ivy, ragweed, and other noxious weeds economically; therefore be it

Resolved, That effective immediately control of poison ivy, ragweed, and those weeds listed in Act 159 of the Laws of Pennsylvania, approved April 26, 1921, shall be controlled by the application of synthetic auxins as approved by the U. S. Department of Agriculture and the State Agricultural College. The heads of those departments involved shall take those steps they deem necessary to effectuate this requirement promptly, effectively, safely and economically. It is particularly urged that roadsides be cleared of poison ivy and ragweed; be it further

Resolved, That a copy of this resolution be forwarded to the Secretaries of Highways, Agriculture and Forests and Waters, and to any other Departments affected by the problem involved.

RULE 39 SUSPENDED

Mr. YOSKO. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that Rule 39, which requires resolutions be referred to an appropriate committee, be suspended and the Senate do now proceed to the consideration of the resolution just read.

On the question,
Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, I just want to repeat briefly my arguments of yesterday.

I think this is a bad piece of legislation. I believe we are taking authority away from the executive branch of government and placing it in the hands of the Republican majority.

If their actions on appropriations are similar to their actions on the General Appropriation Bill, I can expect no good to come from this piece of legislation and will ask my colleagues to vote "no."

A majority of all the Senators having voted "aye," the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk present said bill to the House of Representatives for concurrence.

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 455, entitled:

An Act authorizing the Supreme Court of Pennsylvania to prescribe general rules of practice and procedure in all criminal actions in certain courts of this Commonwealth authorizing certain courts to prescribe and adopt local rules not inconsistent with such general rules of the Supreme Court of Pennsylvania authorizing the Supreme and Superior Courts of Pennsylvania to appoint a Criminal Procedural Rules Committee and fixing and defining its powers and duties imposing duties on judges and other officers of every court of record fixing penalties.

And said bill having been read at length the third time, and agreed to,

And the amendments made thereto having been printed as required by the Constitution,

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. MULLIN. Mr. President, this bill would place criminal procedure in the hands of a body of the Supreme Court. Criminal procedure, in my opinion, differs a great deal from civil procedure. While one can agree that the Supreme Court may make rules concerning civil actions, I think the Legislature should retain control over the criminal procedure where the rights and liberties of individuals are concerned.

Mr. President, I rise to object to this bill on that ground. I believe we are giving up something which we have fought for over the generations. I do not think we should relegate this type of lawmaking to a judicial body which will have the right to pass on its own legislation. I think, therefore, that we should defeat this bill.

Mr. SILVERT. Mr. President, this is one of a series of bills which was studied by a special task force of the Joint State Government Commission. It has been approved by the Executive Committee of the Joint State Government Commission. What it does is give to the Supreme Court and Superior Court the power to make rules in judicial procedure.

Originally, Mr. President, we drafted the bill to give the Supreme Court sole power to make those rules. However, later, upon reconsideration, we felt that since the Superior Court tries so many of the criminal cases, they should be a party to making these rules.

Mr. President, I believe this bill has been given ample study. We feel that it is a good bill and the power to make these rules should rest with the two highest courts, the Supreme and Superior Courts. Therefore, I intend to vote for the bill.

Mr. BERGER. Mr. President, in the discussions in the Joint State Government Commission, the task force, which consisted of a number of judges in the State of Pennsylvania, as well as members of the Pennsylvania Bar Association, took into consideration the matters which Senator Mullin has mentioned here in his remarks concerning the bill. However, it was decided after being quite well thought out, that the dangers which Senator Mullin envisions would not be present in the making of procedural rules by the committee appointed by the Supreme and Superior Courts.

Senator Silvert is correct in saying that the Supreme court was given the power to appoint the committee to promulgate the rules. However, the Superior Court felt that inasmuch as it entertained most of the criminal appeals, they, too, should participate in the appointment of the committee, which amendment was accordingly put into the bill.

Consequently, Mr. President, we feel that the various safeguards which the Constitution and the laws of Pennsylvania throw around persons accused of crimes will be well protected under the rules which will be promulgated by this committee.

Therefore, Mr. President, I believe that the bill should pass.

Mr. MULLIN. Mr. President, procedure in criminal cases is entirely different from procedure in civil cases. Procedure in criminal cases has so much to do with the case that I do not think either the Superior Court or the Supreme Court should be given that jurisdiction which the Legislature has historically held up to the present time.

And the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

The yeas and nays were taken agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, and were as follows, viz:

YEAS—46

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the bill on third reading?

REQUEST THAT BILL GO OVER IN ORDER

Mr. RUTH. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that Senate Bill No. 618, Printer's No. 250, on third reading, go over in its order.

Will the Senate agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

And the amendments made thereto having been printed as required by the Constitution,

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, I have no doubt that the vote on this bill will cross party lines. Some Republicans will be against it and some Democrats will be against it. We want each one of the Senators to vote according to his own convictions and according to the way he feels the people in his District would like to have him vote.

Therefore, Mr. President, I would like to have a slow roll call on the bill, and only those Senators who are in their seats are to be recorded as voting.

And said bill having been read at length the third time, and agreed to,

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. STIEFEL. Mr. President, I feel duty bound to explain my position regarding this bill.

At the very outset, Mr. President, I wish to stress and underscore that I am a great believer of the Sabbath, not necessarily the day of the Sabbath, but the day of rest. It is my firm conviction that the Sabbath was one of the greatest factors in world civilization. As one of the great philosophers said: "More than the people preserved the Sabbath; the Sabbath preserved the people."

Yet, Mr. President, I fail to understand why, of these three bills, namely, Senate Bill No. 782, House Bill No. 788 and Senate Bill No. 792, only this bill has been singled out for favorable action. I feel that the people who would be covered by Senate Bill No. 782 and Senate Bill No. 792 are entitled to the same sabbatical rest as those in House Bill No. 788. Singling out one group and forgetting the other one is not proper.

For this reason, Mr. President, I will vote with misgiving on House Bill No. 788 since the other two bills have not been considered.

Another point, Mr. President, is that Senator Yosko introduced a resolution, calling for a thorough study of this entire problem of Blue Laws. In Philadelphia, the majority of the people maintain that the Blue Laws should be abolished. Other sections take a different position. This is a problem which touches the essentials of our lives and should receive thorough study. Apparently, however, an avalanche of postal cards, can do anything and that is the reason why House Bill No. 788 comes to the floor and the remainder of the phases of this important problem are forgotten.

And the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

The yeas and nays were taken agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, and were as follows, viz:

The motion was agreed to.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, I want to say for the information of the Senate that we are reconsidering this bill in order that we may put in certain needed amendments.

The amendments which were put into the bill were faulty. Therefore, it is necessary for us to recapture the bill so that we may put in the correct amendments.

It is my understanding with Senator Dent that when the bill comes before us, after it is amended, we will have the same roll call on the bill as was had when we acted upon it previously today.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. CHAPMAN. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to make report from committee at this time.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

Mr. CHAPMAN from the Committee on Appropriations, re-reported as committed, Senate Bill No. 720, entitled:

An Act amending the act of March 31 1949 (P. L. 372) entitled "The General State Authority Act of 1949," increasing the power of the Authority to borrow money and issue evidences of indebtedness therefor and allocating the proceeds of the increased borrowing.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. SCHMIDT asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. SCHMIDT. Mr. President, Senator Seyler, Senator Silvert and I introduced, some time ago, Senate Bill No. 707 which dealt with the problem of discrimination in public housing.

The bill was referred to the Committee on Judiciary General and was considered in that committee. At the time of its consideration, there were quite a number of members of the committee who felt that they were not sufficiently informed of the necessity for this type of legislation, and the bill was not reported out.

At this time, Mr. President, I would like to offer a resolution, by the same sponsors, referring this matter to the Joint State Government Commission for a study and, as a result of the study, that proper legislation be presented at the next Session of the Legislature to deal with this subject.

Therefore, Mr. President, on behalf of Senator Seyler, Senator Silvert and myself, I am presenting this resolution.

SENATE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION

REFERRED TO COMMITTEE

DIRECTING THE JOINT STATE GOVERNMENT COMMISSION TO STUDY THE PRACTICES OF DISCRIMINATION BECAUSE OF RACE, COLOR, RELIGIOUS CREED, ANCESTRY OR NATIONAL ORIGIN BY OWNERS OF PUBLICLY ASSISTED HOUSING ACCOMMODATIONS; REAL ESTATE BROKERS, AGENTS AND SALESMEN

Mr. SCHMIDT. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to offer a resolution at this time.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

Messrs. SCHMIDT, SEYLER and SILVERT offered the following resolution which was twice read and referred to the Committee on State Government.

In the Senate, May 28, 1957.

The practice or policy of discrimination against individuals or groups by reason of their race, color, religious creed, ancestry or national origin, is a matter of concern of the Commonwealth. Such discrimination foments domestic strife and unrest, threatens the rights and privileges of the inhabitants of the Commonwealth, and undermines the foundations of a free democratic state. The denial of equal housing opportunities arising out of discrimination because of race, color, religious creed, ancestry or national origin compels many persons to live in dwellings which are substandard, unhealthful, unsanitary and overcrowded, thus increasing mortality, morbidity, delinquency, risk of fire, and loss of tax revenues, and threatening the peace, health, safety and general welfare of the Commonwealth and its inhabitants; therefore be it

Resolved (the House of Representatives concurring, That the Joint State Government Commission be directed to study and investigate practices of discrimination because of race, color, religious creed, ancestry or national origin by owners of publicly assisted housing accommodations, real estate brokers, agents and salesmen; and be it further

Resolved, That the Joint State Government Commission report to the next regular session of the General Assembly its findings and recommendations, with drafts of legislation necessary to carry the recommendations into effect.

SENATE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION, SERIAL No. 124, TAKEN FROM TABLE

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, I call from the table Senate Concurrent Resolution, Serial No. 124.

The resolution was read by the Clerk as follows:

JOINT STATE GOVERNMENT COMMISSION TO STUDY ALL MATTERS PERTAINING TO THE TRADING STAMP PRACTICE

In the Senate, May 7, 1957.

Trading stamps in the past two years are being used by retail establishments on a tremendously increased basis.

The usage of these trading stamps is unfair competition to the small business establishments of this State.

The usage of these trading stamps has created many abuses in that those housewives who are saving them cannot get the merchandise in trade-in as advertised and a number of the premium centers are poorly stocked.

A great portion of these stamps are never redeemed in merchandise, and therefore the trading stamp companies are accumulating unearned profits.

Some of the companies which have issued trading stamps have gone out of business, such action being to the detriment of the stamp collectors.

This entire trading stamp field should be given a thorough investigation and study in order to pass legislation to correct the existing and future abuses; therefore be it

Resolved (the House of Representatives concurring), That the Joint State Government Commission make a thorough and complete study of all matters pertaining to the trading stamp practice; and be it further

Resolved, That the Joint State Government Commission make a report of its study and findings together with its recommendations for appropriate legislation to the next General Assembly.

PETITIONS AND REMONSTRANCES

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, this morning's issue of the Philadelphia Inquirer, and other newspapers, carried the following story relative to the Delaware Canal, which is down in the District represented by my good friend, Senator Watson.

I read from the newspaper as follows:

"The historic Delaware Canal, which extends from Bristol to Easton and has been maintained as a State park since 1940, will be drained on Saturday .

"The closing of the canal was ordered by Maurice K. Goddard, head of the Department of Forests and Waters. Goddard was quoted as saying he took the action because of proposed slashes made by the Republican Senate caucus in the department's 1957-58 budget.

"Hal H. Clark, president of the Delaware Valley Protective Association, said he was informed that S. H. Sword, the Department's district engineer, would assume control of the waterway at the close of business Friday and that drainage operations would be started the following day.

"A crew of more than 20 men who took care of the 30-mile canal probably will be fired from the State payroll, it was said.

"While observers hinted that Goddard's order might be a tactic to bring about elimination of his department's appropriation cuts, conservation experts said withdrawal of the water for even a short period would cause irreparable harm to fish and wildlife.

"Clark immediately telephoned Sen. Edward B. Watson (R., Bucks) in Harrisburg to protest the move. He pointed out the canal is the only State park of its kind in the country and its ready supply of water is vital for fire protection in many communities along its banks."

That is the end of the item in the paper. On behalf of Senator Watson, I want to certainly protest this action on the part of Secretary Goddard. Also, I want to protest it on the part of all of the Republican Senators, for that matter. We think it is certainly a new low in propaganda being put out by the Administration's various departments relative to proposed cuts in this budget. This is representative of much of the propaganda which has been issued from Harrisburg. We have received telegrams and letters from people back home who have gotten in touch with us because they feel that they have been harmed in some way by these proposed cuts. We have stated to them that the Senate has not as yet received and acted upon House Bill No. 1700, which is the General Appropriation Bill. When they state that the Senate has slashed, and when Secretary Goddard says that the Senate Committee has slashed this appropriation, they certainly misrepresent the facts. We have not acted upon the appropriation bill as yet and probably will not get it until next week.

If Secretary Goddard anticipates what might happen and drains this canal on Saturday, it will be of great harm to the fish in this canal and the wildlife in the area. Also, as the article points out, it will act as a fire hazard.

We understand that Secretary Goddard has quite a few millions of dollars at his disposal from the gas royalties which he can use for this purpose, and other purpose, relative to State parks and recreation areas. Because there is something in the wind to the effect that his budget might be cut, he decides that next Saturday he is going to drain the canal. I would say, if he does such a thing as that, whatever reaction occurs by reason of his draining this canal, it certainly should be on his shoulders.

Let us look at what has happened in the past relative to this canal. In the last biennium, as I understand it, the maintenance for this canal was $77,284. He also spent several hundred thousand dollars in the construction of the canal, in revitalizing it, and so forth. However, all he needed last biennium was $77,284. Now his budget requests for this same maintenance, which he got along with in the last biennium on $77,284, is $160,000 for the next two years or more than twice as much as he spent in the past two years.

Certainly we feel he does not need $160,000. We are agreeable that he should spend something, but we feel that he should take his additional needs out of the millions of dollars which he has at his disposal from gas royalties. When he comes out with a statement such as this, it looks as though he is losing his nonpartisanship which he had up at State College and carried with him when he came down to Harrisburg as our Secretary of Forests and Waters. He now seems to be under somebody's thumb in the Administration office when he issues such a statement as this.

I feel that we should reprimand the Secretary for his action in putting out this news release. I certainly hope that the Secretary does not drain the water in this canal because, as yet, and even on Saturday, he will not know what the Senate of Pennsylvania is going to do relative to his appropriation.

Mr. YOSKO. Mr. President, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Crawford, Senator Mahany.

The PRESIDENT. Will the gentleman from Crawford, Mr. Mahany, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. MAHANY. I will, Mr. President.

Mr. YOSKO. Senator Mahany, since that canal extends into my territory, I also have an interest in it.

Do I understand, from your remarks, that Doctor Goddard, the Secretary of Forests and Waters, will be given sufficient funds to maintain and improve the canal and park facilities along the canal, even though there is a cut indicated in House Bill No. 1700 at the present time?

Mr. MAHANY. I do not know about funds for additional construction or improvement down there. I do not know how much he will want for that. However, certainly we are going to see that this canal is maintained. We do not want the water drained from it. If Doctor Goddard will hold his shirt on for a little while, instead of draining the canal, I think he will be satisfied with the results. Senator Watson surely would not be a party to having the water drained from this canal. If you have any influence with Secretary Goddard, then you tell him not to open up the flood gates next Saturday, but just keep things going as they are.

Mr. YOSKO. You did not give me a positive answer, Senator. I will change the question a little bit.

If there is a reduction in the appropriation to the Department of Forests and Waters, applicable to this project, in House Bill No. 1700, and it should pass the House with the cut, then when it reaches the Senate, will the Members on the other side restore the cut and give Doctor Goddard sufficient funds to maintain and improve the canal, and the park along the canal, for the next two years?

Mr. MAHANY. We understand that Secretary Goddard has about $7,000,000 of funds at his disposal which he receives from gas and oil royalties. He can use some of that money for this purpose. If it is shown that he cannot use that money for this purpose or that it is unavailable or it is not there, or we are mistaken about this money which he receives from the gas and oil royalties, certainly we are going to give him a reasonable amount for the maintenance of this canal. This is as far as I am concerned, and I believe I can speak for Senator Watson.

Mr. YOSKO. I am sure, with that assurance, the flood gates will not be opened. However, I was going to say that if the flood gates do open and you do cut Doctor Goddard's appropriation so that he cannot maintain and improve the park and canal facilities in the area involved, I was going to put in a bill to fill up that canal and make a highway out of it in order for it to be put to some good use. Since you have given assurance now that there will be no deprivation of funds to maintain the canal and the park, we will relay that message to Doctor Goddard and, I repeat, the flood gates will not be opened.

Mr. MAHANY. Senator Yosko, all I ask is that you and Senator Watson be down there early on Saturday morning with your trusty muskets, and anybody who opens up the flood gates will be shot down in cold blood.

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, the first time I heard of this article was when Senator Mahany was reading it. I read it over his shoulder while he was reading it to the Members of the Senate. I did not get from the article that this was a release put out by Doctor Goddard at all. I think this was issued by one of those do-gooders who was fighting someone along the line.

If you want me to, I will check the situation. I do not think you have to worry about that canal, as long as you provide the money to keep it operating.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I want to assure you that I will not go along with removing any of the dams in Bucks County.

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, I realize the hour is getting late and everyone appears to be just a little tired. However, I feel that we now have arrived at the stage in this Session of the Legislature where, apparently, many innocent people might be hurt. Therefore, I am stating, for the benefit of the Republican Majority, that we know you are going to ram the appropriation bill through the House. We realize it is coming over to the Senate and probably there will be a unit vote on the other side.

Mr. President, I want to serve notice that I cannot sit idly by in my seat and see the children of Polk deprived of proper medical care. I cannot sit idly by in my seat and see a large appropriation cut at Mayview. I cannot sit idly by and see funds taken away from children who should be rehabilitated.

I read this monstrosity, known as House Bill No. 1700, quite thoroughly and I say that, I, too, could criticize a little bit. I could criticize the Manufacturers' Association of Pennsylvania for writing that bill. I happen to be a member of the Appropriations Committee and I understand there was a joint meeting and that those bills were reported out over in the House. I was not there; I was not invited; and I did not know they had such a meeting.

Therefore, Mr. President, when the bills come over here, let us be prepared to go to work. During my career, I have done a lot of filibustering on this floor and I do not like to do it. However, we are going to have some consideration for the indigents of Pennsylvania. We are not going to have the welfare program torpedoed without a fight. You have the votes, but we have the determination to fight for the little people of Pennsylvania.

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, I want to point out to Senator Lane that we are not cutting the appropriations. Probably, we are not going to go along one hundred per cent with all the Governor's requests. The situation is just like in the case of your wife, Senator Lane. Perhaps many times she asks for a little bit more money than you can give her and, possibly, a little bit more money than she expects to receive.

We are going to go over these requests in the light of the money which we have available and what we feel the economy of the State of Pennsylvania can stand. We hope that we will all agree that we have done the best job possible.

Although Senator Lane states that he does not like to filibuster, sometimes I think he does it with a certain amount of glee. I hope he does not threaten us with a filibuster in order to get his way. When he starts doing that, we will start holding the Sessions of the Senate beginning at five o'clock in the morning.

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, I want to thank Senator Mahany for his advice. However, I want to say to the Majority Leader that when I cut the budget at home, I do not cut it on milk and medicine for my children or my grandchildren.

If Senator Mahany wants to start these Sessions at five o'clock in the morning, I can stay right with you because I am a healthy guy. However, I am repeating—and I am not fearful—you are not going to ram this bill through the Senate like you did over in the House. I can tell you that.

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, I want to point out to Senator Lane that I am not putting any bill through the House. When it comes over here, that is when I am going to get into the act.

Mr. BERGER. Mr. President, before requesting unanimous consent to present a resolution, I want to inquire whether this discussion has been terminated.

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, the only thing I want to add to it is that if Senator Watson and Senator Yosko go down there next Saturday morning with their guns and I represent them before you on the Pardons Board, I will do the best thing I can for them.

The PRESIDENT. We will certainly give it every consideration with you representing them.

Mr. KROMER. Mr. President, there comes a time in life, as a Senator and as a citizen, when the problem arises on the welfare and mental conditions of children in our State. About four or five years ago, I had the opportunity of making application to admit a few youngsters into one of our institutions. About three or four months ago, I was assured, through the Department of Welfare, that a few of these children would be taken care of and their applications were being processed.

I thought it was my duty to follow it up. Today I made a telephone call to Miss Grace Cox, Chief of Psychological Services in the Department of Welfare. After talking with Miss Cox, I was informed that Doctor Leslie Angus is issuing a letter to the parents of these various children, stating that due to the curtailment of the budget, which is being done by the House and Senate, they would not be able to open the new unit at Seingsgrove. I was told that the parents should contact the Members of the House and Senate to see what could be done.

Mr. President, I think when we take this problem back to the homes of those children who are mentally ill and they see such things happening, I think it is about as low as anything that can happen. I, for one, as a Member of this Senate, do not approve of anything like that. I think we should wait until these matters get over to the Senate. I think we should wait until our budget is considered before issuing any statement to anyone in this Commonwealth who has anybody in a condition such as the children about whom I spoke. I believe, if it is within our power, this should be stopped immediately.

Mr. YOSKO. Mr. President, I agree with the gentleman who just spoke. However, I think he should direct his remarks to the Republican State Committee and to George Bloom. Everytime I pick up the newspaper, there are statements in it made by George Bloom, emanating from the Republican Headquarters, on budget cuts, including the cut for the Department of Welfare totaling $27,000,000.

Secretary Shapiro and others connected with mental health have, from time to time, answered the statements made by George Bloom and the Republican State Committee. They said publicly that if that cut goes through, it will be necessary to close the doors of our mental institutions to new applicants and that treatment to those who are now there will have to be curtailed. Those who run the Department of Welfare have just as much right to inform the public as to what is going to happen if these cuts take place as Mr. Bloom and the Republican State Committee have in making statements about the budget cuts.

It seems to me that the time has come for the Republican Members of this Senate, and probably the House, too, to tell Mr. Bloom to run the Republican Party so far as the politics are concerned and not attempt to run this Legislature and dictate to it. That seems to be the policy. Mr. Bloom is a nice fellow and I like him, but if he wants to run this Legislature, then I suggest that he run for the office from the District in which he lives and come up here and participate in the deliberations. However, I think he should refrain from embarrassing the Members of the Senate and House, from his own party, by a lot of reckless statements which I am sure the Republican Members will not be able to back up when House Bill No. 1700 comes over here.

I am sure that every Member of this Senate, including the Republicans, want to see our institutions properly staffed. I am sure they want to see them being run properly and they want to admit every possible mentally ill child or adult in Pennsylvania who needs treatment. However, all of us know that it takes money. When Mr. Bloom talks in terms of reductions totaling $27,000,000, he is getting members of his own party, and the party generally, in hot water which might result in disaster to the party which he is supposed to be leading.

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, I believe that Mr. Bloom is just being the fall guy for some fellows over in the House who are not doing their job. I mean the Republican leadership. I think it is very unfair to the Republican Members of the Senate that these boys over in the House are going to throw this whole problem over to us. I would say mostly they are passing the problem on to the gentlemen on the other side of the aisle. I have talked to them and they say they are putting the bill through as it is, and then you fellows can do with it what you want when it come over here. I do not think they are acting in the responsible way they should.

I agree with my friend, Senator Yosko, that Mr. Bloom has made a lot of statements. However, I think he is just being the fall guy for the leadership in the House, which is not leading as it should.

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, I am very pleased that my friend, Senator Barr, the Democratic State Chairman, has come to the assistance and support of his friend, the Republican State Chairman, Mr. Bloom.

I want to state that, of course, any State Chairman has to take part in these things he has to be in a position where he can advise the Republicans. Certainly Senator Barr advises, in his position as State Chairman for the Democratic Party, not only his colleagues in the Senate but, I have no doubt, the Democratic Members of the House and, when possible, he tries to influence the Governor a little bit.

We are all jumping off here I think on some statements which perhaps are not backed up by facts. When they say they are going to cut the Welfare Department's appropriation X millions of dollars, perhaps they are not going to cut it as much as the people think they are or as much as the people have been led to believe they are.

As I understand it, this is some kind of a new approach to appropriations for the mental hospitals. The way House Bill No. 1700 is drawn, they give to each hospital a certain amount of money. Then, after they set up those amounts, in the next paragraph they state that in addition to those amounts appropriated, they shall also receive any moneys collected from those patients or from their relatives and so forth, who are paying for the patients stay at the hospital.

Perhaps that is an uncertain amount because we do not know exactly how much is going to be collected. Therefore, they are taking the bare amount, which is set up in the bill, rather than counting in the extra money which they will receive from the paid patients.

After that bill gets over here, we might take another look at it, certainly, to see whether or not we can put the agreed amount into the amount which we assure them they are going to get, and then cut out that portion which states that in addition to the amount set up, they will get the amount received from the paid patients.

I understand that philosophy was suggested by Secretary Shapiro when he appeared before the budget committee, at which time he said that if these collectors in the various mental hospitals were turned over to him and placed under his supervision, he could collect a whole lot more money from the people than what has been collected under the present system. Therefore, we suggested that we put these collectors, who are now under the jurisdiction of the Department of Revenue, under the Department of Welfare. They felt that was a good idea. Therefore, that is what they have started to do. I think there is a bill somewhere in the Legislature which provides for that. When that bill comes over to the Senate, we will no doubt enact it here so that these people will be put under Secretary Shapiro's jurisdiction.

We might also provide in House Bill No. 1700 that what ever money is collected shall be collected under the jurisdiction of the Department of Welfare and placed in the General Fund. At least that would assure the various hospitals of the exact amount of an appropriation instead of this indefinite amount which is set up under House Bill No. 1700.

Mr. YOSKO. Mr. President, I do not know whether it is a good idea to make an appropriation in that fashion. If you are going to appropriate money to operate a hospital, you should appropriate a definite sum and not a partial sum and leave the rest to, shall I say, assumption or conjecture.

I have in my pocket right now the anticipated amounts which will be collected in the various State institutions for the next two years. I also have the amounts which are anticipated to be allocated to each of the hospitals. I am telling you that under the formula you are talking about, these institutions will be shortchanged. If the economic situation should change in Pennsylvania in the next two years, and that is possible, the anticipated collections may not become a reality and, as a result, the hospitals will run out of funds before the end of the biennium, and thus have a bad effect on the administration of those institutions. In addition to that, it will affect the anticipated over-all revenues for the State, and I do not think that portion of it should be disturbed.

I think we should, when we make our appropriations to these hospitals, give them a definite sum of money. We should make them prove that they need that sum if they can satisfactorily prove their need to the appropriations Committee then I think we should allocate the money and deposit the collections which are made in the General Fund as we have done in the past.

Mr. WADE. Mr. President, throughout Pennsylvania, I think the citizens generally have been very much unduly disturbed about the purported cuts which in reality are not cuts at all. The proposed budget, as set up in the bill which is now before the House, is not a cut for the Department of Welfare.

During the rather long period of time that I have been privileged to be a Member of this Body, I have never known of a time when there was as much hysteria and as much concern by the citizens generally, and by those who are directly affected in these institutions, about the undue publicity which we have had emanating I believe from the head of the Department of Welfare.

In order to get the record correct, let us start with the 1953 biennium when this Department was allocated an appropriation of some $142,000,000. During the last Session, for the 1955-1957 biennium, we appropriated the sum of $178,000,000. However, the Governor asked this time for $221,100,000. It is easy, of course, for the Governor, or any executive officer or any department head, to ask for an unusual and perhaps an unneeded large budget. However, as Senator Mahany has so well pointed out, Senator Shapiro, now Secretary of Welfare Shapiro, appeared before the joint hearing of the House and Senate Appropriations Committee and stated in bold terms, and repeated the statement, that if he had jurisdiction over the collections for the institutions, he could do a much better job than was currently being done by the Department of Revenue.

In the Governor's Budget, on page 9 I believe, the Governor estimates a collection amounting to some $42,700,000. That is proposed to be sent over to the Secretary of Welfare's Department. If he can collect more money, certainly that is what we all want. However, if you take the figures which are now in House Bill No. 1700 which allocates the sum of $148,000,000, and add to that for the childrens' services, $8,000; for administration in Pennsylvania hospitals, survey and construction, $95,000; and for the State medical and surgical hospital system, $15,439,000, we get a total of $163,500,000, plus. Add to that these collections which have been discussed here this afternoon, and we get a budget of $206,200,000. That, I repeat, gentleman of the Senate, is not a cut; it is an increase of $28,000,000 over the amount allocated to the Department for the last biennium.

It has been said time and again, in the press and otherwise, that we are cutting this Department. We are not cutting this Department. We are not doing any such thing. We are setting aside a fund, in addition to what they had before, of $28,000,000 plus, or increasing the Department $28,000,000 and not cutting it one single cent.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I hardly thought today was the place or the time to take up this discussion. However, as usual, Senator Wade is spending fiat money.

We find ourselves in the same position here as we find ourselves in revenue. You will remember, during the passage of the sales tax, every time they exempted somebody, they increased the revenue estimate. Now every time they cut the Department, they are giving them more money.

I think we have reached almost the height of—well, I will not say stupidity, but at least we are getting close to a hilarious situation in this Senate when we cut an appropriation and say that we are giving them more money, and when we exempt people from taxation and increase the revenue estimates.

The Department of Welfare, on page 11 of the Governor's Budget, was given one hundred and forty-two odd millions of dollars in 1953-1955, and one hundred and ninety-three odd millions of dollars in 1955-1957. The figure used by the gentleman was $178,000,000. There was $221,000,000 asked for in this biennium. If you will remember, during the last biennium, the budget amount requested by the Department of Welfare was cut by one-fourth, exactly eleven odd millions of dollars. This was cut from the budget because we felt that since six months had elapsed before we came to the point of allowing the spending, one-fourth of the biennium had passed and, therefore, the money could not be spent on the increased programing which the Department of Welfare had laid before us. Therefore, they were cut $11,000,000.

We are now going into a twenty-four month period, a full biennium. There is no reason or rhyme for trying to pass the same budget for twenty-four months which you passed for a period of eighteen months. This is just simple arithmetic, whether we want to understand it or not understand it.

I am sure and positive that the Department of Welfare would, under no conditions, issue false information to the people and that if they were given an increase in their budget demand, they would be subject to very grave criticism if they let the people of this State believe that services were being curtailed or were to be curtailed when they were receiving, actually, an increase in the budget. That I do not believe to be the truth or to be a fact.

I believe sincerely that the Governor did cut the budget. As I understand it, the Budget Office reduced the request of the Department from $255,000,000 to $221,000,000, after looking toward our revenue sources in this State and finding that we could not move as fast as we would like to in this great, serious field of human endeavor. However, $221,000,000 represents, as clearly and as nearly as possible, the twenty-four month expenditure as against the eighteen month expenditure, with certain commitments which are required to maintain the program at the pace that it is and has been going.

In so far as collections are concerned, are we to understand after all of these years when persons who were incarcerated or put into these institutions—hospitalized in some cases and in other cases incarcerated because they never hoped to see the light of free light again—and no collection, in most instances, was made from these individuals, that now all of a sudden we are going to have a crackdown and we are going to collect each and every penny from every person's family who is put into these hospitals? Is that the new theory we are going to work under or the new plan of action we are going to work under?

During all the years when the Republicans were in control, little or no money was paid back. Now, all of a sudden, we are going to go out and collect all of the moneys from the counties, from the individuals, from the families, from the estates of these 50,000 people who are in these institutions. I do not believe the collection will be much greater than it was under the Republicans. If they excused the collection on the basis of need and poverty, then certainly the same right must be extended now as has been extended during the sixteen years of Republican control. Therefore, we cannot count on that as filling the coffers of the State to give them more money on which to operate.

I want to say that I have not given as much time as I intend to give to each and every individual institution. However, I want to say to you now that until the House makes a final determination and the Senate makes its determination—and I am assured by Senator Mahany that there will be a full-fledged meeting and that the bill will not be kicked out unceremoniously as it was in the House, without even a hearing or a meeting. I am assured that we will be given an opportunity. I think Senator Lane expressed a very urgent desire that before anything is done on this particular budget, public hearings be held.

I read in the newspapers that the Chamber of Commerce is demanding these cuts; that the Economy League and the Manufacturers' Association have demanded these cuts. If they can come before us and justify the cuts, the cuts will be made. If those who are opposed to the cuts can show that such cuts cannot be made in this budget, then that is the way we should operate. Let us not operate on a partisan basis. Let us try to operate on a bipartisan basis and try to work toward that program which will be best for all of the people of Pennsylvania. Let those who want these cuts in the budget, justify the cuts. Let them come before us and say, "This is not needed in Pennsylvania. We do not need to render this service. We do not need to have the health units out in the various counties." All right, then we do not need a program in the Department of Welfare. That is all right. If they can justify it, let them do it. However, let them speak up, out in the open, and not let we Members of the Senate be the fall guys for those who do not want to share their burden of the taxes in the Commonwealth and expect to make up their lack of public duty by cutting from those, who cannot help themselves, the necessary services to be rendered in this Commonwealth.

Mr. WADE. Mr. President, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Westmoreland, Senator Dent.

The PRESIDENT. Will the gentleman from Westmoreland, Mr. Dent, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. DENT. I will, Mr. President.

Mr. WADE. First, Senator Dent, I might say that either you or I are badly confused on this issue.

May I ask, Senator Dent, whether you have a copy of the current budget before you at the moment?

Mr. DENT. No, I do not have the current budget before me. I only have the estimate given out in this circular. It is our own and it takes from House Bill No. 1700 the pertinent facts as to how much the budget is.

Mr. WADE. I am very sorry that I do not have two copies, Senator Dent. I wanted to interrogate you regarding page 9. At the bottom of the page, it says as follows:

"Institutional Reimbursements

"This source includes all payments by patients or their families for care in the hospitals and institutions of the State. It also includes payments by the Counties for inmates committed to penal and correctional institutions by the Courts of that county."

Senator Dent, may I ask you if that is listed under the description of revenue sources and, therefore, is an anticipated revenue and counted as such in our General Budget?

Mr. DENT. That is right. It is non-tax receipts.

Mr. WADE. Do you notice then, sir, on the item we are discussing, that in 1953-1955 it was anticipated to be $30,000,000; in 1955-1957, it was $34,000,000; and the Governor, in this budget which he has presented to us, now anticipates a collection of $42,720,235?

Mr. DENT. That is right.

Mr. WADE. May I ask further whether you were present at the time when Secretary Shapiro was before the Joint House and Senate Appropriations Committee?

Mr. DENT. For a time, yes.

Mr. WADE. Do you recall then that Senator Shapiro, now Secretary of Welfare Shapiro, stated that he could materially increase the $42,720,235 if he had the collection of that item in his department?

Mr. DENT. I remember that he made some remark about if he were collecting the money which, of course, is not the way it is done in Pennsylvania.—If he starts to collect the money, he will find that he will have to have a staff over there. He will be running an extra collection agency as against the agency in the Department of Revenue which is already instituted for that purpose and it will cost him a couple of million dollars, at least, to do the collection job. However, that is not the law in Pennsylvania.

Did you believe him at that time?

Mr. WADE. I believe Senator Shapiro anytime.

Mr. DENT. Why did you not believe him when he told you that he needed a certain amount in the budget? Do you only believe that which suits your purpose?

Mr. WADE. I seriously question the information at his disposal.

Mr. DENT. I see. I seriously question the information as you read it.

Mr. WADE. Is this item, which is now in the anticipated revenues, counted as such in our current budget?

Mr. DENT. Yes, it is in the $1,500,000,000 estimated revenue for the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania. If you remove it from there, that means you are $28,000,000 short on the $1,500,000,000 that you anticipate to spend in your budget in House Bill No. 1700.

Mr. WADE. Mr. President, I take issue with that statement. If it is anticipated revenue in the Department of Revenue, it is anticipated revenue in the Department of Welfare.

Mr. DENT. Since when?

Mr. WADE. For a long time; ever since the beginning of the budget.

Mr. President, I do not care to interrogate the gentleman further, except that I think he has fully demonstrated to all Members of the Senate that this is an anticipated revenue and that it should be counted as such if it is transferred to the Department of Welfare. We currently have legislation on its way through the House and Senate to do that very thing which Senator Shapiro requested.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, you cannot count the non-tax receipts from the liquor store profits and institutional reimbursements, totalling some $130,000,000, as part of your $1,500,000,000 available funds for the expenses of running the Commonwealth on one hand, and then take them and put them into a specific department and spend them again.

I said, and I repeat, that you are spending fiat money. You do not have it. It is just in your imagination.

Mr. YOSKO. Mr. President, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Cumberland, Senator Wade, in order to clarify something in my mind.

The PRESIDENT. Will the gentleman from Cumberland, Mr. Wade, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. WADE. I will, Mr. President.

Mr. YOSKO. Senator Wade, will you take a look at that budget again and read the sources from which this so-called $42,000,000 will come? The discussion this afternoon was related to mental institutions, I believe. In your figure, you gave a total of $42,000,000 anticipated collections, which would be applicable to the mental institutions, is that correct?

Mr. WADE. No, Mr. President, that is not the statement I made. At least, it is not the statement I purported to make. My statement was that the Department of Welfare would have jurisdiction over the collection of these funds. Therefore, the funds would go to the department.

Mr. YOSKO. What funds?

Mr. WADE. The $42,000,000 mentioned in the budget, on page 9.

Mr. YOSKO. From where does the $42,000,000 come?

Mr. WADE. I shall be glad to read again, for the gentleman's information, the following:

"Institutional Reimbursements"—

Mr. YOSKO. You are talking about penal institutions and all that sort of thing. However, when you talk about mental institutions, you must separate those institutions from the penal and correctional institutions when you arrive at your total, to be used for mental health. I have the estimated collections here for the biennium June 1, 1957 to 1959, and they total about $27,000,000 from all institutions in the category we are discussing, under the jurisdiction of the Department of Welfare. It is not $42,000,000.

I do not believe you intend to use the $42,000,000 toward the financing of the activities of the mental institutions or the mental health program. That is not the way it is set up. The way it is set up in the budget, as I understand it, is that you give a certain amount to, say, the Allentown State Hospital and then you anticipate the collections from that hospital. Then, you propose to add those collections to the amount appropriated and the subtotal of that is what they are to use for the next two years. Even if you take those two figures, you are still shortchanging the Allentown State Hospital by a half million dollars. However, you must segregate the mental institutions from all of the institutions which you say total $42,000,000, because they are in a different category. There does not seem to be any argument about that.

Mr. MULLIN. Mr. President, while this health discussion has been going on, I was wondering whether they were talking about the health problems in sixty-six counties and forgetting about the health problem in Philadelphia County.

Mr. President, House Bill No. 111, which was passed by the House of Representatives by a vote of 179-16, with bipartisan sponsorship, was passed over in order in the Senate, leaving the city of Philadelphia outside of the County Health Act. Philadelphia is the only county which is excluded from this act. I believe that this Senate has a duty to include Philadelphia, instead of overlooking House Bill No. 111. The bill is being ignored in the Local Government Committee at the present time.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I hope the Senators do not get themselves too far out on a limb on this situation. I am afraid that Senator Wade is living under a cloud of misapprehension and misinformation.

Suppose we grant, Senator, that $28,000,000 will be gathered by the collections in the mental institutions for the Department of Welfare itself. Is it not true that if you read House Bill No. 1700, in the last sections of the bill, I think 7, 8, 9 and 10, you will find that under no conditions can the department spend any money more than the amount allocated by appropriation without the permission of the Auditor General? If you only appropriate $191,000,000, which House Bill No. 1700 adds up to, you are giving $2,000,000 less than you gave in the 1955-57 biennium for eighteen months, and yet you are giving $191,000,000 for twenty-four months. Even if Secretary Shapiro does collect $28,000,000 as you say he will from the institutions, he still cannot spend any amount beyond $191,000,000. Regardless of whether he gets the money from the General Fund or from reimbursements from the institutions, he still has a budget limit of $191,000,000. That is the figure which you must keep in mind, Senator; not $191,000,000 plus $28,000,000, because he is limited to the expenditure contained in the budget as to the total amount. That is exactly the amount that you have in House Bill No. 1700; $191,000,000 for the Department of Welfare. Whether you get the funds from A or B source, he still only has $191,000,000 for twenty-four months. If you subtract $28,000,000 from that, you will have $173,000,000 out of the General Fund, or exactly $20,000,000 less out of the General Fund than what Secretary Shapiro had two years ago.

SENATE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION

REFERRED TO COMMITTEE

DIRECTING THE JOINT STATE GOVERNMENT COMMISSION TO STUDY AND INVESTIGATE THE AUTHORITY FOR AND THE MANNER IN WHICH RULES AND REGULATIONS GOVERNING THE CONSTRUCTION OF BUILDINGS ARE BEING ADOPTED BY THE DEPARTMENT OF LABOR AND INDUSTRY

Mr. BERGER. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to offer a resolution at this time.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

Mr. BERGER offered the following resolution which was twice read and referred to the Committee on State Government.

In the Senate, May 28, 1957.

It is reported that certain activities of the Department of Labor and Industry, in relation to the administration of laws governing construction of buildings, are being misinterpreted and mismanaged. The strict regulations which have been promulgated relating to some types of buildings, especially buildings used by commercial and small industrial plants, are said to have a marked effect upon the decision of small businesses to locate within Pennsylvania.

Most small businesses and commercial ventures begin their operations on a limited capital and are forced to be economical in the type of building in which they begin operations. Many of the regulations which have been promulgated are not only unwarranted, but may even exceed the authorization given by law, thereby discouraging small business enterprises. Furthermore, an all powerful board of questionable legality has been established within the Department of Labor and Industry to adopt such rules and regulations seemingly at random; therefore be it

Resolved (the House of Representatives concurring), That the Joint State Government Commission be directed to study and investigate the authority for and the manner in which rules and regulations governing the construction of buildings are being adopted by the Department of Labor and Industry; and be it further

Resolved, That the Joint State Government Commission make public its findings and recommendations as soon as its study has been completed and make a complete report thereof to the next Session of the General Assembly.

PRAYER

Reverend Harry Fulton Cost, Pastor of the Union Presbyterian Church, Cowansville, Worthington Presbyterian Church, Worthington, and West Glade Run Presbyterian Church, Kittanning, R. D., guest Chaplain and guest of the Speaker, offered the following prayer:

Our Father and our God—Thou Who art infinite, eternal and unchangeable in all Thine attributes! We beseech Thy presence and Thy blessing upon us as we begin our deliberations on this, another day in Thy Providence. Help us to sense the true import of the business that comes before us. May it be our aim to consider forthrightly the effects of our actions, individually and collectively, on the fortunes of good government in this Commonwealth whose people trust our moral integrity.

As we approach the annual "Day of Commemoration" of the actions, ever unto death, of the defenders of the life and liberty of the American way of life, may the heritage which they have handed down to us be considered a light to guide us in our decisions.

We ask Thy blessing upon our homes and loved ones where there is illness or anxiety, where important decisions must be made by folks at home; may the Spirit of the Eternal, as manifested in Jesus Christ, The Son, so lead, that peace and truth and love may prevail.

We ask, our Father, that the life of each man and women of this legislative body may be precious in Thy sight and that the confidence of the citizenry of the Commonwealth may be a force for turning us all toward the Light of Truth as it is in Jesus Christ our Lord, in Whose name and for Whose sake we pray. Amen.

MEMBER CONGRATULATED

The SPEAKER. The Chair has just been informed that the Majority Whip of the House, the gentleman from Warren County, has just this morning become a grandfather for the 14th time.

The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Warren, Mr. Gibson.

Mr. GIBSON. Mr. Speaker, thank you very much.

You know, it is much easier to be a grandfather than to be a father, I have discovered. All the grandfathers and grandmothers are first class baby sitters, but this happens to be a case where they are a long way from home, so we expect to have a limited amount of baby sitting. I am very happy this morning over this 14th grandson. Thank you.

COMMUNICATION FROM GOVERNOR

The Secretary to the Governor being introduced, presented a communication in writing from His Excellency the Governor, which was read as follows:

VETO OF HOUSE BILL No. 446.

Commonwealth of Pennsylvania,

Governor's Office, Harrisburg, May 27, 1957.

To the Honorable, the House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

I return herewith, without my approval, House Bill No. 446, Printer's No. 236, entitled “An Act amending the compact contained in the act of June 5, 1937 (P. L. 1664) entitled ‘An act to ratify and adopt a compact or agreement negotiated by commissioners designated by the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania and commissioners designated by the Governor of the State of Ohio relative to the development use and control of the Pymatuning Lake and the State owned land surrounding said lake for fishing hunting recreational and park purposes’ fixing the speed and horsepower of motor boats allowed on the lake limiting operation of motor boats and prescribing penalties.”

This bill is similar in effect, if not in purpose, to Senate Bill 312.

Senate Bill 312 would create pressure to shut off necessary water supply from Pymatuning Lake into Shenango and Beaver valley industrial communities by opening up a new motorboating area level which could not be maintained without impounding water needed by those communities.

House Bill 446 would accomplish the same effect by tripling the horsepower of motorboats in the lake areas where they are now permitted, thereby similarly setting in motion pressures for maintenance of water levels high enough to support such motorboating.

For these reasons, the bill is not approved.

GEORGE M. LEADER

On the question,

Shall the bill become a law, the veto of the Governor to the contrary notwithstanding?

COMMUNICATION AND BILL LAID ON TABLE

Mr. DOWN. Mr. Speaker, I move that the communication, together with the bill be laid upon the table.

The motion was agreed to.

APPROPRIATION BILLS ON SECOND READING

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the second reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1700, entitled:

An Act to provide for the ordinary expenses of the executive legislative and judicial departments of the Commonwealth interest on the public debt and for public schools for two years beginning June 1, 1957.

The SPEAKER. The Chair understands the gentleman from Cambria, Mr. Andrews, desires to make a statement.

Mr. ANDREWS. That is right, Mr. Speaker, and I also desire to interrogate the Majority Leader.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from McKean, Mr. Johnson, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. JOHNSON. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. ANDREWS. Yesterday the Minority Leader inquired as to whether or not, if there were amendments which we were unable to get in shape today, notwithstanding our most diligent efforts, whether we would or would not be permitted to offer them on third reading tomorrow.

Mr. JOHNSON. That is correct. I believe I said that would be possible.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS HOUSE

Mr. ANDREWS asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

Mr. Speaker, since we will take considerable time, it is fitting and proper that we explain to the Members of this House and to those we represent what we are trying to do

We are considering what essentially is in its present state a political document. We are not criticizing the members of the Appropriations Committee. I would be glad to say, considering the handicaps under which he has labored, the Chairman of the House Appropriations Committee has done as good a job as anybody could be expected to do. Unfortunately, he has operated with a rope around his neck, with a legislative iron circle which confined his thinking, his action, and which throttled the promptings of his own heart.

This document, Mr. Speaker, is a cold, hard document. The theory of it is that the majority party will go to the people on the basis of the budget and say as a justification to those who have been denied service, we held alive.

In so far as the political implications are concerned, we accept the political issue which is raised. We recoil, however, from the humanistic aspects of the battle which unfortunately has drawn the innocent within the line of fire.

Mr. Speaker, it was a cruel hand and a hard heart that devised some of these schedules. We want to humanize this appropriation bill. We want to give it a heart throb. We want to write into it those amendments which will say to the people in wheel chairs, we tried to get you out; to those in waiting lines for admission to state institutions, we tried to make room for you; to those who are interested in an expanding health program, we tried to broaden the range of preventive medicine. In short, we tried to convert a cold political document into a program designed to open the door of hope to many of those who look to us as guardians of their unfortunate situation and as the ones who can remedy their condition.

That, Mr. Speaker, is what we will try to do, today.

I now desire—I must rummage through my various papers—to offer amendments.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman yield to the Majority Leader for the purpose of answering the statement of the gentleman from Cambria, Mr. Andrews?

Mr. ANDREWS. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

The SPEAKER. The Chair thanks the gentleman.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman from Cambria, Mr. Andrews, yields to the gentleman from McKean, Mr. Johnson.

The Chair recognizes the gentleman from McKean, Mr. Johnson

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS HOUSE

Mr. JOHNSON asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

Mr. Speaker, the assistant Minority Leader has laid the foundation for the amendments which are going to be offered by the minority side. I think it is only fitting and proper that we on the majority side give sort of a bird's-eye view of the budget as we see it, so we will have both arguments, both principles in the record, if we are making a record here today.

I might say preliminarily by way of comparisons the 1953 budget of our last biennium when we were in power totaled the sum of $1,014 million. Governor Fine was hailed as Pennsylvania's first billion-dollar Governor.

The 1955-1957 budget we are presently working under is the sum of $1,270,000,000. I might say parenthetically that while the budget increased from 1953 to 1955 by $256 million, we increased it even though there was ringing in our ears the campaign speeches of our Governor, you put me in the executive's chair and by reorganization, by economies, by changing things around, by doing miracles, by driving the money changers out of the temple, I will save $100 million in the budget.

We knew at the time it was nothing but applesauce. Suffice to say, the budget increased from 1953 to 1955 by $256 million, or a 25 per cent increase.

The budget this session of the Legislature came down early. We compliment the Governor's office for starting in the fall. We had an early budget, so we have had plenty time to give it our perusal. It totaled in three different figures, first, $1.47 billion direct requests.

It covered a request for a $82 million deficit by reason of overstating revenues during the biennium. It also asked for $45 million in non-budgeted items, being $33 million for the schools, which was vetoed last session, $3 million for airports, $3 million for Philadelphia health centers and $5.5 million for social security. This makes a total budget request of $1.6 billion, which compares with the $1,014 million in the last two years of the Fine administration.

While the budget bills this current biennium total $1,270 million, according to the most accurate computation available, there was $1,239 million spent, which would make about $31 million in appropriations not spent, $27 million of which, however, are continuing appropriations which will continue into the next biennium and have been taken into consideration in formulating the present House Bill 1700.

The budget we are presenting in the form of these bills would provide for the budgeting of $1,418 million, which added to the $82 million deficit, which we trust will be less than that by reason of unusual collections of other taxes on March 15th and April 15th, would total $1.5 billion dollars. So the figure we are working with is $1,418 million.

As I have repeatedly said at this microphone, we came here in January with a pledge to hold the line on new taxes. This we have done. We have reenacted the sales tax at the level of three per cent, we have reenacted all other existing taxes, which we say should bring in $1.5 billion.

This budget we are presenting is planned to live within that amount of money. Each item in the budget has been carefully scrutinized by the Appropriations Committee. Each item is designed to take care of existing services, in many cases expanding existing services. It is not a cold and hard budget as Mr. Andrews would say. There are no services being denied the people. I think the debate here today will point that out. We feel it is a sound budget, it is an adequate budget and it is a fair budget.

Public Assistance, for instance, is given pretty near $145 million, which added to the $125 million of the Federal Government makes nearly $300 million for relief in this state at a time when we are having the greatest prosperity in the history of the nation.

I will not have anything more to say about this budget, I am just giving you the over-all picture. We will debate the issues with you as you offer amendments here today.

The SPEAKER. The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Berks, Mr. Readinger. For what purpose does the gentleman rise?

Mr. READINGER. To make a request, Mr. Speaker.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state his request.

Mr. READINGER. Mr. Speaker, I would like all of the Democratic Members who have amendments which they are going to offer sometime today to send a copy to Mr. Johnson's desk and one to my desk as soon as they can do so. That will save confusion later on and we will have an opportunity to look at the amendments prior to the time they are offered.

The first section was read and agreed to.

The second section was read.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the section?

Mr. ANDREWS offered the following amendments:

Amend Sec. 2, page 7, line 6, by inserting after "1929" $145,000.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the amendment?

The SPEAKER. The gentleman from Cambria offered amendments which were read by the Clerk.

The Chair understands the amendments being offered by the gentleman from Cambria are amendments to the Department of Internal Affairs, pages 7 and 8 of the bill, and we are going to first discuss the amendment to Section 2, page 7, line 6.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, I think, as the desk knows, we desire to consider these amendments item by item.

Mr. Speaker, on this particular item we will accept a voice vote.

I wish those who have the bill would turn to page 7 of the bill. As you will note, contrary to the practice which I believe has been too long sustained in this House, this bill hands a blank check for the time being to the head of the department. Various activities are outlined, but no specific amount is attached.

I believe this House is derelict if it does not tell the administrator of the Department of Internal Affairs how much to spend for geologic survey, how much to spend for the restoration and preservation of the priceless records of this Commonwealth, how much to spend for Bureau of Municipal Affairs. I had the hope that that was the kind of a budget we would have the privilege of considering at this time.

As you will note, there is no figure for the administration of the Department of Internal Affairs, no figure at all. Until restrained at some later date by this Legislature under this bill, the administrator of the Department of Internal Affairs could spend all of the money for payroll. So we fix a payroll figure and we suggest $145,000 for the administration of the Department of Internal Affairs for administrative purposes, as we submit the item to the consideration of the House.

As I say, upon that item I would be very glad to take a voice vote.

Mr. WOOD. Mr. Speaker, I rise to object to these amendments and ask the Members on this side to vote them down.

I think the gentleman from Cambria, Mr. Andrews, knows as well as anybody else in this House that I have been trying to do all I can to get a performance budget. My idea was that these figures would be broken down, but we tried and looked around at all these figures in the Governor's budget and we could not substantiate them. They were kind of phony figures.

What we are going to do to all the other departments—the Internal Affairs, the Auditor General and the State Treasurer are exempt, but we are going to give these other departments 30 days after the session is over and the budget is finally agreed to to submit to the Joint State Government Commission and the Chairmen of the Senate and House Appropriation Committees their allocations broken down and those figures will stand if they do not switch them around.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, I submit this item to the judgment of the House.

On the question, recurring,

Will the House agree to the amendment?

It was not agreed to.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the section?

Mr. ANDREWS offered the following amendment:

Amend Sec. 2, page 7, line 8, by inserting after "1929" $450,000.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the amendment?

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, this item concerns the administration of the land office. This is the office which has the custody of the priceless records of this Commonwealth, which are now deteriorating for lack of proper care.

It also has the duty of compiling accurate county maps, which are needed as a basis for many of the suits which are carried into the courts. These priceless records cannot be replaced; they are beyond value; they are deteriorating. They cannot be preserved, perhaps, by the work done in any biennium, because unfortunately some of these records are in such a state that only experts trained in preparing records for preservation can perform the work.

Every bar association which has gone on record has requested that something be done along this line, that these records not only be put into shape for preservation but that they be microfilmed. It is a gigantic task because it goes back to Colonial days. We are suggesting a modest appropriation for that work, $450,000.

I request a roll call.

Mr. WOOD. Mr. Speaker, I think the gentleman from Cambria is on the General State Authority and he should have seen that there was a place built to keep these records. Until such time as we have a safe place to keep them, we are appropriating enough money to keep them in the same position they are now.

I ask the Members on this side to vote the amendments down.

The yeas and nays were required by Messrs. ANDREWS and READINGER and were as follows:

On the question recurring,

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the section?

Mr. ANDREWS offered the following amendment:

Amend Sec. 2, page 7, line 20, by inserting after "(P L 1076)" $280,000.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the amendment?

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, this amendment deals with the appropriation for the Bureau of Municipal Affairs in the Department of Internal Affairs.

The Bureau of Municipal Affairs as presently established is at the service of boroughs, townships, cities and communities which have mutual problems but which are divided into different municipalities.

A community may desire an over-all plan, a united service, in so far as sewage disposal, highways, streets, water supply and other matters. In order to provide it, there is a necessity for skilled planning and intelligent surveying.

I have a citizen's interest, not a personal interest, in this particular appropriation because out where I live we have a community problem and we are trying to pull together, Johnstown, the surrounding boroughs and some of the townships pulling together in an over-all community development plan. If the Bureau has enough money, it will send its experts out to make that survey.

There is a need throughout the Commonwealth in communities which need the services of skilled community planners, and I think the appropriation that is suggested, $280,000, is a modest appropriation in view of the services which that Bureau can render.

On this item we request a roll call.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the section?

Mr. ANDREWS offered the following amendment:

Amend Sec. 2, page 8, line 4, by inserting after "(P L 1356)" $400,000.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the amendment?

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, this appropriation has to do with the performance of the duties of the department relating to weights and measures.

The responsibilities of the department have been increased by recent legislation. For instance, the number of milk trucks which now come under the supervision of the department has increased several thousand percent during recent years.

This is a particular appropriation that we cannot submit to the future, because if the department is not properly financed the people of the Commonwealth will be short-changed as they buy commodities. So if we do not get a sufficient appropriation for the operation of the department as it relates to weights and measures throughout the state, I imagine the people will jolly well see to it that they do get such an appropriation when the next General Assembly convenes.

We will take a voice vote on this item, Mr. Speaker

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the amendment?

It was not agreed to.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, I must commend the majority for its diligence in error.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the section?

Mr. ANDREWS offered the following amendment:

Amend Sec. 2, page 8, line 8, after "(P L 1840)" by striking out "$1,900,814" and inserting "$570,945."

On the question,

Will the House agree to the amendment?

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, this appropriation has to do with the type of topographical and geological survey which has been in progress in Pennsylvania for some 90 years. Less than a third of the state has been surveyed in proper fashion and we trundle along without any exact knowledge concerning the mineral resources of our Commonwealth.

There is an industrial need, a practical need, not for a long drawn-out topographical and geological survey, but something which will bring the resources of our Commonwealth within the reach of the present generation and not wait for future generations.

On this particular item we would ask a roll call. That will be the final roll call.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the amendment?

The yeas and nays were required by Messrs. ANDREWS and READINGER and were as follows:

AMENDMENT WITHDRAWN

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, I think there is one other amendment and I withdraw it.

I desire to thank the Chair and the Members of the House for their patience and attention and to state that at a time to be agreed upon by the Majority and Minority Leaders I will raise the question of the constitutionality of Section 7 of this bill, on Page 84.

The SPEAKER. The Chair thanks the gentleman.

The gentleman withdraws the remaining amendment.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS HOUSE

Mr. JOHNSON asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

Mr. Speaker, I just want to say for the record that the total of the amendments just offered by the gentleman from Cambria is $2,545,000, approximately.

The bill before us calls for an appropriation to the Department of $1,900,814. This compares with an appropriation in 1953 of $1,316,428 and compares with the estimated expenditure for the biennium of the Department of $1,736,080. In other words, we are appropriating pretty near $200,000 more money in the next biennium than was spent in the current biennium.

The estimated expenditure of $1,736,000 was computed from a questionnaire sent by the Appropriations Committee to the Department as of February 28, 1957, and then projecting their expenditures as learned at the hearing for the rest of the biennium, making a total figure $1,736,000, and we are appropriating $1,900,000.

STUDENTS OF WASHINGTON JUNIOR HIGH SCHOOL WELCOMED

The SPEAKER. The Chair welcomes to the Hall of the House a delegation of students from the Washington Junior High School of Northampton County under the supervision of their teachers, Mr. Trumen J. Reese, Principal, Mr. John J. Kelleher and Mr. Theodore Halkish.

They are the guests of the Members from Northampton County, Messrs. Bucchin, Ragot, Ide and Moyer.

MEMBERS WELCOMED

The SPEAKER. The Chair at this time wants to apologize for having failed to welcome back to the Hall of the House two Members who have been absent because of illness, the gentleman from Luzerne, Mr. Jump, and the gentleman from Northampton, Mr. Bucchin.

The Chair is very happy to welcome both Members back.

BILL ON SECOND READING

The SPEAKER. The House will resume consideration of House Bill 1700.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the section?

Mr. LOPRESTI offered the following amendment:

Amend Section 2, page 28, line 20, by striking out "$225,000" and inserting "$371,631."

On the question,

Will the House agree to the amendment?

Mr. LOPRESTI. Mr. Speaker, the amendments are being offered to the appropriation for the Fair Employment Practices Commission.

This Commission was formed under Act 222 of the last session of the Legislature and provides that the Commission shall establish and maintain a central office in Harrisburg, initiate, receive, investigate and pass upon complaints received throughout the Commonwealth; work to correct discriminatory practices via conference and conciliation methods; if conciliation fails, the Commission must call a public hearing, take testimony and make findings. Such hearings must be held in the county in which the alleged act was committed.

Secondly, to prepare a comprehensive, educational program in cooperation with the Department of Public Instruction, to eradicate prejudice among the various racial, religious and nationality groups throughout the Commonwealth. Such a program will require considerable research for proper development and will have to reach every man, woman and child in the Commonwealth. It will include review and correction of improper practices. Also, to study the problems of discrimination and prejudice throughout the Commonwealth and to devise ways and means of eliminating same. Effort in these areas may be conducted through local councils organized by the Fair Employment Practices Commission who must provide such local groups with technical and clerical assistance and pay the expenses of such services.

Briefly, that is the function of the group whose appropriation we are presently discussing.

This Fair Employment Practices Commission is a bipartisan Commission. It is one which has both Republican and Democratic members. The Commission itself submitted an estimate. This bipartisan Commission had prepared and approved an estimate of $559,230 as the amount needed to carry on its functions during this biennium. That amount of $559,230 was then reduced by the Governor to $371,631 and it was again reduced by the Appropriations Committee in House Bill 1700 to the sum of $225,000.

Let us look and see what this will do to that Commission. The present payroll of the Commission is $253,698.

In other words, the present appropriation falls short by $28,698 of meeting the present payroll, which, in effect, means that the Commission would have to eliminate all of the other functions which I read to you just a few minutes ago as part of their duties. As a matter of fact, they would even have to reduce the present payroll and personnel.

Now, for the purpose of comparison I want to set forth a few figures. The State of New York, which has a comparable commission, has appropriated for a one-year period the sum $630,668. The functions of the New York Commission are practically the same as the Pennsylvania Commission.

Another comparison: The city of Philadelphia, a city within our own Commonwealth having such a Commission, appropriates approximately $320,000 for its Fair Employment Practices Commission, and we appropriate, or intend to appropriate, for the entire state, for a statewide Commission, only the sum of $225,000.

I believe for some years back both the majority and the minority party platforms have claimed to be for FEPC. As a matter of fact, the party platform of the majority party of this House in 1950 pledged itself to an immediate and effective FEPC law. Now we come along seven years later and we offer them an appropriation of $225,000.

I ask you gentlemen just how effective a Commission we can have with such an appropriation. If it is the intention to render the Commission ineffectual, if it is the intention of this particular appropriation to destroy the effectiveness of its work, then we might just as well repeal it altogether. If that is what the majority has in mind, destroying the Commission altogether, it might just as well repeal the bill and eliminate the Commission altogether. I do not know whether that is what it has in mind, but I do know this, if we are to have an FEPC which is to do the job which we as the Legislature have mandated by law they should do, that they should go out and investigate, hear cases, make recommendations, have conciliation meetings and all those things, and in addition to that go out and educate the public in ways and means of eliminating prejudices, if we are going to have that kind of a law, if we are going to have that kind of a Commission, then certainly we should restore this appropriation from the amount reported by the Appropriations Committee to, at least, the amount recommended by the Governor, which in itself falls short by approximately $200,000 of what the Commission itself estimated it would need to do a good job.

Mr. TOLL. Mr. Speaker, this fair employment practice problem has been before the Assembly for many years. When I arrived in the Assembly in 1951 the Republican side had Lew Mintess as the sponsor of a bill, it was strongly debated and fell. In 1953 Lew sponsored it again and once more it fell. By 1955 it became such an important topic throughout Pennsylvania that it was sponsored by both sides and strongly developed and passed and an appropriation was made.

But the 1955 appropriation of $225,000 was only for 19 months because of the fact that by the time we passed the bill five months had already gone.

The amount that is really needed to do a good job and to eliminate discrimination in Pennsylvania—it is not limited to one race—wherever it appears, whether it is in Pittsburgh, Scranton, or Erie, or in the rural areas, or in Philadelphia, to do an effective job the absolute minimum set forth by the Commission and the people, the educators who are interested in the problem, is $371,000. That does not include much personnel. As I understand it, from a meeting which I attended about a month ago, it involves at the present time five people in the central area in Harrisburg, three in Pittsburgh and three and one secretary in Philadelphia.

The most important feature of this job is the educational feature. This involves schools in the community. There are 3,182 principal school divisions. The educational work to give proper service in this area requires literature, visual aids and direct participation in county teacher institutes, principals' associations, annual conferences of various educational groups and the various institutes of guidance, councils and vocational teachers. This means Americans living side by side, working together and being privileged to work without discrimination as to race, color or creed.

You remember how strongly we fought for this thing. What are we up to now? We are up to the point where by reducing the money, by withdrawing the funds, all you will have is a commission without power, without the money to spend for the educational work necessary to alert the youth of Pennsylvania to the problem which exists. In other words, you are going backwards to the time when we started 10, 11 or 12 years ago when it was definitely the problem and the responsibility of the Republican party, who apparently did not want it until they were practically forced to go through with it in 1955. What do we have now? A backward step to $225,000, which means practically that you can only maintain an office without any money for educational purposes.

In addition to the school program, you have a program involving community organizations. The various civic organizations throughout Pennsylvania are included in this educational work. As a matter of fact, this cut will eliminate all program aid such as literature and materials for schools and civic agencies. That happens to be the greatest aim of the entire program, to provide inspiration and information to minority youth on employment operations. In fact, this proposed cut will almost completely eliminate any possibility of the Commission carrying out any effective educational work.

When Governor Fine appointed the Commission on Industrial Relations, he appointed Republicans and Democrats, he appointed men of prominence in the industrial field. One of the men whom he appointed was Dr. William H. Gray of Philadelphia, who was the pastor of the Bright Hope Baptist Church. On April 19, 1957, when Dr. Gray learned there was going to be a cut in the appropriations for FEPC, he said, "My long experience with the problems of equal employment opportunities impels me to warn the people of Pennsylvania that these damaging moves against FEPC are a threat to economic conditions for all Pennsylvania residents."

I think this is the most amazing cut in the entire bill, if you will only realize what is being attempted here. This is practically a move back to the dark ages. It is impossible to conceive that Pennsylvanians with any intelligence would do a thing like this.

I ask you to vote for the amendment.

Mr. JOHNSON. Mr. Speaker, in answer to the gentleman with respect to the appropriation of $225,000, I have voted for the FEPC bill every time it was in front of this General Assembly.

Last session we voted $225,000 for the job of the Commission. As I understand it, there was $65,000 lapsed of the appropriation, so that their expenditures for this biennium were $161,795. It was felt that $225,000 would be adequate to carry on the program in light of existing conditions.

Our information is that there is absolutely no case load in the hands of the Commission at the present time. In fact, the only complaints they have had are under the age section of the bill. That, of course, is understandable because there probably is considerable discrimination as to age. I believe that the age amendments were offered from the Republican side and put into the bill and that is the most popular section of the FEPC law.

This money then is spent for, as Mr. Toll says, education, advising minorities as to what their rights are, slides, pictures, and things like that. We think that until a report is received as to great discrimination in Pennsylvania and a load of cases which require lawyers, hearings and a lot of money, at this stage of the game $225,000 is enough for this program. So we are standing on this particular sum for this biennium.

We are not against FEPC nor the principle of FEPC, but the same thing goes through this entire budget, the theory being, let's have the state do more, and more, and more, for everybody. Let's tax, and tax, and tax, and spend, and spend, and spend, and, incidentally, as Franklin Roosevelt said, elect, and elect, and elect.

I guess that is the philosophy, but the idea is we are trying to hold the line and the FEPC should gear their program in light of existing conditions of comparatively little discrimination in Pennsylvania to the sum of $225,000.

Mr. TOLL. Mr. Speaker, on the subject of holding the line, there may be areas in which the line can be held, but when you are trying to hold the line in one of the fundamental tenets of our American citizenship, the right to work and the right to get a job without being discriminated against, where is the view that this is a problem which can be confined to case loads? Must you wait for the discrimination to occur in order to have a number of cases before you can ask for the money to prosecute the people who are discriminating? This is preventive medicine.

This commission with its educational information which it passes to the civic groups and to the schools is preventing discrimination. It is preventing this case load. It provides the safe-guards for the people who are seeking employment by the very nature of its operation. That is why you do not have a case load, because if you did have a case load you would have an intolerable condition.

Let me call your attention to the fact that it was only through the absolute honesty and integrity of the Chairman of the Commission, Harry Boyer, who refused to use the $62,000 which was earmarked for certain employees who could not be obtained immediately because there were certain special qualifications for social workers who were needed. Because those people were not obtained in the short time this Commission has been operating, that money was not used. When the lapsed bill came out, I was ready with amendments to try to restore that lapsed amount. While they may have the $62,000 left in addition to the $225,000, the absolute minimum needed to operate this agency for the next biennium is $371,000. I will consider in my opinion, and I am sure a great many others back home will consider, a vote against this amendment as a vote against FEPC.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the amendments?

So the question was determined in the negative and the amendment was not agreed to.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the section?

Messrs. BOIES and KAMYK offered the following amendments:

Amend Sec. 2, page 60, line 7, by striking out "2,524,918" and inserting in lieu thereof: "2,625,491."

Amend Sec. 2, page 60, line 13, by striking out "8,135,-410" and inserting in lieu thereof: "10,575,722."

Amend Sec. 2, page 61, line 1, by striking out "6,351,204" and inserting in lieu thereof: "7,653,052."

Amend Sec. 2, page 61, line 15, by striking out "7,100,267" and inserting in lieu thereof: "9,431,469."

On the question,

Will the House agree to the amendment?

Mr. BOIES. Mr. Speaker, if it is agreeable, I would like to have a roll call vote on all four of these at once. But I would like to make a short statement, Mr. Speaker.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman is in order and will proceed.

Mr. BOIES. Mr. Speaker, it is a continual source of amazement to me how so many persons can give such pious lip service to a cause and seek the least excuse to desert that cause.

I venture to say, Mr. Speaker, there is not a single Member of the Assembly who would say, if questioned, that he was against doing everything possible for the cause of mental health and retarded children in this Commonwealth.

Yet by this bill we are deserting the cause and making it impossible to give the service to which we are committed.

I speak particularly about the instance of the Polk Institute for retarded children. I think it is the most glaring example in the state of lack of care on the part of this Assembly.

Mr. Speaker, yesterday the majority Members very blithely voted $7 million for a bridge. You might say it is not out of the General Fund. But it is out of the other pocket of the Commonwealth and it all comes from the same place.

I say to the Members that this question is not a political question, it should not be a political question, it is a question of humanity. If there was ever anything for which we should desert our political partisanship, it is this particular question.

I appeal once again to the Members to support these amendments.

Mr. JOHNSON. Mr. Speaker, we are at the point now where we are debating the appropriations given to the state mental hospitals. I believe a word of explanation with respect to the manner in which we have set out the appropriation to these hospitals in this bill should be made.

When Mr. Shapiro came before the Appropriations Committee and presented his budget, the Joint Committee of the House and Senate, he said the following and I am quoting him from the record.

Mr. Lovett asked him this question when he was talking about collections, quoting Mr. Lovett: "It should be handled in your department rather than in the Revenue Department?" Mr. Shapiro: "Yes, to my mind it is an anachronism that should have been changed long ago to ask the Department of Welfare responsible for spending the money properly, not allowing it to get credit for doing the job and collecting the money."

In response to that statement by Mr. Shapiro wherein he further went on at the hearing and said that $20 million will be collected from patients, their relatives, their estates, and so forth, during this biennium if the Department of Revenue handles it, but if I get the job I can increase it by ten percent. Then privately I believe he said to a newspaper man and also to another party, "if they give me the job of collecting, I will collect about $30 million."

Therefore, we prepared a bill which has passed this House transferring the collection from the Department of Revenue to the Department of Welfare. In having the so-called collector—I think he is called the Revenue Department collector now at the hospitals—now called the Welfare Department collector, he will be there at the institution under the control of the Superintendent of the hospital.

It is now the Revenue Department collector who has an office there at the hospital, he is only amenable to the people down here in Harrisburg. As a consequence by reason of absentee control, he just naturally does not do the job that would be done if the collector was right at the hospital.

Therefore, at the suggestion of the Secretary of Welfare we passed the bill in the House and I believe a large number of you people on the other side voted for it. I think it is a good idea, I think it is a very fine experiment in the field of our mental hospitals and our other hospitals to have a close scrutiny right at the hospital of the job of making these ever important collections.

It has been said there are millions and millions of dollars which could be collected. Many of those people are on Social Security and they can have guardians appointed for them and that Social Security can be paid to the hospital for their care. Many of them die leaving substantial estates, yet oftentimes they do not pay any money to the state.

Therefore, when we made up our budget, by reason of the bill passing and transferring the collection to the Department of Welfare, we only appropriated the net amount between their total appropriation and the anticipated collections as given to us in a statement from the Secretary of Revenue, Mr. Gleeson.

Now let us take the first appropriation, Dixmont State Hospital. In the bill they are given a net appropriation of $2,524,000. Now let us look at the sheet. The collections will be $347,082 estimated, which according to the bill was also appropriated to the hospital, so they will get an appropriation of $2,872,000.

If we adopt the amendment just offered by Mr. Boies, they will only get $2,625,491, or approximately $250,000 less money.

Then the bill goes on to say that you not only will get the $347,000 that you can collect, but you will get the additional, the extra 50 per cent that Mr. Shapiro says you will be able to collect. So, in effect, the hospital will not only get $2,872,000, but conceivably another one-half of $347,000, or well over $3 million, which is more money than is in the budget for this particular hospital.

Now let us take the next one. Before I leave Dixmont Hospital, in 1953 their appropriation was $2,233,000. In 1955-1957, our current biennium, it is estimated that they will spend $2,792,000, or a total appropriation of $2,872,000. In other words, they are receiving more money this coming biennium than they spent last biennium, together with the additional revenue they will receive because of tremendously increased collections as stated by the Secretary himself.

With respect to Mayview, here is one where Mr. Boies, raises it considerably. He would like $10,575,000. Our appropriation to the hospital is $9,253,000. This compares with a revised estimate of the needs of the hospital furnished us by Mr. Shapiro on May 10, 1957, wherein he says that the hospital can get along with $9,651,000, or $900,000 less than the amendments of Mr. Boies. I think you people had better get in touch with your Secretary of Welfare and have him give you his revised figures.

The collections by Mayview will be $1,117,590. Conceivably if they collect another 50 percent, or $600,000 approximately, they will receive an appropriation of over $10 million during the biennium.

Also, Mayview during this biennium will spend $8.8 million and the appropriation to them is $9.2 million.

As to Woodville, the amendment is to have an appropriation to it of $7,100,000. That is the amendment. The appropriation to Woodville, if you give them their collections, will be $7,839,000. This compares with a budget request of $8,170,000. There again, if 50 per cent more money is collected, or $700,000, the hospital will receive about $8.5 million.

So I say that in this bill we have before us, in the program for the mental hospitals the way we have it set up we have taken in lots of cases the figures right on the nose which Mr. Shapiro said he had to have. I grant you we are appropriating them first a net appropriation and then their collections, which conceivably could be way in excess of what they have been collecting because of this statement that he can raise $20 million to $30 million.

The propaganda has gone all over the state that all we are giving to Dixmont is $2.5 million, when actually we are giving them $2.87 million, exactly what the Secretary wanted, together with this added right to collect more money.

I say it is time this fakery stopped in the state and the people be given the exact, correct figures so they will know the true, honest situation.

Yesterday at this meeting over here at the Forum Mr. Shapiro completely and entirely repudiated his firm statement up in the Appropriations Committee. He said it is terrible that we cannot collect our own money when we have to spend it. Then he says over there, it is the cruelest thing I have ever heard. I say that is a phony statement he made. We are taking him at his own word, and I think that it is a splendid idea to have the collectors at those hospitals under that superintendent.

You say he is in charge of just the mentally ill. No, he is not. He is in charge of running the plant, he is in charge of the office personnel, of buying the goods, of the repairs to the buildings. He is not just a man tending to the mentally ill, he is an administrator at the hospital. There is nothing wrong with a good, able superintendent of a hospital having a collector right under his thumb so they can get the just money that belongs to the state.

I do not mean to persecute the mentally ill with collectors, or anything like that, or to hand them bills as they leave the door and throw them back into a tailspin again. That is not what they have to do. All they have to do is to find out what the assets of the person and the family are, just as they are doing now. They are collecting $20 million now, and it is not done on an inhumane basis, it is only following the law.

As I say, the appropriations for these three hospitals, as we have them worked out, are eminently fair and I ask you to vote down the amendments.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, we have entered upon a new formula for maintaining our institutions. With money running shy, we are not going to hand them meat or milk, we are going to hand them a Shapiro estimate.

I have heard on this floor repeated statements, and very recently, that Shapiro had given some phony figures. Now suddenly this man who has been denounced, who has been characterized as one who inflated his figures, it comes along that we place the fate, we place the welfare, of people in mental institutions on a Shapiro estimate.

I do not know what kind of a gauge the Majority Leader has and how he determines when it comes to estimates how much is fat and how much is wind. You cannot run your state institutions on wind. You have a stated cost factor as far as maintaining patients in mental hospitals is concerned. It costs so much a day.

As I understand, this bill is based on the maintenance cost at a figure at which the superintendents of the various institutions say it cannot be done and serve the patients properly. I think I heard the chairman of the Appropriations Committee say we are above the national average in our maintenance costs. Well, the national average would include Mississippi, Alabama and Louisiana. The average should be at least a half dollar above the national average.

So we are short-changing them on daily costs and we are going to maintain them on Shapiro estimates. I have very little faith in that way of passing appropriations. It is the goofiest proposition I have ever heard, if we raise so much, if we collect so much, we will do so and so. What this Legislature should do is appropriate cash in hand that it knows it will have.

It is a shame and a disgrace to base the welfare of the people in our mental institutions on mere estimates which may be only a pleasant breeze.

Mr. PETROSKY. Mr. Speaker, just a general statement in reference to the observations made by the Majority Leader upon the amendments offered by the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Boies.

At the appropriate time in the discussion of the Welfare Department's budget I will submit to the membership of the House a breakdown of the figures which have been used by the Appropriations Committee in relation to the amount appropriated to each of these individual hospitals. I am certain you will see in those figures that there is a lesser amount being appropriated than what the figures read in the estimates released by the Appropriation Committee and by the various spokesmen for that Committee.

I ask and request the membership of the House to support the amendments of the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Boies, because they are of a truer nature and proper value and ones which will enable those hospitals, with the amount of collections which will come in, if and when they do come in, to properly operate.

Mr. LOVETT. Mr. Speaker, it is an old trick to quote certain things that people say and leave out some of the other things that people say.

Now let's be fair about this thing!

I have over the years attended meetings of the Appropriations Committee when the departments come in, and over the years I have raised the question of whether the Department should not be in charge of the collections rather than the Department of Revenue.

Other Secretaries before Mr. Shapiro have made the same statements, that it should be done by the Secretary of the Department of Welfare, but again it is too late with too little in Pennsylvania. We have gone along over the years doing it the wrong way. Now we have finally woke up to the fact that it should be done the right way, and we are even going a step further, we are now estimating the amount of money this change is going to make in the amount of money the Secretary of Welfare is going to have in order to run these institutions.

I say to you again, let's be fair. If you want to do that kind of thing, let's see what this change will do in the next two years, then we will have some right to cut the appropriations to the Department after we have had a sample of what can be done. Let's not guess on this issue.

You know and I know you are getting children and you are getting people taken care of in these institutions that over years you have been trying to get into the institutions and could not get them in.

Now let's be fair and honest about the thing. The Secretary of Welfare is doing a good job in the state of Pennsylvania. You know it and I know it because people are being taken care of who have not been taken care of over the years.

The gentleman refers to a bill which has been passed to do this particular job. It may have been passed in this business-like session of ours that we have but to my knowledge it has not been passed—if it passed this House, I was not aware of it. If it has passed the Senate, I am not aware of that. So let us not get the cart before the horse. The bill has not been passed. Far be it from me to rely on this great, wonderful body of Senators, fine men, to do anything until I see the Governor's signature on the bill.

I say to you you should vote for these amendments offered today because you know and I know that the Department is doing a good job and it needs this revenue. Everybody admits it.

Mr. BOIES. Mr. Speaker, I have in my hand a telegram from the Superintendent of Mayview State Hospital stating, "Professional staff up in arms over budget proposal which will almost completely eliminate medical care of patients. Effects will be devastating."

Mr. Speaker, we have had similar telegrams and letters from the staffs of every one of the mental hospitals and institutions for retarded children.

In the remarks of the Majority Leader I did not hear anything said about Polk, unless my attention was distracted. We all know the situation at Polk Institute is almost inconceivable. Children are waiting as long as six years to be admitted to Polk Institute. It is a crying shame and a disgrace to the Commonwealth and has been for years.

Whatever excuses you can bring yourselves to try to believe, whatever political partisanship you feel you must follow, to me to vote against the needs you all know are so apparent in the institutions, and particularly at Polk Institute, is going far beyond party loyalty or any other excuse you can possibly give.

Mr. JOHNSON. Mr. Speaker, I did inadvertently not say anything about Polk. I overlooked the fact that Mr. Boies offered an amendment making the appropriation to Polk State School approximately $9.4 million and under the existing bill it, together with the collections, would be $7.8 million.

Again referring to the figures of Mr. Shapiro, he estimates that the appropriation should be $9,025,000. Also for the purpose of the record, the current expenditure at Polk is $7.2 million for the biennium with an appropriation in the present House Bill 1700 of $7.8 million, or approximately $700,000 increase.

Of course, we all know Polk is overcrowded and cannot take in any more patients. The increase to them is just for increased cost of running the institution.

However, I was on the General State Authority when I was floor leader in the 1953 session and I am presently a Member of the General State Authority. As you know, the General State Authority under Governor Fine put through the bill to increase the capacity of Selinsgrove and make it an institution for mentally retarded children. I hope before the day is over to be able to get a statement from the office of the General Authority as to the total amount of construction presently under way for institutions for the mentally retarded and also as to the institutions which are on the drawing board and are in contemplation.

Of course, when those institutions are built we will need more money to run the new institutions. That goes without saying. With respect to the estimated collections which we have appropriated, this is a statement of collections not by Mr. Shapiro, but by the Secretary of Revenue himself, whom we will all admit is pretty good at making estimates.

The collections have been increasing year by year and I would say they are firmly imbedded into the state revenue system. Likewise, the bill goes on to say that whether the transfer of the collection activities from Revenue to Welfare goes into effect or not, the money would still be paid out of the general fund to the hospital under then existing law. So the money would be paid over, together with the added collections which might come in over and above the estimate as I have stated.

There are many projects under the General State Authority for the mentally retarded children. I am sorry I do not have them here now, but I hope before the day is over to be able to give you the figures and to make a statement at that time. Suffice to say, we feel as far as Polk is concerned that with an increase of approximately $700,000 for the coming biennium over what was spent during the last biennium it is a pretty fair appropriation for that institution which cannot expand because it is overcrowded now.

Mr. BOIES. Mr. Speaker, probably I do not understand the Majority Leader's figures and argument, but the bill as it stands calls for $7.1 million for Polk. His statement was that they spent $7.2 million in the last biennium. If the increase of $7.8 million which he speaks of is predicated on collections, we are back again to that mythical figure.

I would venture to say that collections for inmates of Polk are probably less than in any other of the state institutions proportionately. I do not think that has anything to do with the problem. The problem is that you are giving them less money than they had according to the Majority Leader's statement even for the last biennium.

I say to you that you are playing politics in the worst possible way and for the worst possible cause of anything I know in the State. There is no problem more pressing in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania than the problem of caring for retarded children, and we all know it.

I again say, regardless of what you say, you are short-changing the mentally ill and the retarded children and you know it.

I would also like to say, Mr. Speaker, that regardless of what the General State Authority is doing, that is for the future. If they put up ten new buildings and you do not appropriate enough money to take care of what is there now, the ten new buildings are not going to do one particle of good. We all know that.

Previous collections, actual collections, for Polk, as I have had the figures handed to me, were $477,762.

Mr. JOHNSON. Mr. Speaker, I feel I have given a pretty fair presentation of the picture. During this current biennium there will be spent at the Polk State School $7.1 million and the total appropriation will be $7.8 million, or approximately $700,000 more money than they spent during the last biennium.

Mr. GOLDSTEIN. Mr. Speaker, will the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Boies, consent to be interrogated?

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Boies, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. BOIES. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. GOLDSTEIN. Mr. Speaker, does the gentleman from Allegheny have confidence in the estimated revenues of Governor Leader as to the amount which would be received by the mental institutions for defective children? Is he familiar with those figures.

Mr. BOIES. Mr. Speaker, I have no confidence in anybody's estimated revenue. I do not see how anybody can have confidence in an estimated revenue, because the conditions in the last few years have been fluctuating so that no revenues can be marked down absolutely.

Mr. GOLDSTEIN. Has the gentleman read the Governor's budget on page 187. Would you like to refresh your recollection by looking at a copy of it?

Mr. BOIES. I will take the gentleman's word for what it says.

Mr. GOLDSTEIN. The Governor's budget message states the estimated revenue from institutions for the feeble-minded and epileptics will be $2,294,000, which is almost to a dollar the estimated revenues which our Majority Leader has obtained from Mr. Gleeson, in whom he has confidence, and not from the Shapiro source. Referring to Polk and your request for additional money for Polk, how many more children who are badly needing rooms would obtain a bed through your request?

Mr. BOIES. I have no idea, Mr. Speaker. I am not an authority on institutional care or management. I am simply trying to tell the House that the staff at Polk, the people who are interested in mental health, the organizations which are interested in mental health in this Commonwealth, and everybody who knows anything about it, say that is the money they need. I venture to say the Secretary of Welfare, regardless of what you may think of him personally or regardless of what you may feel toward him, knows more about the problem of mental health than all of his critics combined. He has made a study of it for years. He has been actively engaged in that work along with his profession. I would say that I accept the figures we have placed in this amendment as authoritative.

Mr. GOLDSTEIN. Mr. Speaker, I understand that the gentleman now accepts figures from one source and not from the Governor's office? Is that correct?

Mr. BOIES. If you were speaking about mythical estimates yes. These figures I have submitted I understand are figures which have been substantiated by the budget proposal from the institution.

Mr. GOLDSTEIN. Mr. Speaker, the gentleman knows as a fact that the bed occupancy in Polk is 122 percent. If you do not know it, that is the official figure I have ascertained. Will you tell us in fairness how one bed can be added to Polk by your proposal?

Mr. BOIES. Mr. Speaker, it has been the history of the mental institutions the last two years that they have through better care and added facilities been able to release many, many patients who before that were strictly under custodial care. They evidently have that program projected for the next biennium. The problem is to give them the best we can give them and see what happens in the next biennium, not to go with some mythical estimates of what will be collected or how it will be expended. If we provide the money, the Secretary of Welfare, I think, will do the job.

Mr. GOLDSTEIN. Mr. Speaker, will the gentleman from Allegheny tell me, other than by reason of unfortunate death, how many people have been released from Polk during the last biennium?

Mr. BOIES. Probably not very many, Mr. Speaker, as there were not very many released from the other mental institutions.

Mr. GOLDSTEIN. Mr. Speaker, what does the gentleman mean by this new statement with regard to mentally retarded children and custodial care?

Mr. BOIES. Mr. Speaker, I said before that I am no authority on management or treatment of these cases. I have sufficient confidence in the plan of the staff of the institution, as in the other mental institutions, to feel they will accomplish in some degree what they are setting out to do.

Mr. GOLDSTEIN. That is all. Mr. Speaker, I would like to make a brief statement.

The SPEAKER. The Chair recognizes the gentleman.

Mr. GOLDSTEIN. The minority side is trying to picture us as a group of people who have a body, but no heart. We have just as much of a heart for the mentally retarded children as any person on the other side of the House. When the Democratic party in 1955 could not get sufficient votes to transfer one of our institutions from the city to the state of Pennsylvania, I spoke in a Republican caucus to the Republican members so we could get those votes. As I said at that time, and I have said it time and again, it was not for the purpose of reducing the budget of the city administration of the city of Pittsburgh, it was for the purpose of seeing that we might have a temporary haven and bedrooms for mentally retarded children. Accompanied by individuals who are interested in mentally retarded children, I made a tour of that hospital, and I believe that we could have used that, in part, as a temporary haven. I have no dispute with Mr. Boies because of his sincere desire to help everybody, we have the same sincere desire, but you cannot appropriate money for a useless purpose.

The General State Authority has had plans since January, 1957, for the construction of much needed space, and, if Mr. Boies or anybody can show me where the space can be provided for the mentally retarded children, I not only will vote for increased appropriations, but I will reluctantly vote for a tax. Nobody can show me as of today where you have the bedroom space. They are merely trying to make this a political football. I say to you that we are interested in mentally retarded children and when the opportunity comes and we can talk with safety and confidence and not with a desperate political motive, then we can pass a bill which will provide the space for these children.

Mr. PETROSKY. I would like to interrogate the Majority Leader, Mr. Speaker.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from McKean, Mr. Johnson, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. JOHNSON. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. PETROSKY. Will the gentleman tell me what his figure was for the actual expenditure during the past biennium for operations of Polk?

Mr. JOHNSON. The estimated cost of operating Polk for the biennium which will end June 1st is $7,198,293. The appropriation, with the collections as estimated by Mr. Gleason, are $7,839,000.

Mr. PETROSKY. Will the gentleman tell me what was appropriated to Polk in the 1955-1957 biennium?

Mr. JOHNSON. What we did last biennium, we gave a blanket appropriation to Mr. Shapiro in the appropriation bill. Now I understand from the Governor's budget—

Mr. PETROSKY. If I gave the gentleman the budget figure which was placed at the disposal of Polk, would he take that figure?

Mr. JOHNSON. I am reading from the Governor's budget that there was allocated $7,918,000—

Mr. PETROSKY. That is correct.

Mr. JOHNSON. Of which $7.1 million was spent.

Mr. PETROSKY. Does the gentleman have any recent figures other than the estimates that he speaks about?

Mr. JOHNSON. One second, please, I have to confer with Mr. Wood. His office prepared that. The figures we are quoting as to the estimated amounts spent during the current biennium were from a questionnaire which was sent out to all the departments and then the current expenditures were extended for the months of March, April and May to give the total of $7.1 million for the biennium.

Mr. PETROSKY. Mr. Speaker, in accordance with my figures, which are based upon the actual expenditures from June 1, 1955 until April 30, 1957, which is actually 23 months and only an estimate for the last month in the biennium, these figures show that there will be $232,000 lapsed from the original amount allocated, which, in effect, is approximately $7.7 million—a little minus—which will be spent by Polk Institute.

Would you agree to those figures if I told you I have them out of the records of the Department of Welfare?

Mr. JOHNSON. That could be true. During the last three months we had a bill here to do away with unusual, exorbitant and unnecessary spending. It is quite possible there would be $232,000 lapsed instead of the figures that we have. We have no idea of these unprecedented, skyrocketing expenditures the last three months.

Mr. PETROSKY. Would the gentleman agree when I say that the actual impact, the full impact, of the intensive program we passed in the 1955-1956 session of the General Assembly did not get going full scale until the fall of 1956?

Mr. JOHNSON. Oh, that could be possible, but there are cases—

Mr. PETROSKY. Then you will agree, too, that the additional expenditure was accelerated because of the more intensive treatment to the patients at these institutions in the latter part of this biennium?

Mr. JOHNSON. I would say if you put the spotlight on expenditures the last three months of this biennium, you would be amazed at what the money was spent for. I am sorry I do not have it. We hope to have it one of these days from the Auditor General's Department. It is very interesting where that money was spent.

Mr. PETROSKY. Does the gentleman agree that the additional amounts of money which we have appropriated for the mental program and for the 1955-1957 session were for an expanded program which we did not have prior to its passage?

Mr. JOHNSON. I would say there has been some expansion, perhaps, in the field of the mentally retarded. I think the idea was to expand it more in the field of mental health at the institution. As I remember it—

Mr. PETROSKY. Mr. Speaker—

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman permit the Majority Leader to answer the question.

Mr. PETROSKY. I thought he was through, Mr. Speaker.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman has interrupted the gentleman from McKean, Mr. Johnson, on three or four occasions while he was trying to answer a question.

Mr. PETROSKY. I apologize to the gentleman.

The SPEAKER. The Chair recognizes the gentleman from McKean, Mr. Johnson.

Mr. JOHNSON. I believe I had finished, but I do not believe the gentleman heard my answer because he was talking.

Mr. PETROSKY. I heard the gentleman's answers.

Will the gentleman agree, then, that if you take the same type of program which we inaugurated and initiated in the 1955-1957 biennium and moneywise take the impact of that program over a 24 month biennium with full use of that type program it would necessitate considerably more money than you have allocated in House Bill 1700?

Mr. JOHNSON. The answer to that question, Mr. Speaker, is that I do not know of any unusual, unprecedented costly program under way at Polk other than the type of custodial care they have had. The type of person there unfortunately is a person in pretty bad shape and I do not believe that any unusual therapeutic things are being done at Polk other than what was going on. Maybe the gentleman can tell us how many extra psychiatrists, how many extra nurses, how many extra this, how many extra that, you have at Polk that you did not have before. But I have not heard of it myself.

Mr. PETROSKY. I thank the gentleman.

Mr. Speaker, again I refer to my original statement at the time of the discussion of the Welfare Department's budget in its entirety. We will produce figures to show that the Appropriations Committee setup is in error and that certain statements were made contingent upon factors which would apply to the statement made at the time. So until such time I ask the Members to vote for these amendments.

Mr. BOIES. Mr. Speaker, partially in answer to the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Goldstein, I have in my hand a publication, "Mental Health," by the Pennsylvania Mental Health, Inc. It says, "There are 1,500 fewer patients in our mental institutions today than there were two years ago and 1,500 more people, doctors, nurses, psychologists, social workers, activity directors and nurses' aids to treat and look after those who remain and those who must still come in for treatment."

I submit to you, ladies and gentlemen of the House, the simple fact that if you take 1,500 inmates from these institutions and substitute for them 1,500 more professional and non-professional employees it would no doubt add greatly to the cost of maintaining those institutions. It could not possibly be otherwise. You have been told that the maintenance for these inmates is at a very low figure. Certainly the salaries these people must be paid would far outbalance the amount of money necessary for the maintenance of those people.

Mr. TOLL. Mr. Speaker, last week in Philadelphia there was a convention of Social Service Workers of Pennsylvania. It so happened that some of the people from Woodville and Mayview were in Philadelphia attending the convention at Convention Hall.

I learned that in the Woodville and Mayview institutions there was quite a lot of progress in connection with those who were suffering from mental illness. As a matter of fact, in the case of seniles when the new drugs were administered a good many of the seniles became lucid, so that when their children came to see them they wanted to be taken home. Here is a real opportunity to rid the state hospitals of these senile cases.

As far as the case involving Polk is concerned, I am going to present amendments a little later on Pennhurst. That is one of the five institutions in the state taking care of retarded children.

As Mrs. Markley can tell the Republican party and the Republican group here, in 1951 in the Fine Administration we worked hard and strong in order to obtain a commitment for $50,000 just for the educational program involving retarded children. What did it mean? Custodial care, to let them sit there day in and day out until they were either dead or carried out by reason of old age? It meant to try to teach them something. It is difficult to teach retarded children.

As a matter of fact, those Members here who belonged to this Assembly in the last session know that for the first time we passed a program permitting public institutions to educate retarded children. It needs personnel. It needs plenty of people.

When did this program get off the ground? We were here until last May, and the Commissioner of Mental Health was not appointed until August. It was not until last fall that they started to spend the money to make a change in the situation. You cannot compare the figures of the last two years with the figures that we are going to have for the next two years when the Commissioner of Mental Health and the new personnel try to do the job which you expect them to do and which the public expects them to do.

That is why you should be progressive. Vote for these amendments, give the administration the money, give them an opportunity to show you what kind of job that can be done. If in the next biennium they did not do a good job, you would be justified in asking for a reduction.

Mr. McCORMACK. Mr. Speaker, may I interrogate the Majority Leader?

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from McKean, Mr. Johnson, permit himself to be interrogate?

Mr. JOHNSON. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. McCORMACK. One of the gentlemen asked me to ask you what time lunch is, but that is not the interrogation, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. JOHNSON. We are going to go to lunch as soon as we have this roll call.

Mr. McCORMACK. Mr. Speaker, could the gentleman give me a frank and sincere answer to the question, is your party solidly and unanimously committed to vote against every amendment we intend to introduce today to this appropriation bill?

The SPEAKER. The question is not relevant to the question before the House.

Mr. McCORMACK. Mr. Speaker . . .

The SPEAKER. The question before the House is on the amendments offered by the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Boies.

Mr. McCORMACK. Mr. Speaker, if I may make a brief statement, I do not like to get up here and talk just for the sake of talking and that is the reason I asked that question. If it is not in order, I withdraw it.

The SPEAKER. The question is not in order. The question before the House is on the amendments offered by the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Boies.

Mr. McCORMACK. Mr. Speaker, I wish I could make an impassioned plea today for these hospitals and these mental institutions. It is at times like this that I am sorry I am a politician, because I think we are distorting that term. To listen to this debate today and to the fancy figures given, whether by the administration or by the Majority Leader, I do not care, is avoiding the issue. There is a fundamental issue involved here that rises above politics.

I care not one whit for Secretary of Welfare Shapiro or, as Mr. Johnson put it, "your Secretary." He is the Secretary of Welfare in this Commonwealth. If he is a fake, if what he says is fakery, then there is a higher tribunal he has to answer to, not here.

If there is error in the estimates submitted by the Department, and certainly there have been discrepancies in the figures submitted today, I think the errors should be resolved in favor of those people who do not have a lobby here to fight for them. Are we going to stand here and say it is politics? Are we going to accuse responsible members who have dedicated their lives to mental health of politics, the President of the American Psychiatric Society, the President of the Philadelphia County Medical Society, the head of the Delaware County Medical Society, when they say that we in cutting these appropriations are restoring Pennsylvania to the situation that existed in the dark ages? I do not think they are all political statements. Those men are too responsible to do that.

I am wondering whether you gentlemen on the majority side are absolutely convinced that what you are doing is correct. Is this a false drive for economy? I know in Washington today the President is having a terrible fight over the budget. I know it is popular, or so the Congressmen think, to slash appropriations. I know we could not get a fish bill passed here because we did not want to saddle the people with more taxes. But I say to you gentlemen at this time that you should reconsider what I know are not your firm convictions and loosen yourself from your shackles. Don't listen to the Chairman of the State Committee or any other one man in this Commonwealth, because if one person can be helped by these appropriations, can be left free from a mental institution, then I think if we err for a couple of million dollars we would be perfectly and morally justified.

Mr. Speaker, I voted against the sales tax because I thought it was a very bad bill. I say to you that if we should bring up a general sales tax bill, I will fight for it if it means giving these mental institutions and the hospitals the money they need.

Mr. LOVETT. Mr. Speaker, I realize we are all hungry, but this is a very important issue, one of the most important we are going to have in this session of the Legislature.

I have listened to the debate and heard them talk about the General State Authority building buildings to take care of these patients. I know the Secretary is taking over buildings that are now built and putting people into them and taking care of the needs of these people. You do not need to wait until the General State Authority builds a building. Take into consideration Polk and its overcrowded conditions. I know there are many buildings in this state of Pennsylvania with which almost overnight you could eliminate the overcrowding conditions. If an emergency arises, we rise to the emergency.

This condition in Polk and the condition in our mental institutions is a disgrace to the state of Pennsylvania. You know it and I know it. You do not have to wait for the General State Authority or any other authority to take care of that situation. Let us not hide behind the issue.

I have disagreed with my own administration many times on this floor, and you know it. When an issue comes up which is in the interest of the people, I say be fair and vote your convictions for what you think is needed in the state of Pennsylvania.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the amendments?

The yeas and nays were required by Messrs. BOIES and TOLL.

A verification of the roll was requested by Messrs. ANDREWS, FILO and BRETH.

ANNOUNCEMENTS

The SPEAKER. There will be a meeting of the Military Affairs Committee in Room 323 immediately upon the declaration of the recess.

The Chair will remind the members of the Committee on Cities—Counties—First, Second and Second Class A of the announcement yesterday of a meeting of that Committee during the recess in Room 521. Lunch will be served.

The Chair would also like to remind the Members that tickets are available in the Chief Clerk's office for the picnic which will be held next Monday afternoon. The Committee has requested the Members to pick up their tickets so they have some idea as to how many Members expect to attend the picnic.

RECESS

The SPEAKER. Without objection, the Chair will now declare a recess of one hour for the purpose of having lunch.

Immediately upon reconvening at 2:30 o'clock the Chair will recognize the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Toll, for the purpose of offering amendments.

The Chair hears no objection. The Chair now declares a recess until 2:30 o'clock, Eastern Standard Time.

AFTER RECESS

The time of recess having expired, the House was called to order.

The SPEAKER (W. Stuart Helm) IN THE CHAIR.

BILL ON SECOND READING

The SPEAKER. The House will resume consideration of House Bill No. 1700.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the section?

Mr. TOLL offered the following amendment:

Amend Sec. 2, page 61, line 14, by striking out "8,003,006" and inserting in lieu thereof "10,418,904."

On the question,

Will the House agree to the amendment?

Mr. TOLL. Mr. Speaker, I offer an amendment to the item for the Pennhurst State School, which you will find on page 61 of House Bill 1700, line 14. The Appropriations Committee recommends $8,003,006. I am asking for the restoration of the amount recommended in the Governor's budget to $10,418,904.

In the 1955 appropriation, which is now running, the amount which was appropriated was $9,500,500. In other words, the amount which is contained in House Bill 1700 is $1.5 million less than the amount which was appropriated for the current biennium.

Pennhurst State School is written up in the volume submitted by the American Psychiatric Association of the Pennsylvania Mental Health Survey Committee called the Mental Health Program for Pennsylvania. This is not a document which was prepared by the Department of Welfare, but was ordered as an independent study in 1955 and completed in 1956 and concerns conditions regarding the mental health situation in Pennsylvania.

Pennhurst State School is 30 miles northeast of Philadelphia. It consists of 40 patient buildings. Maintenance of the buildings and the 1,400 acres of ground is excellent. It accepts court committed and voluntary admissions from agencies in the 34 eastern counties, so it is not necessarily limited to Philadelphia.

Recently several children have been admitted from other counties. Generally no patients with IQ's above 70 are taken. There are no age limitations. The urgency of the problem and the availability of space determine the date of admission.

During 1955 there were 147 admissions and 51 discharges from the rolls. At the time of inspection 76 patients were on parole, 71 of whom were on home placement and five actually on work placement. Less than a dozen patients are being prepared for release despite the total of 720 with IQ's around 70. As a matter of fact, six year old children can be admitted into the public schools with an IQ of over 50.

Two annexes have been developed to relieve the overcrowding. Annex No. 1 is located at Mont Alto, South Mountain, Franklin County, and houses 400 girls. Annex No. 2 is located at White Haven. The superintendent, who is not a physician, has no assistant as such. The clinical director with a number of years experience in mental deficiency institutions as a general physician acts in his absence.

An education director supervises the school, but there is no specially trained director of training and education. The heads of the non-professional departments report directly to the superintendent. Patients are divided into three groups, hospital, male colony and female colony. Each unit is supervised by a head nurse who reports to the director of nurses and the assigned physician in charge.

Each colony has a well-equipped dispensary supervised by registered nurses where sick call is held daily. There are three well-equipped and adequately staffed dental clinics.

The 225 bed hospital is well-equipped and staffed. Laboratory services are adequate and facilities are available for general surgery. No physician is assigned to the hospital. Each doctor assigned to the colony takes care of his own patients in the hospital. Tubercular patients are segregated for special treatment.

The physical care of the patients seemed to be excellent. The wards visited were clean and orderly, although overcrowded in the children's section and somewhat barren of books, toys, etc., and personnel. No separate psychiatric service exists. At least two of the physicians are qualified psychiatrists. Fewer than 40 patients were under some form of restraint each day in contrast to 345 previously, through the use of new drugs.

The psychology staff does the usual testing, some counseling and employs the metropolitan achievement test to assist in the placement of children in the school.

The two social workers appeared to do an excellent job, but are too few for such a large institution. This probably helps to explain the small placement program. Their duties include pre-admission visits, investigations at homes for parole, supervision of parole leaves or work placement, interviews with parents and censoring all mail to and from the patients.

The academic school provides classes for children with IQ's above 50 generally. Present day concepts of special education are not followed. Books, materials and system of graded classes are the same as those used in a public school. A vocal and instrumental music program is provided in the school. It appears, however, that only the less retarded children have direct contact with the music instructors. Religious education classes are provided for children not on the school program by three part-time chaplains.

Industrial therapy is not supervised by the education director. Apparently assignments are made by the physicians, nurses and attending staffs. Fourteen staff members take 35 occupational therapy classes, available only to those not in the school program.

Several of the production shops, mattress, upholstery, print, tailor and shoe shops are supervised by this department. In the summer there are four recreation instructors. What personnel provide these activities the balance of the year?

Administrative, maintenance and dietary services all gave the impression of good care. Thirty-five percent of the employees are administrative and maintenance personnel, which undoubtedly explains their high level of efficiency.

Here are the conclusions which are contained in this report submitted by the American Psychiatric Association. The most outstanding needs were:

1. An increased professional staff;
2. A dynamic program for its patients;
3. Increased convalescent room;
4. A more clear-cut organization to permit the functioning of its professional groups;
5. Release after training and education of the 714 patients with an IQ over 50 who do not have complications prohibiting their rehabilitation;
6. More use of the principles of special education;

7. More involvement of the education director with patients working in the institution's industries;

8. Appraisal and arrangement for each patient to participate in the various services now available. Shortage of professional staff prohibits these now.

I have here a summary of the observations at our four state schools involving retarded children, which includes Pennhurst. So I will read the observation, which will also apply to the school which was just considered on Mr. Boies' amendments.

The four institutions for Pennsylvania's mentally defective wards were inspected for this study in March, 1956 by a consultant of the American Psychiatric Association.

The following is a summary of the complete report which he made to the Pennsylvania Mental Health Survey:

General Findings. There has been considerable autonomy in the schools, which may have been due to the strength of localized autonomist school boards up to the passage of Act 255, in December of 1955, which you will recall transferred the direction to the Commissioner of Mental Health, who was finally appointed the summer of 1956

Perhaps because of this autonomy the schools do not reflect a state-wide philosophy aimed at providing the best possible service to Pennsylvania's mentally deficient children and adults.

The institutions are principally custodial. This may result from weaknesses of local control. It may also be due to lack of direction in the absence of centralized leadership in the past. The new law strengthening the central office may be expected to bring about a change for the better.

These are the general findings:

1. Overcrowding is general, especially at Polk and Pennhurst;

2. Insufficient staff and funds limit the extent of treatment programs.

I am on Pennhurst, strictly on Pennhurst. This is on my amendment and this report includes the four state schools, one of which is Pennhurst. You cannot separate the report for the one without reading all.

3. There is a serious shortage of qualified professional personnel in all institutions.

I read you this report for the purpose of pointing out that the program involved includes treatment, includes training, includes teaching and includes activity, not merely for those with an IQ of 50 or over, but for those with a lower IQ who are very difficult to teach. As you heard from the report, there are so few now available in the institution you can readily see why you need the additional sums of money in order to properly train those children who are in the institution.

You heard me read that a certain number of children were released from the institution, which would make way for others. You can readily see if something can be done with these children while they are there so they can be taken home by their parents after they have received a certain amount of training, in that particular case also, we will be able to save the taxpayers considerable sums by replacing them with other children who are waiting to enter.

I have a telegram which was sent by the Superintendent-ent of the Pennhurst State School to the Secretary of Welfare in connection with the reduced amount contained in House Bill 1700 which says that it is impossible to operate Pennhurst and the two annexes on the proposed budget. We will have to stop admissions, cut back personnel, become strictly a custodial institution. We cannot carry on any teaching, training, treatment, or activity programs.

It is our responsibility as Members of the Assembly. We are the people who represent those who are unfortunate enough to have retarded children and unable to provide for them financially.

The retarded children program has been estimated to affect as many as possibly 300,000 in Pennsylvania with some degree of retardation. This situation affects many families. It is not necessarily an affliction for the poor, it is an affliction for the people who are well-to-do, except the well-to-do are able to place their children in private homes.

This is a real humanitarian program. I greatly regret that the majority party found it necessary to reduce the appropriation for the Pennhurst school which is the only school close to Philadelphia where our retarded children can be sent.

It is true that Elwyn has a location in Delaware County where you might send retarded children, but actually the retarded children's program in Pennsylvania practically originated in Philadelphia. I would say that the first president came from my district, and as early as 1950 we had a little group organized for the purpose of helping this program. Pennhurst is one of the very few places to which people of poor circumstances can send their children.

I feel those on the majority side should find it in their hearts to permit this amendment to go through to appropriate the money needed to really do something for these children and help the program along.

Mr. JOHNSON. Mr. Speaker, before I make a brief answer, to the gentleman, I would like to point out some facts which I said earlier in the day would be available regarding the program in the state for the expansion of care for the mentally retarded.

I said to you, I happened to be on the General State Authority in 1953 when the Republicans were in power and that is when we decided to make Selinsgrove into an institution for the mentally retarded. I understand that institution is going to be opened this week, the final inspection is this week. That will make available 1,100 beds for the mentally retarded. Selinsgrove is in the budget this time for $5,903,000.

In addition to opening Selinsgrove, the Priorities Committee of the General State Authority has given its approval and the body itself, the General State Authority, the Board has also approved the construction of four new institutions for the mentally retarded, one at White Haven, which will have 750 beds, one at Canonsburg, 750 beds, one at Ebensburg, 400 beds, and we have one projected at the Philadelphia State Hospital for 750 beds, but for some reason Mr. Shapiro cut it to 300 beds. The program will cost about $24.5 million.

The architects have been appointed, they were appointed in January, but here it is now the 1st of June and Mr. Shapiro has not given the General State Authority a program plan for the building or the type of construction within the line of current thinking on care of the mentally retarded. So here is five month's delay in this very fine program because of no decision from the Department of Welfare.

With respect to Pennhurst, according to our latest figures, the estimated expenditures at Pennhurst for this biennium will be $6,685,000.

The indicated appropriation in House Bill 1700, if you add to it the anticipated collections according to Mr. Gleeson's statement, will be a total of $9,019,000, which based on the present rate of expenditure for that institution should be ample to run it. So the bill stands at $9,019,000, which is an increase from the $6,685,000 spent in the last biennium.

This takes care of the expansion at Mont Alto and the boys at White Haven. It is an expanded program and, as I said, the appropriation is $9,019,000, which we feel is adequate at this time.

I might say this, we will be back here in the Legislature in January. If a frightful error has been made, as is pointed out, if we come into session in January of 1959 and there is a tremendous urgency to take care of these retarded children, to provide more money for the program, I am sure the next session of the General Assembly will certainly be ready and willing to grant a deficiency appropriation to take care of any matter which might be of a serious nature.

I ask the House to vote down the amendments.

Mr. TOLL. Mr. Speaker, it is very nice to have a lot of new buildings opened where you can possibly take retarded children and then, I suppose, put them on a cement floor. You need equipment, you need personnel, you need nurses, you need teachers, you need psychiatrists, you need attendants, you need the very things for which we are now pleading for Pennhurst where we have a 122 per cent capacity, I think. We have more children in there than can go in.

But again this is what we need. We need the same thing in Pennhurst which we need in Riverview in Philadelphia. When we started the Riverview Home for the Indigent we had four men attendants for 100 and now we have one for ten. We are getting results there. You cannot possibly get results in this program to alleviate mental retardation without attendants, without personnel. That is what we need. When the Majority Leader says we have $9 million, he is anticipating $600,000, I think, in actual collections, plus a 50 per cent anticipated increase from what they expect to get as against what is actually needed from day to day to furnish the personnel to do the job.

When you are pointing out the new institutions which are being erected, you must remember you will need the same thing again. You will need personnel, you will need equipment and you will need the things which are necessary in order to help the people. That is why I feel that we should not wait. We have the money now. If we do not have enough, we ought to raise more money in order to provide the things which these institutions need.

I think you ought to vote for these amendments.

Mr. TOLL. Mr. Speaker, this is the only large institution near Philadelphia, and if you are accepting the prior roll call, do I understand that there are no changes at all?

The SPEAKER. The Chair is willing to accept any changes.

Mr. TOLL. I would like to get a certificate of those who are voting on this. I request that it be a record roll call, Mr. Speaker, because this is a useful vote.

On the question recurring,

Mr. KAMYK offered the following amendment:

Amend Sec. 2, page 22, line 1, by striking out "$2,551,513" and inserting in lieu thereof: $2,771,040.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the amendment?

Mr. KAMYK. Mr. Speaker, I am endeavoring to amend an appropriation to the Pittsburgh State Tuberculosis Hospital. In this General Appropriation Bill there is appropriated $2,551,513.

I am advised that the original amount that was requested by Dr. Mattison of the Department of Public Health was $3,271,040. The Governor's office cut that down by a half million dollars, making it $2,771,040, and now the House Appropriations Committee further cuts it down to $2,551,513, thereby cutting it by an additional $219,427, making a total cut in the original request of $719,427.

I am not an expert either in these institutions, but I think the cut is very large. I understand that the Pittsburgh Tuberculosis Hospital has a lot of room for beds and a lot of space, but they need money to get the personnel in order to operate it properly. Tuberculosis is not entirely cured. I think we still need tuberculosis hospitals.

Before the state took over this institution it was only available to the citizens of the city of Pittsburgh. Today it is available for the citizens outside of the city and outside of the County of Allegheny.

I think the cut in the appropriation is too drastic and, therefore, I am introducing these amendments.

Mr. JOHNSON. Mr. Speaker, the average cost, as I understand it, of keeping a patient in a TB hospital in the state, particularly in Mount Alto, is $8.00 a day. If you would place the capacity of this hospital at 428 and multiply that by $8.00 a day, you would get about $2.2 million dollars to run the hospital economically and conservatively. The appropriation they are receiving under this bill of $2.5 million it is felt will be adequate during the biennium to operate this institution.

We have no history of the institution to go by, we just recently took it over. We gave them $700,000 during this current biennium. I am sorry I do not have the figure as to the amount which has been spent of the $700,000, but I believe they have spent just about that figure. It is felt that $2.5 million should be enough to run that particular institution.

We ask that the amendments be voted down.

On the question recurring,

Mr. CURWOOD offered the following amendment:

Amend Sec. 2, page 42, line 5, by striking out "200,000" and inserting in lieu thereof: 300,000

On the question,

Will the House agree to the amendment?

The SPEAKER. The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Luzerne, Mr. Curwood.

Mr. CURWOOD. Mr. Speaker, I rise to oppose the cut in the budget from $300,000 down to $200,000 for the schools for magistrates and firemen. The fire schools are very important in our state.

I am not going to dwell too long on this, because it is just like talking to a stone wall when you have been out in the woods for a long time. Nobody is too much interested in this situation, everybody seems to have made up their minds already.

I feel that a 33 percent cut is entirely too much. I am only speaking on behalf of the people who have done a lot for all of us, individual fire companies and magistrates that are trying to do a good job.

I would like to have a roll call vote on this. I am not going to bore you too much, boys and girls.

Amend Sec. 2, page 60, line 16, by striking out "3,284,779" and inserting in lieu "3,534,217"

On the question,

Will the House agree to the amendments?

Mr. CURWOOD. Mr. Speaker, I have heard the boys talk here—I have not heard any girls talk yet—on the situation that if they do a little building they will gladly give us more money to operate it. I think that is true of about four fellows that talked over there this morning.

A good many of you fellows and girls sat ever there and voted to increase our hospital in Nanticoke city to practically double the space it was before. It is a beautiful building. We are very proud of it. It was voted on before I came to the House of Representatives. I am very proud to have it in my section. Now since we have it, is it a memorial to somebody, or what?

We have no money whatsoever to operate it. We had a million dollar budget previous to having the hospital. Today you have given it $1,170,663. I talked to Mr. Wood about this, but he said, "I still agree with it, you might as well tak to somebody else." I talked to Mr. Shapiro about it, I agree with you there, but I still contend we cannot operate that hospital.

Do you want to set it up there with no beds in it, or anything like that, nobody to take care of it, no doctors, no nurses, no attendants? We cannot get anybody to shine the brass, and I think it would be very nice to keep the brass shining anyhow during the next two years.

What we are asking for right niow is $1,270,663 to operate this particular institution. I am not talking about the last three months everybody is hollering about when they spent a lot of money. At least we did not have it then. We did not have any money to spend then. We just got $15,000 last month to pay the bills. I do not know whether it was the food bill or the meat bill, I am not sure about that.

In February I was at the hospital. I do not think too many of you fellows went to your particular hospital to ask them what they wanted or needed to operate the hospital. They needed at the time at the closest they could figure to operate it very economically $1,322,663.

Somebody who had never seen the hospital, I would say, cut the budget without any questions down to $1,-259,636. That $36 must be for tips, or something. Now they come along and they cut the budget again to $1,170,663. That $1,170,000 does not even take care of the advance you gave the nurses, the doctors and the help in their salary increase.

I cannot figure who in the dickens—I could have said something else—figured that budget out. Mr. Wood said he asked somebody. Mr. Shapiro said he asked somebody. I would like to know who in the heck that somebody is. That is enough for that.

I could go on, but do not forget you just told me this morning you would vote to take care of a new building, if we build it. We have got the building, for the Lord's sake, give us something to operate the building with.

We will go from there down to Retreat. I made a statement the other day, the guy said I had blood on my tie. I have more than blood on my tie and I will have more till I am done. A lot of other people will have blood on their conscience when they do not take care of some of these people.

Down at Retreat in 1955-1957 we had $3,615,000 as a budget. At that time they had 482 people working and on the payroll. In 1957-1959 they have 406, a decrease of 76 employees.

This time the budget comes back to and gives us $3,284,779 with the possibility of collecting $378,000. The correct way to start this off, the original request was for $4,485,000. We have cut it down now. That would take care of the whole situation. Now we have taken off from that $3,941,234 for operation expenses, and capital investment of $543,765. Now we have taken out the capital investment there, which is new plumbing a new roof, painting, and so on. That would leave a budget of approximately $3,941,000.

Now the estimate is $3,284,779, with the possible collection of $387,221 or what the budget has given us is $3,672,000, just about $60,000 less than what we had in the 1955-1957.

All we are asking for just to barely exist is $3,921,-438. I do not think that is an injustice. I think it is cut down right to the bone, as they say, figuring a wage increase of $697,000.

So I repeat, I do not think we are going to get any place. Pardon me. But I had to put this particular argument up because I want everybody in the House to know exactly how I feel. I think it should get a little consideration.

Thanks for your time and I hope I did not bore you too long.

Mr. WOOD. Mr. Speaker, in answer to the gentleman, Mr. Curwood, we have given Nanticoke State Hospital exactly what Secretary Shapiro gave us in his latest estimate on March 10th. We received an estimate on March 10th of $1,170,663, and that is what we are giving. That is one time we agreed with Secretary Shapiro.

On the Retreat State Hospital we are giving around two or three hundred thousand dollars more than they spent last biennium.

Mr. BOIES offered the following amendments:

Amend Section 2, page 21, line 14, by striking out "$4,352,581."

Amend Section 2, page 22, by inserting between lines 4 and 5 "Addictive Disease Hospital at Pittsburgh $18,-721,132."

On the question,

Will the House agree to the amendments?

Dr. BOIES. Mr. Speaker, those amendments were originally intended to take care of all the tuberculosis institutions and, in addition, the proposed addictive disease hospital for the Pittsburgh district. Since the amendment was defeated to take care of the newly acquired state institution in Pittsburgh for tuberculosis, I have stricken the amendments for that institution.

Mr. Speaker, the tuberculosis problem in Pennsylvania has been almost defeated. We are now at the point where we can see a complete victory, but to do that the staff and the people who are acquainted with the problem, claim that they need this amount of money. I believe they need it and I think everybody should be concerned with the problem. When we have a chance to free the Commonwealth of the menace of tuberculosis, I think it is false economy to try to cut back and allow the problem to become a serious one again.

In addition to these amendments for the tuberculosis institutions, Mr. Speaker, we have $800,000 allocated for an addictive disease hospital, which will take care of the narcotic situation, which is so badly needed. I think that next to the mental health problem, the narcotic addict problem is one of the greatest facing the State. This condition of continually having to send these people to Federal institutions is wrong. The Commonwealth should take care of those people the same as it does every other person who has some physical disability.

It is a problem which is becoming worse every day and deserves a lot more attention than it is getting from those people who are so much concerned with liquor. If they would devote part of that time to the narcotic problem, we would all be better off.

I ask the Members in view of these facts which they know are true to vote for these amendments.

So the question was determined in the negative and the amendments were not agreed to.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the section?

Mr. McCORMACK offered the following amendment:

Amend Section 2, page 20, line 13, by striking out "$100,000" and inserting "and the Administrative Code of 1929—$800,000."

On the question,

Will the House agree to the amendment?

Mr. McCORMACK. Mr. Speaker, these amendments are to restore the cuts made in the chronic disease control program of the Department of Health. The Governor's budget requested, I believe, $800,000 and there were Federal funds, matching funds, for heart disease in the amount of $197,000, over 20 percent of the total budgetary requirements.

The appropriation bill calls for less than the amount of money the Federal Government is willing to turn over to the Department of Health of this Commonwealth, $100,000. It is certainly a drastic cut, and I am very anxious to hear how the Majority Leader is going to explain this. He is going to have to do some awful fancy figuring.

This program was initiated by the Department of Health because it recognized that today the major public health problem is chronic diseases such as heart disease, arthritis, diabetes and stroke.

Fifty years ago the major problem, and it was no less great than this problem today, was communicable diseases. Those have been brought under control, but today, ladies and gentlemen, in this Commonwealth the chronic disease situation is pathetic. There are today in this Commonwealth 3,250,000 people over the age of 45 years. Over 100,000 of these people are totally or partially disabled as a result of chronic disease. I say to you that it is a real problem today.

The Department of Health recognizes it. They have established centers, they have set up X-ray machinery in an attempt to educate the people to get these diseases in their incipient stages and correct them, and they want money for public health nurses. I say to you that $100,000 is woefully inadequate.

I have a memorandum from the Department of Health which points up a few of the problems. With your indulgence I will mention but a few of the items and tell you briefly what the Department is doing.

They have set up cardiac work evaluation units at the Philadelphia General Hospital to provide guidance to the cardiac patient in his attempt to get back to useful work.

They have set up nutrition classes for the disabled homemaker.

At Montefiore Hospital in Pittsburgh they have established home care for heart patients to demonstrate how such home care can prevent recurrences of heart disease.

In conjunction with the University of Pittsburgh they have case finding methods to detect heart disease in persons with other chronic diseases.

They have attempted to restore people who have suffered from stroke and to demonstrate the ways in which these patients can be restored to useful life and demonstrations of case finding of heart disease and diabetes in supposedly healthy persons by screening tests at these health fairs and meetings.

I ask you seriously to think twice before you vote against these amendments.

Mr. JOHNSON. Mr. Speaker, this is the appropriation that I spoke about earlier in the session when we were talking about holding the line on taxes.

I am sorry to say I cannot put my finger on where the information came from, but we received information that there was a $300,000 appropriation for this particular matter in the current budget. The lady in charge was frantically going from department to department trying to see if they could not spend some of her money so that she could justify this request for $800,000. As it was, if the $300,000 appropriated this biennium $27,410 is estimated to have been spent, which would mean a lapsing of $270,000 of the $300,000 appropriation. The $100,000 appropriation is a realistic figure, an appropriation approximating current spending.

It is a program that has not even gotten under way. As I understand, the money has just been spent for research work and training and has been given to the schools and colleges. There has not been any money spent for these very meritorious things which the speaker has pointed out. Why? Because that type of program is taken care of under care and treatment of alcoholics. Down below they are going to get $500,000 and a great many of that type of person comes under that particular category, so we have been informed.

We feel that in view of the situation existing and with the large amount available from Public Assistance of pretty near $145 million on the state level alone which includes a lot of this type of person, that $100,000 is an adequate figure for this budget in this biennium.

Mr. McCORMACK. Mr. Speaker, I would like to correct an inaccuracy. I said that there were 3,250,000 citizens in this Commonwealth over 45 years of age and that 100,000 of those are disabled, either partially or totally, with long-range chronic disease. That figure should have been 500,000, Mr. Speaker, and 100,000 persons in this Commonwealth over the age of 45 die each year.

Will the House agree to the amendment?

So the question was determined in the negative and the amendment was not agreed to.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the section?

Messrs. DALRYMPLE, POLASKI and O'DELL offered the following amendment:

Amend Section 2, page 18, line 4, by striking out "$155,000" and inserting "$345,000"

On the question,

Will the House agree to the amendment?

Mr. POLASKI. Mr. Speaker this amendment strives to amend line 4, page 18, of House Bill 1700 and to restore the original $345,000 appropriation instead of the $155,000 now provided by the bill for the State Park and Harbor Commission of Erie, Pa., otherwise known as Penninsula Park, Erie, Pa., and also known as Presque Island State Park, Erie, Pa.

The reduction of this budget request by $190,000 for the next biennium is going to play terrific havoc, Mr. Speaker, with the program which Secretary Goddard has outlined for the next two years. Let me read you some of the curtailments which will result from this $190,000 reduction:

"The $345,000 in the Governor's budget is necessitated by an extension during 1955-1957 of the beach at Erie from two to eight miles, construction of parking lots and picnic areas and four new bathhouses. Obviously, all this requires additional lifeguards and labor forces. Also obvious is the fact that these additional facilities will attract additional people to the park and it is estimated that two million more people will use the area during the summer of 1957."

Now these are some of the curtailments under this reduced program;

"Failure to provide the $345,000 in the Governor's budget will necessitate the following curtailments at the park;

Reduction of regular salaried force from four members to two;

Reduction of park police force from six to four;

Reduction of regular maintenance labor force from 12 to two;

Elimination of approximately 19 summer labor employees, this is normal force hired during peak summer season;

Operation of only three swimming beaches instead of nine with attendant reduction in lifeguards from the normal 30 to 18;

Restrict public use of the park to a part-time basis during the summer seasons of 1957-1958;

Closing of the park after Labor Day in 1957 and 1958, thus denying the public the use of the park area in the fall, winter and spring of each year, which has never happened before in the history of the park."

Mr. Speaker, now that we have provided the necessary additional facilities at Peninsula Park, it would be most unfortunate if we were to cut the appropriation to such an extent that we would not be able to operate and service the additional facilities. We are on the threshold of developing Peninsula Park into one of the most popular resort areas in the state. Let us provide the funds necessary to sustain and even further promote Peninsula Park and the Erie area as a leisure resort center.

Mr. Speaker, I have two communications from Dr. Harold W. Kinter, Chairman of the Park and Harbor Commission at Erie, Pa. I would like to submit these for incorporation into the record.

WESTERN UNION TELEGRAM

MAY 24, 1957

HON JULIAN POLASKI

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES HARRISBURG PENN INFORMED BY SECRETARY GODDARD THAT PRESQUE ISLE STATE PARK APPROPRIATION WILL BE 155,000 DOLLARS FOR BIENNIUM UNDER PROPOSED SENATE APPROPRIATION BILL IN VIEW OF EXPANDED SERVICES AND NEEDS THIS AMOUNT TOTALLY INADEQUATE. WILL HAVE TO DRASTICALLY CURTAIL OPERA-TION TO MEET THE 155,000 DOLLAR APPROPRIATION. PARK AND HARBOR COMMISSION STRONGLY PROTEST AND URGES YOUR INFLUENCE TO RECTIFY THIS SITUATION.

DR. H W KINTER CHAIRMAN PARK AND HARBOR COMMISSION

COMMONWEALTH OF PENNSYLVANIA
DEPARTMENT OF FORESTS AND WATERS
STATE PARK AND HARBOR COMMISSION OF ERIE

Erie

May 24, 1957

Hon. Julian Polaski
House of Representatives
Harrisburg, Pennsylvania

Dear Mr. Polaski:

To support our previous telegram to you, I am mailing you information on budget requirements under our recommended $345,000.00 budget originally submitted. You will note under the appropriation only 30 lifeguards would be employed for summer months and this number in itself is insufficient to provide for lifeguards for six miles of beach front. Under the $155,000.00 biennial appropriation, drastic reductions in services will be necessary. This situation is alarming and serious.

Sincerely yours.

Dr. Harold W. Kinter
Chairman

So the question was determined in the negative and the amendment was not agreed to.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the section?

Mr. TOLL offered the following amendments:

Amend Section 2, page 18, by inserting between lines 4 and 5 "Establishment of Forest Camp Facilities $100,000"

Amend Section 2, page 58, by inserting between lines 11 and 12 State Forestry Camps $215,532"

On the question

Will the House agree to the amendments?

Mr. TOLL, Mr. Speaker, addressing you on this subject, I am talking on behalf of Mrs. Varallo and myself. I do not suppose I am talking on behalf of Rep. Thomas H. W. Jones, but Brother Jones, Mrs. Varallo and I sponsored this bill last session. We sweated through an entire year to finally get this forestry camp thing on the road. As a matter of fact we had a lot of trouble getting the committee to report it out and getting the money allowed for it.

But we were able to survive all the difficulties to which we were put because this represents one bit of the juvenile delinquency problem in Pennsylvania which was passed in the last session. In other words, this is one of the methods to alleviate the problem of juvenile delinquency.

When I got House Bill 1700, I looked all through it for the contribution of even one penny for the maintenance of these forestry camps which were started under the program in the last session, and I was not able to find anything at all.

As a matter of fact, the Department sends over this memo dated May 27th:

"The complete elimination of the budget item for forestry camps strikes a death blow to a program already begun."

Now they did open such a camp in Raccoon Park in the western part of the state. About three or four weeks ago they had some fellows checking into the eastern part to open two camps in the eastern part. When you had that lapse bill on the floor, they were going to eliminate the balance which was due for the completion of the program for this biennium and I called the Department and found they were actually working on the recruitment of personnel and on the problem of equipping a camp in the east where boys between 15 and 18 years of age could be taken and a rehabilitation program continued and developed.

The majority party feels, I suppose, that we do not have a juvenile delinquency problem, nothing should be done for boys of 15 to 18, and did not appropriate one penny in this bill for this purpose.

If you think this is just a Philadelphia or a Pittsburgh problem, you are making a big mistake. In an issue of "Currents," that is the magazine of Pennsylvania Health and Welfare, an investigation was made and it disclosed that in 31 counties of the state, not counting Philadelphia and Pittsburgh, there were facilities for detention, but no facilities for rehabilitation.

If we are going to come to grips with the problem of rehabilitation of our younger juveniles, this gives us an opportunity to do something about it. But instead you have not appropriated a penny.

The Department's original request for forestry camp programs was $715,000 to establish five camps, each of which could be expected to serve 100 boys in the course of one year. This sum was reduced in the Governor's budget to $215,532, which included unspent funds from the original appropriation of $150,000, which, including unspent funds, would have permitted the operation of two camps for the biennium. With the addition of $100,000 and certain reductions in the original plans for the camps' various activities, it is believed that three camps could have been operated, thus approaching the original plan for forestry camp service and giving a new resource for Pennsylvania for the treatment of delinquent youth with a potential of approximately 300 campers per year to be served.

Forestry camps are a part of the overall program for youth rehabilitation. The lack of continuing funds for 1957-1959 is a tragedy for Pennsylvania youth and an outstanding example of short-sighted economy, as the investment in personnel and equipment for this one camp will serve no further purpose. Additional camps for eastern and central Pennsylvania will not be started, although sites are available and plans made for their operation.

Forestry camps are accepted as a form of treatment for juvenile delinquents, and to eliminate this phase of youth rehabilitation at a time when the problems of juvenile delinquency are overwhelming state and community facilities will not be understandable to the public.

The forestry camp program is authorized under Act 599 of 1956, under which the Department of Forests and Waters, at the request of the Department of Welfare, shall provide and maintain facilities to be used for forestry conservation and for the education and training of male youth. In cooperation with the Fish Commission and the Game Commission the Department of Forests and Waters shall plan useful projects for conservation, recreation, dams for flood control in state forests, and state parklands, and shall supply personnel to supervise work on these projects.

The Department of Welfare is working closely with the other above-mentioned state departments to insure a balance in the program between the emphasis of treatment for delinquent boys and the work program which is a responsibility of the other departments.

The department considers it important to continually emphasize that the fundamental purpose of the law and of the program itself, is the rehabilitation of delinquent youth and not just work resources for youth as such.

I want to show you a full page article which appeared last year while we were putting this bill through. It appeared in the Philadelphia Inquirer and was written by Dr. John O. Fineman, who is Director of Probation in the Municipal Court in the city of Philadelphia, with the heading, "One Way To Curb Juvenile Delinquency."

Here is the Press taking up a bill which is spread across the pages of a newspaper as one of the methods of retaining, one of the methods of containing, one of the methods of reducing, one of the methods of educating our children so that they will not go into the ways we cry children have gone when they have been sent to correctional institutions.

Here is an opportunity to work for a program which really will improve the situation in Philadelphia. But what do you do? You do not even put it in a general appropriation bill. I think it is a disgrace and a shame. You ought to vote for these amendments and put it back.

Mr. HOCKER. Mr. Speaker, I agree with the gentleman from Philadelphia that there is nothing in the budget for these camps, but it so happens that there is money available in two departments for the camps.

The Department of Forests and Waters during the 1955-1957 biennium was given $100,000 to set up these camps. They have spent $26,200 of that, which leaves them a balance of $73,800 in a continuing fund to operate for the next two years.

Under the Department of Welfare we have another continuing fund which we set up for them in 1955-1957. We gave them money to maintain these camps. Out of that fund they spent $13,400, which still leaves $136,600 in the welfare fund to maintain them.

Therefore, Mr. Speaker, we will have to go against these amendments because there is more than enough money available to operate these camps.

Mr. TOLL. Mr. Speaker, I think I called to the attention of the Members that the items referred to by my friend did appear in the lapse bill which was recommitted to the Appropriations Committee, which we intended to oppose if they were going through with that lapse bill. That money was intended for the personnel which is being recruited and was intended for the setting up of the camps to get the program under way.

For the next biennium we need just as much money. For instance, in the month of May we are spending $18,009. That is for this month. The program is under way.

Two weeks ago a young fellow by the name of Richard Farrel was inspecting French Creek State Park in Lycoming County and Hickory Run State Park in Carbon County for the establishment of two additional camps. I know there was money in the last biennium which was appropriated by this House and consented to by the Senate and it went through and was approved by the Governor. But they have not given them a penny for the next two years. When this money runs out, they will just have to stop the program.

If there are some boys, I think 25 of them, removed from Morganza to the western camp, they will have to be sent back to Morganza. What kind of a program is that when you do not have a continuing fund to take care of them?

I think it is an absolute injustice. It is a real blow and the responsibility will fall upon those who are going to oppose these amendments.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, after listening to the gentleman from Dauphin and what he had to say about unexpended balances, I am wondering what has become of the theory of reckless spending by these wicked Democrats.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the amendments?

So the question was determined in the negative and the amendments were not agreed to.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the section?

Mr. SCHWARTZ offered the following amendment:

Amend Section 2, page 18, line 17, by striking out "$200,000" and inserting "$700,000."

On the question,

Will the House agree to the amendment?

Mr. SCHWARTZ. Mr. Speaker, this amendment deals with the Schuylkill River desilting project. The Governor's budget requested $700,000 and House Bill 1700 recommended $200,000, a reduction of $500,000.

This reduction of $500,000 in the budget for the desilting of the Schuylkill River will practically nullify the $45 million Schuylkill River desilting project. Under the $700,000 budget request it was planned to dredge the Auburn desilting basin in Schuylkill County and to construct a new impounding basin near the Kernsville Dam in Berks County. These two projects will have to be eliminated.

As the desilting basins accumulate water-borne sediment, they become valueless when the basins are one-half full. The Federal Government spent $13 million in the Schuylkill River clean-up project. They required assurance from this Commonwealth that the desilting basins would be dredged when one-half full. The Federal Government estimated that $480,000 annual benefits from the continued clean-up of the Schuylkill River would be obtained through the elimination of shoaling in the navigation channels of the Schuylkill and Delaware Rivers. Also, an estimated annual $125,000 benefit would be realized in reduction of water purification costs for domestic and commercial use.

The action of this body in reducing the Schuylkill River program by $500,000 will, therefore, result in a loss of over $1,200,000 in these benefits alone during the forthcoming biennium.

The danger of flooding will be increased and adjacent property values subsequently decreased. Boating and fishing will suffer. Many hundreds of boats will be unable to use the desilting basins due to the heavy shoals that will form. Fish life, which has been returning to the now improved river, will wane with the increase in turbidity and acidity of the water.

This is a $40 million continuing program we are dealing with. It not only affects the areas that I mentioned, but it affects the entire State of Pennsylvania where the Schuylkill River flows, every community and every county that it goes through. This is a long-time program. If we reduce this budget item at the present time by the $500,000, it will throw the entire program out of kilter for very obvious reasons. Any one of these catch-basins on the Schuylkill River which becomes filled one-half with impure matter, no longer serves any purpose whatsoever. It is just as if every basin was clogged with silt. Two things are very important to keep in mind. No. 1, we have a pact with the Federal Government, a formal pact which requires this Commonwealth to do those things which it has agreed to do, namely, dredging these basins.

There is one other item I should bring to your attention, because I am sure someone on the other side will say, "Oh, there is plenty of money in this fund too," just like they have about previous appropriations. This fund does have some money in it. That money is committed at the present time. This $500,000 is needed to save a program of $40 million which has been continuing for a number of years.

I say to the Members on the other side, do not be pennywise and pound foolish.

Mr. JOHNSON. Mr. Speaker, I just want to point out that the latest available information that we have. This particular appropriation during the current biennium was in the amount of $500,000, of which only $202,200 has been spent, which leaves a continuing appropriation of $297,800, or practically $300,000. This, with the $200,000 appropriation in the bill, would make $500,000 available for the next biennium, which it is felt would be adequate for this program.

Mr. SCHWARTZ. Mr. Speaker, I realize the Majority Leader is a busy man indeed, he is not listening at the moment. If he had been listening to me, he would have heard my remarks that there is some money in this fund, but all of that money is committed at the present time.

Mr. JOHNSON. Mr. Speaker, I think the Committee will be interested to know the type of the commitment, because the information we have received from the Office of Administration is that it is a free and open deposit. So it would be interesting to know the type of commitment. I think it probably is just made out of whole cloth.

Mr. SCHWARTZ. Mr. Speaker, I am no expert on desilting, but I do believe what I am told by the Department. They showed it to me, they showed me the number of basins on the Schuylkill River, they showed me the basins where commitments have been given to dredge, and I believe them when they tell me that the money available is being used for that purpose and for maintenance purposes. I detailed in my remarks two of the basins, one that must be dredged and they were looking forward to this $500,000 to do that work, and a new basin, a desilting basin, which they intended to build with these funds.

So the question was determined in the negative and the amendment was not agreed to.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the section?

Mr. BRENNAN offered the following amendment:

Amend Sec. 2, page 17, line 13, by striking out "150,000" and inserting in lieu "214,000."

On the question,

Will the House agree to the amendment?

Mr. BRENNAN. Mr. Speaker, I would like to amend this bill pertaining to Washington Crossing Park.

The Washington Crossing Park, while it is in Pennsylvania, nevertheless is a national shrine. We are fortunate to have it here in Pennsylvania and we have a duty to everybody in this nation to try to protect that park as much as possible.

This park has asked for $214,000 in this biennium. The last biennium they received $209,000. The Republican party has seen fit to cut it down to $150,000. It is probably one of the heaviest attended parks in the state of Pennsylvania, it receives approximately 2 million visitors per year. At the present time they are going to have to curtail their entire program. The program which will be curtailed involves a lot of the historical buildings on the ground itself.

One thing about this park, it is divided into two parts and there is approximately a five mile distance between the two parks of the Washington Crossing Park setup. I might add this, some of the buildings will have to be closed at the park because they are going to be too dangerous for the visitors to get into unless the money is forthcoming from this Legislature to improve those buildings.

One of the other things which will have to be done at this park unless we get the $214,000 we are asking for will be a curtailment so far as the labor supply is concerned, which means only one thing, that during this summer and the following summer the park will not be able to be open seven days a week.

I am asking all of the Members to support these amendments because I think we owe a duty not only to the people in Bucks County to keep that park open and to the people of Pennsylvania, but we owe it to the nation.

If you look back there, those are the soldiers to whom we owe a duty to see that we have this amendment to provide sufficient money to take care of one of our historical shrines.

Mr. JOHNSON. What the gentleman says is accurate. This current biennium the appropriation to this particular matter of Washington Crossing Park was $209,000.

However, we have received a statement from the Secretary of the Office of Administration that there is still $64,000 remaining unspent from that appropriation. If you will add that on to $150,000, you will get around $215,000, which is the amount they are seeking.

He might say it has been committed, that balance. The state is on the accrual basis and when a fund is committed an entry is made debiting the appropriation. This report we have from the Office of Administration does not show a commitment of more than $627 against the fund. Therefore, we feel the $150,000, plus the $64,000-odd dollars unspent, will be sufficient to run the park another biennium.

Mr. BRENNAN. I do not know how old the figures of the Majority Leader are, how recent they are, but the latest figures I have from the Department of Forests and Waters say that they have already spent $194,000 of that $209,000 appropriation, which would only leave them $15,000. He may have received some figures, but I think his figures might be outdated according to the figures the Department of Forests and Waters has already given me.

Mr. JOHNSON. These figures are as of the 1st day of May, Mr. Brennan. That would mean an unprecedented expenditure for this month.

Mr. BRENNAN. The figures I received were for today and they said they had spent $194,000.

Mr. TOLL. Mr. Speaker, I merely want to add that one of the trustees of the Washington Crossing Park happens to come from Philadelphia. He contacted me about the bill and about the so-called lapse provision of $64,000, as a result of which the members of the Commission sent up a letter—unfortunately, I mislaid it—in which they set forth clearly that every dollar of the amount in the 1955 appropriation has been committed. They broke it down and they showed the exact amount and that they did not have a penny of unexpended money left.

If the Office of Administration says there was six hundred and some dollars unspent, they apparently were not aware that the Commission had committed itself for the entire balance of the money.

Here is a national shrine that Mr. Brennan is talking about and you go ahead and cut it down. The people of Bucks County are real proud of this park and I think you ought to vote for the amendment in order to help them complete the job.

So the question was determined in the negative and the amendment was not agreed to.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the section?

Mr. RENWICK offered the following amendment:

Amend Section 2, page 18, by inserting between lines 17 and 18 "Flood Control and Park Improvements $900,-000."

On the question,

Will the House agree to the amendment?

Mr. RENWICK. Mr. Speaker, this $900,000 is the same amount which was appropriated in 1955 and 1957. The Department proposes to spend this $900,000 for flood control and park improvements.

I think most of you are familiar with the Department of Forests and Waters and its workings. I imagine you will all agree with me that the Department is one of the most efficient departments we have in this Commonwealth. Why this $900,000 was eliminated from the budget I do not think anyone here can fully understand, especially when it is marked for flood control and stream clearance.

The Department figures that it would take $450,000 to do this in the next biennium; it also asks for maintenance on the Delaware Canal in the amount of $229,610; and it also asks for park improvements, that is, existing parks throughout the state, in the amount of $220,390, for a total of $900,000.

Breaking this down, the $450,000 requested for 1957-1959 covers the cost of the construction of small channel rectification projects and a stream clearance program which provides for the removal of obstructions and flood hazards from stream channels in built-up communities.

The 1957-1959 biennial request for funds for small projects and stream clearance programs—and the projects that are set up I think will probably pertain to some of you Members over there.

The small projects, one of them is in Emporium, Cameron County, which sets up $130,000 for clean stream improvements, another is in Galetton, Potter County, which includes $60,000, or a total of $190,000. I do not think anyone here will disagree with me that that is something we need. For channel rectification and stream clearance projects they have set up $260,000.

The Department undertakes stream clearance projects for channel rectification to prevent or alleviate the occurrence of direct flood damages to communities of permanently occupied homes or business establishments where the cost of the work can be justified on the basis of benefits provided. As the results of severe floods of recent years, localized flooding in early 1957, debris has collected in many stream channels, raising the water surface and flooding the adjacent areas. The Department has at the present time approximately 300 requests for stream clearance in areas where State Council of Civil Defense funds are not applicable. Under the criteria for the program and with normal appropriations, approximately 60 stream clearance projects are accomplished during a biennium.

Deletion of funds from the stream clearance appropriation will result in the elimination of projects at Emporium, Cameron County; Galetton and Coudersport, Potter County; Towanda Creek, Bradford County; Alfarata, Mifflin County; and approximately 50 other small projects located throughout the Commonwealth; and curtailment of projects at Austin, Potter County; Titusville, Crawford County; East Hickory, Forest County; and North Versailles Township, Allegheny County. If this work is eliminated during the 1957-1959 biennium, flood losses to industrial and private properties could far exceed the cost of construction.

Now, ladies and gentlemen, getting on to park improvements:

Failure to appropriate funds recommended for this purpose will seriously affect and in many cases actually prevent operation of state park facilities under construction contract by the General State Authority in seven major state parks as follows:

Keystone, Westmoreland County;
Kooser, Somerset County;
Chapman, Warren County;
Fort Washington, Montgomery County;
Promised Land, Pike County;
Tobyhanna, Monroe County;
Caledonia, Franklin and Adams Counties.

An example of this is found in work planned at Chapman Dam State Park. At this park the General State Authority has approved final plans for construction of fordway, access roads, bathhouses and latrines. In order to make these facilities available to the public, it is necessary for the Department to have funds in the 1957-1959 budget for beach construction and drinking water facilities.

Another example is Fort Washington State Park where the General State Authority has approved preliminary plans for road and parking lot construction. In order to make the facilities available, the Department must have funds in its 1957-1959 budget to construct picnic areas, drinking water facilities, latrines and a concession building.

Ladies and gentlemen, in my county we have a park which was constructed about ten years ago and its swimming facilities were bad. Under this program, if we were allowed this $900,000, we would get this park and get swimming in this particular area. This is a case where you may say, Well, we have funds available. Yes, there are funds available, but they are for other projects. Most of those funds are earmarked and most of those funds are to be used for purposes other than these.

Therefore, I ask you gentlemen on both sides of this House to support this amendment.

Mr. WOOD. Mr. Speaker, during the 1956 session we passed a law which set up the oil and gas lease fund, which money collected from the oil and gas leases in these state parks was to go for recreation, dams and flood control. There is a balance in that fund of $6,898,773 which was set up in the 1955 legislation for flood control, recreation and conservation, none of which has been touched by this Legislature so far. Another $4 million in royalties should be collected in the next two years making a grand total of $10,898,773. In addition to all of these amounts, there is still a balance of $10 million in a special emergency flood appropriation made by the 1955 General Assembly for restoration and flood work following the hurricanes during the summer of that year. Most of this balance is available for work done by the Department of Forests and Waters.

Instead of crippling the Department of Forests and Waters, it has more money to spend than it has ever expended before. There is nearly three times as much as was spent during the 1953-1955 biennium. The curious thing about Governor Leader's misleading complaints is the statement that the Legislature will be eliminating funds for state parks. This is not true, because there was never any request in the General Fund budget for these parks. These were built with moneys from the oil and gas lease fund and their budget recommendation does not even touch that fund.

Mr. RENWICK. Mr. Speaker, may I interrogate the gentleman from Lancaster?

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Lancaster, Mr. Wood, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. WOOD. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. RENWICK. Mr. Wood, you spoke of the $6,898,773 in the special oil and gas lease fund. You said that is available for flood control, recreation and conservation, rights?

Mr. WOOD. That is right, yes.

Mr. RENWICK. Is it not a known fact that at the time this fund was set up with oil and gas lease money that it was to be used solely for the three purposes in conjunction with building a dam and not to be used in separate ways? That it was only to be used, for example, as at the dam they are building in Johnstown at the present time in Cambria County? These moneys were to be used in conjunction with the three projects?

Mr. WOOD. The law says, "To be spent at the discretion of the secretary for conservation, recreation, dams and flood control and to match any Federal funds which may be made for said purposes." It does not earmark it for any special dams.

Mr. RENWICK. It is not earmarked for any special dams, but you recall the full amount was to be used only for the three purposes combined, and not—we will take for example, conservation, or just recreation, to prepare another park. That is not the purpose of the fund? Right?

Mr. WOOD. Well, you have to take what the law says. It was not earmarked for any special purpose, that is right.

Mr. RENWICK. The Department is not fully aware of this, because that is the reason they are saving this money, just for projects to complete these three things, flood control, recreation and conservation, and for nothing else.

Mr. WOOD. I advise them to get a copy and read it then.

Mr. RENWICK. There is just one more question I would like to ask the gentleman. He spoke of the $10 million in this special emergency flood appropriation. Do you think you could use this money for cleaning streams for flood control purposes when it is under the Council of Civil Defense and is to be used only in disaster areas? Isn't that the purpose of that?

Mr. WOOD. It says for flood control, yes, and any stream that has been dammed up by hurricane. That is what it is supposed to be used for.

Mr. RENWICK. Is it your opinion that you can take this and clean a stream up anywhere, whether you have had a disaster or not?

Mr. WOOD. Out of that $10 million, yes. That is the one that was set as an emergency fund, but not this oil and gas fund, no.

Mr. RENWICK. I am talking about the $10 million?

Mr. WOOD. That is to clean up the streams damaged by the floods, yes.

Mr. RENWICK. But you could not go out in any part of the state of Pennsylvania and where you found it was necessary to improve these streams just use part of this money to go in there and clean them up, could you?

Mr. WOOD. You could take that out of the gas and oil lease fund.

Mr. RENWICK. In other words, the $10 million could only be used for disaster relief, right?

Mr. WOOD. That is right, yes.

Mr. BRENNAN. Mr. Speaker, I want to refer to the part of the $900,000 that Mr. Renwick has already spoken on. That is the $229,610 for the Delaware River Canal.

This canal is a canal which is over 100 years old and extends 60 miles along the Delaware River from Easton down through Bucks County, through Rieglesville, through New Hope, Washington Crossing State Park down through Morrisville and into Levittown.

One thing about this, the gentleman has explained that there is quite a bit of money over in Forests and Waters, but this canal has always come under maintenance. From what I can understand from the Secretary of Forests and Waters, none of the money that the Chairman of the Appropriations Committee speaks of is available for this particular canal.

I would like to refer to a few things as far as this canal and what it is going to do in that 60 mile area between Easton and Bucks County.

One thing about this, water cannot be permitted to flow into this unguarded canal. I would like to say that as of today in the Philadelphia Inquirer the Secretary of Forests and Waters has already released a statement that as of the 1st of June he is going to drain the canal and close the intake at Easton. The dewatering of this canal will eliminate fishing, boating and other recreational uses in this important tourist area through Washington Crossing Park and New Hope. Numerous present and planned industries that are presently using the canal water under an agreement with the Commonwealth will be seriously affected by this canal being drained. This will require them to secure alternate sources to secure their water or else relocate their plants.

I would like to also say that the current, favorable fire rates in the communities of Morrisville, Bristol and Levittown adjacent to the canal will be increased.

The canal structures are founded on wood cribbing, such as the bridges, the docks and the locks and when this canal is dewatered rotting will set in immediately because of the exposure to air. When the canal bed is exposed, it will have the appearance of a rubbish dump, and it will continue to be a rubbish dump as long as it is dried out.

I would like to say that I received a telegram today from the President of the Delaware Valley Protective Association in which he says:

"Secretary Goddard notified Delaware Valley Protective Association that water will be drained from Delaware Canal June 1st because of no maintenance funds. Urge vigilant attention and scrutiny of package deals jeopardizing canal funds. Action would destroy fire protection and recreation and substitute health menace and ruin valuable property."

In addition to that, in the Philadelphia Inquirer today there is an article which goes on to say:

The historic Delaware Canal, which extends from Bristol to Easton and has been maintained as a State park since 1940, will be drained on Saturday.

The closing of the canal was ordered by Maurice K. Goddard, head of the Department of Forests and Waters. Goddard was quoted as saying he took the action because of proposed slashes made by the Republican Senate caucus in the department's 1957-58 budget.

Hal H. Clark, president of the Delaware Valley Protective Association, said he was informed that S. H. Sword the department's district engineer, would assume control of the waterway at the close of business Friday and that drainage operations would be started the following day.

A crew of more than 20 men who took care of the 30-mile canal probably will be fired from the State payroll.

While observers hinted that Goddard's action might be a tactic to bring about elimination of his department's appropriation cuts, conservation experts said withdrawal of the water for even for a short period would cause irreparable harm to fish and wildlife.

If this money is available, as the gentleman from the other side said—and I doubt it very much, because I do not think that Secretary Goddard would go out and order a canal to be drained. I think it is a serious problem. It is under maintenance. I have yet to see in this bill where we are going to get any money for this canal. We are going to have to move fast if they are going to start to drain it on June 1st.

Mr. WARGO. Mr. Speaker, very briefly on this same appropriation. About four or five months ago the Fish Commission purchased a lake in my area and since we have a shortage of recreational centers down there they turned it over to the Department of Forests and Waters to develop into a park and picnic area for our people. As to this cutback here, in the releases to our newspapers it is definitely established that they would have to curtail work on this project and deprive our people of a nice picnic site.

Mr. BRETH. Mr. Speaker, it came as a great surprise and somewhat of a terrific shock to me as I sat here listening to the debate on this amendment. The reason is that I gather from what the Chairman of the Appropriations Committee has said that the oil and gas special fund in the Forests and Waters Department is now being considered as a regular appropriation.

Two years ago as Chairman of the Conservation and Wild Life Committee we held a number of hearings with the Forests and Waters Department concerning the water problem in Pennsylvania, which, as you should and probably do know, will be continually critical. After a great deal of work and discussion the Committee evolved a bill aimed at protecting the future water supplies of Pennsylvania. The Senate was also considering such a program.

We had two bills in our Committee at the end of our hearings, both similar in intent, which was to preserve water in the future. We released the Senate bill, thinking that the fund obtained from the oil and gas leases and ground rentals would be used by the Department of Forests and Waters to build a series of water impoundments of a size which would be of some use and value in case of a critical water shortage or a prolonged drought.

If I had thought for one moment that we were merely passing a bill as a continuing appropriation to the Department of Forests and Waters, I assure you that I would have vigorously opposed such a measure.

I say now that I would like a full and complete expression from the Chairman of the Appropriation Committee as to whether or not the intent of the majority side of this House is to make that oil and gas fund a continuing, all-purpose appropriation to the Department, instead of the purpose for which it was passed, which would be a series of large water impoundments throughout the State for multi-purposes use, for recreation and for a gigantic reservoir of fresh water in an emergency.

Mr. LOPRESTI. Mr. Speaker, I, too, am somewhat surprised. For the last year or year and a half the Department of Forests and Waters has been surveying, taking soundings, engineering and drawing plans for a dam in the northern area of Cambria County bordering Clearfield and pretty close to Blair. We were given assurances, and much money and time has been spent on the idea, that this particular park in the Glendale area would soon be started.

If we are going to divert those funds, we would like to know it now and I think the people of the Commonwealth would like to know, because there are many areas in our Commonwealth which will likewise be affected. I think we should have a definite statement from the majority at this time as to whether it is the intention of the majority that this money should be diverted to other uses.

Mr. JOHNSON. Mr. Speaker, by way of summary of this debate, we say that the Department of Forests and Waters with the passage of all the appropriations to them this coming biennium will have $34 million at its disposal.

First there is an appropriation of $10,387,000 in the bill. They have a continuing appropriation of $5,076,000. They will have the oil and gas lease funds which will total during the biennium $10,890,000. There is still a balance of nearly $10 million in the special emergency flood appropriation fund. If you add those all together, they total $34 million, which we say is ample money to take care of the needs of the Department for flood control and its many other activities.

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, may I interrogate the Majority Floor Leader?

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from McKean, Mr. Johnson, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. JOHNSON. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, will the Majority Floor Leader take his budget and tell us if the Secretary of Forests and Waters in the 16 proposed state parks, if the money is cut in the budget, is to take the money either from that section of the budget or from the royalties that are in the oil and gas lease fund of Forests and Waters. These are the proposed parks in Pennsylvania which are now being planned by the Department of Forests and Waters in 16 different areas in Pennsylvania.

Mr. JOHNSON. May I ask the gentleman, is there anything before us in our budget for 16 proposed parks in the state of Pennsylvania?

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, the question will lead up to that point. As to the parks which are being scheduled in various counties, I want to be clear and the House wants to be clear, that for the money dealing with the Forests and Waters they have the right to go into the gas and oil royalties to do all of this work? Can you bring that out clearly to the Members of this House, that the Secretary of Forests and Waters has the right to go into that reserve fund and do all of this from the planning stage, that is the initial stage where you start in a park? Normally it is handled differently than I am given to understand here on the floor today. Will you clear that point? We can go from there.

Mr. JOHNSON. I was going to answer, Mr. McCann, and I believe it is contemplated by the Department, and I think you probably have a statement to the effect, that they intend to use some of the oil and gas fund, which will run up over $10 million during this next biennium for these proposed parks. But I would say this, if a situation occurs where the communities need flood control worse than they need these parks, because Pennsylvania is endowed with great and beautiful hills, I would say they might better use that money for flood control projects than to spend it on parks which we can get along without. The question is, can we get along without flood control?

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, will the Majority Floor Leader then go back again to the same question and tell us, when the Department of Forests and Waters, for example, contemplates a park, or a flood control project in McKean County, when they first send the men in to find out if such a program is feasible—now we are talking about surveying, core drill tests, geological reports—does that money in the initial stage come from the gas and oil royalties or is that the appropriation to the Department of Forests and Waters?

Mr. JOHNSON. I would say to the gentleman that you could spend the money out of the gas and oil fund or out of the general appropriation. Both would be properly classed as recreation. The planning of a project is just as much a part as the construction on it.

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, then we can assume by the statement of the Majority Floor Leader that the Secretary of Forests and Waters has in his possession the right by law given to him by us to use this money in the gas and oil royalty fund to start and to complete each of these projects from the initial stage to the completion of the project, according to the amount specified in the gas and oil royalty fund? Would that be correct, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. JOHNSON. I would say that is a fair statement.

Mr. McCANN. All right. Then the next point in the same program. If the Secretary of Forests and Waters has this right, that the intention of the Members of the House and the Senate when they enacted into law the bill dealing with that fund in the prior sessions?

Mr. JOHNSON. I would say, of course, it is hard to find legislative intent outside the four corners of the bill. If you read the Act itself, if you go into court to construe it, you will be confined to what the Act itself says, and that pretty definitely sets out that it can be used for flood control, recreation, and so forth, as has been pointed out.

Personally, when I voted for the bill I felt that we were giving this money to the Department of Forests and Waters so it could be used by and for the people within the realm of those projects as set forth. I am sure I did not have in mind building any particular dam at Johnstown or any other place.

The reason we earmarked the money to the Department of Forests and Waters was because it was going into the General Fund and it was being thrown into the pot and just spent. As far as my own county is concerned, I do not believe anybody would feel the Department of Forests and Waters was at all remiss if they put in a flood project somewhere in my county out of this money. After all, it is oil and gas money out of lands owned by the Commonwealth, no matter where they might be located, one of the fruits of the land owning of the state.

Mr. McCANN. I thank the gentleman very kindly.

Mr. Speaker, in the cuts which have been made in this particular section and the amendment which has been offered by the gentleman from Elk, Mr. Renwick, we feel confident that the gas and oil royalty fund has not been operated with the intent that was outlined here. I would be led to believe, then, that the gas and oil royalty funds from this date on are a part of the General Fund of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania and can be used by the Secretary of Forests and Waters covering the three fields as outlined at his discretion. If that would be so, then, of course, he has available many millions of dollars to complete the projects scheduled or being planned.

But I just wonder if the gentleman from McKean, Mr. Johnson, and the majority party had at their fingertips the knowledge that up to this time the Secretary of Forests and Waters had not been able to use the fund as you would lead us to believe here. If that is so, then that, of course, is the intent and that is the law. Those things must be cleared. But I think rather than jeopardize such a great program in Pennsylvania as flood control, state parks and a recreation program, that in this case dealing with these areas across Pennsylvania you should consider carefully and vote favorably upon the amendments presented to this House by the gentleman from Elk, Mr. Renwick.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, I don't know what all the shooting is for. The proceeds from the oil and gas leases, as the Majority Leader knows, are for the general purposes stated, recreation and flood control. The oil and gas resources, the money that has been collected, has been obligated, because several projects have been started and a reserve has been established out of money on hand to complete them. You can't build any more with money you don't have.

I would like the Majority Leader to list what has become of it. It is absolutely fallacious to count as a resource money already in the fund established from the oil and gas leases. That money is not available for any new projects. The Glendale project takes the part of it, other projects take other parts of it, so that it is not anything which this Legislature can appropriate.

On the matter of of an emergency fund for flood relief, it has been customary over the years to have a slight balance of approximately $10 million as a disaster fund. Now the money raised as a result of the special levy on gas to create a disaster fund is still in the process of being spent to pay bills that are coming in to the Council of Civil Defense. Bills are still coming in. Because of red tape, they have to be finished, and so forth, before the bills can be paid. There is no $10 million there. That is a fallacy. You can't take that $10 million. That was specifically raised for flood relief and flood relief in connection with a particular disaster.

I doubt when the bills are all paid that the Council of Civil Defense will have a million dollars left out of what you say is the $10 million balance.

On the question recurring.

Will the House agree to the amendment?

Erb,

So the question was determined in the negative and the amendment was not agreed to.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the section?

Mr. DEVLIN offered the following amendment:

Amend Section 2 page 32, line 17, by striking out "$1,850,000" and inserting "$2,225,000."

On the question,

Will the House agree to the amendment?

Mr. DEVLIN. Mr. Speaker, the purpose of these amendments is to restore a $375,000 cut in the budget appropriation for the Board of Parole. The money that was originally asked for by the Board was $2.5 million. That was cut to the extent of $278,000 by the Governor, who approved their request for $2,225,000.

The Appropriations Committee has recommended to us in this House Bill 1700 $1,850,000. I would like the Members of the House to know that approximately 80 percent of the appropriation going to the Board of Parole will be to pay the salaries of the personnel thereof.

The Board's complement at the present time is 205 personnel, which at the present salary rate will use $1,732,000 of the Appropriations Committee's suggested budgetary allocation.

This, as you will see, would leave only $117,000 for all other operations of the office. Based on the cost of operation the past two years, the operating expenses of the Board for the coming biennium will be $417,000, in other words, it will be $300,000 short of what they need to maintain their present type of operation. That is $300,000 of the $375,000 these amendments ask us to restore. The other $75,000 the amendments request us to restore comes from the mandated program, the so-called pilot program for the Philadelphia district which was set up by Section 19 of the Parole Act last year.

I would further like to point out to the Members of the House some of the results, if these amendments are not passed, in the way of operations and personnel of the Parole Board.

We have been advised that it will be imperative to reduce the field staff and to increase the case load of the remaining members to such an extent that our parole supervision will become completely ineffective.

At the present time the average case load of our field staff is 69 cases, plus five investigations. This varies from an average of 83 in the Philadelphia district to a considerably lesser number in smaller districts covering maybe two or more counties.

The Members of the House should know that the national association dealing with probation and parole problems has made a finding and has reached the conclusion that more than 50 supervision cases is entirely too high, with no investigations assigned to the agent.

Here we are averaging 69, plus five investigations. We are already carrying an excessive case load. Under the proposed budgetary allocation the case load will have to become even greater.

There is another aspect of the problem which should be considered, namely, that there naturally will be a tendency on the part of the Board to oppose releases on parole of committed prisoners for the simple reason that their personnel will not be adequate to cope with additional field cases of supervision.

I point out to you this aspect of the problem from the purely economy standpoint that we are allegedly advocating. It is going to cost the taxpayers an average of about $1,200 a year to keep a man institutionalized, whereas the pro rata cost as computed by the Board of supervising a man who is released on parole is $156 a year. Continued detention, then, because of lack of personnel is going to average something in excess of $1,000 per year per inmate.

I might point out the final monetary aspect of the question in this respect. As you know, inmates who are committed most often have families, and most often those families have no means of support. Quite frequently, therefore, they become public assistance recipients until such time as their breadwinner comes out of the institution on parole to a job, which is one of the requirements of the Board, and they can take their family off the relief rolls. We have had called to our attention relief grants in great sums of money to the families of inmates of our institutions.

I point out to you in closing that it would be more economical for the Commonwealth to establish a sufficiently large Board of Parole, a lesser burdened Board of Parole, in order to perform the job they must do in the long run at less expense to the Commonwealth as a whole.

Mr. HOCKER. Mr. Speaker, again we have to oppose these amendments, because in the four or five weeks we sat in hearings we asked for information from these departments. We had an inquiry go to the Board of Parole and we found out they anticipated for wages $1,571,000 for the next biennium.

Their expenditures for the last biennium were $1,797,000, so we arrived at a figure, and we think it is a fair figure, of $1,850,000. In other words, they will have $300,000 to operate other than for expenses. We think that is adequate.

We think we have been fair with the Board of Parole, so we would ask our Members to vote down these amendments.

Mr. DEVLIN. Mr. Speaker, according to the data at my command here, the Appropriations Committee's estimate of the Parole Board's expenditures for the present biennium was given as the gentleman from Dauphin gave it, namely, $1,797,000. However, the actual expenditures coming from the Board which are available here up to May 22, 1957, leaving only nine days in the biennium, were $1,827,918.

As I pointed out in my remarks in support of the amendment, we are not going to have enough to operate this Board the way it is being operated at the present time without anything for meritorious increases or any increase in office expenses.

The SPEAKER. The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Toll.

Mr. TOLL. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate the gentleman from Dauphin, Mr. Hocker.

The SPEAKER. The Chair has found those questions generally take about half an hour.

Mr. TOLL. No, one short question.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Dauphin, Mr. Hocker, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. HOCKER. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. TOLL. Mr. Speaker, can the gentleman from Dauphin tell me whether the figure which he developed included the $75,000 for the new program for providing reclassification investigators for Philadelphia under Section 19 of the Parole Act?

Mr. HOCKER. Will the gentleman give me that again, please, Mr. Speaker?

Mr. TOLL. Page 84 of the Governor's budget sets forth that the amount requested includes $75,000 for a new program providing preclassification investigators for Philadelphia so that the Board can implement Section 19 of the Parole Act. Did you consider that in your figure?

Mr. HOCKER. I think we took everything into consideration.

Mr. TOLL. And did you exclude Philadelphia?

Mr. HOCKER. I do not think so. I cannot tell the gentleman that now, but we never have and I do not know why we would in this instance, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. TOLL. Do you have a breakdown of the figures there?

Mr. HOCKER. No, I do not, not those figures. The only thing I might say, Mr. Speaker, if I may, during the entire period of these hearings which lasted approximately five weeks we did not just reach out and grab figures here and there, we tried to go over this thing very thoroughly. Some of your people on the other side attended. I saw the gentleman, Mr. Andrews, in those hearings many, many days. We did not just reach out and grab figures, we tried to take everything into consideration, Mr. Speaker. Having that in my mind, I would certainly say that I think the Philadelphia situation was taken care of.

Mr. LOPRESTI. I do not know whether it is generally known or not, but the Parole Board is the investigating arm of the Pardons Board and the Pardons Board has been under criticism at different times because of the fact that their investigations are not complete.

The Pardons Board is dependent completely upon the Parole Board for its investigations because the Pardons Board has no investigatory staff of its own. I believe eventually there will be a recommendation come before this House asking for a more complete investigation to be made in Pardons Board matters and the Parole Board is going to be asked to make those investigations.

For example, the statements which are made before hearings of the Pardons Board are not checked. There are some people who complain that the Pardons Board does not make any check to find out whether the statements made at these public hearings are true or not true. There are many people who feel that before those statements are relied upon some investigation should be made.

I believe if we short-change the budget of the Parole Board we are going to handicap the Pardons Board more severely than it is already.

I, therefore, think we should increase the activities of the Parole Board so that the Pardons Board can act more effectively.

So the question was determined in the negative and the amendment was not agreed to.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the section?

Mr. MULLIN offered the following amendments:

Amend Section 2, page 15, line 6, by striking out "$1,110,000" and inserting "$1,547,000."

Amend Section 2, page 15, line 8, by striking out "$200,000" and inserting "$475,000."

Amend Section 2, page 15, line 11, by striking out "$200,000" and inserting "$275,000."

On the question,

Will the House agree to the amendments?

Mr. MULLEN. Mr. Speaker, we have finally gotten around to the Department of Commerce and we are now considering the appropriation for the Department of Commerce.

Originally the Department of Commerce requested approximately $1,800,000 to man the Department for the coming two years. As you know, originally the Department of Commerce was merely a department which was a part of the government, but which had very little work to do.

The Chesterman Report, which was made during the Fine administration in 1953, recommended that the Department of Commerce be abolished in its entirety or else be given sufficient funds to accomplish the purposes set forth in the original bill creating the department.

In the last session of the General Assembly we set up an industrial development program and we instructed the Department of Commerce to man that program, and they have done a very successful job. They have secured new industry for the state and they have endeavored to bring the state back to the status that it had many years back in the industrial picture of our country.

However, when the budget was submitted to the Appropriations Committee, the Appropriations Committee took the position that the Department should operate merely on the appropriation which was made in the last session. Of course, the appropriation made in the last session merely covered one year of operations and the money was not made available to the Department until May of 1956.

The amount of money appropriated was $1.1 million. The Appropriations Committee felt that that sum was sufficient to operate for a two-year period and they so set that forth in House Bill 1700.

We feel it is wholly inadequate because it will necessitate the Department curtailing its activities to such an extent that the industrial development program will suffer a severe setback.

At present there are 90 employees in the Department of Commerce. Under the present system it will be reduced to 68. We feel that is very unfair.

Considering the second item of appropriation for the Department of Commerce, the Appropriations Committee saw fit to reduce the requested appropriation from $475,000 to $200,000 on the basis that they do not need the advertising to get the business. The only way you are going to get new industry in the state of Pennsylvania is to advertise throughout the country and the world. If the money is not there for the Department of Commerce to advertise, they are certainly not going to get new industry.

Therefore, we feel that that appropriation should be restored to the amount which the Department feels is necessary to man the program properly.

The item which is particularly distressing to me is the item which hurts the women of the state. We passed in the previous session an act which would provide a sum of money for the Department of Commerce to honor distinguished daughters of Pennsylvania. We appropriated $1,500 a year for that purpose. They recently had that particular honor bestowed upon ten distinguished women in the state of Pennsylvania. I went to the Commerce Department this afternoon and requested them to present to me an itemized statement as to what that particular affair cost the Department of Commerce. The itemized statement which I have here before me comes to $1,246.40. I think it is very unfair for the Appropriations Committee to feel that the Department of Commerce can run this annual affair with $1,500 on a two-year basis when it cost them $1,246.40.

Therefore, I feel the Appropriations Committee should certainly reconsider this section of the amendment and should restore to the Department of Commerce the $1,500 which they need to operate this particular distinguished service award for women.

I would like to interrogate the Majority Leader for one minute, please.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from McKean, Mr. Johnson, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. JOHNSON. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. MULLEN. Mr. Speaker, would the gentleman consider voting on the first three sections of my amendments and then consider restoring the $1,500 which is necessary to operate the ceremony in connection with the annual award to the distinguished daughters of Pennsylvania?

Mr. JOHNSON. Mr. Speaker, I refer that to the Chair. If the Chair feels it is all right to first vote on the three and then on the last amendment, I do not object to it.

The SPEAKER. The interrogation was directed to the gentleman from McKean, Mr. Johnson, as to whether we shall divide the vote. It is a decision which the Majority Leader must make.

Mr. JOHNSON. I believe for the purpose of getting along with our debate we ought to vote on all four. I do not want to be arbitrary, but we just had a conference with the Minority Leader and there is a tremendous amount of amendments yet to be voted on and, although I do not want to be arbitrary about it, you go ahead and submit your motion on the three and then we will take the motion on the last one. If you want to do it that way it will not take much longer.

PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Mr. ANDREWS. I rise to a parliamentary inquiry and to a point of order.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state it.

Mr. ANDREWS. Is it not within the gentleman's right to ask for any reasonable division of the question.

The SPEAKER. The Chair rules the request is reasonable, yes. The gentleman has a perfect right to ask for a division of the question.

The Chair will lay before the House the amendments to Section 2, page 15, line 6, the amendments to Section 2, page 15, line 8, and amendments to Section 2, page 15, line 11.

Mr. ANDREWS. I desire to speak on the amendments.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman is in order and will proceed.

Mr. ANDREWS. I had the pleasure and the honor recently of listening to the distinguished Mayor of Harrisburg pleading in behalf of appropriations for the program of urban redevelopment. He related proudly how Harrisburg had availed itself of the funds placed at its disposal through the urban redevelopment plan, took out a big hunk and was planning to take out another big hunk. I suppose that Harrisburg, having regaled itself at the table of the state, is now prepared to abolish the source upon which it drew so generously.

It happens that among the departments of this Commonwealth which have made good is the Department of Commerce. We have not had a Department of Commerce that has functioned as this department has functioned within my mind. It has achieved results through its industrial development program. I could go up to my office and secure, and the Members of this House have in their possession, a paper listing town by town, city by city, where through the industrial development program of the Department of Commerce new industries have been attracted to the state. The Commonwealth assisted in the financing at the local level and an appreciable increase resulted in the working population of our Commonwealth, particularly in those districts which need a working population the most.

For fear, I presume, Mr. Speaker, that this administration will achieve through its Secretary of Commerce a memorable record, it is proposed to emasculate and practically abolish the one department which has achieved results in a manner that deserves the admiration and the support of the people of this Commonwealth.

If we are not going to advertise this state, if we are to abandon urban redevelopment, if we are to retreat from our efforts to establish industry, then we take this budget. If we believe in reasonably advertising our attractions, if we have any faith in the record of attracting new industries already achieved, and if we believe the mayors who have pleaded so eloquently in behalf of urban redevelopment, then we cannot swallow this budget.

Mr. JOHNSON. Mr. Speaker, I believe the speakers have pretty well covered the gamut of the activities of the Department of Commerce, even though the amendments which are offered are to up the salaries and expense items and to increase the amount of money for promotion, advertisement and promoting industrial development.

The figure in the budget of $1,110,000 is based upon an estimated expenditure during the current biennium of $949,000, so that there is approximately $200,000 more money being given to the Department for the salary and expense item.

In the promotion of the industrial fund, they spent about $200,000 during this biennium and the appropriation suggested is $200,000. Likewise, for promotion of tourist travel, the estimated expenditure out of that fund is $50,000 out of the $150,000 appropriated, and it being a continuing appropriation, they have $100,000 left and we are giving them $200,000. That would make $300,000 all told in that particular fund. The gentleman would have you believe we are emasculating the Department of Commerce, which certainly is not true.

Likewise, when you come to talk about the balances in the housing redevelopment funds and the balances in the promotion funds, for industrial promotion, you will find that in the budget before us, House Bill 1700, we are appropriating $1.5 million to the industrial promotion fund. There is $3.4 million carried over from this biennium which has not been expended, nor has it been earmarked, nor has it been allocated or awarded to anybody. As of the 1st of May the figures we have here from the Office of Administration show that in that fund there is $3,500,000, which added to the $1.5 million restores the fund to $5 million.

Likewise, the housing and redevelopment fund, House Bill 1700 calls for $1.3 million, which added to $3.7 million left in that fund makes $5 million in that fund. Add to that $2.7 million from the 1949 Act which was passed during the Duff Administration, and it makes upwards of $8 million in the housing and redevelopment fund available to the Department of Commerce.

Those things of necessity move slowly. The municipalities have to raise matching funds. They get matching funds from the Federal Government and we award money. By the time the biennium is over conceivably the $8 million will be exhausted and they will need more money. But it is felt that the money that is being appropriated is just about all that can be spent.

I know of lots of communities which are planning industrial development corporations, but they do not have sites, they do not have buildings, they do not have the local money raised, they do not have a bank ready to take the first mortgage on a plant that is not constructed as yet. While I commend the Department of Commerce and I agree with Mr. Andrews that we have a very able Secretary of Commerce, a very personable gentleman, I would say he would have enough money during this coming biennium to do a pretty fair job with the facilities and the opportunities that are available.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, I do not propose to argue with the gentleman. As for his figures, they are cockeyed. We will use the next year, the next two years, in carrying to the public the fact that the situation has been absolutely misrepresented, probably through an inability to grasp the intricacies of the figures and the financial picture faced.

I will conclude by saying that apparently this administration is to go down in history as the only administration able to finance the second biennium with the money that it managed to save in the first biennium.

Mr. MULLEN. Mr. Speaker, it is no use prolonging the debate. We all know how the votes are going to go. So I would suggest we have a division on the first three sections and then I would like to speak briefly on the fourth section when we come to that.

So the question was determined in the negative and the amendments were not agreed to.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the section?

Mr. MULLEN offered the following amendment:

Amend Section 2, page 15, line 13, by striking out "$1,500" and inserting "$3,000."

On the question,

Will the House agree to the amendment?

Mr. MULLEN. Mr. Speaker, this seems to be our only chance to get some of the Republican Members to go along with us. I certainly hope they go along and support the ladies of Pennsylvania.

There is not a large sum of money involved here, it is only $1,500. I do feel we owe it to our ladies of Pennsylvania, the ladies back home and to our distinguished Members of the Legislature, many of whom will no doubt be considered for this distinguished service award in the near future.

Therefore, I ask you to go along with us and vote the ladies an additional $1,500 so that they can have that banquet each and every year.

Mr. HOCKER. Mr. Speaker, I have to go right back to where we were before. I would ask that these amendments be voted down because their expenditures were $1,500 and we are going to give them $1,500 this time.

Mr. MULLIN. Mr. Speaker, I have an itemized list here of the expenditures which were made for that particular award for this year of 1956. I am not going to read the itemized statement, you can take my word that I have it right here before me, but the total expenditures was $1,246.40. If we do not think enough of our women folk to see that they get a decent dinner, those who are awarded the distinguished service awards in the Commonwealth, then I do not think we are calling ourselves men.

I ask the Republican Members to support their ladies as we are going to support ours. They are going to be very disappointed when they come to dinner next year and they wind up with club sandwiches instead of a nice piece of roast beef.

Mr. HOCKER. Mr. Speaker, I would say this, that as of the 30th of April they had $277.28 left, so if they have already had their banquet, I would say that will give them each an extra piece of chicken next year.

Mr. MULLEN. Mr. Speaker, unfortunately, the ladies were unable to have their banquet in 1955 because we did not provide the funds for them. We did provide $1,500 in the last biennium, but that was used up this year. It is true they have $277, but it certainly will not cover the cost of two affairs for the coming biennium.

I sincerely believe we ought to let them have this $1,500. It is not going to break the state.

I hope some of you boys over there can really go along with us on this one.

So the question was determined in the negative and the amendment was not agreed to.

On the question recurring,
Will the House agree to the section?

Miss DUFFY offered the following amendment:

Amend Section 2, page 23, line 10, by striking out "875,000" and inserting "$1,300,000."

On the question,

Will the House agree to the amendment?

Mr. READINGER. Mr. Speaker, maybe we did not give the ladies of Pennsylvania $1,500, but I certainly think the House owes it to Miss Duffy to give her all its attention.

The SPEAKER. The Chair thanks the gentleman.

Miss DUFFY. Mr. Speaker, the proposed amendment would provide an increase in the budget of the Pennsylvania Historical and Museum Commission to $1.3 million. The proposed appropriation is $875,000. This would provide an increase of $325,000 which is the minimum they need to carry out the program which they have set into motion.

Pennsylvania, as you know, is one of the original 13 colonies. Our historical heritage is the greatest and the richest of the 48 states.

American freedom had its birthplace in Pennsylvania and its early growth and development occurred in Pennsylvania. While Massachusetts and Virginia are spending millions of dollars to publicize their history in order to attract tourists, you are offering a budget cut which will be crippling to this Department.

While the Department of Commerce has been advertising Pennsylvania as a great historical state to attract tourist trade, you are undermining the efforts of that Department by offering a cut in the budget which will prevent them from carrying out their program.

I submit to you, your actions here are inconsistent with your stated platform that you desire to encourage business and industry.

The Virginia Museum Commission states that the revenue which they have obtained from their expanded program for the year 1956 has been a quarter of a million dollars. The estimated revenue which they plan to get for 1957 with their Jamestown celebration is a half billion dollars.

I submit to you that if we had an imaginative, far-reaching program such as this, industry would not need any special privileges or tax cut in the next session.

We cannot expect the public in our sister states to respect our historical heritage and background to the extent of coming here and spending money when we ourselves have so little respect for it that we refuse to supply the money they need for this program.

Mr. Speaker, pride in our history is essential to good citizenship, but we need to be educated to this pride. The Pennsylvania Museum Commission has established a program for traveling museum exhibits for the schools. All of our children are not fortunate enough to live close to a museum, therefore, the Commission has provided a means whereby the museum will go to them.

This program cannot be carried out if we have this cut in the budget. The demands of the public, particularly of schools for pamphlets, leaflets, and books on the history of Pennsylvania, are steadily increasing. It is the function of this Commission to supply that demand.

In supplying the demand for these items, they can make a nice profit which will enable them to reduce appropriations at a future session.

You businessmen on the other side know that in order to expect a return on your investment you must invest something. In order to make money, you must spend money.

The Historical Museum Commission with its historical preservation fund is the one agency where money can be produced from the sale of publications and from admission charges to historical shrines.

Cutting the budget means that plans for promoting increased attendance at these shrines and publicity will be curtailed. Even worse the Commission through Dr. Stevens, a staunch Republican, advises us that this budget will force it to close some of its shrines which are even now pathetically undermanned.

I submit this cut in the appropriation is not only a blow to the citizenship, it is poor business. You are discouraging tourist trade and you are preventing this Commission from becoming selfsufficient one day by failing to allow it the funds to build up the museum into a business.

I therefore request that you support this amendment.

Mr. HOCKER. Mr. Speaker, again I will have to ask the Members to vote against these amendments.

This does my heart good, because all these hearings the Chairman of our Appropriations Committee in the House would say, no, they only expended so much. You can't give them more than that. It happens that our Chairman, Mr. Wood, is a member of this Commission. When this came before the body, we decided and voted, and he bled and died. But these are the figures; they spent $747,800 and we gave them $875,000, so ladies and gentlemen of the House, he was no exception.

Mr. SILVERMAN. Mr. Speaker, I think this is false economy at this time. When Virginia is getting its greatest playrights such as Paul Green to produce plays like "The Common Glory," dramatizing the history of their state, when every state is going ahead full steam promoting its glories, we are adopting niggardly cuts. I do not think it is right.

The Pennsylvania Historical Museum Society has thousands of antiques which they are forced to keep underground, depriving our children of the viewing of those wonderful objects. We are faced with a situation such as we have in Philadelphia where the birthplace of James Madison is presently used as a junk and rag shop, and there is not even a historical marker to designate that spot.

Cutting these funds is really a disgrace to the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania. I think we really ought to dramatize our values. I think that Pennsylvania, being the birthplace of liberty and having the finest of homes and the finest of antiques, should make it known to the public. Instead we go to a Governor's Mansion and we see nothing but a Victorian house approximately 75 years old, when we were the leaders in Colonial Architecture.

I think these cuts ought to be restored and we ought to give the Commission what they are asking for. Dr. Stevens is one of the outstanding authorities. It is not a matter of patronage. I do not think this side of the House has a single solitary job in the Historical Museum Commission. They are voting against their own interest.

Please vote down these amendments.

Mr. GIBSON. Mr. Speaker, I move that the House insist upon its amendments nonconcurred in by the Senate to Senate Bill No. 116.

The motion was agreed to.

Ordered, That the Clerk inform the Senate accordingly.

BILL ON SECOND READING

The SPEAKER. The House will resume consideration of House Bill 1700.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the section?

Messrs. LOPRESTI and TOLL offered the following amendment:

Amend Section 2, page 29, line 7, by striking out "$100,000" and inserting "$193,000"

On the question,

Will the House agree to the amendment?

Mr. TOLL. Mr. Speaker, the amendment which is offered relates to the appropriation which has been made for the Advisory Board on the problems of older workers.

Mr. Speaker and Members of the House, the older workers and older people in general have been sadly neglected in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania. It is a recent matter that studies have been made to determine what should be done with those workers who have reached the age of fifty, sixty or sixty-five and cannot obtain employment. The problems of the aged have received attention in various Legislatures in the eastern part of the country. As a matter of fact, very recently New Jersey published a report on the subject and recommended the creation of a Commission to study the problems of the aged.

In this Assembly, in this Session, there have been a number of bills introduced relating to the same problems. Two of these bills are now pending, one has been reported to the Floor. The Department of Welfare has been working toward the solution of these problems and is looking forward to the work which would be done by a Governor's commission on the aged in accordance with its present plans which will be formed to stimulate interest within the state. The commission would be charged with examining services available in local communities and the means by which these services could be financed.

The problem, however, was attacked in the last session in connection with the Fair Employment Practices Law which contained a provision regarding age. When the question of age was to be eliminated, the bill was sweetened up by another bill which related to the problems of the older workers. That bill went through with a companion measure and finally was passed with a budget of $193,000.

This Advisory Board was organized after the session ended and has practically just begun its work. Like the other commissions we have been discussing this afternoon, it is necessary to find suitable personnel; it is necessary to arrange and establish the program when the biennium practically had less than a year to go. Here we are in another session, and the amount which has been requested has been practically cut 50 percent.

The Department contends that this severe reduction from $193,000 to $100,000 means disaster for the senior citizens of Pennsylvania. This unrealistic reduction will prevent the Board from effectively carrying out its program to secure better integration of the aging and the aged in the Commonwealth's economic and social life. The reduction is particularly severe as the Advisory Board's original estimate was already based on minimum operating needs.

The Board was appointed last October 1956 with an appropriation of $100,000 to operate for the seven months. With the new appropriation of $100,000, the Board will now have to operate for 24 months. The drastic budget reduction will generate major changes that will greatly impair the effectiveness of the Advisory Board's operations. The reduced budget will eliminate one of the regional offices and permit the placing of only one staff member in each of the remaining offices. The small research unit will be completely eliminated while such important functions as developing and servicing of the local committees, the vital contacts with industrialists and necessary information and educational programs will be greatly curtailed.

I hope nobody in this audience is sixty-five years of age. As a matter of fact I hope nobody in this audience is fifty years of age, because if any of you should be so unfortunate as to lose your jobs as Members of the Assembly and go out on the market today to seek employment, you will find a great many places where you are seeking employment will tell you, "Your are too old. We don't need you. We can get two of your size. If you are 60 we can get two 30's." In other words, they can replace you; you are expendable. That is a sad situation today when 20 per cent of our population is over sixty-five years of age.

Mr. BRETH. Mr. Speaker, I am 15 feet away from the gentleman talking and I cannot hear him because of the overtones in the Hall.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The gentleman's point is well taken. The House will be in order. The gentleman is entitled to be heard.

Mr. TOLL. Mr. Speaker, and Members of the House, the overtones and the general indifference of the Members of the House go hand in hand with the indifference which is given to this problem to the problem of the aged. These people are the most neglected people in the Commonwealth. When it comes to children everyone loves little children, but when it come to the aged it is quite a problem to look after their needs and to take care of them.

This is one of the most important items in the entire bill, and if there is anything that you should do before you leave this House tonight, is to vote for the amendment to restore this bill to the measley $193,000 which is appropriated for two years for the study of a problem which affects 20 percent of our citizens.

This morning I used the terms, "It's a shame and a disgrace" with respect to another bill. Well, this is a greater shame and a greater disgrace that you would neglect the aged, the people who brought you here, the people who are expecting help from you by cutting down an appropriation which would give them economic security. I feel you ought to treat this with sincerity and with respect and with great attention.

I ask you to consider seriously this important amendment to increase the amount for this extremely important commission on a problem which is of great and vital importance to the Commonwealth. I ask you to support the amendment.

Mr. JOHNSON. Mr. Speaker, it is true the appropriation for the current biennium is $100,000 for this particular group. We note from the records they have spent during the biennium the sum of $12,324. I grant you that was only a four-month period. That is an average of $3,000 a month. Multiply that by 24 months and you will get $72,000, and the appropriation is $100,000.

As I understand it and what this appropriation does is as follows. This Advisory Board studies the problems of the older workers with a view of assisting them to meet economic conditions. It seems as though $100,000 is quite a lot of money just to be devoted to a study of this problem. Everybody is attacking the problem of the aged. The Social Security Board of the United States Government, of course, is addressing itself to the problem. Industry is doing the same thing, and as the gentleman stated the FEPC Board is doing it. It seems like in this day when we are running on a limited amount of money that $100,000 for now is enough money for this particular project.

I ask you to vote the amendments down.

Mr. TOLL. Mr. Speaker, when the FEPC bill went through, I had the pleasure of serving on the Conference Committee. When they insisted on eliminating age from the bill, this bill which would confine itself to the problems of the older workers, was put through. Fair Employment Practice refers to discrimination, and since age was removed this Commission would be devoted to the problems of the aged. It is not just to study them, it is to secure the important information which is necessary for employment. It is one of the most important projects we can ever undertake as I pointed out to you. One-fifth of our population is involved and for one-fifth of the population of Pennsylvania you are appropriating $100,000 for 24 months.

Just what kind of results do you expect to get? There are any number of bills here to which you give $100,000, like this recent study of the Pardons Board where you think nothing of it. Here you have a project which affects practically two million people and you are cutting it down to $100,000 when twice as much would scarcely be enough to do the trick.

I feel that you certainly ought to give this bill the attention which it deserves and vote for the amendments. If you are voting in any one case in the entire bill, you ought to vote for this one.

Mr. JOHNSON. Mr. Speaker, I might say in answer to the gentleman one of the reasons for our trying to live within $1.5 billion in the next two years, and not put on any additional taxes to the tune of $108 million, is to make the problem of the older person a lot easier, because as you know when we put on taxes that are of a broad based nature it does hit the people that are retired, those that are on relief, and so forth. So, we naturally are trying to do the right thing by the older person by holding down taxes in the State. I still feel that $100,000 is enough for this study.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the amendment?

So the question was determined in the negative and the amendment was not agreed to.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the section?

Messrs. LOPRESTI and CAPANO offered the following amendment:

Amend Section 2, page 29, line 14, by striking out "$10,000,000" and inserting "$15,000,000."

On the question,

Will the House agree to the amendment?

Mr. CAPANO. Mr. Speaker, this is the part of the appropriation which deals with the occupational disease.

The recommended budget is $15 million which has been cut down to $10 million under House Bill 1700. If House Bill 1700 is passed as it now stands approximately 6,000 totally disabled coal miners and other workers in Pennsylvania suffering from occupational diseases such as silicosis, asbestosis and lead poisoning will stop receiving payments on or about August 1, 1958, leaving about nine months of the 1957-1959 biennium in which they will be completely without resources. That means these people will have to have recourse to the Department of Public Assistance for those nine months, and I am wondering where the Department of Public Assistance is going to get the funds to take care of these people.

For 1957-1959, as of June 1, 1957, there will be 3785 cases in which the Commonwealth will be obligated to meet biweekly payments for the next biennium, plus additional cases at the rate of about 1800 per year. This will mean in the very beginning of the new biennium our weekly commitments will be in the neighborhood of $240,000. There will be in the coming biennium 26 periods —of each fiscal year, or 52 periods in the biennium of 1957-1959. For just the regular payments alone, and not considering paying or making initial payments on new cases in the new biennium, the regular payments will amount to $12,480,000.

The Department is receiving new claims at the rate of 200 per month. The initial payment in each case averages with interest $1,200, which means our outlay, not considering the regular payments aforementioned and in addition thereto, would amount to an expenditure of $240,000 per month. This amount multiplied by 24 months of the next biennium would mean an additional expenditure of $5,760,000 which is added to the regular expenditure of $12,480,000 or a grand total of $18,240,000 as a very minimum to cover the mandated expenses of actual occupational disease compensation.

All available figures show that $18,240,000 will be needed for the next biennium. However, the department will make every effort to live within the $15 million as recommended by the Governor in the budget.

On or about September 1, 1958 the contemplated appropriation of $10 million would be entirely spent, leaving the next nine month of the biennium of 1957-1959 without funds to pay initial claims or meet the biweekly commitments.

Last season we passed a bipartisan bill increasing compensation benefits by a considerable amount. We have obligated the state for the payment of these benefits. With House Bill 1700 you are taking away the money with which to pay the benefits that you have mandated the state to pay.

What kind of economy would we call this except false and fake economy? The tragic part of it all is that what you call economy is being extracted from the poor unfortunates who have given of their good health to promote the industrial wealth of this great nation. These are the same poor individuals who no longer are employable and who by House Bill No. 1700 are being compelled to apply for public assistance.

When these people no longer receive compensation benefits to which they are entitled and for which we are obligated, whom do you think they are going to blame for their plight? Whom do you think you are kidding? They will know who is imposing upon them these additional sufferings.

Therefore, I ask all of you to support these amendments.

Mr. JOHNSON. Mr. Speaker, this is, of course, an item in the appropriation bill but nobody likes to stand before a General Assembly and suggest that cuts be sustained.

The program for some reason is skyrocketing out of all proportion so far as the state's contribution is concerned. It started so that in 1953 there was only $1,000,025 spent on the project. For this current biennium it jumped to $8,100,000 which included a $1 million deficiency appropriation, which we provided for.

We are suggesting an appropriation of $10 million for this particular occupational disease coverage solely by the state.

I might say this, last session—and I will give this administration credit—this administration realized the state had embarked upon a program which would eventually cost the state a large sum of money. Mr. Capano says it will eventually go to $18 million, I believe he said. We on this side of the House thought we were really doing something last session when we fought your bill which would have, I believe, made industry pay 25 percent of this load, and the state would pay 75 percent. The theory was that the employers were involved in it and only just claims would be paid because there would be someone on the other side of the fence, you might say, scrutinizing these claims, ferreting out those that would not come within the purview of the Act so that those actually entitled to the money would get it.

And as I say, we got up here and fought the bill last session, and I have said this Session how foolish we were to have fought that bill which would have meant that now instead of your wanting all this money for this project, there would have been some control over its expenditure.

In this administration, Mr. Readinger, and I believe Allen Gibson, on our side, are on a bill now which will say that the contribution of industry shall be just ten percent, putting it on a 90-10 basis, in order to have that scrutiny of the fund.

So the theory of this appropriation is that this bill should move to get industry back in the picture again. Maybe by doing that there can be a sensible balance as far as this appropriation is concerned. That is the reason the appropriation is fixed at $10 million, in view of passing the Readinger-Gibson bill to control this matter in order to get the two sides to the controversy.

I believe all a person has to do is to file an application. I do not believe there is too much examination had, and the department is quite free with spending the taxpayers' money on this problem. As I say, do not think I am against the state sharing in occupational disease, but I think it is a bad situation where the state is the judge and the jury and paymaster and the lawyer and everybody, and there is nobody to look into the justness or correctness of a particular claim.

We hope that $10 million will do the job. If it does not do the job, we will have to come in for a deficiency appropriation just like you did this Session. You came in for a $1,100,000 deficiency on this bill. We think that $10 million for now should be enough for this program.

Mr. CAPANO. Mr. Speaker, I do not know where the gentleman gets his facts, but I personally have considerable experience in workmen's compensation. I have not only represented quite a few of the occupational disease clients but I have been present during hearings and I have yet to find where the state has been lenient. In fact, it is my feeling they are rather severe in their handling of these cases. They put the employee to considerable expense and trouble in trying to prove the claim when the claim is clear cut.

Of course there is possibly one unfortunate circumstance and that is when the entire load falls upon the state. Of course, where there is another employer involved and where there have been several places where they have been exposed to occupational disease, of course, then the load falls entirely on the state to pay.

Probably we need corrective measures. However, what are these people going to do in the meantime? Are you going to cut them off? Are you going to let them go to the hospital to get what is coming to them which we have mandated ourselves to pay and for which we have a moral and a legal obligation? We certainly are not going to tell those people after all these years of services and reduce them to the status where they have to go to relief in order to get what is coming to them.

Mr. TOLL. Mr. Speaker and Members of the House, this is another illustration of how the Majority Party improves upon the plight of the unfortunate miner or foundry worker who has dust in his lungs and who meets death just as surely as anybody else does as the result of age, but because of the dust meets death as a result of this disease.

If you people remember blind Gus Wachhaus from Schuylkill County who sat over there on the Republican side in 1951, and if it were not for the fact that Gus got up in 1951 on industrial diseases like this, silicosis, dust in the lungs, for the coal miners, we would not have been able to change the law which at that time we had to show solely the only cause of death was the dust. We cut the word "solely" out completely and we had a more liberal law because there was one Republican who was willing to stand up and join our forces to pass that bill in 1951.

We had tremendous trouble trying to show the Republican majority the plight of the poor person with dust in his lungs is such that if he has silicosis to any degree, he is a sure dead man. The dust is not like tuberculosis. It settles evenly. It stays with him as long as he lives.

In the last session the leaders of the Republican party made arrangements with our side so that the law would be liberalized so these poor unfortunate people would be helped, and now they are renegeing on their arrangement and cutting it down to a point where these poor people have to go on relief. It is positively indecent.

The SPEAKER (W. Stuart Helm) IN THE CHAIR

The SPEAKER. The Chair thanks the gentleman from Cambria, M. Lopresti, for presiding so ably during the absence of the Speaker.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the section?

Mr. SNIDER offered the following amendments:

Amend Section 2, page 9, line 18, by striking out all of said line and inserting "in Act of May 20, 1931 (P. L. 136)"

Amend Section 2, page 10, line 13, by striking out "$4,700,000" and inserting "$5,745,000"

Amend Section 2, page 12, line 11, by striking out "$20,000" and inserting "$30,000"

On the question,

Will the House agree to the amendments?

Mr. SNIDER. Mr. Speaker, ladies and gentlemen of the House, with your indulgence I shall endeavor to amend the appropriation for the Department of Agriculture which has been cut back from $5,745,000 to $4,700,000.

The Pennsylvania Department of Agriculture is established primarily as a law enforcement agency. It administers more than fifty acts provided by the General Assembly. These laws are mostly concerned with the protection of farmers and consumers in the foods and farm supplies they purchase, also with the health of livestock and poultry, the control of plant pests, the marketing of farm products and soil conservation.

The Department operates through four bureaus: Animal Industry, Foods and Chemistry, Markets, and Plant Industry. The Department is also the administrative agency responsible for operation for the Pennsylvania Farm Show and the soil conservation districts.

Although Pennsylvania ranks 32nd in land area we stand 14th among all the states in the annual value of farm products. Our farms represent an investment of approximately three billion dollars, and our farmers last year had a gross farm income of more than $742 million. Of this amount, 38 percent or $280 million was from dairy products and 25 percent or $185 million from poultry and eggs. Pennsylvania ranks second in the Nation in poultry income and fourth in value of dairy products.

Our farmers get 76 percent of all their gross farm income from all livestock and poultry, an important point to bear in mind as we consider the Department's budget situation as of today.

Agriculture budget reductions as they now stand in House Bill 1700 and in the separate House Bills represent a cut of $2 million. This is a cut of 25 percent, probably the heaviest cut given any department except Commerce and Mines.

Because the Department of Agriculture has been honest it is penalized by the opposition party. Agriculture has turned back unused funds, some of which were labeled for emergency use only, for outbreaks of animal diseases which fortunately did not occur but for which we must always be prepared such as foot and mouth disease and rabies.

It appears to be a well known fact that Agriculture Department salaries have been notoriously low in the past. To avoid difficulties in filling positions with competent persons such as veterinarians, milk sanitarians and other technically trained personnel, it was necessary to increase salary levels, and this could not be done until well along in the second year of the biennium.

The Governor's budget request for the Department of Agriculture totaled $8,500,000. The reduction now stands at $6,501,000. One of the heaviest cuts comes to $1,045,000 for salaries and expenses for the Department to carry out all of its functions for the next two years.

This reduction will severely handicap departmental services to farmers and consumers for the next two fiscal years, beginning June 1. The total allocation of $4,700,000 is the estimated amount used by the Department in the past two fiscal years.

As in other departments of state government for the first of the last two fiscal years, 1955 and 1956, there was no definite budget due to the 17-month session of the General Assembly.

Jobs and services went unfilled when the General Assembly could not arrive at a tax program and a budget. Most programs requested by farmers got started in the second year but now they will have to be cut back to 1955-1956 levels. There must be drastic reductions of established services in every bureau if the budget cut is allowed to stand.

Under the proposed $1,045,000 cut in the Department's general maintenance budget we can completely scrap advancements in such vital services as inspection of milk from the cow to the consumer's doorstep, checking unwholesome and adulterated foods, insanitary slaughtering establishment, plant pest control, egg-laying test, seed certification, dog law enforcement, miscellaneous livestock disease control, poultry and egg inspection and many other service and protective activities mandated by the General Assembly.

Farmers themselves have requested services of Department which will be denied them under House Bill 1700. In order that these wanton reductions might be corrected and some faith in government on the part of our farmers might be restored, I offer the following amendments to House Bill 1700.

I ask Members on both sides of the aisle to support these amendments.

Mr. JOHNSON. Mr. Speaker, the amendments offered by the gentleman from Fayette, Mr. Snider, seek to increase the budget for running the Department of Agriculture from $4.7 million back to $5.7 million as recommended in the Governor's budget.

This budgetary item in House Bill 1700 totalling $4.7

million compares with the estimated expenditures of the Department for the current biennium of $4.6 million. So, in effect they are receiving a $100,000 increase in their budget for the coming biennium over the current biennium. We have not included an expanded program in the amount of $168,000. It is true in this budget there are many new programs which have not been included throughout the budget.

With respect to the amendment encouraging agricultural exhibits in the budget, House Bill 1700 calls for $100,000 appropriation. Mr. Snider seeks to up it to $110,000. During 1955-1957 the expenditures were approximately $50,000, and it was felt that $100,000 was an adequate sum for this particular activity of the Agriculture Department.

A substantial cut has been made in the animal indemnity program. The Governor seeks $1,500,000, the budget item in House Bill 1700 for this figure is $990,000. This is brought about by the elimination of the swine brucellosis program which was to have cost $510,000. We were informed this program is impractical and covers very few of the growers of hogs, and there is no law in the statute books which would authorize this program. It has therefore been eliminated as impractical, and there are not enough veterinarians and that type of personnel to carry out the program.

The other appropriation that he seeks to raise is for the development and operation of livestock shows. We have allotted an appropriation of $50,000 for this item because $50,000 is an unspent balance of the 1955-1957 continuing appropriation which would be available. Added to the $50,000 totals $100,000 for this item.

The item for Junior Dairy Shows in the amount of $20,000 when compared with $9,400 expenditure during the current biennium, it is felt that $20,000 should be adequate.

We feel a $4.7 million appropriation is a pretty fair appropriation for the Department of Agriculture considering they spent $4.6 million during the current biennium.

We ask the House to vote down these amendments.

Mr. FARABAUGH. Mr. Speaker, I feel I should clarify some things here that might be a misrepresentation.

Some things have been said here in regard to the open livestock show. If you will remember last session there was only time for one show, and for that reason the amount of money appropriated was sufficient.

If you are going to have such a show—and I am not here to say whether or not you should have that show—we should have enough money to carry it on properly and not do it half way.

The main thing I wanted to speak about was one of the things our Majority Leader has brought out here. I have been disturbed for quite some time because of the opinion that the public seems to have about this brucellosis program. I have worked with it for a good many years, I believe about 25 years. I have seen it at the beginning and have worked with it as a member of the state committee up until this time. It is very gratifying to know the progress that has been made.

The reason I say I have been disturbed about the opinion of many people about this program is that it is looked at as a farmer's program. Many people do not realize the fact that there are many humans who contract that disease from the use of dairy products or handling livestock. There have been many people who lost their lives over the years, and I think if any of you look around your home somewhere, possibly you have seen somebody suffering with this same disease in humans. Therefore, I think it is fully as important to the consuming public that this disease be eradicated as it is important to the people who own the livestock.

I say we have gone a long way. The job in dairy cattle and breeding beef herds in this state is well on the way to being an accredited state, for which I am proud to have been able to help in that direction. But it only succeeded in working rapidly in certain parts of the state when health departments put pressure on milk dealers who said to their producers, "You must have clean herds. A lot of people got awake who had been opposing it for many years. Nevertheless, whatever the reason might be, it has been brought about.

I noticed the Majority Leader states that they want to eliminate this proposed swine test and eradication in swine. He did not go all of the way because it also includes goats. The program has been suggested by that group of people who cover the entire state, representing the state, had recommended that it be done. It might interest you to know that a lot of the hogs that go into slaughterhouses are affected with the same disease, and many people working in those slaughterhouses contract that disease as a result of working with them. It also may interest you to know what this disease is also in goats, and the germ that the goat carriers is the most susceptible to humans of any.

I think I understood the Majority Leader to say that it was impractical, and I believe he did say there were not enough veterinarians, but let me tell you this can be done by trained technicians if there are not enough veterinarians.

There are 603,000 hogs and pigs in this state according to the last census. There are 17,701 goats, according to the last census. Now that is enough. Those hogs and goats are enough scattered around over the country which allow the other livestock continually to spread it among them, saying nothing about the spread to humans, which keeps this brucellosis at a point we can not keep it clean. I do not think any of you want that.

With all of the cuts that I have seen here in this budget, as I said in the beginning, this is interpreted as being a farmer's program and people seem to think that only farmers may be interested, but I think you are all interested in the welfare of the people of our state. This is one of the things you should think about because I think if any of you look around you can point out somebody with undulant fever who has contracted it from some of these animals somewhere.

There are various other reasons I could bring out why this agricultural budget should not be cut. I am not going into too much detail on these other items.

I want to speak about this 4-H and FFA program. To some of you it may appear to be the same type of program as this open livestock show, but it is not. This appropriation of $30,000 that was asked for a two year year 4-H and FFA show is strictly an educational piece of work. That begins back home among the rank and file of farmers, mostly smaller farmers, who are attempting through the 4-H and FFA training to teach youngsters who are the potential farmers about the livestock. They are working with them throughout the year, teaching and working with them, how to produce, handle and raise better livestock.

The 4-H has been going on for many years; the FFA not so long. They have been carrying on a very worthwhile educational program among these people.

They are having roundups in local areas, I believe six different areas throughout the state. The money they have been getting to conduct those shows and programs for the most part had been raised by local contributions. I would not even suggest that we appropriate enough money, that that is not necessary, because it does arouse local interest. When you choose from that, which they did in the last year, only the best, only the blue ribbon animals that come together at the farm show building and have a real roundup, I want to tell you it is one of the finest pieces of educational work among children that I have ever seen. I have watched this work for a long time.

You have now cut that appropriation back to where it was last year. The hope was that when that was first initiated there would be enough money to give a fair, reasonable prize for those who go to the trouble of coming together for a large show, also a little money left to pay for transportation and possibly help a little in the local shows.

I did not know when you were acting on that bill that to start with the farm show building it takes $1,000 out of the total to start with, and the money is not sufficient to carry on the type of show we have. It is going to be a larger amount which will require the use of the large arena, which as you all probably know costs a lot more money.

I do not think we should go backward on a program like this. It is important. It is important to the youth. In the long run the consumer is the one who really benefits by the animals that produce better and produce more because they produce it cheaper.

I feel you have done some cutting here where it was very unjust. Let me give you an idea of the number of people this affects. In 1956, there were 1,517 animals showed in the local shows by these boys and girls.

The blue ribbon winners were the only ones that came to Harrisburg, and there were 388 animals present for the final show. It is estimated that will be larger this year. We expect in the neighborhood of 450 head. That represents about 15,000 animals that are owned by some boy or girl across this state. The amount of money that was asked for in my opinion was a very reasonable amount. When you spread it out, it gets pretty thin.

I sincerely hope that you see the folly in cutting these two programs. I am very sincere about my efforts on this 4-H and FFA because of the reason I have given you. I think you should all be interested in this brucellosis heredity which is so important not only to the farmer but to all the people within our Commonwealth.

So the question was determined in the negative and the amendments were not agreed to.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the section?

Mr. LOPRESTI offered the following amendment:

Amend Section 2, page 32, by inserting between lines 5 and 6 "Coal Research Board$680,000".

On the question,

Will the House agree to the amendment?

Mr. LOPRESTI. Mr. Speaker, we are now going to discuss mines and mining. Nature has blessed Pennsylvania with one of the finest resources that any state could ask for.

We have in this Commonwealth five billion tons of anthracite and thirty billion tons of bituminous coal which remain to be recovered. Over the years coal has been one of the basic industries of our Commonwealth. It was the fundamental mineral which kept us in the limelight, and ahead of most of the states of the Union in the manufacturing processes. Coal also over the years was used as the chief fuel for heating purposes. So long as it continued to be so used, our mining industry was thriving and was very active.

However, in recent years oil, gas and other sources of fuel for manufacturing power for operating our railroads for heating our homes and buildings have replaced many tons of coal from our mining industry. For many years commencing somewhere in the 1930's, up until last year we did considerable talking in Pennsylvania about reviving an industry which was fast becoming extinct, an industry which was sick. We could find no way of regaining its former glory but it was not until May of 1956 when Act 651 was finally approved that we decided to do something about the coal industry.

In that session of 1955, in the 1956 year, we setup and established a coal research board in the Department of Mines. This board is composed of operators from both the anthracite and the bituminous districts and is also composed of members of manual labor in the mines and members from the Department of Mining. It is a board which is familiar with all of the phases and with all the operations connected with the coal business.

When we set that board up, we also gave them an appropriation of $500,000 in order to start to initiate a program of research. The final purpose of the board was to find new ways of using coal, new products which would be made from coal, new ways and means of extracting that coal from the earth and also new ways of conserving that very vital mineral.

This $500,000 appropriation has now been contracted for. The money has been divided between the following institutions for research projects in the mining industry.

The Bituminous Coal Research Institute, which is a national organization working on this problem; the Penn State University, the Mellon Institute, Carnegie Tech, and the Anthracite Institute. Four hundred fifty thousand dollars of the $500,000 is now under contract which leaves a $50,000 sum for contingencies and for administration expenses if there are any necessary.

We have these programs set up, and these laboratories in the process of investigating, making research, to find out all of these things which I have previously mentioned, the by products that we can get, the various new things that we can put the coal to use in, the new ways of mining, and all the things to revive an industry which is very, very vital to some sections of our state, since we have set the machinery in motion, we find that this particular budget drops it entirely. No appropriation whatsoever is made for research. It is possible with the $500,000 contracts we will be able to continue on for a period into the next biennium. But this must be a continuing thing. Research is something which cannot stop and start at will. You have to gather together the scientists. You have to gather together the equipment. You have to gather together a certain basic information and skill, and once you have started into motion that particular type of research, you cannot just drop it and pick it up again as you would a hat, drop it and pick it up anytime that you want. Research is a continuing thing. If you discover one little thing today, it may net you an important discovery tomorrow, but if you drop that little important thing you have lost even the very beginning.

This particular appropriation is of vital importance to the mining industry of Pennsylvania. It is of vital importance to many in the counties of Pennsylvania because believe it or not, coal is not found in just one or two counties, but the coal deposits in Pennsylvania are found in two-thirds of the counties of the state of Pennsylvania.

This my friends is an investment in the future. It is an investment in the future of the mining industry, its operators, its employees and, yes, the very heart of the business of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

I believe this appropriation should be restored because as I said, once we have started into motion a research program, we will have wasted this $500,000 already spent if we drop it right now.

I am begging that this particular amount be restored so that we can give relief to that industry which waited for more than 20 years for this Commonwealth to rescue it from the doldrums of the depression.

Mr. JOHNSON. Mr. Speaker, I am sure no one here in this General Assembly wants to discontinue the research on coal. Someone said we were still in the coal bucket as far as research in the coal industry is concerned. That is probably true.

The reason why nothing is in this budget for coal research is that when the mines and mining people were before the appropriation committee, they had only allocated up to that time $110,500 of the $500,000 appropriation. In other words, we have gone all through the biennium and no contracts, hardly, have been let to anyone for research.

Finally, I believe Penn State did break in and did agree to take on a research program. Then a contract was made with Pennsylvania State University to carry on the research during the next two years. As we understand it, while granted up to May 1st, according to the Office of Administration, only $110,000 of the money had been committed, and you say that all except $50,000 has been committed. We are in a position with that research just as if you had received the money and you are now starting a new biennium with the research just beginning.

Therefore we feel that $500,000 is in effect an appropriation for this coming biennium, and surely at the end of this coming biennium when the research projects have been finished, this General Assembly will reinstate the appropriation and the research will continue. For now we feel the $500,000 is adequate and will do a splendid research job during the next two years.

We, therefore, ask you to vote down this amendment in the amount of $680,000.

Mr. LOPRESTI. Mr. Speaker, just as the money appropriated by the previous session was not foolishly spent but was actually held until such time as research could have properly been set up and until the proper people to make the investigation could be had to do the research work, any appropriation they would make now would also be held up until such time as found advantageous to use it.

However, the thing that I fear is that if we do not make an appropriation, any scientist who will be interested in this particular program will be tempted to walk out because in two years he probably does not have any thing to work with. He does not have that assurance that there will be a new contract entered into because no money has been appropriated.

The mere appropriation of money, as the gentlemen have been pointing out all afternoon, does not mean it is going to be spent because as my colleague from Cambria County has said, many of the items we are appropriating for the next biennium are moneys that have been saved in the previous biennium. So an appropriation does not necessarily mean this money is going to spent, but we do want to have the assurance. We want to have the assurance that once these particular contracts have been fulfilled, the Department of Mining or the Coal Research Board will have available money for continuing research.

Mr. KNECHT. Mr. Speaker, I think when the gentleman from Cambria states that the coal reasearch program is a late thing, he is not familiar with what has been done in coal research in the anthracite coal regions.

There has been the Anthracite Institute at Wilkes-Barre for many years. There is an anthracite laboratory which has been established and is supported by Federal funds at Schuylkill Haven. The United Mine Workers have made an appropriation in recent years of $1,750,000 which it has given to universities in Pennsylvania for coal research, and that is not a late thing.

In addition to that the anthracite mine workers have also established research laboratories at the University of Pennsylvania and Lehigh University, so that coal research is not a new thing. I think that you will all agree that research by private industry is more effective than research by government.

I am not trying to discourage this research program of the state but just want to emphasize that full research has been going on, and there is also in process of building at the anthracite laboratory at Schuylkill Haven by the Federal Government a research program on decindering coal, which is now being built to find new uses for anthracite in the way of gases and chemicals which have already been established in bituminous coal.

So that I say there has been a program of research, so far as anthracite coal is concerned, that has been effective for a number of years. It is going to be continued in the years to come, including that which has been established by the Federal Government in the anthracite laboratory at Schuylkill Haven, which is a laboratory that is quite extensive and is doing quite a tremendous job in coal research.

Mr. LOPRESTI. I do not want to belabor the point too much. I realize private industry has been doing research work. I am acquainted with that fact.

There is one thing that surprises me and that is the statement that industry will do better research work when actually they are having it done in most cases by the same people or by the same outfits that the state has entered into contracts with. In other words, the Commonwealth does not do this work by hiring men and putting them on the payroll. The research work here is done through established universities, established institutes, and all the Commonwealth does is to advance money under a contract to the particular institute, among them being the Anthracite Institute which does the investigating for us. So we will probably get just as good research work for our government dollars as industry gets for its private dollars, especially when you are using it in the same place.

Will the House agree to the amendment?

So the question was determined in the negative and the amendment was not agreed to.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the section?

Mr. LOPRESTI offered the following amendment:

Amend Section 2, page 31, line 18, by striking out "$1,100,000" and inserting "$3,000,000".

On the question,

Will the House agree to the amendment?

Mr. LOPRESTI. The present amendments seek to increase the appropriation for the sealing of abandoned coal mines.

The sealing of abandoned coal mines originated in the session of 1947, and at each session since that time there has been an appropriation. The appropriation to be made for the sealing of mines was $1,090,000. In other words, the first appropriation we made when the program just started out was only $10,000 less than the appropriation carried in the present bill.

In effect that $10,000 increase in the present bill is actually a decrease over the initial appropriation made for this type of work, because when you figure the cost and compare the cost of doing this work back in 1947 and 1949 with 1955, 1956, 1957 and 1958, there is a considerable increase in the cost.

So actually we are rolling back our mine sealing to 1947.

This mine sealing program takes form in a number of ways. First of all, it is the sealing of abandoned coal mines; second, it is dewatering abandoned coal mines; third, extinguishing fires in abandoned coal mines; and fourth, flushing of mine voids in abandoned coal mines where danger of subsidence may be imminent.

We can forget for a moment the first three, but the fourth one, flushing of mine voids in abandoned coal mines where danger of subsidence may be imminent, is very, very important. By saving a few dollars now, by cutting down on filling these voids, we actually endanger millions of dollars of real estate, millions of dollars of buildings, both public and private.

"This is a very important factor. We are asking that the particular item in the budget be increased to $300,000. This will have to continue for many years and will have to continue on an accelerated scale if we are going to save the value of millions and millions of dollars of people's buildings, homes and commercial establishments.

We should not retrench in this program of mine sealing. It also has another effect. We have in our Commonwealth many hundreds of miles of streams, streams at one time that were filled with fish and which today are acid. Fish cannot live in those streams. They are just wasted waters. In many cases they can be used for nothing. This sealing of mine makes it possible to restore these streams to clean, pure water and have them restocked once again with fish. It also saves that water resource for possible use by industry and others down further along the creek.

Also included in this particular activity is the filling and the backfilling of strip-mining areas. To those of you who have not been around the areas where strip-mining has taken place you may discover many times a stripper will leave an area, and it will fill up with water. A particular ditch may fill up and have a water to a height of maybe ten or twelve feet or eight feet. That water becomes acid and then contaminates the waters around. In addition to that it creates a hazard to the children living in the neighborhood, and many times the department is called upon to go back and eliminate those dangers. In my county on several occasions, we have had to come in and ask the inspector to come out and look at a dangerous situation. Within a short time they came around and filled that ditch and eliminated that danger.

This is an important function. It is important to our streams; it is important to our real estate; it is important to our mining industry and it is important to the fishermen of our Commonwealth. I believe that the cut should be restored and that $3 million should be continued to be appropriated for that purpose.

Mr. HOCKER. Mr. Speaker, I would ask the Members on our side to vote against these amendments because for the sealing of abandoned coal mines in the last biennium we appropriated $1,7000,000, and as of April 30, there was $493,446 left in that fund. So we feel as though they are moving along as rapidly as they can, and to put much more money in there would not be a wise deal at this time.

They have expended $1,088,400 and we are giving them $1,100,000 for this particular job. We on the Appropriations Committee, through our hearings, feel that is ample money for them to carry on their program and probably increase it a little bit in the next biennium.

Mr. LOPRESTI. Mr. Speaker, as of today when I received my figures from the Department of Mines and Mining, all but $94 of this money has been contracted for and is expended.

I might point out to the House that under the present Department of Mines and Mining for the first time all of these contracts were let after advertising in the newspapers of general circulation in the area, and every contract was let to the lowest responsible bidder. As of today all but $94 of that particular appropriation has been contracted for, as I say, all as a result of advertising for bids and then awarding the contracts to lowest bidders.

There again the department was late in getting started. We must always recognize the fact that we were in session for 17 months the last session, and it was impossible for these departments to go ahead and do the thing that they were supposed to do. Certainly you cannot seal mines and do this type of work during the winter. So they have spent that time in advertising and preparing the particular place where they were going to work. Once they had it ready, the money does not last long when you start making contracts.

Mr. HOCKER. Mr. Speaker, the only reply I can give to Mr. Lopresti is that these figures that we have here from the office of administration are on an accrual basis and the figures are as I told you as of April 30. If they expended $493,000 in the last month, the only thing I can say, Mr. Speaker, is they were sure working over time.

Mr. LOPRESTI. Mr. Speaker, I do not know whether the gentleman understands me or not.

I did not say they spent $490,000, but they have entered into contracts which will commit them to pay that amount when the work is finished. It may take six months to have this work finished. It may take a year. I do not know how long the contracts extend, but the fact is that all of our money appropriated for the last biennium is now contracted for, and you cannot make any future plans unless you get some new money. We cannot use that same money for the new contracts any more.

Amend Sec. 2, page 32, by inserting between lines 5 and 6 The work of the Coal Research Board as provided in section 1906 of The Administrative Code of 1929 * * * 680,000

On the question,

Will the House agree to the amendments.

Mr. JIM. Mr. Speaker and Members of the House, I kindly ask for your attention. I have a reason why I can ask that question. Since the first day we went into Session here, up until today, I have sat in my seat, listened to debate and statements from both sides of the House and I never left my seat during any debate, so

I would please ask for your attention for a few words on these amendments and some figures that I want to present to the Members of the House.

If there is an industry that needs help to me it is to the Department of Mines and Mineral Industries. The reason I am going over these pages is that the speaker before me took away the biggest part of my speech, that is my friend, Bill Lopresti from Cambria County, so therefore I will have to cut a lot of things out.

There is a great difference between House Bill 1700 and the request by the Department of Mines and recommended in the budget by our Governor. The Department of Mines and Mineral Industries appropriation requested for 1957-1959 biennium was $5,900,000. The deductions by House Bill 1700 bring it to $3,170,000. The amount shown in House Bill 1700 is $2,730,000, the heaviest cut, I believe, any place in the Capitol. The cut comes to 53.7 percent.

I have a telegram that came from my District, from the township where I was born and spent the biggest part of my life. I would like to read it and have it inserted in the record. This is dated May 27th, 1957.

Urge you work to defeat proposal cutting budget for the Department of Mine and Mineral Industries. Proper inspection of mines will be impossible. Accident will increase. Research work will be hindered.

It is signed by John Rakaczky, Secretary, United Mine Workers of America, Local Union No. 5758, Pleasant Unity, Pennsylvania.

Let us help an industry and a Department which really needs our support.

Vote for these amendments.

Mr. JOHNSON. Mr. Speaker, I will be very short with my reply. I would just like to say that during this current biennium the Department of Mines and Mineral Industries spent $2,492,300. The budget we are presenting in House Bill 1700 for the next biennium is $2,730,000; or approximately $235,000 increase to the Department for the coming biennium over the current biennium.

The $1,240,000 in House Bill 1700 for salaries and expenses compares with an expenditure of $1,170,000 during this current biennium. So we are increasing that appropriation by some $70,000.

Mr. LOVETT. Mr. Speaker, all I have to say is I think we should be fair. The Majority Floor Leader and his assistant over there seems to get a great kick out of getting up there and telling us how much money the Department spent and how much money they had left over after the last appropriations. We still hear many times the cause of all this is the fact that during the last session of the Legislature we spent almost the entire time trying to get through tax programs, a decent tax program, in Pennsylvania where all people would be taxed and pay their fair equal share. These Departments sat, and you might say "held the bucket" until we finally decided—what we were going to do.

I say to you again you must be fair in this situation and give to those Departments additional revenue so they can carry on the work that they now have been set up to do. I think we should support these amendments, especially regarding the Department of Mines, so that we can clean up some of the streams in Pennsylvania and do some of the work that was sadly neglected over the years.

Mr. READINGER. Mr. Speaker, I am not going to speak on the bill, but I do want to raise a matter which has come to my attention in the last few minutes about the voting tonight. When I suggested sometime ago that we take fast roll calls and ask those in the affirmative to stand to be counted, I expected that any person, be he Republican or Democrat, would stand to be counted. I am now informed there are certain persons who wanted to be put on the affirmative roll who did not stand, but had notified the Clerk, or somebody, so that they got on the affirmative roll.

I would like the Chair to instruct the clerks that only those on either side of this House who are here and stand be recorded on the affirmative roll.

The yeas and nays were required by Messrs. JIM and LOVETT and were as follows:

In addition to this amount, moneys received from the United States Government or from any other source as contributions for this program shall be paid into the General Fund and credited to this appropriation.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the amendments?

Mr. PETROSKY. Mr. Speaker, Members of the House, since the amendments that I have offered are ones that are of such a tremendous impact upon every nook and cranny of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, they will necessitate a detailed explanation as concerns the facts and figures of the budget concerning the Welfare Department that I have procured and compared it to the budgeted setup in House Bill 1700 as written by the House Appropriations Committee.

At the outset, Mr. Speaker, I would like to correct a statement or two that has been made in reference to some of the Welfare projects. I find that the gentleman from McKean, Mr. Johnson, has stated the additional facilities that are being provided such as at White Haven, Cannonsburg, Ebensburg and the Philadelphia State Hospital, were delayed from January until this date. The final approval by the General State Authority for those facilities was made on February 6th, 1957. And, of course, the architects endeavored to make a decision together with the Department on the best possible, most feasible and efficient building to be built for the type of institution they were set up for.

There was a statement just recently released by the Chairman of the House Appropriations Committee which each Member of this House received a copy. One of the captions on this statement was, "It speaks for itself." In commenting upon the appropriations set up for the Harrisburg State Hospital, they went on to say that at the time of making up the Governor's Budget, the departments were asked to get their figures in at a particular date, and various departments had to submit figures within the general appropriation that was supposed to be allocated to that particular department, in this instance an appropriation of $221 million. The breakdown for each institution was hurried in order for the budget to go to print and the administrators of those institutions were advised that there would be a revision of the individual appropriations for said institutions. The gentleman who is Chairman of the Committee released the statement asking why the administrator, a Dr. Eaton, the Superintendent of the Harrisburg State Hospital, failed to protest against the Republican recommendation of $7,272,000 for his institution, why he protested against that recommendation when he never publicly uttered a word of complaint against Governor Leader's recommendation of $6,596,686.

The revised budget for this institution, by the Governor's office, is $7,592,000 and the doctor knew this revision was going to be made. I present to this House figures to show that there is no $7,272,000 appropriated in House Bill 1700 for the Harrisburg State Hospital. The amount appropriated, Mr. Speaker, is $5,414,597. When we add to that figure the amount that the Appropriations Committee assumes will be collected—and I think this collection item was very well explained to you by the gentleman from Cambria, Mr. Andrews, when he stated that you cannot plan the efficient, business-like operation of a hospital on if and when you make collections from the billing of patients' care. The proper figures that we must use, and I will give you the figure of collection for a 23-month period for the Harrisburg State Hospital, was $1,151,975. The additional amount on a pro-rated basis will bring in an additional $50,000 if these collections are followed through until the end of the biennium. Therefore, the collections from June 1st, 1955 to April 30th of 1957, totaling $1,151,975, together with the $50,000 allocated for the last month of the biennium would mean that that hospital will receive in the neighborhood of, under Bill 1700, a total of $6,600,000 plus a few thousand dollars.

How do I arrive at this figure? Mr. Speaker, the entirety of the collection system as it is written in House Bill 1700 and the figures given out by the Appropriations Committee as to the amount of the collections are not true. The statements attributed to the Secretary of Welfare were taken out of the general statement made, because the collections of in the neighborhood of $27 million was contingent upon other factors which were expressly stated to the committee by the Secretary at the time.

Let us look and see what collection there will be.

In the event that the entirety of the budget requests under the Governor's budget would have been given to the Department of Welfare, then we could have said that the collection will be higher. They could have been higher by an endeavor to collect more nearly at actual costs than we have had under previous experiences.

We could also have used a better collection procedure in the administration of collections by the Department of Welfare. We must recognize too that the cost of that operation would be $1,500,000. The collections being based upon a full appropriation such as contained in the Governor's budget would have allowed the continuation of the intensive treatments that we have had since the program was initiated in August of 1956 and which is running approximately nine months.

Therefore, the cost per day, the billing patient care per day, would stand at $4. However, under the monetary allowances to operate the Welfare Department and its institutions contained in House Bill No. 1700, we find that we return to the old custodial care for a possible billing of in the neighborhood of $2.80 per patient.

You must reconcile those figures. You cannot bill at $4 a day if you are not administering that type of treatment, and you certainly cannot administer that type of treatment if you do not have the funds for a 24-month period of time in which to do so.

There have been many other statements made in reference to the cuts in welfare, and I have broken down several. I say to the Members here in the House that I can break down with the material that I have at hand each and every hospital that is concerned.

Let us take the statement that has been made that the allocations under House Bill No. 1700 are larger than the 1955-1957 allocation.

Let us take Embreeville. Today in House Bill 1700 the Appropriations Committee recommends $2,493,631. The 23-month collection for Embreeville—and this is actual and not estimated—has been $346,890. Projecting that for the additional month would be an additional $15,000, giving you a lump sum total of $2,855,521 as contained in House Bill No. 1700 for every bill.

In the 1955-1957 allocation by the Legislature it was $3,130,000 for Embreeville, leaving then $274,479 short of the lesser amount for the 1957-1959 biennium as there was in the 1955-1957 biennium.

Let us take a cross section of these hospitals. Here is Woodville in the western part of the state. The Legislature under the Appropriations Committee recommends under House Bill 1700, $6,351,204. Actual collections in 23 months $910,231. Projecting the additional month, you get an additional $40,000. That gives you a total of $7,301,435. Your 1955-1957 allocation in the last biennium by the Legislature was $7,804,000. So you actually have a lesser amount appropriated by $502,565.

Yesterday there was placed in the mail boxes, and then hurriedly withdrawn when a protest was registered by an individual of the House, a photostatic copy of the Pittsburgh Post Gazette article of Monday entitled, "Battle Grows Hot Over State Budget."

They refer to some figures there too, and I say to the membership of the other side of the House, the figures they have projected to you and have given to you on the collections are erroneous when they are set up in conformity with the kind of money being spent for the Welfare Department in House Bill No. 1700.

I think it is incumbent upon you for your medical and surgical hospitals, for your mental hospitals and any other institutions that you have, and I so charge that you have the duty and I believe that the movement must come from the Republican side of the House because whenever we make a move on this side, you stand as a solid block against any particular overture that we would like to make.

I believe one of you can get up and resolve this House into a committee as of the whole to conduct a public hearing on this and arrive at the right figures so that you can have an answer for those of your people whom you are going to have to answer to in reference to the individual hospitals whether they be medical and surgical, mental or the schools we have for the mentally and physically handicapped children.

Our figures will show you and a public hearing will show you that the figures and the amounts appropriated to those hospitals as released by the Appropriations Committee are in error when they are applied to the strict rule of the amount of money that you are allocating in House Bill No. 1700.

I so charge that it is your duty to request that public hearing so that we can proceed upon this most human program that has ever been instituted and one that should be continued. If we curtail this operation certainly we who do the curtailing answer for it.

A further figure which was projected in reference to Dixmont Hospital in western Pennsylvania indicated that the collections from the patients would amount to $332,952. They were all captioned by the statement based on Governor Leader's overall estimate.

The figures of the Governor and Secretary Shapiro were based upon the full allotment in the appropriations contained in the Governor's budget for the department.

I want to go to another hospital. Take the Allentown hospital. The Allentown hospital by the proposal in House Bill 1700 allocates $4,317,263. The actual collections for that hospital in the 23 months were $764,734, projecting the additional month is $33,000 to fill the biennium in, giving them a grand total of $5,114,997 providing all those collections are made.

The 1955-1957 allocation for that hospital was $5,578,000, leaving a deficit or a smaller amount being appropriated at this time of $463,003.

I do not believe I should take the time of the House any further in pointing out the figures as they have been related to in the releases by the Chairman of the Appropriations Committee nor by newspapers for I believe you can readily understand why the collections would be smaller than those overall figure estimates given by the Governor's office and Secretary of Welfare's office. I will say this, briefly, that the full amount of the patient care is not contained in House Bill No. 1700, so therefore, you will not be able to bill patient care of $4, rather you must go back to the custodial care figure of $2.90 for billing of patient care. The consequence is it is impossible to reach a $27 million collection rate such as been released by the Appropriations Committee.

Further, what is the actual amount recommended by the Joint Appropriations Committee? The actual amount of the cut from the Governor's budget recommendation which was roughly $221 million is $54,870,291. Specifically what are the areas and the amounts of these cuts?

We present three different figures, the amount recommended by the Governor's budget, the amount proposed by the Appropriations Committee and the difference between the two.

Regarding medical and surgical hospitals, the original appropriation requests in the Governor's budget, $15,-439,663. The amount contained in House Bill 1700 specifically appropriates $10,721,043, the difference being $4,-718,620. The mental hospitals. The original request in the Governor's budget $123,197,327. The Appropriations Committee budget proposed in House Hill 1700, $92,657,891, a difference of $30,539,436.

Mentally deficient schools. The original request in the Governor's budget $30,129,000. Appropriations Committee proposal $23,771,300, a difference of $6,670,977.

The Department staff and its various programs. The Governor's budget requests $20,501,711. The appropriations Committee proposed in House Bill 1700, $7,269,985, a difference of $12,393,312. What is the explanation of the difference in the amounts of the cut as announced by the committee and as shown in these figures as the original requests. The answer is found in House Bill 1700 on pages 56 to 62, which states that in addition to the amounts specifically appropriated to the three hospital groups, general, mental and training schools, all the income and all the moneys collected at the several institutions and paid in the General Fund of the State Treasury under existing laws are hereby appropriated out of the General Fund to the several institutions for the same purpose, each institution to receive from such appropriation the exact amount which was collected at said institution during said fiscal year.

The appropriation committee then estimated the collections from these institutions would amount to approximately $27 million. Subtracting that from the $54 million-plus which they cut from the budget, they claim the reduction amounts to only $27 million.

In the first place on the basis of present collections from these institutions as I related to them as concerns several individual institutions, the more nearly correct figure will not exceed $20 million. Another factor is that to collect this amount of estimated fees the hospitals would need to employ additional personnel for collections, bookkeeping, etc., and services now rendered by the Department of Revenue and which would cost an additional $1,500,000 in administration of the Department of Welfare.

What this actually amounts to is that it places upon the patient and his family the burden of making up the deficit. Meanwhile budgeting and allocation of funds cannot be undertaken on the basis of an estimate of net income received from patients after charging off cost of collection.

Mr. Speaker, I am sure if a Member of the House representing each and every one of these areas in which our hospitals are located, either one of them, and who would wish the accurate information that we have based on actual experience, I have the information here.

I do not believe it is proper for me to take up the time of the Members of this House to give you this actual information unless you would so specifically request me to do so by interrogation and waiting to do so. I will give you that information and show you the actual effect of this appropriation proposal that is before us and its impact upon the hospital located in your particular legislative district.

You have had the opportunity to avail yourself to this information and let it be known in the record. I will hurriedly run down through the revised Governor's budget requests for the various institutions and I will not recite the figures which are the Appropriation Committee proposals because you have them before you in House Bill 1700.

The revised figure of the Governor's budget request regarding mental hospitals are as follows:

Allentown	$5,608,000
Clarks Summit	4,130,000
Danville	7,592,000
Dixmont	2,872,000
Embreeville	3,139,000
Farview	4,137,000
Harrisburg	7,592,000
Holidaysburg	2,478,000
Mayview	9,651,000
Norristown	13,300,000
Philadelphia	18,559,500
Retreat	3,902,000
Somerset	2,372,000
Torrance	8,891,000
Warren	9,048,000
Wernersville	5,318,000
Woodville	8,170,000
Eastern Pennsylvania Psychiatric Institute	6,374,662

The total in the Governor's budget for the mental hospitals is, as I related before, $123,134,162 as against the committee's proposal of $92,657,891.

Now we come to the institutions for the mentally defective and the epileptic. The Governor's budget contains for the Ebensburg State School, $584,000 as against $300,-000 the Appropriations Committee requests.

Laurelton State Village. The Governor's budget, $3,-025,000; the Appropriations Committee, $2,981,000.

Pennhurst State School, $11,192,000 under the Governor's budget; the proposal by the Appropriations Committee in House Bill 1700, $8,003,006.

Polk State School, the proposal in the revised Governor's budget is now $9,025,000 as against the proposal in House Bill 1700 by Appropriations Committee of $7,100,267.

Selinsgrove State School. The proposal in the revised Governor's budget is $5,903,000 as against $5,387,027 in the Committee's proposal.

Let us go to the general hospitals. I am certain that in these medical and surgical hospitals many of the individual members representing those areas would like to know the figures in the revised Governor's budget and the figures, which of course you know, proposed in House Bill 1700.

The Governor's budget for Ashland, $1,600,000. Blossburg, $1,220,000. Coaldale—and here is an interesting insight. You are now changing the setup. We have the same Appropriations Committee Chairman from 1943 until the 1955 session. You are changing the setup specifically stating these appropriations up to each individual hospital.

I wonder just what we would have done had that be so when the entire boiler plant went out of commission at Coaldale and it necessitated an emergency capital outlay of $325,000 to rectify that emergency of the boiler project. The way you are appropriating this money, how could they rectify such an emergency in any one of these institutions in the event that it would occur since they have not access to any other fund except the one you specifically earmark for them. In the event that fund should drop down to a dangerous level of $100,000 and you had an emergency arise for $325,000, what would you do? Where would you take the patients? What transfers would you make and how could you administer an efficient program for a hospital if such an occasion occurs.

They have changed the concept of making these allocations. You have taken it away from the procedure we had before, and they are narrowing it down to an exact appropriation, one that is exact in a low amount, and then you have the contingency of the possible collections added to it. You just cannot do business that way.

Coaldale has $1,434,000 under the Governor's budget; Connellsville, $1,540,000; Hazleton, $2,198,000; Locust Mountain, $840,000; Nanticoke, $1,170,663; Philipsburg, $1,587,000; Scranton, $2,610,000; Shamokin, $1,240,000; Pennsylvania Training School at Morganza, the revised Governor's budget and the Appropriations Committee are identical. I certainly cannot see what barometer, what yardstick, you ever used to concoct the figures that I think are so absolutely erroneous that when the bill comes up for final passage tomorrow, believe me, I do not believe I will be able to swallow it and will possibly have to vote against the entire bill for appropriations because the instrument that is before us I certainly believe has been a politically conceived monstrosity.

The financial proposals would make all the mental institutions custodial prison-like places with little or no prospects of treatment or rehabilitation.

A severe cut has been made in the administration and operation of all departmental non-institutional programs, and grants (with Federal funds) to mental health clinics.

The Governor's budget lists these operations and recommends in the amendments $5,590,100 and the Appropriations Committee proposes $3,387,160. Appropriations Committee did not list dollar values for different functions within this total. This all means elimination of most departmental programs. Of critical importance is the fact that there is no amount designated for 24 community mental health clinics whose state and federal expenditures on a reimbursement basis would total about $740,000 for the 1955-1957 biennium.

Further, ten new community clinics are in the process of being established. $1,146,961 was the Governor's budget amount for these and related community centered services. Operation of other programs not included in this total cannot be successfully undertaken without sufficient administrative, field and regional staff services.

Among these other programs is such important services as the following: Children's Evaluation Centers in Philadelphia, Morganza and Selinsgrove. The amount needed is $722,758 and the amount proposed is $517,728.

Day-Care programs for children of migrant workers was cut from $50,000 to $8,000. Funds for care of mentally defective children prior to admission to state-owned institutions was cut from $1 million to $700,000, a sum not sufficient for the department to fulfill its statutory obligations. Reimbursement for treatment and care of mentally ill persons in private institutions and agencies was reduced from $2,360,000 to a relatively inoperable figure of $1,600,000.

The whole child welfare program is proposed to be eliminated as far as state funds are concerned, except for what would be most limited and superficial fulfillment of the statutory mandate regarding Departmental services to about 500 children's agencies and institutions. Included are:

One million dollars to be used with about $524,000 Federal funds for reimbursement to counties for care of children. This is a most tragic and disastrous program elimination. Counties are not able to fully finance the adequate care necessary for troubled and deprived children, but County Commissioners in 55 of the counties are now in a financial participating role with the state to maintain and develop programs for the well being of these children. Fifty-five of the 57 counties have accepted this program and are moving along with it and want this program to continue.

The whole Youth Rehabilitation Service Program was eliminated along with forestry camp projects. These were vital community center programs. This amount totaled $1,415,532.

Elimination of the Research and Training Program $1 million is a severe threat to the quality of future service.

We submit at this time to the membership of the House the facts of the professional personnel requirements for state mental hospitals. The mental hospital in Allentown with a population in January of 1957 of 1,890 patients in September 18, 1955 there were eight physicians at this hospital. In January of 1957 there were 13 physicians in this hospital. The American Psychiatric Association minimum standards for this size hospital is 26 physicians, leaving a deficit of 13.

I am relating these figures, Mr. Speaker, to the elimination of the Research and Training Program, a program which will project into the future the need for additional aid to give the proper treatment necessary for the patients in these hospitals. A deficit of 13 exists in the Allentown Hospital. Psychologists in May of 1955. In the Allentown Hospital, none; January of 1957, five. The quota, the minimum standards of the American Psychiatric Association is five. There is no deficit today in this department. Nurses, the same hospital, May of 1955 there were 60; in January of 1957 there were 80. The minimum standard under all the known rules of experience, 126, a deficit of 46.

I understand there is a time limit concerning this. Gentlemen I am saying this to you now, this is too important to narrow down into a time limit. We have to talk this through. If you on the other side have not been given these facts and figures, you ought to have them. There is no better way to do it than to resolve that here this evening yourselves.

I want to continue. The State Hospital in Allentown, the Mental Hospital in Allentown, Social workers in May of 1955, one; January of 1957, nine. The minimum standard under the American Psychiatric Association recommendations, 22; a deficit of 13. Patients' activities May of 1955, electro therapists, May of 1955 there were 10; January of 1957, there were 22. The minimum standard of Psychiatric Association is 30, leaving a deficit of eight.

Aides in these hospitals, May of 1955, there were 230; January of 1957, there were 233.

Now mind you, we have supplemented these forces after the operation of this program for a short period of about four or five months, and to project it into the future, you know what the demand is to render that service to the people of our Commonwealth.

January 1956, 233 is the quota; minimum standard in this field, 378, leaving a deficit of 145.

I know there are many Members who would want to know how these figures compare with their own individual hospitals. I have them here. If you want, I can give them to you. Certainly if I represented a district, I would want to know what is going on there.

The SPEAKER. Has the gentleman concluded his remarks?

Mr. PETROSKI. I have not, Mr. Speaker.

There is sufficient data and material that concerns this $221 million appropriation and its terrific adverse impact as proposed in House Bill 1700 upon the people of the Commonwealth that there is sufficient material here for a one-week discussion of solid facts and figures which are a true evaluation of the picture as it confronts the Commonwealth today. I am not going to read these messages and communications from the various hospital institutions, the Superintendents and the administrators, but I would want the Members to follow my remarks on this particular amendment. I present them to the Chief Clerk for the inclusion in the record under the remarks on this amendment.

The SPEAKER. Without objection, the remarks will be spread upon the record.

(For messages and communications see Legislative Journal of May 29, 1957).

Mr. PETROSKY. Mr. Speaker, I will now move into the amendments. As I say, I do not think this should be hurried along. There is only one way this thing can be held up to a point where we can get the information before the Members of the House, all the true data on the facts and the material, and that is for the other side to move. I cannot move because I know I will be blocked immediately.

I am going to go into the amendments at this time and I refer to the amendments that concern the payment of salaries and wages and compensation of employees for the payment of general expenses, tuition charges, expenses in connection therewith necessary for the mental health services. Establishment and operation of welfare evaluations centers for diagnosis, classification of mentally retarded, mentally ill or emotionally disturbed children having behavior problems for research and training. Desire to train, solicit qualified personnel in colleges and universities and within the Department of Welfare, deportation expenses for the payment of all expenses of the departments in reporting to the states and residents, persons committed to state mental institutions in their home residence and other states in the sum of $1,737,758. I would so want a vote on that amendment, Mr. Speaker.

I have just spoken on that amendment and it is clear and then I have other material on the other amendments that are contained in this.

The SPEAKER. Did the gentleman state he wants a vote on the one amendment that he has discussed?

Mr. PETROSKY. That is correct.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman state which amendment he has been discussing?

Mr. PETROSKY. Mr. Speaker, I just got through discussing that amendment. I have discussed in part some of the other amendments, but since I have just concluded my discussion on the Training Amendment in particular, I would like to vote on that amendment at this time.

The SPEAKER. Would the gentleman state whether it is the amendment to Section 2, page 56, line 18, or page 62, line 19?

Mr. PETROSKY. It is within those lines and within those pages.

The SPEAKER. The question will be on the amendment, page 56, line 18 to page 62, line 19 inclusive.

Mr. PETROSKY. That would be taking in the entirety of the amendment, Mr. Speaker.

The SPEAKER. The Chair only has the one amendment offered at this time.

Mr. PETROSKY. Well, I would like a vote on each item in these amendments. Is that not possible under the rules of the House?

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Berks, Mr. Readinger, come to the desk.

Mr. PETROSKY. Mr. Speaker! If not, I can conclude my talk on all the other amendments and then take the vote on the entirety of the amendments if you would so choose.

The SPEAKER. The Chair would suggest that should be the procedure.

Mr. PETROSKY. It will take at least two more hours, is that all right?

The SPEAKER. For the information of the gentleman, we shall conclude today's operations at 11:00 o'clock.

Mr. PETROSKY. Are we going to shut off debate at 11:00 o'clock, Mr. Speaker?

The SPEAKER. The conclusion of the day's business will be at 11:00 o'clock.

Mr. PETROSKY. Well, Mr. Speaker, will we be able to offer amendments tomorrow in the event you are going to shut debate off today?

The SPEAKER. The Chair understands there will unanimous consent given for the consideration of amendments on third reading.

Mr. PETROSKY. There will be unanimous consent given?

The SPEAKER. The Chair was informed the gentleman from Westmoreland would require 30 minutes for his discussion and therefore permitted the discussion to start. Had the Chair known it was going to take so long, he would not have allowed this particular amendment to have been discussed tonight.

Mr. PETROSKY. Mr. Speaker, I feel these amendments are so important, and I know I cannot end up with the entirety of the material I have on hand by that time. So, if it would be the wish of the Minority Leader, I would withdraw the amendments, and discuss them tomorrow and have him present other amendments in the time that is allotted by this House tonight. I thought we were able to go on into the wee hours of the morning with this discussion. It is the only reason I took the floor.

The SPEAKER. The Chair understands it will be impossible to finish this discussion tonight. Therefore, the gentleman will be recognized on third reading tomorrow.

Mr. PETROSKY. That is in accordance with the wishes of the Minority Leader.

The SPEAKER. That is the wish of the Minority Leader.

Will the gentleman withdraw his amendments?

AMENDMENTS WITHDRAWN

Mr. PETROSKY. Mr. Speaker, I will withdraw the amendments for this evening and resume discussion of these amendments tomorrow on third reading.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman from Westmoreland withdraws his amendments.

The second to tenth sections inclusive and title were separately read and agreed to.

And said bill having been read at length the second time and agreed to,

Ordered, To be transcribed for third reading.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the second reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1718, entitled:

An Act making an appropriation to the Department of Commerce for housing and redevelopment assistance.

And said bill having been read at length the second time and agreed to.

Ordered, To be transcribed for third reading.

The SPEAKER. For what purpose does the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Schwartz, rise?

Mr. SCHWARTZ. To ask whether or not we will be able to make amendments to that bill on third reading tomorrow.

The SPEAKER. That is the understanding.

BILLS PASSED OVER

The SPEAKER. Without objection, the Chair will pass over all remaining bills on today's calendar. The Chair hears none.

FORMER MEMBER WELCOMED

The SPEAKER. Before the gentleman leaves the Hall of the House, the Chair would like to welcome a former Member of the House, the gentleman from Beaver, Mr. Eugene A. Caputo

The Chair welcomes the gentleman and thanks him for being so patient.

I have been here a great many years and I must say I do not remember and day when we have had as much sensible, restrained debate as we have had today. It seems like a terrific amount of listening we have been doing and it was a pleasure for me to see our Democrats in action today.

I am proud of every one of them and I also wish to thank them for giving me a good day's rest.

The SPEAKER. The Chair would also compliment the Members of the House for their patience and their attentiveness. It has been a long, hard day and I am sure we can all welcome a good night's rest.

Almighty God, our Heavenly Father, as we stand at the threshold of Memorial Day, we pray that Thou wilt help us to think back to the lives of those who lived before us and lived in a way that we could live better than they did, whether they were our parents, our teachers, our leaders or those who gave their all in the battles of our Country. SENATE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION

RECALLING SENATE BILL No. 676 FROM THE GOVERNOR

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to offer a resolution at this time.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

Mr. DENT offered the following resolution which was twice read as follows:

In the Senate, May 29, 1957.

Resolved (if the House of Representatives concur), that Senate Bill No. 676, Printer's No. 160, entitled "A supplement to the act of May 2, 1945 (P. L. 382) entitled 'An act providing for the incorporation as bodies corporate and politic of "Authorities" for municipalities counties and townships prescribing the rights powers and duties of such Authorities heretofore or hereafter incorporated authorizing such Authorities to acquire construct improve maintain and operate projects and to borrow money and issue bonds therefor providing for the payment of such bonds and prescribing the rights of the holders thereof conferring the right of eminent domain on such Authorities authorizing such Authorities to enter into contracts with and to accept grants from the Federal Government or any agency thereof and conferring exclusive jurisdiction on certain courts over rates' granting certain powers to Authorities organized by a county or counties and engaged solely in the construction or acquisition and operation of water works water supply works or water distribution systems with respect to the life of such Authorities the issuance of bonds the power of eminent domain the laying of mains the relocation and vacation of roads the abatement of certain nuisances the supplying of water to the public conferring additional powers on the Secretary of Highways municipalities the courts of quarter sessions and courts of common pleas with respect to such Authorities and removing jurisdiction of the Public Utility Commission over certain contracts by such Authorities," be recalled from the Governor for the purpose of amendment.

On the question,

Will the Senate adopt the resolution?

SENATE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION ADOPTED

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I move that the Senate adopt the resolution just read by the Clerk.

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, this is probably one of the forerunners of many recall resolutions upon which we will have to act. However, I want it understood with the Minority Leader that on these recall resolutions which will be submitted by the Governor, the Department of Justice should submit the amendments, which they suggest, to us within a reasonably short time in order for us to act on the amendments. If the amendments are not forthcoming, then we should put the bill back on the Governor's desk the way it was when it left the Senate.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, it is my understanding that they are going to try to have the amendments on Monday of this next week. Of course, it has always been the policy, when we did not receive the amendments in a reasonable length of time, that we always took action on the bill as we found it.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

The motion was agreed to and the resolution was adopted.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the House of Representatives for concurrence.

BIRTHDAY FELICITATION EXTENDED TO SENATOR G. ROBERT WATKINS

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, on May 21st, which was last week, one of the Members of the Senate had a birthday and, unfortunately, we overlooked the observance of his birthday. This gentleman is now talking to one of the more bearded Members of the Senate. I refer to Senator Watkins who, on May 21st, observed his thirty-ninth birthday.

Yesterday, I pointed out that those who were born from May 21st through June 21st were born under the sign of Gemini, and that sign is pictured as a two-faced individual. I find that those people who are born between April 21st and May 21st are born under the sign of Taurus, which is pictured as a bull. Therefore, Senator Watkins is right on the line and you can draw your own conclusions as to whether or not this makes him a two-faced bull.

Mr. President, we now belatedly congratulate Senator Watkins upon the observance of his birthday on May 21st.

Mr. WATKINS. Mr. President, I want to thank my friend, the gentleman from Titusville. I did have a birthday on May 21st and I was thirty-nine. I was thirty-nine before, too.

Yesterday, Mr. President, I received a beautiful card, signed by all of the Members of the Senate, wishing me a happy birthday. As usual, none of them were sprinters; they were all rooters. They were a little late, but they picked it up in the stretch. I want to tell you that I was deeply touched with the card, because it caused me to look back and think how far one can go from a little country boy to being a Member of the most distinguished group of men, I think, in the State of Pennsylvania. It has been such a real privilege and honor to be a Member of this Senate and have these gentlemen here as my friends. I say I have friends on both sides. However, I have many Democratic Members as friends whom I love a little better, perhaps. It is the same way on both sides, you know. We all have favorites.

I really was deeply touched and, even though it was a stretch drive, going a mile and an eighth, I won by a nose. I want to you to know that I appreciated the beautiful card. We have four freshmen Senators who stood out by themselves. They sent me a card, too. Also, I received another card which had a dollar enclosed. It was very kind of that gentleman who sent me that dollar. I appreciated it very much.

Mr. President, I want to thank my friends for remembering me, and may the Lord make it possible for me to stay here many more years with all of them. Thank you.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I want to extend felicitations on this great occasion to our friend, Senator Watkins, from his Democratic colleagues. I might say to him that in the mood we are in this morning, if he can dig up that bill of his again regarding not paying taxes in Philadelphia, today we will vote with him. To show a very kind friendship for our friend, Senator Watkins, one of the reasons, of course, we always vote against that bill is because we are sure that if it ever passes, he will have difficulty in running again. We want to make sure that he has his issue down there forever.

Mr. President, I might say to Senator Mahany that from the conversations I have heard from some of the men who have had the occasion to visit a couple of the race tracks in the neighboring States of Pennsylvania, if Senator Watkins was born under the sign of the bull, so were some of his horses.

Mr. WATKINS. Mr. President, I am happy to see my friend, Senator Dent, in such a fine mood this morning.

There is nothing closer to me than the Philadelphia wage tax. I realize that it might jeopardize my future, but I will take a chance on that. If he is in such a good mood, let us recall this bill from the Governor and override his veto. I think we would have enough votes here to do it today.

Mr. President, I understand it is on the table. Let's call it up now and vote, while we are in such a good mood, and override the Governor's veto.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I want to assure the gentleman from Delaware, Senator Watkins, being a floor leader in the same sense as Senator Mahany is a floor leader, that I take my instructions on a recall such as this, to override a veto, from the Senator from the District which is affected by the bill. I assure you, Senator, that when the Philadelphia Senators say they will go along with you on this, I will vote with you on the bill.

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, when Senator Dent originally made his offer, I did not hear him make that limitation. He said the Democratic Senators would vote along with Senator Watkins. I think at the time he did not think we could get the bill before us. We will let him off the hook, however, and not make him keep his promise.

REPORT FROM COMMITTEE

Mr. RUTH. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to make report from committee at this time.

An Act providing that no township of the second class or any part thereof shall be annexed by any city borough or township without the consent of the electors of the entire township and prescribing the manner of commencing annexation proceedings.

And said bill having been read at length the third time,
On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the bill on third reading?

REQUEST THAT BILL GO OVER IN ORDER

Mr. RUTH. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that Senate Bill No. 618, Printer's No. 272, on third reading, go over in its order.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection?

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, we passed Senate Bill No. 618 yesterday and then we reconsidered it, with the understanding that amendments would be put in and the same vote would be recorded on the bill today as was on it yesterday. I had that agreement with Senator Dent and we would like to have that agreement carried out. We would like to move this bill because, as I said, we did pass it yesterday and then reconsidered it.

Mr. RUTH. Mr. President, a number of our men were not in Caucus this morning and they might want to change their minds on the bill.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, do I understand that the vote of those who are not here on the floor at the moment, but who are out in the back room, will be recorded according to their wishes?

Mr. MAHANY. That is right.

The PRESIDENT. The Chair hears objection to this bill going over in its order.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

And the amendments made thereto having been printed as required by the Constitution,

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. YOSKO. Mr. President, I did want to ask that Senate Bill No. 618 be passed over in order.

The PRESIDENT. It was requested and there were objections. The gentleman from Berks, Mr. Ruth, originally asked that the bill be passed over in order.

Mr. YOSKO. I have a letter, dated May 28, 1957, which I just received this morning from the City Council of Bethlehem. I want to read it in connection with Senate Bill No. 618. The letter is addressed to me and it reads as follows:

"City Council has learned of the contents of Senate Bill No. 618 which provides that annexation of a portion of a Second Class Township by a Municipality or a Borough may be done only by the complete annexation of the Second Class Township. This proposed bill would preclude gradual annexation programs and thwart industrial growth of an area which might also affect pending redevelopment programs of various Municipalities, and the City of Bethlehem presently has a redevelopment program underway.

"City Council thereupon instructed me to advise you that Council has gone on record vigorously opposing the passage of this bill. We feel that this bill would be detrimental to municipal growth and industrial progress and we hope that you will consider our objection when this bill comes up for a final vote."

This letter is signed by the City Clerk, at the direction of the Mayor and City Council.

I am in complete agreement with the sentiments expressed by the City Council of Bethlehem. In addition to that, I do not think we should pass a bill like this and keep people in these townships in constant jeopardy and under constant worry that they are going to be gobbled up. I do not believe in that kind of a policy. The laws which are on the books on annexation are sufficient, and I do not think this type of a bill is necessary. I think it should be voted down.

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, Senator Yosko made a very good argument for the purpose of this bill, which is to keep parts of townships from being gobbled up.

The bill, as it was originally introduced, did provide that no part of a township could be annexed. If there were any annexation, it would have to include the whole township. However, many of us were against that principle because we did not think it was workable. Therefore, we amended this bill to provide that no part of a township could be annexed to a city unless they had a vote of the entire township on the annexation.

We feel this is a workable plan because it has been proven workable. That is the law of the first class townships in Pennsylvania. Before a city or a borough may annex any part of a first class township, it is necessary to have a vote of the entire first class township electorate.

The only thing this bill does, Mr. President, is to provide the same procedure for the second class townships which now prevails, under the law, for the first class townships. Therefore, before a portion of a second class township may be gobbled up, as Senator Yosko stated it by an adjoining city, it will be necessary for the electorate to vote for that annexation of the entire second class township which is affected.

Mr. YOSKO. Mr. President, I do not agree with Senator Mahany that I am arguing for the bill. Having been in politics practically all my life, I know how the so-called voting on issues takes place. I am not going to go into that. However, we have a number of townships in Northampton County where the population in those townships and in the boroughs is centralized in one area. Yet they have a lot of vacant ground which could be used by an adjoining city or borough. They probably would like to take over a portion of it, with the consent of the people. However, under this bill, they would not even be permitted to do that. They would have to take over the whole township; the portion which is populated and the portion which is not populated.

Mr. VAN SANT. Mr. President, I also received the same letter which Senator Yosko received. There is a planned redevelopment down in our district which would extend into Lehigh County, as well as into Northampton County.

This bill was amended yesterday and these people have not had a chance to read the bill in its present form. I am in agreement with Senator Yosko in that I think the bill should go over in order, so they may have an opportunity to look at the bill since it has been amended.

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, I think there is a little bit of confusion here regarding this amendment. On page 1, it says the following:

"Providing that no township of the second class or any part thereof shall be annexed by any city"—and I want to call this to the attention of the Majority Leader—"borough or township without the consent of the electors of the entire township"

This bill now provides annexation proceedings not only for cities, but for boroughs and other townships. I think it is good legislation and I am going to vote for it.

Mr. SEYLER. Mr. President, I desire to be recorded as voting "no" on this bill.

And the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, it appears there are a sufficient number of Republicans, as well as Democrats, who want to have this bill go over in order. Therefore, I will withdraw my objection so that the bill can go over in its order.

BILL OVER IN ORDER

Mr. VAN SANT. Mr. President, I now ask unanimous consent that Senate Bill No. 618, Printer's No. 272, on final passage, go over in its order.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

SENATE RESOLUTION, SERIAL No. 35,
 TAKEN FROM TABLE

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, I call from the table Senate Resolution, Serial No. 35.

The resolution was read by the Clerk as follows:

DIRECTING THE JOINT STATE GOVERNMENT COM-MISSION TO STUDY THE PROBLEMS OF THE PENNSYLVANIA STATE POLICE

In the Senate, May 23, 1957.

The Senate of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania recognizes that the Pennsylvania State Police is one of the most important adjuncts of the State Government in enforcement of the laws of this Commonwealth. It is recognized that the Pennsylvania State Police is now faced with a problem of morale and efficiency. To improve both the morale and efficiency of the Pennsylvania State Police, the matter of incentive to those members of the organization, who all too frequently serve without any promotion or chance of promotion, is a matter of great concern. This is particularly true concerning married members of the force. Although there is a retirement provision for the State Police at age fifty, there is no compulsory retirement and it is generally recognized that the police officer, for most efficient service, must have sufficient energy and adaptability to do an efficient job. It is also a matter of record that the long hours that the State Police put in are both wearing and tearing on the efficiency and morale of the members.

It is evident as well that no new and radical changes in equipment and law enforcement have been made available to the State Police, particularly is it noted that the State Police does not purchase from the automobile manufacturers the special police cars that are available which would enable the State Police to cope with speeders and "cowboys." It is noted that many other states have helicopters to take care of and facilitate the movement of congested traffic on main highways and around the metropolitan areas as well as said helicopters being useful in matters of searching. It is likewise to be noted that the State Police cars are not equipped with handcuffs, tear gas and other equipment and that the State Police as a whole do not have enough equipment so that each man is issued a pair of handcuffs.

The State Police Organization, aside from its numbers on the Turnpike, is at present composed of about 1900 men. This complement bears no relation to the increase in traffic and population and increased crime that is present in the present day and age.

As a matter of law enforcement, it is noted that narcotics detection and functions relating thereto are spread out in the Department of Health and to some extent in the Department of Revenue and it is thought advisable that a study be made to ascertain whether or not various functions relating to narcotics should be grouped under one department; therefore be it

Resolved, That the Joint State Government Commission be directed to make a comprehensive study of the problems of the Pennsylvania State Police with a view to increasing its morale, efficiency and incentives, giving particular attention to:

(1) The pay scale or a possible family allotment pay for the married members of the Force,

(2) A compulsory retirement at age sixty, as recommended,

(3) Modern, new and radical use of technological changes and equipment.

(4) The reorganization of the Pennsylvania State Police and increasing the size thereof along with the study of the State police functions,

(5) Any other pertinent matter which the Commission deems appropriate to the State; and be it further

Resolved, That the Joint State Government Commission report to the next regular session of the General Assembly and to the Governor not later than January 31, 1959 its findings and recommendations with drafts of legislation necessary to carry the recommendations into effect.

On the question,

Will the Senate adopt the resolution?

SENATE RESOLUTION, SERIAL No. 35, ADOPTED

PETITIONS AND REMONSTRANCES

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to place in the record an editorial which appeared in the Pittsburgh Press. I would like to have this placed in the record without reading it at this time.

There being no objection, the editorial was ordered to be printed in the Journal as follows:

EDITORIAL
of
THE PITTSBURGH PRESS
Tuesday, May 28, 1957
THE TAXPAYER TURNS

It took a long time to get the taxpayers aroused about the lush growth of the Federal budget and the heavy toll the Federal tax collector takes from every family in the land. But aroused they did get, and Congress has been hearing about it. The taxpayers are demanding budget cuts.

Some of this has rubbed off on the state budget, which has been under consideration in Harrisburg for the past several months. The new tax laws of recent years have made the average Pennsylvanian much more alert to the way his state officials handle the money entrusted to their care.

As far as the taxpayer is concerned, the problem is just the same in Harrisburg as it is in Washington. He wants no more new taxes—he has all he can handle right now. He wants, if and when possible, a tax reduction, and to that end he wants all the economies his representatives can find.

It was in response to these demands that the legislative majorities in Harrisburg charted cuts in Governor Leader's record-high budget proposals. Mr. Leader wanted $1,559,000,000 in General Fund appropriations. Legislative leaders felt they had to cut almost 100 million dollars from these requests to avoid new state taxes.

That is the decision which various pressure groups, marshalled by officials of the Leader administration, are fighting.

These groups are accusing the House Appropriations Committee of wrecking vital state welfare programs, of shortchanging the ill and unfortunate and of making reckless economies at the expense of helpless wards of the state.

A typical broadside against state budget economies was issued by the Pennsylvania Citizens Assn. which was identified a few months ago as being the beneficiary of a $20,000 contract to make surveys for the State Welfare Department. The association is concerned about proposed cuts in the welfare and health budgets.

In a message designed to whip up protests from citizens, the association gives figures contrasting what Governor Leader proposed to spend and what the House Appropriations Committee proposes to authorize.

The unfairness of this approach should be easy to see. Governor Leader can make himself look good by proposing excessive budgets for humanitarian programs and then blaming the Legislature when the money isn't forthcoming. A fairer comparison would be between expenditures for the last biennium and proposed appropriations for the next two years. But that is lacking in the Citizens Assn. propaganda.

Republican leaders in the Legislature maintain stoutly that all of the state's present services are being adequately financed. They say that funds available for the state mental hospitals and for mental defective will be greater in the next two years than in the past two. They have made criticisms of the way Secretary of Welfare Harry Shapiro proposed to spend welfare funds, which have not been answered by the welfare lobby.

Economy is as urgent in Harrisburg as it is in Washington, for the money to support both governments comes out of the pockets of the same taxpayers. Those who want the state taxpayers to take on additional burdens had better produce persuasive—and fair—arguments for spending more money.

Mr. YOSKO. Mr. President, for Senator Mahany's information, I have a telegram here dated May 29, 1957, pertaining to the subject we discussed yesterday of the Delaware Canal. This telegram includes a copy of the telegram which was sent to the Delaware Valley Protective Association by Doctor Goddard, Secretary of Forests and Waters. I thought you would be interested in this because of the action which was taken over in the House yesterday.

The telegram reads as follows:

"The Governor has requested me to acknowledge your telegram.

"In reply I would like to quote the following message sent to Hal H. Clark, Pres., The Delaware Valley Protective Association, Lumberville, Pa., from Secretary of Forests and Waters Maurice K. Goddard:

"The House of Representatives did not provide funds in the general appropriation bill for the operation and maintenance of the Delaware Canal throughout its entire reach for the biennium beginning June 1, 1957. Representative A. Patrick Brennan of Levittown offered amendments in the House yesterday to restore these funds. The amendment was defeated 121 to 75. However, Senate leaders have requested that I withhold abandonment of the Delaware Canal until the appropriation bill has been referred to the Senate. I am happy to abide with this request."

"It is imperative that the Senate restore our operation and maintenance funds for the Delaware Canal or this great recreational resource will be lost for our citizens." "Maurice K. Goddard, Secretary."

Just from reading this telegram, and considering the little debate we had on it yesterday, it appears that the Republican leaders in the House did not pay too much attention to what Senator Mahany said and what all of us said and agreed to. They turned down an amendment to restore the appropriation to the Department of Forests and Waters, to maintain and improve this canal and parks surrounding it.

I called Doctor Goddard this morning and I told him of our discussion on the floor. I told him that you were an honorable man, Senator Mahany, and I was certain that you would keep your word. When the appropriation bill came over here, if the funds were not restored, you would see that they were restored and that it would not be necessary to drain the canal and that it would function as it always has in the past.

On the basis of your promise, the floodgates will not be opened.

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, first I want to thank the Senator for his compliment that I am an honorable man. I am glad that he is one of the great number of people in Pennsylvania who feel that way.

Secondly, however, he did misquote me a little bit on what I said yesterday. Yesterday, as I recall, I said that we thought that Secretary Goddard had sufficient funds in this gas royalty fund, which he has, to take care of this project. We would like to have him show us that he does not have those funds before we make a specific appropriation in the General Appropriation Bill.

We all want to have that canal remain as it is and to be maintained. However, first we want to find out whether or not Secretary Goddard has other funds available. If we find he does not, we can then consider whether we want to increase this appropriation to take care of this particular purpose. It will be up to all of the Senators to decide at that time. Personally, I feel that there will be a sufficient number of Senators who will insist upon adequate funds being provided for this purpose.

I did have an opportunity last night to talk to Secretary Goddard, and we went over this target again. Secretary Goddard agreed not to let the water out until after we have disposed of this matter in the State Senate. If he does it after that, it is up to him. At least, the fish in the canal are safe for a little while longer and the people who use the canal will be able to use it for a little while longer.

The canal will not be shut off next Saturday, and Senator Yosko and Senator Watson will not have to go down there Saturday morning with their shotguns.

Mr. YOSKO. Mr. President, I would not say that I can agree with Senator Mahany's analysis of what he said yesterday.

I am not too familiar with the type of fund which is available to Doctor Godard for an expenditure of this type. However, I understand that an appropriation must be made for this specific purpose and that it has been cut out of the appropriation bill. I understood from Senator Mahany yesterday, and he made a positive statement, if the funds were not restored by the House in House Bill No. 1700, when it came over here, he would see to it that his colleagues would vote to restore the necessary funds in order that the canal could be maintained and not abandoned. I am going to hold Senator Mahany to that at the proper time.

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, I am willing to have the record of what I said speak for itself. If Senator Yosko will examine the record, containing my remarks of yesterday, between now and Monday, he will find that I referred to the gas royalty fund which Secretary Goddard has at his disposal. I stated that I thought there were sufficient funds in there to take care of this project and, under the law, he would be legally able to spend this money for that particular purpose.

I am willing to have Senator Yosko examine the record between now and Monday, and then on Monday we can discuss it further.

RECESS

Mr. PROPERT. Mr. President, I move that the Senate do now take a recess for one hour for the purpose of having lunch.

Mr. SCOTT. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

Our Gracious Heavenly Father, may we unite our hearts and minds through prayer, we pray for the Members of this august body in their several responsibilities. Help them in their offices, in committees and conferences, and above all, as they here gather in legislative session recognizing that midnight oil was used last night. May they never forget that what is said and accomplished here is not done in obscurity, but always under Thy divine scrutiny. May each feel the weight of his personal responsibility before Thee, and remember the influence of a good example, that all who come to this place may have a stronger faith in government of the people, by the people and for the people. May the Representatives of our great Commonwealth so speak and act that the millions of Pennsylvanians who wait upon them and serve them may be inspired, rather than disillusioned, but what they see and hear and are asked to do. O God, make Thyself real to these men, that each may feel Thee sitting beside him, and hear Thy voice, and win Thy approval in all things. Make us so disgusted with our big professions and our little deeds, our fine words and our shabby thoughts, our friendly face and our cold hearts, that we shall pray sincerely for a new spirit and new attitudes. Compel us to be just and honest in all our doings and dealings. Let our motives be above suspicion. Let our word be our bond. Save us, O God, from the fallacy of depending upon our personality, our ingenuity, or position, or financial craftiness, to solve our problems. Since Thou, O Christ has the answers, make us willing to listen to Thee, that we may always vote on God's side and that His Holy Will may be done through us. Bless abundantly we pray Thee, the Members of this House as they think together and work together in this session. Help them to stand up under the strains and tensions of problems and decisions, of meetings and conferences, and the endless demands made upon them. Teach them how to relax and to take time to turn to Thee for guidance and grace, and thus discover the secret of Thy power. May the uncertainties of life make us the more anxious to do good while we have opportunity, for the sake of the record that has eternal implications far beyond the next election. We humbly pray through Jesus Christ, our Lord. Amen.

The SPEAKER. Will the House give unanimous consent to the offering of an amendment at this time? Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the amendment?

Mr. PETROSKY. Mr. Speaker, I shall endeavor as briefly as possible to sum up the question before us. The extensive remarks which could have been made upon this issue I will file at the end of this summation for the Legislative Journal.

Amendment No. 1 before us concerns the appropriation request of the office of the Secretary of Revenue and the various administrative offices to put into motion this expanded program as it affects the Welfare Department during the 1957-1959 biennium. I know most of you recognize, all of you recognize, that the appropriation increase is essential in the event we are to put into effect the entirety of this expanded program.

Amendment No. 2, Mr. Speaker, deals with the services to the children of migrant laborers in the state forest camps. You know and I know this is highly essential for preventative results, especially in the field of juvenile delinquency and other related problems facing the Commonwealth.

Amendment No. 3, deals with the evaluation centers, research and training and deportation expenses. Certainly during the short time in which this program has been in effect since last August it has proven to be very effective. If operated on a 24 month basis it will have proven itself to be more effective in rectifying the evils which confront this Commonwealth.

Amendment No. 4 deals with the amendment for the payment of the administrative costs and the work of the State Council for the Blind. You have cut this to the degree that the eye care and other intensive treatment program in this field will be jeopardized as we know it in Pennsylvania since the last biennium.

Amendment No. 5, deals with the medical and surgical hospitals. Again I must refer you to the remarks of last night when I say that you cannot provide an efficient administration of these medical and surgical hospitals based upon the contingency of the collections being equal to what the Appropriations Committee proposal states they will be. It is not a good way to do business. Certainly we would not apply it to our own individual business. I know that you cannot get the best possible administration of these services by operating in this manner.

Amendment No. 6, Mr. Speaker, deals with the mental institutions, the schools and the Eastern Pennsylvania Psychiatric Institute. This is the one that should strike at the heartstrings of every Member of this legislative body. We are short-changing a program that has proven its worth in the short time the expanded program has been in operation. Certainly this will do no good for the Commonwealth's position in this field of operation.

Amendment No. 7 is the amendment pertaining to the reimbursement to counties for the program that is operated in cooperation with the Department of Welfare. Recognize, if you will, as was stated last night, that 55 of the counties in this Commonwealth are cooperating in this program and doing a tremendous job. There is an expenditure on the county level of approximately $15 million dollars in this cooperative type program.

The amendment seeks to restore this program to the Governor's budget request of $1,675,000. I know you must feel this program is evidently a very effective one or we would not have had the cooperation of the county commissioners from 55 counties in this phase of operation of welfare services.

Amendment No. 8, deals with the preventative program for children's services. Certainly it has proven its worth and, without going into detail, this entails a budgeted item of $700,000.

Amendment No. 9 is covered by a separate bill, which of course could be dropped in the event the amendment is accepted, which concerns the Bureau of Services to the Aged. Certainly we need these services which have been carried on for some time. We should have the full appropriation for this, as those people have no opportunity to help themselves.

Amendment No. 10 is the one which concerns the Commonwealth Mental Health Center. There will be another spokesman who will give you the adverse impact of the cut for the Commonwealth Mental Health Center, as it affects the immediate Philadelphia area.

Recognize, if you will, Members of the House, that of the money required for this program about two-thirds of it is expended for these services throughout the other areas in the Commonwealth.

That is the sum and substance of these amendments. The last one is the reimbursement of public and private agencies on a state-wide level, as well as Philadelphia, for the administration of these services, the local preventative and rehabilitation services and the establishment of diagnostic clinics and general hospitals in the Philadelphia area. As I said, you will hear more about that.

I know all of the Members on this side of the House subscribed to a program and a platform when they appeared before the electorate in 1956, seeking election. In reference to this amendment, this is what we have pledged the people on this side of the House, we will continue to move ahead, our object is to put Pennsylvania in first place among the states in its program for mental health, its work with handicapped and retarded children, its program to prevent juvenile delinquency and many of the other phases covered in this amendment, to restore the cuts so that these services can be provided. By our actions and our efforts on these amendments we are saying to the people that we are endeavoring to do the job we pledged to you we would do.

What position have you taken? I can only refer to the release of the majority party leadership in both chambers on May 2, 1957. It is a very brief, very short expression as to what it would do for these people. You say, and I quote, "We plan to continue (and this is under the names of the two leaders in the Senate and the two leaders of the majority party in the House) to aid the sick, the needy and the unfortunate, without the creation of a vast governmental bureaucracy or without creating a climate for creeping socialism."

If the services which are going to be rendered by the full measure of the appropriation needed in this Department under my amendments, then I say give me more socialism, if that is what you call it.

I am going to close, but I sincerely ask, implore and beseech the membership of this House, do not close your ears to the plaintive cries of those of our more unfortunate fellowmen. Do not shut your eyes to the despair of the despondent who surround us throughout this Commonwealth. I hope and I pray you will not blot out the vision I know you must have, yes, possibly at this very moment, of persons on bended knees and with folded arms, the thousands who are concerned with their loved ones. You have an opportunity today, by accepting these amendments and allowing for full treatment of patients in the various institutions, to give them the full impact of the good program which was initiated in the last biennium.

Don't blot out those visions. Don't shut your eyes. Don't close your ears to their entreaties. I implore and beseech you, vote for these amendments and render that greatest of all services, a service to those of our fellowmen who have been more unfortunate than we have been.

Mr. Speaker, I offer the following documents for the record.

The SPEAKER. Without objection, they will be inserted in the record. The Chair hears none.

Commonwealth of Pennsylvania

Department of Welfare

Locust Mountain State Hospital

Shenandoah, Pennsylvania

May 23, 1957.

The Hon. Harry Shapiro
Secretary of Welfare
Harrisburg, Pennsylvania

Dear Mr. Shapiro:

We have reviewed with alarm the proposed allocation of $640,000.00 for this institution. This is less than the amount spent during the 1953-55 biennium during a rigid economy regime and at a time when the cost of living was decidedly lower.

A firm allocation of $640,000.00 would entail a curtailment of approximately one-third of the services rendered by this institution. This amount is inadequate for salaries and wages alone, without any consideration for food, materials and supplies, or other functions.

Depending upon collections is certainly an insecure program, particularly in this economically distressed area. Collections for the past two years ending April 30, 1957 total $202,020.08—an unusually high amount.

An approximate $200,000.00 in collections added to an allocation of $640,000.00 will give us an "uncertain" $840,000.00. This is the figure which we protested as being inadequate in submitting our latest revised budget estimate within that figure. A review of this budget will show in detail, on breakdown and on justification sheets, the inadequacy of this figure.

I am enclosing a copy of a letter written to Mr. Brennan expressing our sentiments on the limitations of an $840,000.00 figure. This letter will apply in its entirety to the present situation with the additional hazard of uncertainty of collections.

I am in hearty accord that the protesting of these unjust cuts is in order from every possible source.

Yours very sincerely

Mr. Thomas J. Brennan
Deputy Secretary
Department of Welfare
Harrisburg, Pennsylvania

Dear Br. Brennan:

In reply to your letter of April 3, let me emphasize that with salaries at the level currently set by the Department there is no doubt that we will require an allocation larger than that most recently suggested in order to provide for other operating expenses at our institution, even with the complete abolishment of capital expenditures.

A review of the budget "request" as submitted within the assigned, reduced figure, will show that other operating expenses for the 1953-55 biennium reached $158,085.00, and this during a period of rigid economy, particularly during the second year of the biennium. Without considering any capital expenditures whatsoever, it will be seen that we have been able to budget a figure of only $89,104 for the current biennium for other operating expenses—a most inadequate figure. Terming this breakdown a "budget request" is certainly a misnomer since it would be illogical for any institution to request funds which would not permit of even maintaining status quo.

Permit me to quote from the justification sheet accompanying our institutional summary:

"Salaries and Wages—Increase over-all due to 8-1-56 reclassifications with resultant salary and wage increases. Further, unexpected increase resulted from mandatory increases granted on the Departmental level to all our nurses in increasing all salaries to what was interpreted to be a new and higher minimum. This caused a sharp and totally unexpected increase in all nursing salaries. Although this minimum has now been restored to its 8-1-56 level, all our nurses were affected by the original order and we will be obliged to go along with these higher salaries until such time as vacancies occur and replacements are made at the lower minimum.

"Long-standing vacancies were filled in the present biennium and several employees added—telephone operator, medical records librarian, clerk-stenographer, physiotherapist, laboratory supervisor, relief anaesthetist, maintenance worker, house-keeping maid, and an additional orderly.

"We have shown an over-all decrease in wages which we hope to be able to realize by employee cooperation in filing emergency leaves, such as illness.

"Other Operating Expenses: to present a realistic budget request, an increase should be shown in all phases of other operating expenses. Instead, due to limitations of proposed allocation, we have been unable to budget anything except food and a partial allotment of our light, heat, and water requirements.

"Actually, with $750,896.00 of an $840,000.00 allocation required for salaries and wages, it can readily be seen that the balance cannot possibly cover our requirements. We feel confident that we are not over-staffed and that only essential positions have been set up, with no provisions made for meritorious increments. With very few exceptions, all our employees are at the prescribed minimum of their classifications in spite of years of service.

"Therefore, the figures as listed can scarcely be constructed as a "budget request" due to their inadequacy but rather a breakdown of the limited use we would be able to make of the suggested allocation."

In reviewing our salary schedule, it must be borne in mind that our doctors are on salary basis, which is not true in most of the other institutions.

Following our original budget request, the Department of Welfare had previously given us a tentative allocation of $931,000.00 within which to submit a budget. In view of our original request for hoped-for capital outlay, this figure seemed disappointingly low but would nevertheless have permitted adequate operating expenses and possibly some essential replacements of capital equipment on a limited scale.

I would strongly recommend that at least this figure of $931,000.00 be restored to us. If further consideration can be given capital requests, I would suggest a conservative $19,000.00 for replacement of outworn and obsolete equipment and $40,000.00 for the purchase of new equipment, together with $10,000.00 for the annexing of the second floor of the nurses' home for patient use.

At the time of submitting our original request—and still considered highly desirable—we figured an estimated $60,000.00 to construct an annex to house our x-ray and clinical laboratory, and an additional $50,000.00 for the tiling of ward floors, corridor and meat box walls, construction of delivery room, and a suitable formula room, together with continuation of our microfilm contract and required repainting. It will be a great help if any part of this program can be accomplished within the coming biennium.

Members of our medical staff are particularly anxious to have accomplished the annexing of the second floor of the nurses' home due to our present lack of private and semi-private accommodations. At present we have but two private and five two-bed rooms.

We shall sincerely appreciate any consideration given in the form of increased allocation.

Yours very truly,

JOHN BUCHINSKY, Superintendent

Apparently my letter of April (has been ignored. Budget reduction to $1,825,000 for Pennsylvania Training School spells chaos. Will reduce teaching staff to one half required number, cut treatment and supervisory staff to 2/3 required number. Furnishings in cottages for living rooms all need replacement badly but cannot be under new budget. All planned improvements to buildings must be abandoned resulting in fantastic costs to replace later. I predict heat and gas lines, now in bad repair, will break down making plant uninhabitable unless money is restored for emergency repairs. Without additional funds we will be forced to revert to punitive repressive custody with resulted disaster for our children staff plant and the community. Absolute minimum required unless all progress of last two years is to be completely lost is additional $261,000.

Assuming salaries food and fuel costs remain at present level proposed budget plus estimated patient fees reduces funds available for all types necessary supplies to less than one half sum spent last biennium. Present vacant positions could not be filled or new ones created. Could not extend program for care and training of patients as desired. Patient program would be affected adversely through lack of supplies and anticipated needed services. Intra mural. Admissions probably not affected.

Maintenance of buildings and grounds would undoubtedly suffer. Nothing would be available for replacement or new equipment.

Budget estimated for patient Load 680. Present population 730 due to transfers to relieve overcrowding 100 existing vacant beds cannot be activated. How to operate with 830 on A 680 budget? Question of even approaching reasonable custodial care. To require personnel to activate 100 beds plus adjustment from 680 to 730 plus reasonable capitol, under present conditions will necessitate curtailment of patients activities. Industrial therapy and occupational therapy cannot be organized. Personnel would now be available. Social service and psychological service must be increased. Proportions admissions to leaves will fall drastically. Have advanced from 12 per cent to 22 per cent do we regress? Physical plant will deteriorate.

Reduction of appropriation for Philipsburg State Hospital for 1957-59 to 879,650 dollars will result in reducing present bed capacity to 65 beds, eliminate entire maternity division, all clinics, nursing school—as hospital would not meet accreditation requirements—all planned programs, maintenance of buildings and grounds, reduce patient care to a bare minimum, reduce hospital to a purely emergency surgical hospital status, only acute emergency charity would be admitted, reduction of 190 employees. A seven million dollar budget at Warren State Hospital means low grade custodial care of patients and deterioration of the plant. Eight million dollars will cause a marked cut in the standard of patients treatment care and food, poor maintenance of buildings, and discharge of some employees. Nine million means a slight increase in present standards of treatment and maintenance. Eleven million dollars is necessary for really good care and treatment of patients. Maximum recovery rates, and a wise maintenance program.

Present appropriations with revenue collections is two million dollars below present cost of operating this hospital. The request for ten million dollars for 1957-59 biennium is the minimum for a realistic approach in the care of the mentally ill patients and the institution and employees necessary to bring about this objective. Present proposed budget makes it impossible to carry out even basic function in a hospital. It will be necessary to drastically cut food materials and supplies fuel contracted repairs and personnel. Unless the budget is increased substantially a dangerous situation is being created for the patient personnel and property of the Commonwealth.

Proposed budget cut plus receipts from care of patients will provide approximately $2,749,918.00 minimum need to maintain present standards and provide a small margin for growth is $3,000,000 this creates a deficiency of two hundred fifty thousand dollars and poses a serious problem for the hospital in order to live within this allocation we will be required to eliminate 70 physicians. There will be no funds to employ additional physicians psychologists nurses social workers activity therapists and other essential personnel. Present precarious standards will suffer further loss and patient treatment needs will be unmet and unavoidably neglected this means that admissions will be reduced patients will remain longer in the hospital and treatment neglect will foster hopeless phreenicity. The hard won gains in medical standards of recent years will be threatened with complete breakdown. There will be no funds for the development of out patient care or for participation in essential community programs. The figure $2,054,825 as indicated in your wire would be $458,000 less than minimum required to insure preservation of gains in program quality to date. This institution has no regular psychiatrist, no psychologist, no social service director, no director of nursing, no directors of special activities such as occupational therapy, recreation program etc. Subject cut nullifies any possibility of recruiting qualified people in these key positions. Cut would also reverse program trend resulting in return to minimal custodial care. Collections for patients maintenance of nebulous value because hospital is located in seriously distressed economic area. Cut would definitely and directly adversely effect the scope of admissions accommodations, the quality of patient care and follow-up service for patients on leave. Trust favorable reconsideration can be encouraged.

Under the proposed cut to the Welfare Department budget, Coaldale State Hospital would be cut approximately $100,000 under what was originally requested for the 1957-59 biennium. Such a cut at this hospital would not permit us to satisfactorily open and operate a new section to the hospital, as the result of the renovating of our empty nurses home. Not permit us to keep full 24 hour coverage in our nursery, not permit us to provide for a recovery room, or make additions to our laboratory, as required by the Joint Commission on hospital accreditation, as well as curtailing some much needed improvements such as modernizing our present ward bathrooms, of which I am ashamed. Provide a cafeteria, and the renovation of our childrens ward, which too is entirely unsatisfactory for the proper care of youngsters. Also, it would hamper maintenance to our buildings. And not permit us to keep the grounds in good appearance. It seems to me that the cut as now recommended it is entirely out of line if it is expected that this hospital is to maintain the minimum standards as required for hospital accreditation and approval. And to be able to meet the demands and facilities that are offered by similar private institutions in the same area that the Coaldale Hospital service, and which they are able to give.

Our minimum operations of essential services for patient care maintenance and personnel are conservatively estimated at one million four hundred fifty thousand for next biennium. Proposed cut to eight hundred thousand will seriously affect patient care and all clinical services by curtailment of personnel and maintenance of hospital buildings. Evidently the legislature failed to take into account we operated on 50 per cent of normal capacity during present biennium due to construction program proposed amount sufficient for only one year operation of institution. It means practically closing the institution during the second year of the next biennium despite collections from patients.

Allocation of $909,350 is approximately $49,000 dollars short of amount needed for salaries and wages alone. operation as conservatively listed. This would include certain necessary small improvement projects. The Department of Revenue collections, approximately $3,000,000 for the present biennium. Discharge rate of patients will obviously decrease due to lack of proper care and treatment and census will of necessity increase to point of overcrowding.

Statement by

HARRY SHAPIRO

Secretary of Welfare

The public has not been given either the true or full facts of the extent and affect of the cuts, by the House Appropriations Committee, in the budget for the Department of Welfare. Only when these true facts are known can the destructive affect of the action of the Appropriation Committee be realized.

While the Committee announced that it cut the Department's Budget by approximately 27 million dollars; the truth is that the Governor's Budget recommendations for the Department roughly 221 million dollars, has actually been cut by $54,870,291.

The areas and the amount of those cuts are as follows:

Medical-surgical hospitals	$15,439,663	$10,721,043	$ 4,718,620
Mental hospitals	123,197,327	92,657,891	30,539,436
Mentally deficient schools	30,129,000	23,771,300	6,670,977

Dept.
Staff and programs

20,501,711	7,269,985	13,231,726
------------	-----------	------------

TOTAL AMOUNT CUT $54,870,291

This will be the affect of the action if approved by the House and the Senate.

1. The Governor's recommendation for Departmental functions, including services to children of migrant labor; activities of the State Council for the Blind; Evaluation Centers; deportation expenses; diagnostic clinics and treatment centers in general hospitals; reimbursement to counties for retarded children; services to the aging; development of local preventive and rehabilitation service; reimbursement to county institution districts for the care of mental patients; and for the dependent and neglected children; operation of the Mental Health Center for Philadelphia region; research and training; Philadelphia School for Mental Defective (at Front and Luzerne Streets, Philadelphia) and Departmental personnel, totaling $20,501,711 have been cut to $7,269,985.

It is well known, (certainly to the Appropriations Committee) that under the Mental Health Acts the Commonwealth is solely responsible for the care of the mentally retarded. During this biennium approximately $1,800,000 will have been expended in reimbursement to the counties on this State obligation. The cost of reimbursement in Philadelphia alone will be close to $800,000. The Appropriation Committee has appropriated for this item and for diagnostic clinics and treatment centers in general hospitals the sum of only $700,000.

The effect, therefore, is to eliminate both the reimbursement and the clinic rate of expenditures and the proposed increase in the number of diagnostic clinics and treatment centers, it will require at least 1½ million dollars for this operation alone.

The action of the appropriation is not only false economy but, at least to the extent of the reimbursement to counties for the care of mentally retarded, it is ineffective. Under the law the Commonwealth will still remain liable to the counties for care of mentally retarded.

2. The reduction of the request of $1,512,000 for Council for the Blind to $1,057,097 will mean the elimination of all of the remedial eye care and curtailment of the rehabilitation programs of the Council.

3. The reduction from $50,000 to $8,000 for services to children of migrant laborers will eliminate that program entirely.

The reduction of $1,600,000 for the program of reimbursement to counties and county institution districts for the care of patients transferred from mental hospitals and for improved care for dependent neglected and delinquent children will destroy that program.

At the present rate of expenditures $800,000 will be spent this biennium merely for the care of patients transferred from mental hospitals to county institution district homes, and $1,750,000 for dependent neglected and delinquent children.

4. Development of local, preventive and rehabilitation services will require a minimum of $1,200,000. The Governor's recommendation was $700,000.

The minimum requirements for State Forestry

Camps recommended by the Governor, which we know now is too little, is $315,532.

The establishment of evaluation centers already planned, in Philadelphia, Cannonsburg and Pittsburgh, will cost a minimum of $725,000 to operate.

The community Mental Health Center in Philadelphia, which is operating so successfully, processing some 900 patients per month through its reception center, will cost a minimum of $3,250,000.

A minimum of $1,000,000 should be spent in research and training in the coming biennium (475,000 will have been spent in this biennium for training alone).

The care of some 200 mentally defective patients at the Northern Division of Philadelphia General Hospital (2nd and Luzerne) will cost at least $1,750,000.

Departmental staff (personnel) at the present rate of spending will require at least five million of dollars.

For all these listed programs and activities, (totaling roughly 13 million) Committee recommended the appropriation of only $3,387,160.00. It is needless to add that all of these programs and activities must be abandoned and the Department staff reduced to a mere skeleton.

5. This is not all. If there was any doubt of that the program inaugurated at the beginning of this Administration for prevention, treatment and care as against mere custody, will be destroyed by the proposed action that doubt is removed by another of its recommendations. In appropriating money for the operation of hospitals, both medical and mental, the sum of $92,657,891 was appropriated by the Committee in individual amounts to each mental institution, and the sum of $10,721.43 was appropriated to each medical and surgical hospital. The same procedure is followed with respect to appropriations for training schools for mentally defectives and delinquents.

This is a rather unusual method of appropriation, since 1943 every biennial appropriation for all of these hospitals was made in one lump sum to the Department of Welfare.

In 1955 the Legislature passed much needed legislation (Act 255), eliminating the administrative powers of Boards of Trustees in institutions. It placed the authority and power in the Department of Welfare to administer a single integrated program which would guarantee competent professional treatment for all patients, regardless of the place of their residence. This Legislature, if it accepts the proposal of the Appropriations Committee would turn the clock back to 1943, by appropriating money direct to each institution would again enable each institution to become a law unto itself.

The proposed action takes away from an administrative officer work powers which normally should be his. The integrated program would even go so far as preventing the Department from carrying out its integrated program.

This is not all, for we must go back to the announcement by the Appropriations Committee that the budget of the Department was cut by only 27 million dollars. On what basis do they say this? The answer is found in House Bill 1700, pages 56 through 62. Provision is included in the budget after the appropriations to the 3 hospitals groups, general, mental and training schools, that in addition to the amounts specifically appropriated to them "all income and all monies collected at the several * * * institutions and paid into the general fund of the State Treasury under existing laws, are hereby appropriated out of the general fund to the several institutions for the same purpose, each institution to receive from such appropriation the exact amount which was collected at said institution during said fiscal years.

The House Appropriations Committee then estimated that the collections from these institutions would amount to approximately $27,000,000; subtracting that from the $54,870,291 which they cut from the Department budget they claim that their reduction amounts to only 27 millions of dollars. In the first place, on the basis of present collections from these institutions, during this biennium, the more nearly correct figure will not exceed 20 million dollars. Aside from the fact that the amount of patients fees so appropriated, is an assumption and to a great extent a myth, the vice of this method is that it places upon the patient and his family the burden of making up the deficits created by this unusual method of appropriation. Again the hospital cannot employ additional needed personnel on the assumption of the Appropriations Committee that it will collect the estimated fees from patients. Moreover, if one hospital collects more fees than it needs it will make unavailable to one institution any it cannot be made available to another which collects less. All this makes it crystal clear that this was not intended as a constructive approach to Pennsylvania's No. 1 health problem. Every line of the appropriation bill, as it deals with the activities of the Department of Welfare, reeks with destructive intent. In fact, this Committee has gone so far as to determine, on its own, that there shall be no more diagnostic and treatment centers set up in Pennsylvania, than will exist at this time of the passage of this bill. On Page 62 of House Bill 1700, we read the following: "Establishment of diagnostic clinics and treatment centers in general hospitals through grants of financial assistance to county institution districts, for the care of mentally defective children, prior to their admission to state-owned hospitals and diagnostic clinics, treatment and guidance centers established as of the effective date of this Act. $700,000.

The tragedy is that the program of prevention, treatment and cure will soon be a memory that the community programs—our greatest hope in prevention—will be utterly destroyed and that services in communities for neglected, dependent and delinquent children will fall with it.

BUREAU OF SERVICES TO THE AGING

A reduction of 32%, or $240,000 in the operating budget would mean . . .

. . . field staff visiting 1,000 institutions housing 37,000 older people would be held to 16 which means half as many visits as required to maintain standards of cleanliness, health, safety. Over 50% of these homes are over crowded. Current investigations have revealed narcotic addiction by a charge nurse, employment of a convicted sodomist, a home operated by persons convicted of abortion, plus countless instances of brutality, cruel restraint, neglect, and abuse.

. . . the Bureau would be unable to employ physicians to evaluate quality of medical care. To date, we have found patients with gangrenous bed sores, cases of over-sedation, diversion of narcotics by operators, and countless cases of general neglect.

. . . the Bureau would be unable to furnish consultation to county institutions desiring rehabilitation programs aimed at discharge from costly care in county homes. Without this help county home populations will continue to expand, overcrowding will be an everpresent danger.

... the intensive program of fire safety would be drastically curtailed. Investigations show less than 1/5 of the institutions are able to conduct fire drills to evacuate their facilities. Staff is poorly instructed in the use of fire fighting equipment and what to do when fire strikes. In one instance, the nursing home staff forgot to call the fire department. In another, they couldn't get the fire extinguisher from the wall.

... community consultation staff to develop local community resources to keep persons out of institutions would be reduced by 3/5. The whole program of providing better care for 1,300,000 older persons throughout Pennsylvania would be undermined.

COUNCIL FOR THE BLIND

This Budget will force the Council to eliminate completely or drastically reduce many known services. This will include:

1. Eye medical services to needy persons through hospital clinics will be eliminated. During the last biennium 21,730 persons were served at a cost of approximately $63,000.

2. Eye medical service to needy persons through private physicians. Last biennium 9455 persons were served at approximate costs of $143,000 for purchased medical services. The present Budget includes only $40,972 for care of such cases which will be in process as of May 31, 1957. Future cases will be eliminated.

3. The Budget will force a reduction in grants to private non-profit making agencies designed to expand local rehabilitation facilities—primarily workshops for employing the blind. Present allocations of $53,000 represents a cut of $139,879 less than the previous biennium.

4. The present Budget allocation does not allow for one staff to facilitate the production, sale and use of products made by the blind in workshops.

5. Budget will not allow for studies into the causes of blindness.

6. No allowance is made for Prevention of Blindness, an education program aimed at Prevention through development of local programs.

7. In the overall terms for case investigation, vocational rehabilitation, and social case work the 1957-59 Budget provides only half the staff necessary to meet known needs.

DEPARTMENT OF WELFARE

Bureau of Children's Services

Effect of Budget Cuts on Program and Services of the Bureau of Children's Services.

1. Program

- a. Reimbursement to Counties for Local Child Care Programs.

In 1955-57, $2,000,000 of State funds were available to reimburse counties for a part of their child care costs. Fifty-five counties with eighty per cent of the State's child-population under twenty-one picked up the challenge of State funds to extend and improve services by using such funds to supplement their own. These counties are spending annually at least $13,000,000 out of $15,000,000 spent by county authorities for child care throughout the State. This on-going program which brings Pennsylvania in line with other states touches the lives of approximately 25,000 dependent, neglected, and delinquent children. County Commissioners with the help of State funds are procuring well qualified child welfare workers to provide services to neglected children in their homes and are raising board rates to foster homes and institutions, thereby enabling these facilities to provide a higher quality of service.

This program of advancement will stop in its tracks with the elimination of the reimbursement budget item resulting in this being a completely lost service and without the restoration of $1,675,000 as a budget item for this particular program these 25,000 children will also be "lost"

The eagerness of these fifty-five counties to avail themselves of the supplementary State funds, although their acceptance means additional work and responsibility for them, gives evidence of the counties' needs for these funds. The principle of equalization of opportunity for children to receive essential welfare services in their hours of need, which this program represents, has long been accepted by other states and should be considered a right of Pennsylvania's children.

b. Forestry Camps

The complete elimination of the budget item for forestry camps ($215,532 in Governor's budget) strikes a death blow to a program already begun with one such camp in the western part of the State now in operation. Forestry camps are a part of the Department's over-all program for youth rehabilitation. The lack of continuing funds for 1957-59 is a tragedy for Pennsylvania youth and an outstanding example of short-sighted economy as the investment in personnel and equipment for this one camp will serve no further purpose. Additional camps for eastern and central Pennsylvania will not be started although sites are available and plans made for their operation. Forestry camps are accepted as a form of treatment for juvenile delinquents and to eliminate this phase of youth rehabilitation at a time when the problems of juvenile delinquency are overwhelming State and community facilities, will not be understandable to the public.

c. Services to Children of Migrant Laborers

The reduction in the Appropriation Bill from $40,000 to $8,000 for the 1957-59 biennium does the following to this program:

- (1) Provides only $4,000 a year for the day care center in Potter County which has been in operation in the summers of 1954, 1955 and 1956 for forty children at a cost of $7,500 to $8,000 each year. Arrangements are practically completed for the summer of 1957 at a cost of $8,000, thereby leaving no funds for 1958.

- (2) Plans already made for services to migrant children and their families in Chester and Northumberland and other counties where this group of people presents acute problems, will have to be abandoned.

- (3) Plans for staff service of leadership and technical assistance from the Bureau of Children's Services to communities for stimulating and developing local facilities and services for migrant families and their children will come to an end.

d. Development of local Preventive and Rehabilitative Services

No identifiable item for this program can be found in the 1957-59 Appropriation Bill. The Governor's printed budget contains $1,200,000 (later changed to $700,000) to be used to stimulate, supplement and strengthen local services designed to prevent mental illness and juvenile delinquency.

Typical projects to which financial assistance in addition to staff leadership and guidance would be available include homemaker services, psychiatric counseling, special foster homes, and programs for street gangs. Former requests for delinquency projects in Philadelphia estimated to cost approximately $200,000 are under construction, thus showing that communities are anticipating such funds for demonstration projects, which will not be forthcoming.

II. Effects of Budget Cut on Administration

A 32% cut reducing the administrative funds from $832,000 to $565,760

a. Personnel

With the cut the professional staff of fifty will have to be reduced to thirty-four, involving the dismissal of six employees and the termination of recruitment for ten vacancies. The basic core of the Bureau of Children's Services is its professional staff providing leadership, supervision, technical assistance and guidance to all of the child-earning agencies and institutions and to communities in the planning of their welfare programs. The budget of $832,000 for administration included 672,264 for salaries representing a minimum and essential number of professional personnel. Now reduced to 457,140.

(1) Effects on the Child Care Division

Curtailment of administrative costs, including travel may reduce the supervision of the 435 child care agencies and institutions caring for approximately 28,000 children to the bare minimum of an annual visit visit a year, which experience has shown to be insufficient for the protection and well being of children; supervision became nothing more than policing. The leadership and counseling which is possible to provide in one visit hardly justifies travel expenditures. The limitation to an annual visit means that serious situations can develop which threaten the health and safety of the children under care to say nothing of the emotional damage caused by lack of understanding on the part of well meaning but poorly equipped personnel. Without the regular and continuing guidance and direction by well qualified social workers from the Bureau of Children's Services the children in these agencies and institutions may live in the dangerous shadow of neglect by the State.

Many developmental aspects of the supervisory program provided for through consultants in special fields, such as adoption, day care, foster home care, etc., will be ruled out thereby reducing the Bureau's services to communities, agencies and institutions to routine inspection on a limited basis and without the development of new knowledge and skills. A minimum of twenty field representatives are required for supervisory coverage of agencies and institutions on the basis of approximately 26 facilities for children being the workload of one field representative.

The two regional offices in Pittsburgh and Philadelphia area are well established and require about half of the field staff to cover the large number of child care facilities in metropolitan areas. The existence of these regional offices may be threatened by the curtailment of personnel and other administration costs. Other danger spots for children are the independent boarding foster homes for infants and older children for which there are licensing provisions. Since 1925 the State has recognized its responsibility for infants in boarding homes. Without sufficient field staff it will be difficult to provide the supervision required by law and impossible to discover and protect the children in commercial boarding and day care homes where potentials for neglect and exploitation are known to exist.

(2) Youth Rehabilitation Division

A minimum of ten professional staff is essential for this Division's program. Four are currently employed and there is active recruitment for the six vacancies. The present two staff members for supervising the twenty-two training schools for delinquents is inadequate as intensive, continuing supervision of these institutions is perhaps the greatest single factor in meeting the acute need for institutional care of this group of children. The weaknesses in the programs and standards of services in the twenty-two schools were revealed in a study made in 1954-55 which showed the immediate need for the development of treatment programs in lieu of custodial care.

Because of the increasing awareness of the problems of juvenile delinquency communities are asking for guidance and technical assistance in developing and coordinating facilities for prevention. Hundreds of delinquent and seriously disturbed youths are falling into the gaps between services, resulting in newspaper headlines of vandalism and gang activity. Keeping pace with the trend toward more serious crimes which reflect the more serious degree of disturbance in today's youth would require a staff beyond the number budgeted.

Counties need help in establishing and supervising detention facilities. Help is needed also in establishing higher standards for probation whereby the service would not be remote and routine but given by well qualified probation staff with skills for helping the troubled child with his needs and problems. Forty thousand children come before the juvenile courts in Pennsylvania in a year. These figures are based on an actual count in twenty-five counties and projected on this basis for the total State. Without a full-time consultant to and probation staffs there will be no change in the inadequate and unsatisfactory service being given in many counties in the State. The present picture shows no probation service in eight counties and in several others the sheriff or county detective acts in this capacity; and in still others there is no probation service for girls and in still others the probation officer for adults serves the juveniles. The State's responsibility for changing this picture through technical assistance and guidance and perhaps financial aid is more than obvious. The budget cut will eliminate the Division's opportunity to provide leadership and consultation to the police units in metropolitan areas handling juvenile delinquents and to the policemen in rural communities who may be the key adult in handling delinquency problems in a small community. The potential help for delinquent children in the Bureau's leadership to police activities has not even been explored. Every part of the Bureau's over-all program for juvenile delinquency needs strengthening to make the whole effective.

b. The Bureau's budget for travel was reduced from $81,612 to $55,497 which will seriously curtail the travel of the field staff which is essential to the mandated responsibilities of supervision of the child caring agencies and institutions.

c. Research, statistics and publications

Pennsylvania counts its pigs but not its children in any scientific or accurate fashion. Therefore statistics for the use of State funds are lacking and budget documentation and justification are handicapped. With curtailed staff no progress would be made in this direction. Even reports required by the U.S. Children's Bureau would have to be submitted as "incomplete" because of lack of staff service.

The Department traditionally has provided as a public service to child caring agencies and institutions, including the courts, publications on child welfare and printed forms which have been and are in great demand. The budget cut will drastically limit free distribution of existing publications and curtail the preparation and distribution of additional ones which have been requested.

d. Rent of Regional Offices in Pittsburgh and Philadelphia

The budget cut threatens the rent item for the two regional offices which have proven to be advantageous to the area served and therefore suggest the value of two additional ones possibly in Wileks-Barre and Williamsport as part of further decentralization.

Effect on the Department of Welfare's Forestry Camp Progress of the Drastic Reduction in the Department's Budget

The complete elimination of the budget item for forestry camps ($215,532 in the Governor's budget) strikes a death blow to a program already begun, with one such camp at Raccoon Park in the Western part of the State now in operation. The Department's original request for the forestry camp program was $715,000 to establish five camps, each of which could be expected to serve 100 boys in the course of one year. This sum was reduced in the Governor's budget to $215,532 which, including unspent funds from the original appropriation of $150,000, would permit the operation of two camps for the biennium. With the addition of $100,000 and certain reductions in the original plans for the camp staff and activities, it is believed that three camps can be operated, thus approaching the original plan for forestry camp service and giving a new resource for Pennsylvania for the treatment of delinquent youth with the potential of approximately 300 campers per year to be served.

Forestry camps are a part of the over-all program for youth rehabilitation. The lack of continuing funds for 1957-59 is a tragedy for Pennsylvania youth and an outstanding example of short-sighted economy as the investment in personnel and equipment for this one camp will serve no further purpose. Additional camps for Eastern and Central Pennsylvania will not be started although sites are available and plans made for their operation. Forestry camps are accepted as a form of treatment for juvenile delinquents, and to eliminate this phase of youth rehabilitation at a time when the problems of juvenile delinquency are overwhelming State and community facilities will not be understandable to the public.

The forestry camp program is authorized under Act 599 of 1956, under which, "The Department of Forests and Waters, at the request of the Department of Welfare, shall provide and maintain facilities to be used for forestry conservation and for the education and training of male youth. In cooperation with the Fish Commission and the Game Commission the Department of Forests and Waters shall plan useful projects for conservation, recreation, dams for flood control in State forests and State parklands, and shall supply personnel to supervise work on these projects."

The Department of Welfare is working closely with the other above-mentioned State departments to insure a balance in program between the emphasis on treatment for delinquent boys and the work program which is the responsibility of the other departments. The Department considers it important to continually emphasize that the fundamental purpose of the law and of the program itself is the rehabilitation of delinquent youth and not just work resources for youth as such.

Department of Welfare

Bureau of Children's Services

More Than $2 Million Less for Pennsylvania's Children

Thousands of neglected children in rural hill-sides and in city alleys may have to stay with irresponsible and even abusive parents because of insufficient funds for child welfare workers to be employed by County Commissioners. Given service, many of these parents could be helped to keep their children and avoid the necessity of their placement in foster homes and institutions at public expense.

Commissioners in 55 counties are willing and eager to provide service for these children with the assistance of funds from the Department of Welfare to supplement their own. Without supplementary funds foster families in some counties will be asked to care for the children removed by court action from their own homes, at a rate of 50 cents a day—to provide food, shelter, and love at that price!

Child-caring institutions in some instances will have to continue to care for children at rates less than half the actual cost with a resulting hand-to-mouth financing of their services. This will be a particular hardship for some of the smaller institutions which have all they can do to provide basic care with a staff too few in number to give individual care or plan activities to meet children's needs.

All children deprived of their own homes and families need special care and attention, and in this group are thousands of children committed by juvenile Courts as delinquents. These children have been recognized by their communities as having more serious problems and, if untreated, these will be the adults in prisons and mental hospitals in years to come.

Commissioners in 55 counties who in 1955 spent approximately $15 million a year in county funds for dependent, neglected, and delinquent children, with the support of their leading citizens are willing and eager to improve and extend their existing services to children if supplementation with State funds is forthcoming. In more than 30 counties the supplementary funds would mean the improvement and extension of existing services, and in others the establishment of new programs. Without State funds thousands of Pennsylvania's children will have no care in some counties and minimal care in others. Thus, a county line may determine the destiny of a child! The reimbursement program of supplementary State funds through local, public agencies is based on the principle of equalization of basic care of children throughout the Commonwealth. The elimination of this item in the Appropriation Act spells tragedy for children.

The appropriation cut from $40,000 to $8,000 for services to children of migrant laborers will deny to other counties the day care facilities provided for these children in Potter County. These services proved their value in the summers of 1954, 1955, and 1956 to children and the community.

The elimination of the budget item for forestry camps will deny to delinquent youth the opportunity for rehabilitation which the 1956 Legislature (Act 599—1956) ordered as a joint project of four State departments (Welfare, Forests and Waters, Fish and Game Commissions).

The core of State services to children is mandated (Administrative Code) responsibilities for the supervision of the 450 child-caring agencies and institutions with a total population of approximately 28,000, carried by the Bureau of Children's Services. A 40 per cent cut in the Bureau's administrative costs would reduce the staff by approximately that amount, thus making impossible the protection of children insured by state-wide supervisory coverage.

With the withdrawal of State funds for reimbursement to counties for child care, Pennsylvania again becomes the only major state which does not have this financial partnership between the State and local, public agencies. This means that children already deprived of their right to normal family life will be further deprived by an emphasis on dollars and cents rather than on human values.

BUREAU OF CHILDREN'S SERVICES

The proposed budget cut . . .

Eliminates the state's program of reimbursement to counties for the care of dependent, neglected and delinquent children. Through this, 50 counties, spending annually $13,000,000 of their own funds, with the help of state funds are procuring qualified child welfare workers to provide service to children in their own homes and are raising board rates and standards in foster homes and institutions. 25,000 children currently under care will be deprived of service.

Eliminates the program of forestry camps for delinquent boys. Forestry camps are accepted as a form of treatment for juvenile delinquents and to eliminate this phase of youth rehabilitation at a time when the problems of juvenile delinquency are overwhelming state and community facilities, will not be understandable to the public.

Limits services to children of migrant laborers to Potter County which has an existing program. The provision of only $4,000 a year for the entire program means that it can continue even in Potter County for only one year, since present plans include a minimum expenditure of $8,000 for 1957. Eliminates similar programs in Chester, Northumberland and other counties.

Eliminates all local preventive and rehabilitative services such as homemaker services, psychiatric counseling, programs for street gangs, and special foster homes.

Mr. TOLL. Mr. Speaker, in connection with these amendments, I gave up an opportunity to offer special amendments for the city of Philadelphia and now avail myself of the opportunity to supplement the remarks made by the gentleman from Westmoreland with regard to the—

The SPEAKER. Does the Chair understand that the gentleman from Philadelphia intends to offer amendments?

Mr. TOLL. No. I gave up my opportunity in order to support the amendments of Mr. Petrosky.

The SPEAKER. The Chair thanks the gentleman. The Chair was about to ask if the gentleman from Westmoreland desired to have his amendments voted on first.

Mr. TOLL. Thank you, Mr. Speaker. The amendments offered by Mr. Petrosky cover the problem relating to Philadelphia.

Those of you who still have the budget of the General Fund on hand on page 158 will see that as far as Philadelphia is concerned, there is a program relating to mental health services referred to by Mr. Petrosky.

This practically represents the mental health program as far as the treatment of mental health is concerned in the city. It cares for and treats the mentally ill, it takes care of the mentally retarded, the disturbed children and the aged in the Philadelphia area. It includes many aspects of prevention, community education, specialized counseling, research, statistical systems and integrated mental health activities.

It involves four different categories: $519,000 for administration, which was requested for this biennium; $1,630,000 for reimbursement to Philadelphia for the care of mentally ill persons; local preventive and rehabilitative services, $320,000; and establishment of diagnostic clinics in general hospitals, $732,000.

In the last biennium this Assembly gave Philadelphia $280,000 for administration, $210,000 for reimbursement for mentally ill $10,000 for local preventive and rehabilitative service and $500,000 for the diagnostic clinics.

In this slicing which was done by the Appropriations Committee, and now so strongly supported by the Republican party, Philadelphia was sliced right out. The $27 million was sliced out of the Welfare budget, completely extracted, so that not one penny is contained in House Bill 1700 as far as this program is concerned.

Let me read you what one famous Philadelphia reporter has to say about this phase of the program. I am quoting from a paragraph written by Earl and Anne Selby on May 21, 1957 in the Bulletin. It is very interesting:

There's a new reception center for the mentally ill at Philadelphia General Hospital. Purpose: To examine, diagnose, and refer the patients to short term treatment centers in clinics and general hospitals. About 900 patients a month now go through the center

But that will go out the window if the budget cut goes through.

The plan to add 400 beds for mental patients at the Philadelphia General Hospital may be out—before the work is even started.

The state's program to have the mentally ill treated at Mercy Douglass Hospital may go by the boards.

The classification center for juveniles—where kids are examined to see what help they need—will have to be dropped.

The 2,800 kids waiting to be admitted to state institutions for the mentally retarded can just about give up hope of any early admission . . .

In short, the ambitious city-state program for attacking the mental health program in Philadelphia will be ruined.

Ladies and gentlemen just last year the General State Authority spent $650,000 to open the Mercy-Douglass hospital for the treatment of the mentally ill. There are 110 patients in that hospital today. This particular program by cutting out Philadelphia, by eliminating the money which we need for the mentally ill, destroys every opportunity to take care of those people. The only money which has been appropriated in this particular budget for the Mercy-Douglass Hospital is to take care of the chronically ill. That does not involve the mentally ill at all.

Let me read you what our mayor said in the bulletin which he issued to us yesterday:

The worst feature of the proposed budget is, of course, its complete destruction of the excellent mental health plan now in effect in Philadelphia. If the proposed slash in funds for mental health goes through, it means that the new Recreation Center for the mentally ill at Philadelphia General Hospital which has done such an effective job, together with 400 new beds at the Philadelphia General Hospital for mental patients, together with the entire program for the treatment of mental patients at Mercy-Douglass Hospital, will come to an end. It will also put an end to the Classification Center for juvenile mental patients.

In this connection, it should also be pointed out that the City has itself made a considerable investment in new facilities at the Philadelphia General Hospital in order to accommodate these programs. This investment of more than a quarter-of-a-million dollars will be wiped out, for the City simply cannot raise the $4 million which this program costs under our present tax structure.

The proposed budget will also mean that the State is again welching on its obligation to care for mentally ill children committed by the Courts to State institutions. This in itself is an item of $400,000 a year, and sometime ago was assumed by the State in every County except Philadelphia Two years ago . . . Philadelphia was included in this program. Under the proposed budget, Philadelphia will again be eliminated and the State would again ignore its fundamental obligation in this regard.

Members of the House and members of the majority party, is this by accident? Is this by design? Or is this something which you are doing to deliberately remove Philadelphia from the benefits of plans which you are definitely committing for the remainder of the state?

I would like to ask in the words of the former speaker of the House who came from Philadelphia, "Just what are you up to?"

Mr. GAILEY. Mr. Speaker, most of the speakers who have talked at great length on this very important subject have dealt with, primarily, large institutions with big programs. I come from a county where we have no such large mental institutions, but we have a big problem there just as we do in every county in this area.

I have here a telegram I would like read which was sent to me by the directors of the local Mental Health Association. They say they urge me to use my influence and vote to revise upward the appropriation for Mental Health which House Bill 1700 reduces appreciably. The cut would seriously curtail the operations of community clinics.

Our clinic is now seeing 500 children and adults yearly, treating their psychiatric illnesses and helping many to avoid the necessity of going to mental hospitals. Mental illness is doubtlessly alleviated by these clinics, thus saving much loss in economic productivity and hospital costs. Community clinics are on the firing line against mental illness and deserve your every help for true economy in human lives. It is signed by 22 leading citizens from York city and York County.

I know from looking at the list of the signers of that telegram that the vast majority of these are Republican by registration. This is not a partisan matter, it is a bipartisan matter. I think the most important aspect of this telegram, this message, is that in a county such as York—a county which we hope is relatively free from tensions, it has large rural areas, the pace of living there is not nearly so fast-paced as it is in some of our metropolitan areas—in the short period of less than a year that our local mental health clinic has been in operation, they have aided over 500 children and adults. This is the program which is going to be seriously harmed unless these amendments are passed.

I appeal to those of you who perhaps may not have large institutions in your districts to consider the impact that a program of this sort can have on your community and ask you to support these amendments.

Mr. GELFAND. Mr. Speaker, I rise to say a few brief words in favor of the amendments which were just introduced.

Though I am sure many of the words I will utter now may fall upon deaf ears, I would appreciate it if the Members on the other side would at least give me the courtesy of listening to my speech.

Yesterday one of the speakers in this House in the earlier part of the day rose and said he wished he could give an impassioned speech on behalf of mental health, because he felt it came from the depths of his heart. I can rise today and give such an impassioned speech because I do feel it from the depths of my heart.

I do not know how many of you have lived through the experience of witnessing someone in the shadows whom you cannot reach. I do not know how many of you have gone to an institution and hoped the person whom you were speaking to would at least recognize you and feel that perhaps someday something can be done for them. I do know this, however, that you do go through a personal hell every night when you leave the institution and every night you toss sleeplessly hoping something more can be done. I know not only do you do it individually, but everybody associated with you loves that person does it individually. Then you go back and you hope that sometime something really can be done.

Then you have the problem of thinking to yourself, what about the question of finances? In a situation like this, although finances seem unimportant, you must realize every treatment is quite expensive. Every night you resort to your bank account and you hope, perhaps I will have a little more money just to afford a few more electric shock treatments. I hope I have a little more money just so I can afford a little more insulin therapy. I hope I have just enough money to pay $20 more for a visit to a psychiatrist. Then you realize that this costs you a great deal and perhaps you must forego something you can do for someone whom you love dearly in order that the rest of your family may at least live in some semblance of comfort.

We talk today about a mental health program which we know is working, which we know is doing something for people whom most of us hold dear and some of whom probably are having personal problems of their own. We sit hard-hearted with moneybags tied around our hearts, not even considering the possibilities of the amendments and the good which they will do.

I remember possibly around a year and one half ago we had Dr. Menninger in this very room. Dr. Menninger is the leader of the Menninger Clinic in Topeka. He told us of the program they had in Topeka and the wonders it is doing. He advised us at that time that although the initial costs of the program were great, the over-all features and the prospects for the future meant that instead of having to build more brick buildings to house patients in custody they could do away with them, and that they already after four to five years could see the progress the program was making. They could see that the costs in the long run were going to be cheaper because more and more patients were leaving the institutions for outside treatment. However, he did at that time warn us that the initial costs were high, but said that the over-all picture in the long run would be cheaper to his state and probably to any state which followed the plan.

After he gave that heartrending speech in this auditorium, which many of us listened to very, very closely and earnestly, I spoke to a number of my Republican colleagues at the time. They, together with me, felt that possibly this man spoke with wisdom, he spoke from great deal of experience, and possibly the program he was suggesting was good for the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

Subsequent to his suggestions this body and I was proud to be a Member of the body at that time as I still hope to be—passed a new mental health program. We made new mental health appropriations. Because of that we have an enlightened and progressive program of mental health treatment in this Commonwealth. The results of this program we are already able to see.

For instance, ever since we passed the program last session, the changes which have been wrought are almost magical. In 1956 Pennsylvania was one of the few states where the patient population of mental hospitals declined. Twelve of the 17 hospitals reported reduction in the percentage of overcrowding. In 1955 there were 40,920 men and women in state mental hospitals, today there are 38,700, a decrease of 2,220 patients. Since the new program has been inaugurated, a steady flow of admissions has been maintained, that is so, but the rate of discharges has steadily mounted. In 1954 the 17 hospitals discharged 3,103 patients, in 1955 the figure was 3,639 and in 1956 it was 3,925.

In addition to this, dilapidated buildings are being repaired. New lounges are being redecorated for patients' use. Television recreational programs are being instituted. Patients are now being given clothing to wear instead of uniforms. They are getting better treatment, their dignity has been increased. This is the type of program which is now being fostered in Pennsylvania so that we can really do something for these people who live in the limbo of darkness.

Yet today we sit here, we stand here and we talk about reducing the appropriation for a mental health program which we know is working. For instance, Dr. Eugene L. Sielke, who is the Superintendent of the Philadelphia State Hospital at Byberry, says if the cut in the appropriations is passed it would have this effect on Byberry:

No possibility of repair and upkeep of plant or equipment;

Scuttling of the Mercy-Douglass Hospital project;

Curtailment of admissions;

Cutbacks on treatment and rehabilitation programs;

Abandonment of the farm and dairy at Byberry;

No funds for patient clothing, diversions or recreational equipment;

Loss of employe morale with attendant reflections on patient care and treatment.

Dr. Sielke warned—and this is very important—that the budget cuts would mean curtailment of drugs and medical equipment purchases, develop professional dissatisfaction and probably wholesale resignations because of the inability to pay their doctors and nurses adequately.

The Philadelphia County Medical Society had this to say and I quote from another newspaper article:

The Philadelphia County Medical Society charged yesterday at an emergency session of its board of directors and committee on mental hygiene that the proposed budgetary cuts in the State's health program would "jeopardize the mental health of the citizens of Pennsylvania."

We beseech the Legislative authorities to reconsider their action and hope the citizenry will express their violent opposition to the curtailment of this important mental health service.

The County Medical Society of Delaware County said that the cut would cease to attract qualified professional persons and it would jeopardize the mental health of the citizens of Pennsylvania. They went on record as being for the same proposal as the Philadelphia County Medical Society.

At the 140th anniversary celebration of the Friends Hospital the other day Dr. Francis J. Braceland, past president of the American Psychiatric Association, said this:

The future of mental hospitals in Pennsylvania is indeed dark, if I read the headlines correctly.

With so many mental patients now deemed salvageable, the more the shame if we take a backward step at this time.

Yesterday in an article in the Philadelphia Bulletin

Mike Gorman, Executive Director of the National Committee Against Mental Illness, declared:

I now find that these progressive moves could be jeopardized by unwise cutting of the budget by the current session of the Legislature.

I have a host of other articles here all along the same line, and these are not from professional wailers, these are from people who know the mental health problem. Yet we sit here with lack of knowledge and say, We shall cut this budget.

The Philadelphia Inquirer, which we all know is one of the great newspapers in the state and which we all know is no admirer of the Leader Administration, has a two-column editorial in which they criticize the deplorable action in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania wherein the Republican majority in the House and the Senate stand up and say they are interested in the mental welfare of the citizens of Pennsylvania merely because of the fact that they have to save money.

This business of holding the line is something for a football game. It is not something for a human being. The things we are dealing with here and now are not inanimate objects, they are human beings, people who are dear to us. This fact should be considered.

The thing we must realize is this, the people whom we are relegating to this limbo of darkness may be our own loved ones. What we are doing here today is taking away the possibility of real treatment and real cure so that these people may leave the institutions.

Last session when we passed the budget I looked at the ceiling and I noticed that we had a very, very interesting mural. I can see the moon is in one section and in the other section is the sun. I thought to myself, if we go clockwise, that is the way I thought we were moving now, we are moving from darkness to light. But today I can see that we are now moving from light to darkness.

I say to you members on the other side, unshackle yourselves, remove the keepers from your minds and vote what you really feel in your hearts, and I am sure you will vote in favor of the amendments we have here now.

Mr. McCORMACK. Mr. Speaker, May I interrogate the gentleman from Westmoreland, Mr. Petrosky?

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Westmoreland, Mr. Petrosky, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. PETROSKY. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. McCORMACK. Mr. Speaker, do your amendments restore the cut of $5.5 million to the Philadelphia State Hospital?

Mr. PETROSKY. Mr. Speaker, the amendment is not broken down, they are lump sum appropriation amendments for the various operations in the Department of Welfare.

Mr. McCORMACK. According to the budget they were broken down. I was wondering.

Mr. PETROSKY. Yes, that is included in the lump sum.

Mr. McCORMACK. Mr. Speaker, I have a few more questions. Does the amendment also include the restoration of $5 million to Norristown State Hospital?

Mr. PETROSKY. Yes.

Mr. McCORMACK. The $2.5 million to the Eastern Psychiatric Institute?

Mr. PETROSKY. That is correct.

Mr. McCORMACK. The $2.4 million to the Penhurst State School?

Mr. PETROSKY. Yes.

Mr. McCORMACK. Thank you. That is all I have to ask.

Mr. Speaker, the amounts I just questioned totalled roughly $14 or $15 million. Certainly we are not dealing with peanuts here, we are dealing with a large sum of money.

The institutions I mentioned are ones in Philadelphia or immediately surrounding Philadelphia. They are mental institutions, they are concerned with the mental health of the citizens of Pennsylvania.

Much has been covered today on these questions and I can add very little more. But I do want to say that this curtailment of service must necessarily be made because of the budget cuts. You cannot knock $15 million off these institutions and expect them to be run on an up-to-date basis.

Dr. Sielke, whom the gentleman from Philadelphia mentioned, recently said that 65 percent of their operating expenses at that mental institution are on personnel. It necessarily means that if these budget cuts are not restored they are going to have to do away with doctors and nurses who care for these patients.

You all sat here during the last session of the Legislature and listened to Dr. Menninger. We heard him say this state was one of the last in the rate of discharges from mental institutions. Figures that we received after we adopted these new mental health programs in the state showed that Pennsylvania is ranking away up, I would say probably as high as the 24th or the 25th state. Before it was the 47th state out of 48 in this union.

But you cannot maintain that record unless you have the money. A lot of you Legislators are not familiar, I am sure, with the terrible problem which exists with respect to getting people into mental institutions. Philadelphia has a terrible problem. It is beyond my comprehension how you can sit here and vote for these cuts unless you are unaware of the problem.

Do you know that a few years ago in order to get a person into the Philadelphia State Hospital you had to have them arrested by the police and committed to the county prison, incarcerated with thieves, and robbers, and murderers. There they stayed for two months or three months until they had bed space to house these people. That is criminal. It is criminal for the authorities to commit a person, and yet it is the only way we could get them into the institutions. I do not know what exists in the other 66 counties. Maybe you have the same problem. If you do, you are all the more to blame for voting against these amendments.

I for one do not want to sit here idly and vote for an appropriation that is totally and woefully inadequate. I hope we do something. I hope we reconsider. I hope the Republican party has another caucus and brings in the leaders of the party to make them reconsider.

As I said yesterday, if it needs new taxes, I will be the first to lead the fight to get Democratic votes to support a tax program, and I do not care how obnoxious that tax program is, because it cannot be equated with the human lives we are hurting by these appropriation cuts.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the amendment?

The SPEAKER. Will the House give unanimous consent to the offering of amendments at this time? Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the amendments?

MR. GIBSON IN THE CHAIR

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, the first amendment this morning under the Department of Public Instruction deals with the 14 State Teachers' Colleges located in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania. In this particular bill, House Bill 1700, the Appropriations Committee has designated a specific amount of money to each of the 14 State Teachers' Colleges, totalling $17,034,125.

This amendment, as presented to the House this morning, brings it back to the same figure as indicated in House Bill 1700 constituting $17,034,125 but allocates the money in one lump sum to be used by the State Teachers' Colleges and to be allocated each quarter, as it has been done in the past, to the various schools in the Commonwealth.

The purpose of the amendment is truly to bring the figure into a one-group sum so that the State Teachers' Colleges dealing with the two-year biennium, if the enrollment should change in any way—the particular House bill as it is written now specifically gives a certain amount of money to each of the various schools and by allocating the money in a lump sum, as you have done in the past and are doing in this bill in various other Departments, you will then be giving funds according to their needs in each quarter should their enrollment fluctuate. For example, if the money allocated by the bill as it is now written were to give to the State Teachers' College a specific sum of money and their enrollment should drop and some other school's should increase, it of course would require that additional money be taken to the school where the enrollment increased in this particular biennium.

You would say that this money can be allocated as they see fit from the specific amount, but if you will read the other sections of the bill which are debated carefully in the last part of the bill, which will be debated at a later time, you will find to get the additional money that may be needed for that quarter would require some careful consideration. It is nothing more than an amendment dealing with taking the money that is now allocated to the 14 State Teachers' Colleges. The specific sum, the total sum is the same as reported in the bill $17,034,125, and lumping the money into one sum.

Yesterday it was the position of the majority party when such a move was made in the opposite direction that they stood pat and stated their position was just the opposite. Now we have given to them an opportunity to present a reversal picture in which they may have an opportunity to state their reasons for this particular situation. This does not add nor deduct one cent of money that is allocated in the budget in House Bill 1700.

Mr. JOHNSON. Mr. Speaker, what the amendments of Mr. McCann seem to do, as I understand it, is to put the appropriation to our State Teachers' Colleges in one lump sum rather than have it allocated to each institution as we have in House Bill 1700.

I regret I was not able, this Session, because of the many duties of Floor Leader, to attend the hearing when the State Teachers' Colleges presidents came in and presented their budgets. I have, however, in the past attended the meeting. I have seen the presidents of these State Teachers' Colleges all in a room together. Unfortunately, they do not have a voice. Under our law the Superintendent of Public Instruction is an all powerful individual. He is the one who tells those different State Teachers how much money they are going to get during the biennium.

I can remember four years ago attending the hearing. After the Superintendent of Public Instruction left, I turned to those presidents of those State Teachers' Colleges and I said, "Fellows, let your hair down and let's hear what you have to say." But none of them dared to talk up for the simple reason that the Superintendent of Public Instruction would cut their heads off and would probably cut them down about $200,000 and cripple their schools.

We feel we are giving to each school what the Governor says they will need to run their institution. It will give some pride and some leadership and some autonomy to the presidents of these different institutions. They will know how much money they can spend, and it will be their money and not the Superintendent of Public Instruction's money.

I think it is a step in the right direction to give that school the money they need. By the way, here is one case where by precedent the school is given the money that they get from tuition and other sources that is appropriated to them for their use. This appropriation to each school is the net amount after they have budgeted their tuition, their room rent and their profit on their cafeteria, and so forth. We feel that it is a step in the right direction. It is giving some control to the president of the university. He will know how much money he is going to get and he will not have to come down here with his hat in his hand and beg for money for his school and practically be a servant of the Superintendent of Public Instruction. I say let's let this thing stand. It is a good thing for our State Teachers' Colleges.

So the question was determined in the negative and the amendments were not agreed to.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, I ask unanimous consent to offer an amendment at this time.

The SPEAKER. The amendment will be read by the Clerk for information.

Amend Section 2, page 42, line 2, by striking out "$245,000" and inserting "$290,491"

The SPEAKER. Will the House give unanimous consent to the offering of an amendment at this time? Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the amendment?

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, the second amendment offered in the Department of Public Instruction budget deals with the speech and hearing function as outlined in the present bill.

The Joint Committee on Appropriations has seen fit to allocate $245,000 on an approval request that was submitted to them for $290,491.

Now, in the 1955-1957 program, which actually expanded the speech and hearing functions in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, there have been established five existing centers. It was hoped there would be six centers established in Pennsylvania. Five were established by virtue of the fact that it was felt the funds would not be granted to carry this program to its full extent.

But, let us see what this Commonwealth has done in cutting back this particular appropriation. As I mentioned, the Department has certainly found need for six centers but satisfied itself with the operation of five. With this particular amount of money, $245,000 which has been allocated for the 1957-1959 budget, you will find the Department of Public Instruction will be forced to reduce at least one of the centers in operation at the present time. That means there can only be four centers operated in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania. To me this is a set-back because we did enlarge to the point of five centers, hoping to establish a sixth, and with the money they have allocated for this particular request we will definitely have to cut back one of the centers in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania or revise the areas which they serve.

Let us take for example the situation where the Committee found that in the operation of the Speech and Hearing Rehabilitation Centers, as the Governor's budget has indicated, they will also find that at the present time in the operation of those centers, up and including the end of this particular fiscal program, they will have spent approximately $244,974 in that operation. If the people who are working in this program on the short time period that this program has been in effect, the expanded program, and have spent $244,000 in the operation of these centers, not operating them 24 months, there is no question that it will cost more money to operate all five centers for a total period of 24 months, or it would cost more than that to operate six centers—as are definitely needed in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania—for a 24 month period.

With the figures that you have granted to this particular program there is no question but that at least one center must be cut back. I ask you, very kindly, if that is your intention when you speak of aiding this particular program, the Speech and Hearing Centers, a program that has been found to be most certainly needed by the doctors of this Commonwealth who examine our school children. If you believe this is the right way to help this particular program by being forced to cut back one center, then I certainly cannot consider that a tremendous step in the progress of education in trying to help these youngsters. You have no choice. You can choose as you see fit, but when you make this cut you shall most certainly place a larger load on the centers that will have to be revised to include the areas that they will have to serve. There is no question in anyone's mind that you can stand before this House and say this program, with the money you have allocated, will be able to do the very same thing for the next 24 months that it has done in the past short period it has operated. Facts and figures cannot change that picture. You are dealing with youngsters who need this help. You, yourself, must make that decision.

I ask that the House support these amendments.

Mr. JOHNSON. Mr. Speaker, in reply, the gentleman has made my speech for me, I guess.

During the latter part of the 1953 biennium $294,000 was spent on this program. This biennium that we are in, there was $242,000 spent. As the gentleman says, the budget, in House Bill 1700 projects the figure of current spending, and that is where we arrive at the $245,000 for that particular activity.

I ask the amendments be voted down.

So the question was determined in the negative and the amendment was not agreed to.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, I ask unanimous consent to offer an amendment at this time.

The SPEAKER. The amendment will be read by the Clerk for information.

Amend Section 2, page 41, line 17, by striking out "$120,000" and inserting "$200,000"

The SPEAKER. Will the House give unanimous consent to the offering of an amendment at this time? Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the amendment?

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, the third amendment that has been offered to the House deals with the Department of Public Instruction, the School Milk and Lunch Program. In this particular amendment, the House Appropriation Committee has seen fit to allocate for this program a total sum of $120,000 with the recommendation from the Governor's Office that $200,000 be allocated for this particular program.

During the period in which the fiscal biennium will close, you will find that in this program there has been spent up to the present date $134,795 in the School Milk and Lunch Program. The House Committee's report estimated the expenditures at $113,000, but in checking these figures very carefully there certainly must have been a great discrepancy, for these figures are very recent covering up to the period of the present date.

This, of course, is a program which also deals with Federal funds. In this particular program there is no question that at least nine positions would have to be eliminated with the wages and traveling expenses allocated for those positions curtailed.

The question involved in the School Milk and Lunch Program is the fact that over the years certainly two great state-wide organizations have spoken to me time and time again in advocating a stronger school milk program. I speak of the Pennsylvania State Grange which time and time again has advocated more milk be used in the school milk program in the schools of the Commonwealth. This program ties in with the Federal funds. The question involved in this reduction definitely deals with the amount of Federal money which has been estimated, that by the curtailment of the $80,000 appropriation, as requested, would mean that about $4,678,000 available in Federal school lunch and milk aid could possibly not be expended.

Is it the intention of the majority party to, at any time, try to curtail the program that is beneficial to the school children in which Federal funds are engaged when they have time and time again advocated the expansion of such a program. If that is the situation, then of course it must be faced. We must realize that if any of the money that could not be expended in the Federal School Milk and School Lunch Program were to be turned back from the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, it most certainly would fall in this particular category for failure to provide the funds to operate that particular division dealing with this program.

I have, of course, a complete breakdown of each position that would be eliminated, the salary, the title, and the duties. That in itself would take, very likely, better than a half-hour to insert into the record. But I think we have made our case rather clear.

We believe in this program. We voted for it in past sessions. We have advocated the strengthening of the program to enlarge the School Milk and School Lunch Program in Pennsylvania. We feel confident the money that has been requested by the Governor's budget is most certainly a fair amount and that the cut will do an injustice to the program.

We ask the amendments that are offered this morning in this particular change be adopted by the House.

Mr. HOCKER. Mr. Speaker, I would ask the Members on our side to vote against these amendments because our figures show, and through our hearings we found out, that during the last biennium they handled this program which expended well over $10 million of Federal money. They handled it with the expenditure of $113,000. We have seen fit to give them additional money to handle this program.

We are giving them $120,000. We feel that it is ample to take care of the program.

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, again this is another example of where the Committee on Appropriations does not bother to take the time to get the facts. Certainly their records show there was $113,000 expended, but if they would pick up the telephone and check this morning, they would find that $134,795 has been expended to the present date in this particular program.

There is no question that a part of this is an increase in salaries which was readjusted on the program last August. There is no question that a part of this is for a short period of time. Therefore, the expenditure the gentleman from Dauphin speaks' about includes figures he had at that time and rightfully so. But this again is a reduction that should be inserted into the record which are not the true figures, the true figures they could have received had they been so kind as to check.

Mr. HOCKER. Mr. Speaker, I would say the thing that we had to be guided by in all our meetings and hearings—and believe me we worked very hard at it for a period of five or six weeks—the only thing that we had to work by was this report from the Office of Administration which was furnished by their people. Those are the figures we used in all instances.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the amendment?

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the House of Representatives for its concurrence.

On the question,

Will the House concur in the resolution of the Senate? It was concurred in.

Ordered, That the Clerk inform the Senate accordingly.

BILL ON THIRD READING

The SPEAKER. The House will resume consideration of House Bill 1700.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, I ask unanimous consent to offer an amendment at this time.

The SPEAKER. The amendment will be read by the Clerk for information.

Amend Section 2, page 46, line 18, by striking out $10,850,000" and inserting $14,500,000

The SPEAKER. Will the House give unanimous consent to the offering of an amendment at this time? Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the amendment?

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, this particular amendment is the special education subsidy which is an item in the overall support of the public schools subsidy. The amount which has been requested by the amendment presented to the House is $14,500,000 and the Committee on Appropriation which has made a deduction of $3,650,000 deals with the money that is mandated by law. The question involved in this amendment deals with special education. We have directed by prior legislation the enactment of this particular law which deals with special education and have set up the provisions under which either the county boards or the school districts of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania are to receive their sum of money for special education.

Unless the estimates in any way can be determined more accurately, there is no question that we are dealing with a short change program here which will call for deficiency payments in this manner. When the reports come in to the Department of Public Instruction, the estimate that has been placed in the budget by the Appropriations Committee and the estimate that has been placed by the Governor's budget, the difference between the two may be at very great latitudes in determining the amount of money that is needed.

If this amount is short—which we feel confident it is since this program is expanding its school district and also in counties where they are operating or trying to start it on a county basis—this money will then have to be provided for by the Department of Public Instruction in repayment to those particular school districts or county operated plans.

When the bills come in and the vouchers are received, they certainly will have to allocate the money to that particular district. If the amount exceeds the amount allocated in this appropriation by the Committee on Appropriations, they so will be obligated to pay that money because it will be a requirement on payment by legislation, by law that we have enacted. If the differences would be of the amount we have requested, then this certainly is a cutback in this section only for the purpose of stating and balancing the figures because the payments will still be due.

Therefore, on those grounds we ask the amendment dealing with this particular special education subsidy be increased to the present request of $14,500,000.

The SPEAKER. The Chair recognizes the gentleman from McKean, Mr. Johnson.

Mr. JOHNSON. Mr. Speaker, I will yield to Mr. Andrews.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman from McKean, Mr. Johnson, yields to the gentleman from Cambria, Mr. Andrews. The Chair recognizes the gentleman.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, I would like to say for the benefit of the Majority Leader and the gentleman from Dauphin that if democratic bureaucrats have blundered as to figures, we have an Appropriations Committee established for the express purpose of correcting such error. It comes with poor grace for the representatives of the Appropriations Committee, like Pilate, to wash their hands and say that if the figures are wrong we happen to get them from a Democratic bureaucrat and that therefore we are helpless. The Appropriations Committee has not been helpless. It has had the power and the range to ascertain the figures. I repeat it comes with poor grace for the spokesmen of the Appropriations Committee to say if there has been an error, don't blame us; we just happened to get the wrong figures.

Mr. WOOD. Mr. Speaker, in answer to the gentleman from Cambria, Mr. Andrews, we have been trying all Session to get some information from the budget bureau. The main one we could not get any information from was the Governor's office. The only thing we got from the Governor's office was the list of personnel.

When Mr. Bradley was there before the Committee, I asked him where the budget requests were, and he said, "I don't think we will have to make up a budget request to tell us how to spend the money." "How do you expect us to do it?" "I will go back and make that request and send it to you."

That has been at least six or seven weeks ago, and we have not received it yet.

We asked him a second time, and so far we have not received it. I think in the Department of Welfare there are at least 2,000 pages we never got. Of course, we do not know what was in that. That is true of all the other departments.

Mr. ANDREWS. I appreciate the difficulties under which the Appropriations Committee has sometimes labored. I do not care whether it is the Governor's office, the budget office or any other office, it is the business of this House to protect the public against error wherever found. To say that we are powerless, this House this General Assembly, to obtain controlling figures is an attitude that does not serve to maintain our dignity as responsible Legislators.

I would suggest even at this late date the Appropriations Committee, if it has trouble getting figures, it knows who it can subpoena for further questioning. It knows that it can demand, and this House can demand, figures that are up to the minute and we do not have to contact the budget office or Dr. Ferguson or anybody.

If the Appropriations Committee has not yet fortified itself with sufficient staff to do the job, that is not the fault of the Governor.

Mr. GOLDSTEIN. Mr. Speaker, it is a sad state for the taxpayers of this great Commonwealth of Pennsylvania when the Democrats have no confidence in the figures submitted by the Governor of this state and no confidence in the figures submitted by Secretary Shapiro, the leading exponent of an expanded and bloated program, and no confidence in the figures submitted by the Director of Budgets.

All I can say is that the Democrats have presented a bill of indictment for inefficiency on the part of their own executive and administrative branches. The people of this state will say they have been guilty of inefficiency based upon the statements of the Democrats themselves.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, I cannot permit the statement just made by the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Goldstein, to go unchallenged. I did not say I had no confidence in the figures. A spokesman for the majority party said they had been unable to obtain figures. There is a vast difference between alleging that you have no confidence in the figures and the confession on the part of Appropriations Committee that it was unable to obtain figures.

I am here to say further that there was a carload of material that was dumped upon the Appropriations Committee, so much material that, given a date when the committee must needs report, it was impossible for that committee intelligently to digest the information at hand. It was humanly impossible to do so. The situation we have arrived at has not been because of the inaccuracy of figures, it has been due to the unseemly and the indecent haste with which a program affecting so many millions of people has been presented for confirmation of this House.

The SPEAKER. For what purpose does the gentleman rise?

Mr. GOLDSTEIN. For the purpose of asking the gentleman from Cambria, Mr. Andrews, a question.

The SPEAKER. The Chair would remind the gentleman we are getting far afield. The question before the House is on the amendments offered by the gentleman from Greene, Mr. McCann. The Chair is trying to be as lenient as possible. The gentleman will confine his remarks as far as possible to the matter before the House.

Mr. GOLDSTEIN. I will ask two questions if the gentleman from Cambria will consent to be interrogated.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Cambria, Mr. Andrews, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, my remarks were occasioned by remarks from the leadership on the other side of the House. I did not precipitate this matter.

The SPEAKER. The Chair is aware of that. The Chair was just cautioning the Members to try to keep within the subject before us.

Will the gentleman from Cambria permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. ANDREWS. I will endeavor to answer the gentleman's questions, but knowing how skilled he is in framing an inquiry and conscious of his talent, I may not be able to answer.

Mr. GOLDSTEIN. Mr. Speaker, I think the gentleman from Cambria has laid a booby trap for me and he is going to deflate me.

However, I ask the gentleman from Cambria does the Legislative body have the power of subpoena against the Governor of this state?

Mr. ANDREWS. It would not have the power to obtain a personal appearance of the Governor, but it would have the power to obtain all the records in the possession of the Department of Administration, all the records in the custody of the Budget office, and it could address inquiries to His Excellency, the Governor, for information concerning certain matters, inquiries which no Governor could ignore.

Mr. GOLDSTEIN. Mr. Speaker, is it not true that during a debate on amendments yesterday, responsible members of the Democratic party stated on diverse occasions that they had no confidence in the figures submitted by the Governor in his budget and no confidence in the figures submitted by Secretary Shapiro?

Mr. ANDREWS. I cannot recall such statements having been made. A remark that I might have made which would be purely a personal remark might have led the gentleman from Allegheny by inference to conclude I was not in exact agreement on some matters with the figures of the Secretary of the Department of Welfare.

Mr. GOLDSTEIN. Specifically, does the Appropriations Committee have the power of subpoena under the law today?

Mr. ANDREWS. The House can give any of its committees the power of subpoena.

Mr. GOLDSTEIN. Does it have the power of subpoena under the law today?

Mr. ANDREWS. I would say it did have but if it does not have, the House could have given the power to the committee upon request.

Mr. GOLDSTEIN. Thank you, Mr. Speaker.

It is my recollection of the law that the Appropriations Committee has the power to request. Of course, as Mr. Andrews indicated, the power to request in the field of public opinion is very strong, but to my recollection we have had very little cooperation from the back office. We do not have the power of subpoena. Perhaps we should have the power of subpoena.

What has happened today and yesterday in this House indicates we should have strong powers of subpoena so that the people of this state will know what the fiscal affairs are and what the fiscal affairs should be.

Mr. JOHNSON. Mr. Speaker, getting back on the track again, the amendments offered by the gentleman from Greene, Mr. McCann, restore to $14.5 million, the budgeted request by the Governor, for the teaching of handicapped children throughout the Commonwealth.

I realize this is a very sensitive program and one that does pull at the heartstrings of everybody. This program started off in a very, very, very modest way back in, I believe, the 1953 session when the lady from Lehigh, Mrs. Markley, introduced the first bill which set up the program. I believe the small sum of $100,000 was appropriated for this particular activity. During this current biennium there will be approximately $9 million, in that neighborhood, spent or allocated.

Let me tell you something about how this thing has gone up to the $9 million and some odd dollars. The Governor all of a sudden during the last session, I believe, saw in the program a tremendous asset to him both from a human standpoint and from a political standpoint and immediately wrote letters to all the school districts in the state and advised them of the situation and that there was money in Harrisburg if they would just come and get it.

This letter came to the school boards of this state at a time last session when there was no appropriation bill passed, when they were borrowing money to pay teachers and were worrying about how to pay for transportation and tuition, and so forth. School directors, school boards and county boards and county superintendents came to Harrisburg and all they had to do was write a letter to the superintendent and say, we can use $100,000 in this program. Oddly enough, they walked away with $100,000. We saw them down in the hotel lobby, dumbfounded, to think they could come down here and through the mere fiat of a letter get $100,000.

I am not saying that is good government and I am not saying that is bad government, but I will say it was a good thing for those handicapped children. There is no question about it. About $9 million was allocated, more or less, in this fashion.

These gentlemen have gone home to their school districts and they have in houses and in vacant buildings and so forth established free, generally, these schools. There is not any question about that. It is a program which is getting under way. It was a great task to try to find somebody to teach the program, and as you all know, friendly people in the community are pretty generally working at it and are trying to do a job.

The thought of the Appropriations Committee was, seeing that this money was doled out in such a fashion without any budgeting, without any experience on the part of the school board, that 10.5 million this biennium should be a fair amount for this gradually expanding program. In other words, as I understand it, these school boards will have to now next year and the year following come in with their experience and show what they did with the money and what their needs are. The question is whether this school board which received $100,000 will perhaps only need $25,000 for the program. Why? Because they have no buildings, they have no teachers and they just do not have the facilities to expand it in the way in which the Governor would like to have it expanded.

We have given $1,300,000, I believe, more money to be spent on it in this coming biennium than was allocated without strict budgeting during the last biennium. If the program is going to cost more money, I grant you it would entail a deficiency appropriation when we come back here in 1959. It is felt if this program is operated soundly and properly that $10.5 million for now should be just about enough to run it.

For your information, I again refer to the General State Authority. The Priorities Committee of GSA has approved an expenditure of $3.6 million for instruction buildings to be built around the state at the various State Teachers' Colleges with a view of training technicians and teachers and personnel to carry on this program. Those buildings are not yet in the design nor have architects been selected. Why? Because this Session of the General Assembly is going to be asked to raise the ceiling on General State Authority by quite a number of millions of dollars, and one of the items in it is $3.6 million for buildings to train teachers for the handicapped children.

Therefore, in view of the shortage of teachers, in view of the shortage of facilities and in view of the fact that budgets will have to be submitted based upon actual results during this last biennium that is ending, the sum of $10.5 million, we feel, should just about do the job.

However, when this program is finally under way as envisioned by educators and people all over the state, it will cost the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania $40 million a biennium for this program alone. It just goes to show you how a small thing can mushroom into a tremendously costly thing to the people of the state.

I am not saying the program should be stopped. I say we should go slowly with it and develop it in a sound, safe and sane way. Get the teachers, get the buildings, and if it costs $40 million as we go down through the years, each session of Legislature will have to provide the money.

Mr. GOODLING. Mr. Speaker, I did not have any intention of taking part in this discussion but I want to assure the gentleman from Greene, Mr. McCann, that those of us on this side of the aisle are just as much interested in special education as he is.

The gentleman well knows, as has just been stated by the Majority Leader, that this is a new program. In my own particular school district we are trying to educate between three and four thousand children. We just do not have the facilities at present to put this program into effect. Our building is and has been on the footing stage for some months and it is going to remain in that stage until some steel company comes across with the steel.

We are planning to put this program into a limited force this year through the county office. The gentleman does not know, the Department of Public Instruction does not know, there is not anybody in this House and there is not anybody on the Appropriation Committee who knows what this program will cost eventually.

I can assure the gentleman, at least I think I can assure the gentleman, that the men who sit on this side of the aisle in 1959, if a deficiency appropriation is required, will be the first people to vote for it.

I say I am not at all concerned about the amount that is appropriated for this particular field. I think we can live with it. I think we can live well with it.

Mr. LOVETT. Mr. Speaker, speaking on those amendments and possibly we will get a little far afield, but I noticed there were many others who went far afield on this and I would ask the Speaker to give me some latitude.

The SPEAKER. The Chair will be as lenient as possible but would request the gentleman to stay, in so far as possible, strictly on the amendments. "Let's be fair."

Mr. LOVETT. Mr. Speaker, I will try to be fair. There seems to be two sets of figures here. What is worrying me about these two sets of figures is that we have some very fine gentlemen over on that side of the House who would like to be for some of these amendments in these bills.

Those sets of figures that you do not have over on your side and the sets of figures that you are using, if you could guarantee me the Senate of Pennsylvania is going to use those same figures, then I would say it would be all right. I do not think you can guarantee me that the Senate of Pennsylvania is not going to catch up with some other figures. Then we are going to find that the bill is going to be amended over in the Senate, and you fellows sitting over on that side of the House will find it is very unfair to you.

I say let's be fair to the Members over there.

It is a wonderful thing to have an organization in the position where you can say to that organization, this is it. That is what they say over in Russia. This is it. Over the years as a Member of the Legislature, I realize the rights of the individual who comes to this House is what makes a democracy. I say to you, you are very unfair to the Members on that side of the House if you know or if you feel the Senate of Pennsylvania is going to use a different set of figures and going to do the very thing that they tell you you cannot do here today.

Use your own good judgment. If you think the Senate of Pennsylvania is going to use another set of figures other than we are quoting here for you today and is going to amend these bills, then you amend them and take that right upon yourself to do that job.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the amendment?

BILL ON THIRD READING

The Speaker. The House will resume consideration of House Bill No. 1700.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, I ask unanimous consent to offer an amendment at this time.

The SPEAKER. The amendment will be read by the Clerk for information.

Amend Sec. 2, page page 38, line 15, by striking out "$1,491,400" and inserting in lieu thereof: "$3,010,642"

The SPEAKER. Will the House give unanimous consent to the offering of an amendment at this time? Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the amendment?

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, this is the fifth and last amendment we have presented today in the Department of Public Instruction.

This particular amendment deals with the general administration of the Department of Public Instruction. The amendment deals with as given to the Appropriations Committee, a request for $3,010,642. The Committee on Appropriations on reporting it out in House Bill No. 1700 has seen fit to reduce this figure to $1,491,400, or a reduction of $1,519,242.

Certainly this can be considered a 50 percent reduction in the general administration of the Department of Public Instruction. I think it would be foolish for me to insert here into the record by talking to the Members of the House the various actions that will take place by this reduced amount of appropriation to the Department of Public Instruction. Let us assume this figure will remain in the bill, which will be given to the Governor to be signed into law. Should this become law and this be the appropriation for the department operating this particular situation, there is absolutely no question, in anyone's mind as to the total number of people who will be dismissed from the Department of Public Instruction for failure to have the money to pay the salaries and expenses involved in this particular field. Perhaps, if this was in the right kind of light in the political wars, which I have learned to be a part of, it would be a golden opportunity to dismiss many people who would not be of my political faith, but the Department of Public Instruction does not operate that way. It makes no difference whether you are a Democrat or a Republican, as long as you can do the job and do it well, you are employed in the department not only whether you are a Pennsylvania, but if you are an educator and had a similar position in various other states in the Union.

You see it is not a matter of politics, but perhaps it would be well to consider it in that light.

To save time, Mr. Speaker, this morning—since I was to be given a total of 30 minutes and since I have long exceeded that time limit with the help of other Members of this House allocated to me for the Department of Public Instruction—I would like to have permission to insert into the record the total facts that I have here dealing with this particular reduction in the Appropriation.

I ask the Members on the Democratic side of the House who believe in operating the department as it should be operated, who believe you should pay the people you employ to work, who believe once you have given them a job and they are doing a good job that you should keep them on that job and provide the money to pay for it, I ask that they vote for these amendments.

I would like to say as an individual if the department fails to receive the money it needs to pay these people who operated the department, that somehow in the wisdom of the Superintendent of Public Instruction, when he must choose to relieve, I hope that he will bother to at least ask who is a Democrat and who is a Republican and make his choice accordingly.

Mr. JOHNSON. Mr. Speaker, the recommended appropriation in House Bill 1700 for salaries and expenses in the Department of Public Instruction of $1,491,000 was arrived at by taking the expenditures of the biennium of $1,482,000 and fixing the appropriation at approximately that level. I know there are a lot of new employees over there. I know they have experts with desks out in the hall. There is a feverish expansion over there that seems to know no bounds. All roads lead to Harrisburg to get money, jobs, and so forth.

We feel that $1,491,000 is a pretty good sum of money for help over there in that department.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the amendment?

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. READINGER. Mr. Speaker, I ask unanimous consent to offer amendments at this time.

The SPEAKER. The amendments will be read by the Clerk for information.

Amend Section 2, page 52, line 11, by striking out "$6,365,932"

Amend Section 2, page 52, line 15, by striking out "$7,134,068" and inserting "$15,500,000"

The SPEAKER. Will the House give unanimous consent to the offering of amendments at this time? Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the amendments?

Mr. READINGER. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the Majority Leader.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from McKean, Mr. Johnson, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. JOHNSON. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. READINGER. I would ask the gentleman whether the original budget recommendations for the Revenue Department was not $18 million which has been cut by House Bill 1700 to $13,500,000?

Mr. JOHNSON. Yes, the original request from the Governor was $18 million.

Mr. READINGER. House Bill 1700 reduces that to $13,500,000, is that correct?

Mr. JOHNSON. That is correct.

Mr. READINGER. The amendment that I have just offered would restore that figure to $15,500,000. Will the gentleman tell me the reasons why that appropriation was cut down to $13,500,000?

Mr. JOHNSON. Yes, Mr. Speaker. As I understand it, of course, $2,500,000 was cut out by reason of the elimination of the stamp plan. The estimated expenditure of the Department as near we can glean from the figures submitted would be $8,040,000. We felt that $13,500,000, an increase of $5,500,000 over what was actually spent, would be a pretty fair appropriation and give them ample funds for the administration of the sales tax law.

Mr. READINGER. I thank the gentleman.

I have before me a memo from Secretary of Revenue, Mr. Gleason, parts of which I would like to read to you because he is setting forth his protest against this deep cut in his appropriation. He says,

Your attention is also invited to the increase in revenue during the current biennium in comparison to the previous bienniums. Obviously if the Department of Revenue were to face an appropriation cutback to $13,500,000, it will be physically impossible to continue the tax enforcement programs instituted, let alone improve and expand tax enforcement collections which have been instituted and other progress which we have in mind to initiate. There are other areas which would be seriously hampered and curtailed, and in many instances eliminated completely, if the Department of Revenue does not receive the appropriation originally requested. (He is now referring to the $15,500,000.)

These areas are meritorious increases for employees deserving same, obsolete equipment which should be replaced, purchase of new equipment, salary increases for positions that are now covered by civil service, a public relations unit in the Bureau of Sales and Use Tax, disseminating information to the public in order that the public may be appraised to sales tax statutes, interpretations and related data.

Moreover, an appropriation cutback in the General Fund of the Department of Revenue would mean a substantial reduction in personnel, thereby not only curtailing and seriously hampering enforcement and collection but in many instances eliminating investigator-auditor positions which positions are directly related to the revenue yield realized.

The matter of an appropriation cutback is apparently predicated on revenue receipts with respect to attempting to balance out General Fund expenditures in comparison to General Fund revenue receipts. If the Department of Revenue, the tax producing agency, is to suffer an appropriation cutback and have its operations seriously hampered and curtailed, then obviously the revenue yield will be reduced accordingly.

Then he attaches to his memo a great many supplemental memorandums from various persons who are handling bureaus under him indicating that the amounts they requested for their operation for the next biennium are the absolute minimum with which they could do a decent job.

I am not going to belabor the point at all in this amendment, I think you are making a serious mistake in cutting the very department which is supposed to raise the revenue to finance this whole budget.

I am going to ask the Members to vote for these amendments.

Mr. SILVERMAN. Mr. Speaker, I think this $4,500,000 is a serious cut. With a huge budget like this the first thing we are going out to do is to shoot the tax collector. The Department of Revenue brings in that money, and this is one instance where their cut should be restored.

I understand Mr. Gleason in his administration has succeeded in collecting over $400 million more than his predecessor and yet you are giving him less money to operate than you have his predecessor, Mr. Messner.

So the question was determined in the negative and the amendments were not agreed to.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. READINGER. Mr. Speaker, I ask unanimous consent to offer amendments at this time.

The SPEAKER. The amendments will be read by the Clerk for information.

Amend Section 7, page 84, line 6, to page 85, line 7, by striking out all of said lines.

Amend Section 8, page 85, lines 8 to 10, by striking out all of said lines.

Amend Section 9, page 85, lines 11 to 13, by striking out all of said lines.

Amend Section 10, page 85, line 14 to page 90, line 13, by striking out all of said lines.

The SPEAKER. Will the House give unanimous consent to the offering of amendments at this time? Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the amendments?

Mr. READINGER. Mr. Speaker, these amendments seek to strike out of House Bill 1700, Sections 7, 8, 9 and 10. In other words starting on page 84, lines 6, these amendments would strike out all the remaining part of this bill.

Section 7 is a new addition to general appropriations bill. We have never had this section in any appropriation bill nor did we have the remaining sections. Section 7 has as its purpose the creation of sort of a super legislative body which would deal with appropriations expenditures and transfers while we are not in session.

It says in effect no appropriation could be expended or encumbered except for the specific purposes for which it was made by us, nor could it be transferred or used for any purpose without first having obtained prior approval therefor by a majority of the Members of the Executive Committee of the Joint State Government Commission and the Chairman of the Appropriations Committees of the Senate and the House of Representatives.

It goes on to say that with their prior approval such transfers could be made. It says expenditures in excess of an appropriation could be made.

We, on this side of the House, and I believe many on your side, have very serious doubts as to the constitutionality of such an innovation. Not only the constitutionality is involved but a matter of grave policy, it seems to me, is involved.

If this were allowed to become part of the law, we could have during the recess between regular sessions a transfer and different use made of very great amounts of money which we as Legislators had approved as appropriations for use by the Government. All that would be necessary would be the consent of the Governor and the consent of the majority of this committee.

I have the greatest respect for the members of Executive Committee of the Joint State Government Commission. I am on that group myself, but I think it would be very unwise for this Legislature to ever put into the hands of a small group, such as that group would be, the power to shift appropriations around and divert them from their original purpose. That is our function.

If we have given certain departments funds which it does not need, those funds should lapse when we come to the end of a biennium. This body and the Senate should make the decision as to how the money is to be spent by this Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

Section 8 of the bill relates to the purchase of supplies and equipment. It sets forth what the law should be in relation to whether an appropriation is committed or encumbered. I would not have any particular objection to that.

Section 9 in my opinion restates the present law that all appropriations which are unexpended and uncommitted as of the end of the biennium, May 31, 1959, should automatically lapse as of that date.

Section 10, while the Administration does not like it, in my opinion has some merit, some definite merit. It sets up a system whereby the appropriations must be allotted periodically and speaks about quarterly allotments, so that a report of such allotments can be filed with the Auditor General and the Chairman of the Appropriations Committee in the House and Senate within a certain number of days after that quarterly allotment is approved. In other words it gives the legislative representatives constant information concerning the rate of spending of the appropriation that we have made for a two-year period. It is not properly worded in my opinion because on page 86, line 5, it speaks about the approval of these periodic allotments, but it does not say by whom. I am sure it was intended to mean the Governor or the Budget office under the Governor, and then to be filed with the Auditor General, but it does not make it clear. It could be read to mean that the Auditor General must first approve these quarterly allotments.

I am suggesting to you today if you adopt these amendments, strike out all this material and let it be written properly and put in the Senate, if they are going to include any part of it. Obviously if they are not, they would strike it out when they get the bill anyway.

I do ask you to support these amendments to remove this very dangerous proposal to turn over to this small group the right to divert appropriations for the purpose for which we have made them.

Mr. JOHNSON. Mr. Speaker, the proposition that has been put forward by the Minority Leader has been the subject of a great deal of discussion on this side of the House since yesterday afternoon when we first started discussing it with Mr. Andrews and Mr. Readinger.

I believe it is a new concept in state government you might say, where a group of leaders from both the House and Senate will be permitted to impress their considerate opinion on the matter of switching appropriations, and so forth.

There might be a lot of merit in what the Minority Leader has to say about it. It has come to us out of the blue, you might say, and like a lot of things requires study.

The only thing I can say to the House is I am going to ask the Members on our side to vote down his amendments. I will have to say this, that as the bill goes to the Senate, we are going to get an opinion from our own lawyer, the Reference Bureau. We are going to really study the proposal; we are going to see if it is wrong and unconstitutional in the manner in which it is written. We are going to try to salvage a portion of it and retain some of the features of it that might not be unconstitutional.

You Members in this House must agree it is a pretty good idea to have a watch dog consisting of Members of the Legislature. I cannot see anything wrong with it. If it is wrong, as I say, it should be written properly. I hate to see it ripped out of this bill today just because of the statement of the Minority Leader that it is unconstitutional or that it is this or that.

I am asking the Members on our side to vote down this amendment, but with the admonition to all of us that a thorough study is going to be made of this proposition which we hope to iron out either in a conference committee, or we could ask the Senate committee to make the change if in our opinion we find the change must be made or a modification made.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, by reason of the parliamentary situation which arose and which compels the Majority by reason of its commitments to pass this bill today, I have not raised the constitutional point.

As to the purpose of the bill regarding Section 10. I am very much in sympathy. I believe it would be a grave mistake if the leadership of the House did not take a firm position and place itself in a parliamentary situation where it can obtain agreements upon the general watch dog proposal.

As I say, it would be of little point to raise the question of constitutionality. There is no doubt in the mind of the Majority Leader that section 7 does offend the constitution. It can't be done. I think it is agreed upon the part of the Majority Leader that the language is cloudy.

Therefore, I think we should conclude from what has been said that the majority party will take a firm position in support of the watch dog proposal.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the amendments?

The SPEAKER. Will the House give unanimous consent to the offering of amendments at this time? Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the amendments?

Mr. READINGER. Mr. Speaker, I might state that these are the final amendments to be offered.

The SPEAKER. The Chair thanks the gentleman. The Chair is sure the other Members of the House do also.

Mr. READINGER. Mr. Speaker, these amendments seek to restore all of the budget cuts which have been made by House Bill 1700.

At the time when we had to draw these amendments we knew there would be a series of separate amendments prepared by the administration as well as prepared by individual Members, but we did not have the time to ascertain which individual amendments to individual cuts would be available, and therefore it was necessary for us to prepare this type of an amendment.

I would now like to be allowed to withdraw from this set of amendments any amendments which have been previously offered and have been defeated so that we will have before us for a vote nothing except amendments to sections of the appropriation bill which have not already been the subject of separate amendment.

The SPEAKER. The amendments as cited the Minority Lader are considered withdrawn. The question is on the remaining amendments.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the amendments?

Mr. READINGER. Mr. Speaker, I have no intention of speaking on more than one or two of the amendments still before us. The one I would like to mention is the appropriation cut for the Governor's office. I believe that has been cut by the sum of $365,000. One item has been cut $265,000 and another one $100,000.

I would like to point out to the Members that while I do not have the detailed breakdown from the Appropriations Committee of the reason why these cuts have been made, I would like the House to remember that under this present administration the Governor's office has really started to function as a Governor's office should. For many, many years the work of the Governor's office has been increasing in scope and in complexity, and as that increased there was less and less effective control by the head of this Commonwealth. It was almost impossible to know what was going on in the various departments. There was not enough personnel to clear information between the Governor himself and these executives who had to operate under him.

Since Governor Leader has become Governor of Pennsylvania the cost of the Governor's office has increased considerably and for good reasons, too. I am not going to read this memo which was forwarded by the Secretary of Administration to the Legislative Secretary, Henry B. Leader, under date of May 17, but I would like to mention some of the things which are set forth in it.

The first item relates to the change of the budget type from the old-fashioned line item type to the program type.

The second item relates to the installation of the uniform accrual system of accounting.

The third item relates to the installation of its monetary system and the modernization of accounting transaction, the preparation of payrolls having been fully mechanized by the use of IBM equipment, employees being paid on a bi-weekly basis.

The Governor's office has undertaken intensive recruitment, training programs, to obtain qualified personnel. Believe me, that has been a problem to obtain qualified personnel. One of the reasons it was difficult before for many years is because the salary scale. Under Governor Leader this reclassification of 64,000 government positions was undertaken. That was a costly operation, and it is going to cost some money to keep it in operation. But to have spent the money to set it up to reclassify and then not keep it up to date is certainly or would certainly be a great waste of money and effort.

He speaks about modernized administrative structures and procedures of the department and agencies having been modernized. He speaks about having provided leadership and developing and evaluating the Commonwealth programs and services. He says here, "As state government has grown and become more complex, it has become necessary for the Governor's office to keep closely in touch with the programs developed by Commonwealth agencies and by private citizens and groups. It is necessary also for the Governor's office to constantly re-examine and evaluate the purposes for which public moneys are spent. A small staff in the Governor's office is essential for the performance of these tasks. Such a task can, in cooperation with the departments and agencies, develop ideas and improve programs which will save money and improve services."

He speaks further about the great strides that have been made during the past several years in providing the services and the control and the efficiency which should be a part and a parcel of the Governor's office. He mentions the fact that the Federal Government has recognized the importance of providing the Governor with enough personnel so that he can function properly and efficiently.

He speaks about the Chesterman Committee having strongly recommended that these tools be given to the Governor's office.

Without having any figures as to breakdown on how this decrease of $365,000 was arrived at, I say you are making a serious mistake when you take away from the Governor's office this amount of money. If the money is not necessary which is requested, it would lapse. We are not running around the state of Pennsylvania throwing money away trying to find people to spend it on or something else to spend it on. We never have. There is always some waste in government. Any operation as big as the state of Pennsylvania would naturally have some waste. Even big corporations have it, and they spend thousands of dollars each year on efficiency experts trying to find where it is in order to eliminate it.

You just do not economize by cutting an appropriation to the point where you cannot have the office function properly. I am asking the Members to support this amendment.

Mr. HOCKER. Mr. Speaker, I would like to reply to the gentleman. I ask our people to turn down these amendments and I think I have a very good explanation.

During the last biennium the Governor's office had an appropriation of $1,380,750. However, in that particular biennium there was $300,000 of that which was allocated to set up a new bookkeeping ssystem in the Governor's office. That has been set up. We are partially happy. We are more than happy that it is there because it has helped a lot in the Appropriations Committee.

However, if you deduct that $300,000 from his last appropriation, you will have a figure of $1,080,750. So by our giving him $1,100,000 we are not cutting the Governor's office, we are giving them an increase.

On the question recurring,
Will the House agree to the amendments?

So the question was determined in the negative and the amendments were not agreed to.
On the question recurring,
Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.
On the question,
Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, I can I think include what I have to say within the compass of five minutes. We have been deluded by a phrase into the commission of a legislative crime. The phrase "Hold the Line" has never yet been advanced by those who were not afraid of advancing. In these times to "hold the line" is actually to retreat.

In view of the interests affected, this is a day that should be a day of mourning, actually a day of sack cloth and ashes. On this day the macabre hosts of the state's unfortunates have been enshrouded by the dark clouds of reaction.

Salutations, ladies and gentlemen of the House, to our accomplishments for the gibbering of the army of the insane upon whom in many instances the door of hope has been closed. We have staged for them, for the helpless, the handicapped, a retreat—temporarily I hope—into darkness.

I am convinced that Pennsylvania men and women will, when they realize the enormity of our assault upon their conscience, unseat from temporary power those who have unwittingly, perhaps, served the purposes of whatever hidden hand strteched forth from the caverns of reaction to control and direct the action of this House, a hand which, as I said yesterday, was as cold as the heart that vitalized its function.

You have been here long enough, all of you, to know that the pendulum swings. Therefore, we confidently appeal to tomorrow for the wholesale repudiation of what will be our action today.

Mr. READINGER. Mr. Speaker, we have been through a rather trying experience this week. It was trying because of the tight time schedule imposed upon us by those in control of this House.

There was too little time between the time these items of budget cuts were made, reported to the floor of this House and the time when we were forced to offer amendments to give the matter as much study as it should have had and as much consideration as it deserved.

I would like to preface my remarks on this bill today with my thanks to the many Members on this side of the House who worked diligently and very hard to be prepared to intelligently debate the amendments which they offered and which others have offered.

I think that what we said yesterday and today in relation to House Bill 1700 will probably not long be remembered, but what we do today may be remembered for a long time to come. It is my hope that the Senate, when it receives this bill, will have the good judgment to restore many of these budget cuts; and if they do that and it comes back to us and we agree substantially to increasing these items to the point where they should be, then perhaps what we are doing today will not be remembered long either. If the Senate takes this bill as you are going to give it to them, I think a lot of people are going to be hurt, but they are going to be hurt for a long time, and that will be remembered.

When we started offering these amendments yesterday and discussing them we did so earnestly and in good faith, believing that perhaps we could persuade you folks on the majority side that the cuts were unwarranted and should be restored. As the day went on it became quite obvious that we were not going to accomplish getting any of the amendments inserted, but we continued with all the amendments as we had planned in order to highlight the needs to be met by these various appropriations, and also to point out reasons why these needs would not be met if you persisted in your cuts.

In my humble opinion, the majority members of this House have been sold a bill of goods by their leadership and by others in leadership of the Republican Party which should not have been sold to them.

I remember the Majority Leader earlier in the Session speaking about no new taxes and holding the line against taxes and I am really wondering where that slogan came from, who coined it and who has demanded in this state that we have no new taxes.

I think when you gentlemen caucused on Monday you were very likely told that if you would not insist on increasing this budget, you should be prepared to vote for new taxes and that you simply should not get yourself in the position where you have to do that.

I think you have also been assured by your leadership that if these appropriations are not sufficient, that could all be remedied by making deficiency appropriations in January, or February or March or 1959. The Majority Leader stated several times in the course of the debate yesterday and today that if certain appropriations turn out not to be sufficient, well, we will get together and we will pass a deficiency appropriation in 1959.

Let me remind you that passing a deficiency appropriation does not put any money in the till to pay for what you would like to pay for then. You cannot pass a tax bill in January or February of 1959 and expect it to raise any money in a month or two. It takes time to set up taxes. It takes time to get the collection under way and it takes time to get the money. You should not be lulled into a false sense of security by promises of that kind.

I say it is unfortunate that we were forced to vote on this bill as quickly as we have been. I think public opinion should have been allowed to formulate and be heard, not only by us but by you, too.

The Majority Leader speaks about a mandate from the public to hold the line on taxes. I presume he is also assuming that many of the Members who are here today elected by their various constituents were elected because they said or expressed the idea that there should be no new taxes.

I would like to point out to you a headline which appeared on the front page of the Harrisburg Evening News yesterday. It reads this way, "Beat the Drum for Budget, President Orders Top Aides."

As you know, the President of the United States has proposed what is probably the largest peacetime spending budget in the history of the United States, $71.8 billion. I do not have any doubts that some of the Members who are now gracing this Hall were elected, and mainly elected, because of the great popularity of President Eisenhower. So I am still wondering where this great group of people might be who insist that there be no new taxes no matter what the needs of the Commonwealth may be.

Nobody likes to pass tax bills, including myself. It is a very painful thing to do, to have to vote for some new tax, to impose a new tax on our people. But it is also a very painful thing to the people who need these services and who are not going to get them to be deprived of them because we do not have the fortitude to pass the necessary taxes and take the position that we must live within our present tax structure no matter what the needs are.

I am not going to belabor this point at all. I think I have spoken enough on the subject and certainly we have heard about practically every phase of this budget, but I would like to mention in closing that you simply cannot chop $94 million off of a budget that was as tightly drawn, in my opinion, as this one was and not hurt a lot of people and not hurt a lot of services.

I have in my hand the morning Patriot and in it there is an editorial which I will not read, but I will call to your attention because it is certainly worthy of reading. It is headed "This Is An Unhealthy Cut And It Isn't Real Economy." Then the editorial writer goes on to speak about the cut in the Health Department appropriations. I know you are going to find a lot more editorials in the days to come, and the Senators are going to be faced with a lot of editorial comment based on knowledge of the facts and based on real, decent, sensible arguments. I regret very much that the membership of this House, the majority membership, has seen fit to take the position it has and stand practically to a man in defense of it. Politically maybe you are doing yourselves some good at the moment. You have been getting great big headlines about how you are defending the budget cuts, and so forth, but that publicity is going to be short-lived and I am afraid it is not going to react in the manner you would like it to. I think you have hurt yourselves greatly politically and I think you are doing a disservice to the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania. I think and I hope you will have a chance to rectify it when this bill comes back from the Senate with the budget appropriations put back where they should be.

The SPEAKER. The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Lancaster, Mr. Wood.

Mr. WOOD. I yield to the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Agnew.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman from Lancaster, Mr. Wood, yields to the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Agnew.

Mr. AGNEW. Mr. Speaker, we have listened yesterday and today to many amendments to House Bill 1700. I assume, although I have not heard any figure, that the total amount of these amendments would approximate the $94 million which the Appropriations Committee cut from the Governor's requested budget.

I would like to congratulate the Minority Floor Leader for his frankness in just now admitting that had these appropriations been increased in that amount it would definitely take a tax bill to raise the additional revenue. I assume he is talking about approximately $94 million in new taxes. I am sure that the gentleman from Berks, Mr. Readinger, and nobody else on his side of the House would say that the Republicans have underestimated revenues from existing taxes. So it is a matter of simple mathematics that if the amendments from the other side had passed we would need in the neighborhood of $94 million in new taxes over and above the existing tax program.

I think the people of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania should know that and I think they do know it. In 1954 the Democratic party campaigned on the pledge that they were going to eliminate the one percent sales tax and by good, old-fashioned Democratic economy save $100,000. Now we had a $1.1 billion—I cannot get used to all the digits. The gold, old-fashioned Democratic economy just was not there. Instead of a $900 million biennial budget, our budget in the biennium just concluding is $1,270 million, or $370 million more than the Democratic campaign promises of 1954.

You can fool the people once, but you cannot fool them again. The people know this program costs money and they will want to know just what you propose in additional taxes. I think in all fairness to the people of this Commonwealth not only the Majority Leader, but the leaders of various delegations on the Democratic side, the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Kamyk, the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Amarando, should get on the floor of this House and tell the people of this Commonwealth just what tax program they propose to raise these additional moneys.

I might also say, since the Philadelphia delegation voted solidly against the sales tax, I want the Philadelphia delegation to tell the people not how they will raise approximately $100 million more, but how they will raise $600 million more, because they have voted for appropriations of $1.6 billion and they have voted for taxes of approximately $1 billion.

Now it is time for a few simple mathematical facts and I will only be a few more minutes. I would like to point out that the 1955-1957 biennial budget, the one we are concluding right now, is 25 percent higher than the 1953-1955 biennial budget, the last budget under a Republican governor. Twenty-five percent higher. Now, over and above the present budget this proposed budget contained in House Bill 1700 is 18 percent higher than the budget in the present biennium. We as a party are proposing that we increase our state budget by 18 percent. I do not see how that is such a vicious cut, how we are slashing all of these programs proposed by the administration. The Republican party here today is proposing an 18 percent increase over the present budget.

Let us look at the figures for the Department of Welfare. The 1955-1957 Welfare budget is 26 percent higher than in 1953-1955. This proposed budget for 1957-1959 is nine percent higher than the 1955-1957 budget. We are not cutting the appropriations to Welfare, we are increasing them by nine percent. The Welfare Budget for 1957-1959, this proposed budget, is 38 percent higher than the appropriation to the Department of Welfare under the last Republican budget of 1953-1955. The total over-all proposed budget for 1957-1959 is 48 percent higher than the budget under the last two years of Governor Fine.

There was no decrease in the state budget when Governor Leader took office. The budget we are willing to give you is almost 50 percent higher than that budget of two short years ago. The gentleman from Cambria was shedding crocodile tears when he called this a day of mourning. This is not a day of mourning, this is a day of gladness, of joy. We are finally doing something for the poor, overburdened taxpayer.

Year in and year out the Federal budget, the state budget, the county budget and the local budget have gone up, and up, and up. The history of the world is filled with the failure of nations who have taxed, and taxed, and taxed their people right out of national existence. Regardless of the nobility of the motives behind the appropriations, we cannot continue to spend more and more in total taxes of our national or state income.

I call this a day of gladness and joy. I think the Republican party here today has proved itself to be the party of the fiscal responsibility, the party of political integrity. It is true that the taxpayers as a group have no lobbyists. Let the people of Pennsylvania know that the Republican party is here today representing the taxpayer of Pennsylvania.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, I would like sixty seconds.

It is indeed a very indiscreet man, as I would advise the gentleman from Allegheny, who can whistle at a funeral and dance on a coffin.

Mr. READINGER. Mr. Speaker, I want to very briefly comment on the remarks of the gentleman from Allegheny.

His figures leave me absolutely cold. The reason they do is because when I first came here the budget was one-third of what it is today. As we saw the light in those days, that was a proper budget. Probably as we saw the light in the days of Governor Fine, that was a proper budget. But we are not dealing with cold statistics and figures as to whether we are 18 percent over a previous biennial budget or whether there has been an increase in the amount of money appropriated to the various departments. We are talking and dealing with the needs of the Commonwealth as outlined by many thousands of people who know what those needs are and the amount of money we have to raise and spend in order to meet those needs.

I do not think it is a matter to rejoice about, the fact that the general appropriation bill is larger than any we have ever passed before. The only thing that means anything to the people of Pennsylvania and should mean to us is, "Does this meet the needs or does it not."

I think under Governor Leader's administration we have made a more thorough survey and study of what this Commonwealth and its people need than was ever made before. It is easy to keep a budget down if you close your eyes to the mental institutions, lack of care, lack of personnel, and those things, if we do not go around to see what is needed to bring about a real cure of these mentally ill people, and handicapped people, and so forth. We do not know what their requirements in money terms will be. We sort of closed our eyes in the old days, I suppose, and said, well, we will just keep them confined in institutions, that is the best we can do for them. We will keep them comfortable until they die, and that's that.

But we have a Governor now with vision, a man who not only looks ahead, but who works hard to find out what the people of this state need. When I say that thousands of people have given their efforts, time and talent in making up the budget which was submitted by this Governor, to show what the needs of the people are for the various functions, we should have a great deal of faith in what they have told us. We should not simply say well, here's 18 percent, or here's 10 percent, above what you had the other time, or we'll give you as much as you had before and we'll pass that, and then we will rejoice because there will be no new taxes needed. We are begging the question when we follow the thinking of the gentleman from Allegheny. This is not a battle of statistics, it is a battle of human needs, and we are trying to meet them by passing enough appropriation bills to do the job right.

Mr. WOOD. Mr. Speaker, what you say about this budget depends entirely upon your viewpoint. If you look at it from Governor Leader's angle, it has been cut. If you look at it from the angle of what we will spend in this biennium, it has been increased. If you look at it from the angle of the people demanding big appropriations, it is a small budget. If you look at it from the angle of what the taxpayers will have to pay, it is the biggest budget this Commonwealth has ever had.

Now what is the truth? Will it cripple state functions as some persons are so loudly claiming?

Our answer is very simple. It will not if the money appropriated is wisely and efficiently administered.

It does not allow vast increases in state employees. It does not provide for vast new spending programs.

But it does provide for every essential function and every essential program which the legislature has authorized by law.

The Appropriations Committee has proposed a budget of $1,418 million from the General Fund. This is an increase of approximately $179 million over what was expended during the current biennium. We have also provided $82 million to pay off Governor Leader's deficit.

If we had that $82 million now to appropriate, perhaps we could do some of the new things which the Governor has proposed. But we do not have it and unless the Legislature is willing to vote for more taxes, we will not have it.

Those people who are crying so much about cuts should go back a little bit and see who is really responsible.

Why do we have an $82 million deficit?

We all know what a poor job was done in collecting the three percent sales tax. Revenue collected was $114 million short of estimates. A great part of that was due to the failure of the Leader administration to collect the tax which was due. These are not our conclusions, these are the conclusions of the outside experts whom the Governor called in to find out what was wrong.

Now since we have to make up this lost revenue with revenue from the next biennium, we have that much less money to appropriate. That is why there is no money for these big increases for which all the departments have asked.

But there is money for every essential function, every mandated obligation. We have kept the appropriation recommendations within the framework of the revenue estimates of $1.5 billion. Until someone comes forward and shows us where there is some more money or until someone can come up with 106 votes in the House and 26 votes in the Senate for new taxes, this is it. There just isn't any more.

Mr. McCORMACK. Mr. Speaker, the remarks of the gentleman from Allegheny County did not impress me. The figures he submitted did not impress me at all and I am sure that they did not impress anyone else in this House, because no one in good conscience for the past two days could have sat in this House and listened to the debates and say that with the deftness of the surgeon you have taken a scalpel and you have torn the heart and the soul out of the mental health program in the Commonwealth.

I told you what you did to Philadelphia. The Philadelphia State Hospital, you lapped $5,500,000 from the budget. That does not mean anything. That did not hurt the people. Sixty-five percent of the operating revenues, I told you, were spent on personnel. The superintendent of the hospital has stated categorically that it means reducing the number of professional men and women on the staff.

How can you think in terms of helping people who are mentally distressed with the percentage that this budget has been increased over the last. You cannot compare the two.

What do the people of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania really pay to the state in taxation? I am a lawyer, the gentleman from Allegheny is a lawyer. What does he pay for the services provided in these mental institutions? What do the physicians pay? They pay nothing to the state.

There are plenty of sound tax programs which could be advanced. When the Democrats were in control of this House, they advanced them. You, it is true, did not think they were sound, but now you are in the majority.

The statement by Mr. Wood is the most reactionary statement I have sat and listened to for a long time. What you are doing, gentlemen, is cruel. It is heartless. I thank God that it is not my party that is doing it.

Mr. LOVETT. Mr. Speaker, regarding the bill we are about to vote on, I am somewhat confused. I do not know just how to vote on this bill. For that reason I would like to interrogate the Majority Leader.

The SPEAKER. Will the Majority Leader permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. JOHNSON. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. LOVETT. Mr. Speaker, can the gentleman tell me if he has any agreement with the Senators in Pennsylvania—

The SPEAKER. The gentleman is not discussing the bill.

Mr. LOVETT. The bill before us—

The SPEAKER. It is not a proper interrogation.

Mr. LOVETT. Mr. Speaker, may I ask if anyone in this House knows whether or not we will have an opportunity to vote on this particular bill when it will be in much better shape than it is now? Is that a proper question to ask to this House?

The SPEAKER. The Chair thinks that is a proper question and the Chair thinks the gentleman knows the answer.

Mr. LOVETT. I would ask the Majority Leader that question, whether or not we will have an opportunity to vote—whether he feels we will have an opportunity to vote on a better bill than this one is when it leaves this House?

Mr. JOHNSON. Mr. Speaker, I will answer that question. I think the gentleman has been around here long enough to know that if the bill is changed in the Senate he will have an opportunity to pass upon changes. That is correct. That has been true ever since I have been in the Legislature, and I am sure it has been true ever since the gentleman has been here.

Mr. LOVETT. I want to thank the gentleman, Mr. Speaker, he has made up my mind.

Now I want to talk a little bit about the tax program in Pennsylvania.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman is in order if he desires to talk on House Bill 1700.

Mr. LOVETT. I am talking on House Bill 1700. I have listened to people talk about taxes in Pennsylvania all the time I have been sitting here. Were they in order?

The SPEAKER. The gentleman is in order if he talks on the appropriation bill, House Bill 1700.

Mr. LOVETT. I am talking on the appropriation bill and the money that provides the appropriations. Is that in order?

The SPEAKER. The gentleman is not in order if he is talking on the method of raising the money at this time. We are talking on House Bill 1700, the general appropriation bill.

Mr. LOVETT. Mr. Speaker—

The SPEAKER. If the gentleman will confine himself to that subject the gentleman may proceed.

Mr. LOVETT. Mr. Speaker, the question which has been raised here this morning is holding the line on taxes in Pennsylvania. I say to you that the people of Pennsylvania are not over-taxed, at least, a lot of the people of Pennsylvania are not over-taxed.

The trouble in Pennsylvania is that your tax program is not a fair tax program and during this session of the Legislature you do nothing about it.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will suspend. The gentleman is not talking on the bill before the House.

Mr. AUKER. Mr. Speaker, may I serve notice on the gentleman that I am going to insist that he talk on the bill.

The SPEAKER. The Chair will take care of that.

Mr. AUKER. You and I both.

The SPEAKER. The Chair has tried to be as fair as possible to every Member of this House. The Chair will try to be just as fair to the gentleman from Westmoreland, if the gentleman will confine his remarks to the matter before the House.

Mr. LOVETT. Mr. Speaker, I say to you that there should be additional taxes in Pennsylvania.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman is not talking on the subject before the House.

Mr. LOVETT. Under the appropriations that we now have before us, under the budget, under the Governor's budget requests, there should be additional taxes in Pennsylvania to cover the services of the state of Pennsylvania. Is that in order?

The SPEAKER. If the gentleman desires to debate the question of whether the expenditures as recommended in House Bill 1700 are fair or needed, the gentleman is in order. If he is talking about the necessary taxes to cover that amount of money, he is not in order.

Mr. LOVETT. Mr. Speaker, in order to talk about the necessary money to cover a budget, you must talk about the taxes.

The SPEAKER. The Chair is sure the gentleman understands the ruling of the Chair on the matter. The Chair requests the gentleman confine his remarks to House Bill 1700.

Mr. LOVETT. Mr. Speaker, I have served this House and I am now serving my twenty-fifth year. Never before in my history has there been so much time spent on one particular bill during my term of office.

The amendments which have been offered to this bill have been fair. You fellows have held the line, which you have a perfect right to. I said to you awhile ago that you were unfair to your Members if this bill was going to be changed. I understand it will be changed. So, therefore, in order to help the Senators to make up their minds on the changes, I will vote against this bill, although I think a half a loaf is better than none.

Mr. SHERMAN. Mr. Speaker, I had not intended originally to talk on this bill. As you have seen, I have not spoken on the amendments for the simple reason that my views were fully covered by the various speakers.

But I cannot sit in my seat and permit to go unchallenged the remarks from the other side, especially those of Mr. Agnew. We realize that you—I am referring to Mr. Johnson and his party—are the majority party. You are in control of this House. If there are any new taxes, you assume the responsibility, to quote our friend Charlie Smith, not us. You have failed to state to us what new taxes, if any, are required to meet this deficiency.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will yield.

The gentleman is not talking on House Bill 1700. The gentleman is out of order.

PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Mr. FINEMAN. I rise to a parliamentary inquiry.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state it.

Mr. FINEMAN. Mr. Speaker, when the speaker of this House allows a Member to make a statement, or to raise a question by interrogation which may not be exactly upon the bill before the House for its determination, and that statement is made without objection from the Speaker, do not the remaining Members of this House have the right by way of rebuttal to get up and make reply to that statement, since the Speaker himself has opened the door to this objectional comment?

The SPEAKER. The Chair does not believe he opened the door for this type of debate. The Chair has been trying to confine the question to the matter before the House.

Mr. FINEMAN. Did not Mr. Agnew raise the question of how additional taxes would be raised and did he not suggest and, as a matter of fact, challenge two Members of the party on this side of the aisle to tell his party just how taxes would be raised and could be raised?

Certainly that was opening the door, in my opinion.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman had a right to raise a point of order at that time. The Chair would have ruled on the point of order.

PARLIMENTARY INQUIRY

Mr. SCHWARTZ. I rise to a parliamentary inquiry.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state it.

Mr. SCHWARTZ. Mr. Speaker, I would like an opinion from the Chair as to whether the remarks of Mr. Agnew were in order or not?

The SPEAKER. For the information of the gentleman from Philadelphia the question has been raised too late. The gentleman should have raised the parliamentary inquiry at the time the remarks were made.

Mr. SCHWARTZ. Mr. Speaker, I am asking you, in your opinion at this point do you think the remarks of the speaker from Allegheny, Mr. Agnew, were in order?

The SPEAKER. The Chair believes it is not a proper question to put to the Chair at this time.

Mr. SHERMAN. Mr. Speaker, I state that my remarks will not take more than two minutes, if I am permitted to talk. My remarks are addressed in reply partly to Mr. Johnson and partly to Mr. Agnew.

It was remarked on this floor that we shall remember this day for the legislation which has been passed. To me as an American citizen, as a citizen of the state of Pennsylvania, as a citizen of our country and city of Philadelphia, I shall not only remember the remarks and the bills which were passed this day, but I will remember the remarks which were made by Mr. Johnson on April 24th with reference to Philadelphia and supplemented this day by our friend on the other side, Mr. Agnew.

We as Philadelphians have been told that unless we deny ourselves our fundamental right to vote what we think is right, our American right, the right to which we have dedicated our lives, our right as American and Pennsylvania citizens to vote as we please, because we have disagreed with his program he and his caucus have been embittered and will deny Philadelphia, the cradle of liberty, every bit of its program.

Mr. GELFAND. Mr. Speaker, I rise to make a few brief remarks on the question before the House.

Generally I hold the remarks of the speaker from Allegheny County in high regard. I think he is an excellent debator and I enjoy the timbre of his voice. But the timbre of his voice and the quality of his debate today did not cover the abysmal ignorance with which he spoke.

He indicated today that he was representing the taxpayers of this Commonwealth and he was holding the budget in line so that we may not have to resort to the necessity of having to create new taxes to meet the requirements of a higher budget.

I do not know what taxpayers he represents nor what constituents he represents, because from my constituency I received a resounding—I get so excited when I talk about this that it actually takes away my power of speech. I received such a volume of correspondence dealing with this budget that I do not know how anybody else in the Commonwealth could say his constituency thinks otherwise.

I have communications from people who voted for me, not only in my own district but communications from people throughout Philadelphia. I have editorials from newspapers throughout the Commonwealth. I have newspaper comment and news features from throughout the Commonwealth. I have communications and I have information from various groups who I am sure are made up of citizens who vote in this Commonwealth who deplore what is being done to the mental health program, to the public education program, to the industrial redevelopment program, and indicate that they cannot understand the small thinking of the Republican majority when it comes to consideration of such progressive programs.

When the speaker from the other side says he represents the taxpayers of this Commonwealth, I wonder which taxpayers.

Mr. JOHNSON. Mr. Speaker, I am going to be very very brief with what remarks I would like to leave with you people.

I do not know whether the House realizes this bill in front of us today is the General Appropriations Bill. It totals $1,107,466 in appropriations. The remainder of the appropriations will be in separate bills because they are bills and functions which must be separate bills because of their very nature.

I say this is the largest General Appropriation bill in the history of the Commonwealth. It is over one billion dollars for the general appropriation bill alone.

The speakers whom we have been listening to for the past several days would have the people of Pennsylvania believe we are practically emasculating all of the state functions of the state and that we are going to have poverty, need and desperation throughout the length and breadth of the Commonwealth. That is not true, and you members on the other side know that it is not true.

For instance, I will just pick out one or two items: There is hardly a department in this budget we have not increased anywhere from 15 to 30 percent. For instance, the Health Department spent $41 million, and their appropriation is $47 million.

The speakers would have you believe we are not doing anything for Public Instruction, for the schools of this state. The cost during this current biennium was $638 million, and this general appropriation bill calls for $730 million. We have House Bill 183 on the calendar, which, if it passes will increase that another $31.5 million. For education alone we will be appropriating at this Session of the Legislature $762 million for that one item alone, which is an increase, as I say, from $637 million to $762 million.

You have heard a lot about the welfare budget. This biennium there is being spent $178 million. The budget before you is for $194 million.

Please do not go the length and breadth of this state and say we are cutting this or cutting that or destroying this or destroying that. That is sheer hypocrisy.

This budget of $1.5 billion is a huge budget. It is the biggest budget in the history of Pennsylvania. It tries to fairly take care of the reasonable needs of the State. I grant you it does not take care of all of the do-good welfare state ideas that are pouring into Harrisburg. Why must all roads lead to the State Capitol for luscious jobs, $12,000, $18,000 and $22,000 a year? Consultants are thrown about all around the place. All kinds of new schemes are pouring in. Every day sees a new press release from the Governor's office of this, that, or the other thing that we must have in Pennsylvania. All this costs money. They are marvelous schemes. I like them myself. I would love to be able to vote for them and stand up and run for reelection and state I did this for you and that for you and that for you and that for you." That is wonderful, it is great, but it all costs money. More and more and more of all state government is peering into the lives of our people and spoon-feeding them. This budget is an attempt to restore a little common sense in this state so that everybody will get a reasonable amount of money.

The mental health program is not going to suffer the way you folks have made out here today. Population of our state hospitals, mental hospitals, are decreasing every day by reason of these so-called new treatments, the new drugs and the type of care in our clinics that are in Philadelphia and Pittsburgh. I grant you that a good job is being done and that the emphasis is not on custodial care. That was started back in the Duff Administration in the building of these western and eastern psychiatric installations and the promotion of that type of thing to get away from custodial care. You would have the people of Pennsylvania believe that you are the only ones that ever discovered the clinical care as against custodial care of the mentally ill.

I say this huge budget, the largest in the history of Pennsylvania, $500 million more than the budget of our last two-year period when we were in power, is a good budget, a sound budget, a sane budget, and one which will adequately and reasonably serve the needs of the Commonwealth for the next two years.

Mr. TOLL. Mr. Speaker, Members of the House, I do not know how many of you read the bill but this bill provides $750 for a portrait of the Auditor General on page 3, and a portrait of the State Treasurer for $750 on page 4. It appropriates $1,520,000 for the administration of the Treasury Department as shown on page 4, whereas the Governor's budget recommends for the next biennium $1,461,000.

Because it does not give enough for education, for health, for welfare and it ignores the mental health program, endangers the health program, reduces the program for the handicapped and the aged and the working people of the Commonwealth, and destroys the Philadelphia mental health program, calling the welfare program "loaded" shows how calloused and unconcerned the Republicans are for the welfare of the people.

I, therefore, urge those who are concerned for the welfare of the people to vote against this bill as I intend to do.

Mr. STROUP. Mr. Speaker, I intend to speak just a few moments.

During the past several days I have been impressed with the fact that seldom in this House, in the session before or this one, have we witnessed a divergence of philosophies between parties as we have witnessed here. On the one side we have the philosophy of spend and spend. On the other side we have the philosophy of trying to produce a sound economy within the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania. Throughout the United States of America today there is an aroused difference by the people of this Nation against the spending of government.

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. SCHWARTZ. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a point of order.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state it.

Mr. SCHWARTZ. The gentleman is not speaking on House Bill 1700.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman's point of order is well taken. The gentleman will confine his remarks to House Bill 1700.

Mr. STROUP. I apologize, Mr. Speaker, if I am not on the bill. I was under the impression I was. However, I shall accept the Chair's ruling.

The SPEAKER. The Chair asks the gentleman to confine himself to the matter before the House.

Mr. STROUP. I shall do so, Mr. Speaker.

It is seldom that I find myself in disagreement with that master of the spoken phrase, the gentleman from Cambria. However, when he made the statement that to hold the line is not advance but a retreat, one must come to the consideration that is in which direction one wants to advance.

I would ask our House here to realize that today it costs $1.50 to purchase what one could buy in 1941 for $1.00. We are facing a spiraling inflation. There must be an end to that inflation, and the first place to stop it is the spending by the government.

Mr. PETROSKY. Mr. Speaker, I rise to register a protest vote against the proposal that is before us here today.

The speakers before me on the other side have raised a question about the amounts that were concerned in this budget and the ones that were concerned in other budgets.

This is the fifth Governor I have served under, in the Assembly, and I can say to the members in view of the remarks, and in line with the remarks of the gentleman from Berks, Mr. Readinger, at that time we passed budgets which were in line with the times, in line with the needed services for the citizens of our Commonwealth. In line with passing the appropriations then and passing upon the needed revenue measures at the time, I want to say I was never afraid to vote for tax legislation to provide the necessary revenues for the necessary services for the people of the Commonwealth.

I submit to you now that you on the other side, together with those who have aided you in this case, have set up a diabolical scheme, one that was politically conceived in an effort to gain a position for 1958.

You are not hurting in this budget the Governor of the Commonwealth; you are not hurting with his budget the secretaries and the personnel in the various departments. They can find employment elsewhere, but you are affecting the 11 million people in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania by passing upon this measure.

This House has not been afforded the full opportunity of knowing the actual facts of this budget that is before us. You know and I know from the discussions of yesterday and today that the figures are in conflict. That should be enough to alarm you to know that something is going on behind the scenes that you are not aware of. For that reason, and for the reason that you are not doing the job in House Bill 1700 to render the necessary services for those poor unfortunates in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania. I will register my protest by voting "no" on this measure for I certainly know that I shall have another opportunity because the Senate in its wisdom will have brought us back a better measure than the one we are now voting on. At that time I hope I will be in the position to vote in favor of House Bill 1700.

PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Mr. AUKER. I rise to a parliamentary inquiry.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state it.

Mr. AUKER. Mr. Speaker, would it be proper at this time to state a hypothetical question, on whether or not a motion would be proper to move the previous question?

The SPEAKER. The Chair hopes that question will not be raised. The Chair would request the gentleman not to raise the question.

Mr. BOIES. Mr. Speaker, I will endeavor to be very brief.

I think the time has come to say what in my opinion at least is the truth. The whole truth has not been told, as we all know. This monstrosity that we have in House Bill 1700 imparts a monstrosity. Particularly in the case of the Welfare Department, it is a politically inspired bill. It is a bill for political revenge. It was conceived in political and personal animosity toward the Secretary of the Welfare Department. It is ridiculous for one with my poor talents to try to defend the Secretary when he could so ably do it himself if he had the opportunity. That is just the rap.

The gentleman in question, when he was Floor Leader of the other chamber that we must refer to as the "other body" through some silly tradition—you all know that I am speaking of the Senate—offended various Members because he outwitted them and outtalked them, and to use the slang term, he burned their hides. They say the elephant never forgets. And various gentlemen unmindful of the elephant's persuasion, never forgot that and were behind the inspiration of the movement to "cut down Shapiro." You all know it is the truth. That is where it started. They have done their best to go through with that plan.

I know that you could not vote for any of these amendments that you wanted to vote for because you were committed ahead of time, and the bill was in print, and you did not dare change it and hold onto your time schedule to get it to the Senate.

It is beyond my comprehension how we can sit here session after session allowing ourselves to be made a body of stooges for that so-called other House. You know that they are going to change this bill.

The SPEAKER. The Chair feels that remark is not a proper remark at this time, to refer to this House as a body of stooges for any purpose.

Mr. BOIES. Mr. Speaker, I believe I have referred to that other body in the terms which have been accepted in this House.

The SPEAKER. The Chair is not raising the question as to how the gentleman refers to the other body but as to how he is speaking of this body as a body of stooges.

The gentleman will continue and confine his remarks to House Bill No. 1700.

Mr. BOIES. Mr. Speaker, you were a little late in catching that. I think I was away past that.

However, we have allowed ourselves to be made the tools of that other body. It is about time that this House assumed the dignity and the authority of equal status.

In a brief remark in reply to the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Agnew—since Mr. Kamyk did not see fit to reply—I would say when the gentleman started in his remarks I did not know whether he was talking about the administration in Washington or in Pennsylvania. It seems to me I recollect similar statements about cutting taxes and about reducing the budget in the national administration. I might suggest to the gentleman that the Pennsylvania Legislature might be guided by the President's suggestion to raise new taxes.

Mr. READINGER. Mr. Speaker, I have no desire to be the last speaker on this matter but the remarks I am about to make now would not have fit at an earlier stage. I desire now to speak about the matter of voting on this bill.

This is the only vehicle by which we can put into operation the making of the appropriations for the necessary functions of the state government; and while I am sure there are many on this side who feel they will and are going to vote no on the bill as a protest against the cuts which have been made in the budget, I am not asking anybody to vote for or against the bill on this side. Personally, I intend to vote for it, not because I like it any better than the rest of my colleagues but because it is the general appropriation bill. It is a different situation from what you would have if you were voting on a tax raising bill. There if you do not believe in the method being proposed, you vote against the bill because you do not want it to become part of the law.

It is necessary that this appropriation bill or some appropriation bill become part of the law. Therefore, I am asking the Members on this side to vote as they see fit. If they believe that a "no" vote will more effectively indicate their protest, then they should vote that way. If they believe, as I do, that we have fully and effectually stated our protests against these cuts, then they will vote for this bill.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows:

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

The SPEAKER. The Chair would like at this time to express his appreciation to the Minority and the Majority Leaders, to the Appropriation Chairman and the Members of his Committee for the very able way that the debate, interrogations, and the amending was conducted. It was very efficiently handled.

The Chair would also like to express his appreciation to the Members of the House for their courtesy, their consideration and their help.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS HOUSE

Mr. JOHNSON asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

Mr. Speaker, I first want to join in what you have said with respect to handling of this general appropriation bill. I think it was handled very well, I agree with you, and very courteously on both sides. I think the issues were very well debated.

I do not want to be a task master or give the membership the idea that we are trying to overwork them, but honestly we have some very, very important bills on this calendar yet for today, appropriation bills, which we feel we must move.

Therefore, I am going to request the Chair to announce a recess for one-half hour and then we will come back here. Let us plan to get out of here, say by 5:00 o'clock, Daylight Saving Time. I believe that will be ample time to clean up the necessary bills that must be passed.

ANNOUNCEMENT

The SPEAKER. The Chair has an important announcement to make concerning committee meetings during the recess.

The following committees will meet during the recess for brief meetings—Five minute meetings the Chair is informed:

Judiciary—Room 145
 Judiciary Special—Room 145
 Labor Relations—Room 323
 Motor Vehicles—Room 522
 Municipal Corporations—Room 521
 Townships—Room 522.

RECESS

The SPEAKER. Without objection, the Chair will now declare a recess until 2:00 o'clock Eastern Standard Time. The Chair hears none.

AFTER RECESS

The time of recess having expired, the House was called to order.

The SPEAKER (W. Stuart Helm) IN THE CHAIR

SENATE MESSAGE

APPROPRIATION BILLS ON THIRD READING

BILLS PASSED OVER

There being no objection

House Bill No. 197, Printer's No. 661

House Bill No. 592, Printer's No. 663 and

House Bill No. 531, Printer's No. 664

were passed over at the request of the SPEAKER.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 692, entitled:

An Act making an appropriation to the Department of Forests and Waters for the payment of expenses incurred in continuing the development operation and maintenance of the Independence Mall in Philadelphia.

On the question,
Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?
Mr. SHERMAN. Mr. Speaker, I ask unanimous consent to offer an amendment at this time.
The SPEAKER. The amendment will be read by the Clerk for information.

Amend Sec. 1, page 1, line 2, by striking out all af said line and inserting in lieu "two million five hundred thousand dollars ($2,500,000)."

The SPEAKER. Will the House give unanimous consent to the offering of an amendment at this time? Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

On the question,
Will the House agree to the amendment?

Mr. SHERMAN. Appropriation bill 692 reduces the appropriation for maintenance of Independence Mall from $2.5 million to $1.5 million per biennium, which is a reduction of 80 percent in the appropriation. I think this amounts to the most astounding reduction that has been talked about in this amendment in the last few days.

Independence Mall not only provides a dignified approach to Independence Hall but stimulates economic activity in the older section of town and receives visitors from all parts of the borough and especially from all parts of the United States who approach Independence Hall. It provides a fitting setting for Independence Hall, and, as stated, stimulates tourist trade unmatched in this country.

There are approximately one million visitors to Independence Hall. Completion of this project will greatly increase the number.

To complete the Mall will cost $8 million. Independence Mall is a part of a co-ordinated program to provide the finest historical development in the country.

The federal government has already spent $8 million and will spend an additional $78 million for clearance costs and historic projects. The City of Philadelphia is scheduled to spend nine million dollars in the next five years as part of its capital program for redevelopment and restoration work in this area. $250 million of private development will proceed in this area.

At the reduced appropriation of $500,000 per biennium, requiring $8 million to complete, it will require 32 years in which to complete this nation's most hallowed shrine which will be surrounded by a pile of rubble.

At the reduced appropriation of $500,000 it meant that the state will be able to buy only one half block of properties. You can readily see what this means. The moment this one-half block of property is bought up, the the other one-half no doubt will greatly increase in value as far as property owners are concerned, and a great and enormous sum will be demanded by the surrounding property owners. Then it will be up to the next Legislature to get around for additional appropriations, and those additional appropriations will mean more than double the amount already appropriated.

I say do not permit your one million visitors per year to Independence Hall, this nation's most Hallowed shrine, to observe an uncompleted ruin or rubble. Let us provide, as citizens of this great Commonwealth, for them to observe this great project which will be of greatest benefit and attraction to our Commonwealth.

In closing I wish to quote your own Majority Leader appealing to the other side of the House. I will give you the statement he made as to how he himself felt about this particular shrine. After quoting that I will ask for as many votes as possible not only on this side of the House but on the other side.

Quoting Mr. Johnson within the last months as follows:

"As a matter of fact, I favor completing the Philadelphia Mall as quickly as possible because I feel the minute that is done, it will clean up that blighted area. You will then see some modern apartment buildings built there that will glorify the Independence Hall area."

I ask both sides of the House to vote in favor of this amendment.

Mr. WOOD. Mr. Speaker, I would like to say to the gentleman that we already asked for $1,050,000 for Independence Mall for the next biennium. There is a continuing appropriation of $500,000 which was left from the $600,000 last year and also another $600,000 available for 1957-1959. In other words there is $1.1 million plus the $500,000 giving the $1.6 million.

Mr. TOLL. Mr. Speaker, I would like to point out to the Chairman of the Appropriation Committee that in the last session there was a request for $1 million of which $600,000 was granted in May. Judge Edwin O. Lewis, who is the Chairman of the Commission, came here every session in order to try to get the money so that this project can be completed. We are up to the South side of Arch Street—those of you that know what Philadelphia is like—where we have to condemn those properties. The tenants do not know whether they are coming or going. The project is not being completed. It is the nation's number one shrine, and the thing is being held up because of this reduction.

It is up to you. If you have any pride at all in Independence Hall, this is your chance to help it along so that it can be completed as quickly as possible.

On the question recurring,
Will the House agree to the amendments?

The yeas and nays were required by Messrs. SHERMAN and TOLL and were as follows:

BILLS PASSED OVER

There being no objection

House Bill No. 1640, Printer's No. 629

House Bill No. 1641, Printer's No. 676 and

House Bill No. 1642, Printer's No. 630

were passed over at the request of the SPEAKER.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1643, entitled:

An Act making an appropriation from the General Fund to the Department of Forests and Waters for the payment of expenses incurred in continuing the development operation and maintenance of the Point Park in Pittsburgh.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. KAMYK. Mr. Speaker, I ask unanimous consent to offer an amendment at this time.

The SPEAKER. The amendment will be read by the Clerk for information.

Amend Sec. 1, page 1, lines 2 and 3, by striking out "five hundred thousand dollars ($500,000)" and inserting in lieu thereof: "one million one hundred ninety-six thousand dollars ($1,196,000)"

The SPEAKER. Will the House give unanimous consent to the offering of an amendment at this time? Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the amendment?

Mr. KAMYK. Mr. Speaker, I am endeavoring to amend House Bill 1643, Printer's No. 677, which bill pertains to an appropriation to Point Park for the purpose of completing Point Park on the site of Fort Duequesne and later Fort Pitt. I am endeavoring to bring the appropriation to the original requests by the Department of Forests and Waters which was $1,196,000.

Members of the House, the amendment that I offered would completely take care of grading and paving of a parking lot, building a parking shed, repairs to Block House and Fort Necessity, laying of water lines, gas lines and electric lines, grading and paving of Short Street and constructing of the Monongahela Bastion.

This has been a bi-partisan program instituted during Governor Martin's Administration and had a bi-partisan support during each legislative session that followed.

There is a bi-partisan citizens' committee that advised the Secretary of Forest and Waters, Dr. Goddard, as to the funds originally requested by the Department with the idea that this project would be completed in time for the opening of the Bicentennial Celebration in 1958.

It is impossible to complete this project with the appropriation as it appears in House Bill 1643. For these reasons I offer the amendments and ask the Members of the House to support the said amendments.

Mr. WOOD. Mr. Speaker, the estimated expenditure in this regard is $500,000. We are asking for $1,196,000. The 200 percent increase over $500,000 should be sufficient.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the amendments?

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. KAMYK and DEVLIN and were as follows:

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1657, entitled:

An Act making an appropriation to the several fire companies of the City of Harrisburg Pennsylvania.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. FARABAUGH. Mr. Speaker, I ask unanimous consent to offer amendments at this time.

The SPEAKER. The amendments will be read by the Clerk for information.

Amend Title, page 1, last line of title, by inserting after "Pennsylvania" and the Borough of Cresson, Pennsylvania

Amend Bill, page 2 by inserting after line 3, the following:

Section 2. The sum of one thousand dollars ($1,000) or as much thereof as may be necessary is hereby specifically appropriated to the fire company of the Borough of Cresson, Pennsylvania for the two fiscal years beginning June first, one thousand nine hundred fifty-seven.

The SPEAKER. Will the House give unanimous consent to the offering of amendments at this time? Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the amendments?

Mr. LOPRESTI. Mr. Speaker, if I understand this bill correctly, it is a bill to appropriate for the use of the Harrisburg Volunteer fire companies the sum of $5,000.

As you older Members know, it has been a continuing battle for the last number of years. We ask to amend this bill, to place it in the sum of $1,000 a biennium for the use of the present volunteer fire companies, and we have gone through this before.

The first question I wish to raise, Mr. Speaker, is whether or not this bill is a preferred—I am sorry I will get to that later.

The appropriations have been made to the volunteer fire companies of the city of Harrisburg. My information at the last session was that this money is given to these various fire companies not for the purpose of buying equipment, because all of the equipment that is used by the volunteer fire companies in the city of Harrisburg is purchased and paid for by the city. The boots, the clothing that they need in fighting fires, are also purchased by the city of Harrisburg. So when these volunteer fire companies get the money, there is no specific purpose for its use. Since the city of Harrisburg is buying all the equipment, since the city of Harrisburg is furnishing all of this money, if the appropriation were being made to the city of Harrisburg, I could find no fault. But the appropriation is not made to the city of Harrisburg, it is made to the various fire companies and divided equally among the fire companies. Those fire companies are not actually city services, they are essentially volunteer groups.

The situation in Cresson, the state maintains a sanitarium at the top of the Cresson Summit. This sanitarium is about a mile from the volunteer fire company in the borough of Cresson. When any fire occurs—and there have been fires occur, believe me—in the Cresson Sanitarium, the only protection they can get for this state property, a good deal of which is wood and frame buildings—a good many of these buildings were built years ago and a lot of frame construction is involved—is from the volunteer fire company of the borough of Cresson.

This volunteer fire company for some years in the past did receive a small appropriation, and, relying upon that appropriation, they bought certain equipment. That particular volunteer fire company has especially powered fire trucks with special gear ratio solely for the purpose of making that trip up to the Cresson Sanitarium.

Now relying, as I have said, upon the appropriation which had been given to them in the past, they have spent a lot of money on this equipment. When that particular appropriation was withdrawn, for many years the citizens of that community had to struggle with the burden of keeping that volunteer fire company going. They do provide fire protection at that sanitarium. They have fire inspection at that sanitarium, they maintain a fire alarm setup at that sanitarium, all of which is done by this volunteer fire company.

We do not believe in view of the fact that an appropriation is being made to one particular area and to the volunteer fire companies in one particular area that there should be discriminatory practice and another area which is providing the same service should receive nothing.

Twice before we have carried this battle to the floor. I think one time we argued until about 2:00 or 3:00 o'clock in the morning. We are not going to do that today. But we feel in all fairness and in justice that either all the fire companies in the Commonwealth who are providing this type of service be given assistance, financial assistance, or none should receive it.

The argument is made sometimes that the local communities wherein these institutions are located should be willing to support the fire companies in return for the fact that they receive that extra employment, that extra help and the extra business in the neighborhood. To that my answer is this, that the city of Harrisburg is doing its share, it is buying the equipment. Were this appropriation to be made to the city of Harrisburg, I would go along with it 100 percent and I would not open my mouth, but since it is not being made to the city of Harrisburg but to the volunteer fire companies, I think they should fall into the same category as all of the other volunteer fire companies in the state.

Mr. HOCKER, Mr. Speaker, I have to oppose these amendments, not particularly because I want to, but like Mr. Lopresti I have been over this road many times. Every year this same thing happens.

I suggest to the gentleman from Cambria that he introduce his own bill. We have bills on this calendar for hospitals, Philadelphia, Pittsburgh, and no one tries to amend and put in another hospital.

As far as this money not going to the fire companies, that is true, it goes for a better purpose. This money goes into the Harrisburg Fire Department, which is composed of volunteer men with the exception of the drivers. This goes into their retirement and relief fund and it is for the men. If a fire happens on Capitol Hill or in any of the state institutions in Harrisburg, it is for the men who might get hurt at that fire. I do not think it will be the driver who is paid by the city of Harrisburg, I rather think it would be the men that go up on the building.

So my suggestion to Mr. Lopresti, and I am sincere, would be not to try to amend the Harrisburg bill, but to put in a bill of their own in each instance.

Mr. LOPRESTI. Mr. Speaker, I appreciate the suggestion made by the gentleman from Dauphin and I like the gentleman from Dauphin, but I do not like him to kid me.

I know I could put in a bill. I have realized that for a long time. As I say, at one time Cresson did get something, but now they do not. I realize, too, that if I were to introduce a bill it would be buried along with a lot of other bills which might be introduced.

I agree with the cause the gentleman is speaking of, but I want him to state to me what the difference would be between a fireman from Harrisburg who was a volunteer getting injured and a volunteer fireman from Cresson getting injured protecting this Cresson Sanitarium.

In other words, the cause is worthy. I do not complain about the appropriation itself, I merely complain about the fact that there is no equality, that you expect one outfit to do it for nothing and at the same time you want to give another outfit doing the same kind of service an appropriation.

As I say, I am not speaking against the Harrisburg appropriation. I am merely trying to amend this bill so that we can add Cresson to it. I believe Harrisburg is entitled to it. I will not argue they are not.

That is not the question, I am merely presenting the fact that if Harrisburg is entitled to it, then Cresson is also entitled to it. All I am asking now is that you add a simple $1,000 to this bill, in view of the fact that they have gone to considerable trouble, to additional expense, to accommodate Commonwealth property.

Mr. HOCKER. Mr. Speaker, I hope the gentleman from Cambria, Mr. Lopresti, did not get the idea that I was saying that if a man from Cambria County got hurt fighting fires he was any different from a man in Harrisburg. That was not my argument. My argument was that I thought he was inferring that the money was used in a foolish manner when he said it did not go to buy boots, and so on. That I will agree to, but I think it goes to a better purpose.

I again suggest to the gentleman that if he wants to put such a bill in, I will add my support, but I do not think every time this bill comes up in this House—and I have seen it happen, like he, at 2:00 o'clock in the morning, and any old time—we should battle about it. I suggest that he just leave us alone and put his own bill in.

Mr. ANDREWS. I would like to interrogate the gentleman from Dauphin, Mr. Hocker.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Dauphin, Mr. Hocker, permit himself to be interropated?

Mr. HOCKER. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. ANDREWS. I would ask whether the fate of this bill was in any way involved in the haste to get the general appropriation bill passed?

I would refresh the gentleman's memory by recalling the fact that at one late hour essential legislation, and I think it was a general appropriation bill, could not move until the House had agreed to tack Cresson on to the Harrisburg bill. It was this little bill we think, that determined the haste in getting this bill over there, over to the other chamber?

Mr. HOCKER. In answer to the gentleman's question I think that was one time that we had to give. But if I remember correctly, it was taken out in the Senate. I think Cresson was taken out in the Senate.

Mr. ANDREWS. It had to go clear to the front office to get taken out. It did go out. But you know there might come a time when we want to get some recognition and there are various ways of going about it. Do you not think you might save time ultimately if you let this amendment in?

Mr. HOCKER. No, I do not think so. I think Mr. Lopresti is satisfied, I think I am satisfied and I think the best thing to do would be just to pass it and send it over there.

Mr. ANDREWS. You know there are a lot of these bills I have not had time to read and I might want the desk to read them.

Mr. HOCKER. Mr. Andrews, my answer to you is this, knowing you like I do, I do not think that you would do that.

Mr. ANDREWS. You do not know the depths of my parliamentary iniquities. I have not trotted them out yet.

Mr. LOPRESTI. Mr. Speaker, twice before we have had this particular bill amended and twice we have had included in the bill the Cresson Volunteer Fire Company. At one time we had several of them included. Twice we have succeeded in getting it through both the House and Senate, and then one time the item was eliminated by former Governor Fine and the second time we had it put through it was eliminated by Governor Leader.

I still come back to the fact, however, that it is not justice.

PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Mr. AUKER. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a parliamentary inquiry.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state it.

Mr. AUKER. Before I state my inquiry, I should like to read the constitutional provision on preferred and non-preferred bills:

Section 17 of the Constitution of Pennsylvania provides:

No appropriation shall be made to any charitable or educational institution not under the absolute control of the Commonwealth, other than normal schools established by law for the professional training of teachers for the public schools of the State, except by a vote of two-thirds of all the members elected to each House.

My point of inquiry is, Mr. Speaker, who decides whether a bill is preferred or non-preferred?

The SPEAKER. In reply to the gentleman from Blair, Mr. Auker, the Legislative Reference Bureau, the legal arm of this Legislature, has been consulted with respect to all of the appropriation bills on the calendar. They have marked those that are preferred and those that are not preferred, those that require a two-thirds vote and those that do not.

Mr. AUKER. Another parliamentary inquiry, Mr. Speaker.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will stat it.

Mr. AUKER. Is there anything provided in the Rules for an appeal from a decision of the Legislative Reference Bureau as passed on to the officers of the House?

The SPEAKER. For the information of the gentleman, this House has the right to make that decision for itself.

PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Mr. ANDREWS. I rise to a parliamentary inquiry.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state it.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, is not any Member who is so inclined in a position to raise the question of constitutionality concerning any measure pending on the floor?

The SPEAKER. The gentleman is absolutely right. Any Member has that privilege.

Mr. READINGER. Mr. Speaker, on this point I would like to comment that it does not matter particularly whether it is preferred or non-preferred. If it gets 140 votes, that is all it needs.

Our intention was not to bring up any so-called non-preferred appropriation bills prior to the passage or rejection of the preferred, but I am perfectly willing to accept the word of the Legislative Reference Bureau that this particular bill is a non-preferred. I say even though it happens to be preferred, or this one is a preferred appropriation, but even if it were the reverse, if it gets 140 votes, that is all that is required.

Mr. LOPRESTI. Mr. Speaker, at this point I do not know whether I am willing to accept the statement just made by the Minority Leader. However, I did want to point out that we are now discussing the amendment. I had hoped to raise the question of the constitutionality of the required vote after the amendment has been acted upon.

On the question recurring,
Will the House agree to the amendments?

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. FARABAUGH and LOPRESTI and were as follows:

NOT VOTING—9

Anderson, S. A.,	Kornick,	Price,	Wheeler,
Erb,	Mihm,	Strausser,	Williams,
Heavey,

So the question was determined in the negative and the amendments were not agreed to.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. LOPRESTI. Mr. Speaker, I raise the question whether the bill which we are going to vote upon is a preferred or a non-preferred appropriation in order that we can determine whether we shall need 106 votes or 140 votes?

The SPEAKER. It is the understanding of the Chair that the question is being raised under Article III, Section 17, of the Constitution, which is covered by Rule No. 44 of the House Rules.

The Chair will read the provisions:

"Appropriations to Institutions Not State Owned.

"No bills shall be passed appropriating money to any charitable or educational institution not under the absolute control of the Commonwealth, except by a vote of two-thirds of all Members elected."

The Chair is required to submit a constitutional question of the membership of the House, which the Chair now does.

The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Cambria, Mr. Lopresti.

Mr. LOPRESTI. I yield to the gentleman from Cambria, Mr. Andrews.

Mr. ANDREWS. I want to say that I request an "aye" and "nay" vote on this and all subsequent roll calls.

Mr. LOPRESTI. Mr. Speaker, we have a constitutional provision which has been read on the floor of this House. I think if each one of us is going to be sincere in our desire to uphold the constitutional provision, and if each one of us is going to be sincere and abide by the Rules of this House, I wish to read Rule 44:

"No bill shall be passed appropriating money to any charitable or educational institution not under the absolute control of the Commonwealth, except by the vote of two-thirds of all Members elected."

That again repeats the constitutional provision. There is no question at all about the fact that the volunteer fire companies of the city of Harrisburg, to whom this money will go, are corporations organized under the particular sections of our laws dealing with beneficial, charitable and educational institutions, or what is known as first class corporations. There is no doubt about that at all.

Further, there is absolutely no doubt that the Commonwealth has no control whatsoever of those organizations. They cannot by any stretch of imagination be said to be under the control of this Commonwealth.

I do not know how we can make them anything else but charitable organizations, volunteer organizations such as they are.

If we are going to uphold our Constitution, if we are going to uphold the Rules of this House, if we are going to be honest with ourselves, we can do nothing else but vote that this particular bill is a non-preferred appropriation.

The SPEAKER. The question for this House to decide is whether this bill requires a two-thirds vote or a constitutional majority, which is 106.

Those voting "aye" vote that the bill requires a vote of 140, or a two-thirds vote of the House.

Those voting "no" vote that it requires a constitutional vote of 106

For what purpose does the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. McCormack, rise?

Mr. McCORMACK. Mr. Speaker, apparently I did not follow this too well. I do not think I have heard anyone say that this particular bill was a preferred appropriation. I heard you discuss the Legislative Reference Bureau and the decisions they make as to whether a bill is non-preferred or preferred.

I did not understand anyone to say that this bill was a preferred appropriation? I would like to ask the Majority Leader whether or not this bill—

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman yield for a moment?

The Legislative Reference Bureau has advised the Chair and the Majority and the Minority Leaders through the Chair that this bill is a preferred appropriation requiring a vote of 106 Members.

Mr. McCORMACK. Mr. Speaker, I would like to ask the Majority Leader whether in his opinion this is a preferred appropriation?

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from McKean, Mr. Johnson, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. JOHNSON. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

I believe this is a preferred appropriation and it requires just a constitutional majority of 106 votes, because the organization receiving the funds is not a charitable organization, it is not an educational organization. The purpose of the money is to preserve and protect state property. So we would consider it as just an ordinary appropriation requiring 106 votes.

Mr. McCORMACK. Mr. Speaker, that is a non sequitur, is it not, because it is not an educational organization or a charitable organization? It is therefore controlled exclusively by the Commonwealth. Is not that a non sequitur? I am asking the Majority Leader that?

Mr. JOHNSON. Mr. Speaker, I have given my opinion based on the Constitution, and I think it is clearly not a non-preferred item.

Mr. McCORMACK. It is a non-preferred item?

Mr. JOHNSON. Yes, I said it is clearly not a non-preferred item. Therefore, it would make it a preferred item.

Mr. McCORMACK. Then, Mr. Speaker, will the gentleman state to this House in what way this fire company is subject to the Commonwealth other than any corporation organized and incorporated under the laws of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania? In what way is it subject to the control of this Commonwealth?

Mr. JOHNSON. I am sorry, I believe I would have to get the provision of the Constitution before me.

I might say to the membership that while this debate was going on I called the Reference Bureau to get the reasoning back of their declaring it only requires 106 votes. What I have stated here is the opinion given to us by our lawyers, you might say, that it requires 106 votes. It being neither a charitable nor an educational institution and the money is to go, as the bill states, to the protection of state property, that is considered an appropriation requiring only 106 votes. The purpose is for protecting state property rather than the fire companies.

Mr. McCORMACK. The only question I would like an answer to is this, Mr. Speaker. In what way is the voluntary fire company of Harrisburg subject to the control of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania?

The SPEAKER. Does the gentleman desire to interrogate anyone else?

PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Mr. READINGER. I rise to a parliamentary inquiry.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state it.

Mr. READINGER. Mr. Speaker, do we have a written opinion from the Legislative Reference Bureau as to which category this bill falls into?

The SPEAKER. We have only a memorandum from the Legislative Reference Bureau on which the Bureau

-------------------------------------	-------------------	----------------------	-----------------------

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

Mr. READINGER. Mr. Speaker, I suggest that we return to page 12 of today's calendar, House Bill 7814, which was passed over temporarily.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 714, entitled:

An Act making an appropriation for the maintenance repair and improvement of the Port of Philadelphia.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. FINEMAN. Mr. Speaker, I ask unanimous consent to offer an amendment at this time.

The SPEAKER. The amendment will be read by the Clerk for information.

Amend Sec. 1, page 1, lines 1 and 2, by striking out "Nine Hundred Thousand Dollars ($900,000)" and inserting in lieu "one million dollars ($1,000,000)".

The SPEAKER. Will the House give unanimous consent to the offering of an amendment at this time? Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the amendment?

Mr. FINEMAN. Mr. Speaker, these amendments seek to restore the sum of $100,000 to the appropriation for the repair, maintenance and improvement of the port of the city of Philadelphia.

Frankly, I cannot wax too hopeful that I can induce the Members who sit on the other side of the aisle to support the amendments in the light of the experience we have had thus far on these appropriation bills. If they have closed their hearts to the plaintive cry of the distressed, certainly I do not know how I can induce them to support these amendments for improvement of the Port of Philadelphia.

Nevertheless, I feel compelled to make some argument on behalf of these amendments because possibly they have the right to be informed of the importance of the Port of Philadelphia to the overall economy, not only to the city but to the state. We hear much talk about holding the line on taxes and doing what we can to encourage industry to remain in the Commonwealth and not to chase it out. Well, here is an opportunity for the Legislators to do something to help the manufacturers and to help industry in the state of Pennsylvania.

You all know manufacturers are dependent upon the securing of their raw materials for the manufacture of their products at competitive prices in order to stay in business, and the maintenance of an up-to-date port, with all the facilities that are needed in an up-to-date port, helps that end.

I would like to bring into the record, briefly, if I may, portions of a presentation that were made by Louis C. Purdy, Deputy Director of Commerce of the Port and Industrial Development, relative to the importance of the port of Philadelphia to the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, Mr. Purdy states as follows:

The Philadelphia port area comprises the Counties of Philadelphia, Delaware, Bucks, Montgomery and Chester. This area, although representing less than five percent of the total land area of the Commonwealth nevertheless contains a very large portion of those items of real importance to the overall economy of the Commonwealth. Specifically, these items are as follows: 30 percent of the population; 31 percent of persons employed in manufacturing; 32 percent of capital invested in industry; 33 percent of retail trade; 33 percent of value of industrial production and 34 percent of the industrial establishments of the entire Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

The port not only provides a ready access to the world's shipping lanes for the products of Pennsylvania's farms, mines and factories, but the activities of this great port, the second largest in the nation, provide employment for many thousands of persons and bring many hundreds of millions of dollars to the state annually. A study of the water-borne commerce for the year 1950 showed that the activities of the port of Philadelphia contributed over $400 million in direct income to the immediate port area, dollars which would not circulate here if it were not for the port. Since 1950 tonnage of the port has increased over ten percent. It is estimated that revenue per ton has also increased from ten to 15 percent. A conservative estimate places the direct income contribution of the Port of Philadelphia to the area's economy as over one-half million dollars in 1954.

A tremendous amount of deferred maintenance must be accomplished in all sections of the port as rapidly as possible. This accounts for the majority of the appropriations.

As an example, they pick out Pier No. 3, South, which is adjacent to the old ferry terminal at the foot of Market Street which has been an eye sore for many years, the breaking off of the old piling during high tides throws hazardous flotsam (and I am sure everyone knows what "flotsam" is) into the river channel from time to time. This is representative of a number of piers of the harbor, both publicly and privately owned, which are rapidly approaching this stage of decomposition. Every effort must be made to remove these objectionable structures from the water front.

The Philadelphia area is the third greatest urban area in the United States, and the development of its important economic base is a matter of concern not only to the city but to the Commonwealth since the area provides such a major source of state revenue.

We are only asking for a restoration of $100,000, and I would ask the Members of this House to support these amendments and let us not engage in false economy but be adamant about this cut.

Mr. JOHNSON. Mr. Speaker, I will be very brief about this particular appropriation.

As you know Philadelphia has given us a list of five or six things that they would like this Session. They were asked, what is the priority thing you would really like. At the top of the list was this million dollar request for the new marine depot in the harbor down at the Port of Philadelphia. The appropriation was put in at $900,000.

This is the first time that that particular agency or project appeared in our budget. It takes its place along with the Philadelphia Mall, Point Park and a lot of other things that have crept into our state budget down through the years and is one of the things that is causing the state budget to spiral higher, higher and higher.

I thought that perhaps if the amendment of the gentleman was to take the $900,000 and give it to the mentally ill in Philadelphia where there is such a deplorable situation, but we are not, of course, going to harp on 'hat. Suffice it to say we feel this $900,000 is a meritorious appropriation for a purpose down there that will benefit not only the city of Philadelphia but the entire hinterland surrounding the city. That marine depot is going to be a great thing for Pennsylvania and for Philadelphia.

We ask that you vote down this amendment. We are giving you $900,000. It is a new appropriation. It is one of the things that is swelling this budget, and I think you should be pleased to get $900,000. We ask you to vote the amendments down.

Mr. ISAACS. Mr. Speaker, just one brief comment concerning these amendments..

As you know, the Port of Philadelphia for some years has extended to the Delaware line. We have a port, or we had one, in the city of Chester. Since we have come under the Philadelphia Port Authority there has been no money spent to improve our port facilities; and when some of this money starts that way, I might be inclined to vote for the gentleman's amendment.

However, I will agree with all he says about the Port of Philadelphia. It is a wonderful port, but we in Delaware County would certainly like some consideration by the Port Authority for the city of Chester.

Mr. TOLL. Mr. Speaker, in answer to the statement made by the Majority Leader concerning a new appropriation, the appropriation appears as one which was also made in 1955 in the sum of $900,000. Secondly, as far as the great need for mental health in Philadelphia is concerned there is a great need, but we may be able to find other bills that are coming up from which we could withdraw the money so that we could use it for what Philadelphia needs, bills which are applied to the remainder of the state so that we can get our share.

Mr. McCORMACK. Mr. Speaker, just a one sentence answer to the gentleman from Delaware, Mr. Isaacs.

I want to point out, Mr. Speaker, that the Port Authority has not spent one cent on the Philadelphia side either. They have spent all the money for the building of bridges. It is the city of Philadelphia itself that has spent the money, so we are both in the same category as far as that goes.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the amendments?

The yeas and nays were required by Messrs. FINE-MAN and AMARANDO and were as follows:

BILL PASSED OVER

There being no objection

House Bill No. 1663, Printer's No. 679

was passed over at the request of the SPEAKER.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1665, entitled:

An Act making an appropriation to the Department of Property and Supplies for armory renovation and repair under certain conditions.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. READINGER. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Lancaster, Mr. Wood.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Lancaster, Mr. Wood, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. WOOD. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. READINGER. Mr. Speaker, I desire to ask the gentleman the amount of the reduction in this bill, and the reason for it.

Mr. WOOD. Mr. Speaker, I understand it is $500,000 in the bill, and the original bill was $1,171,250. The bill originally called for the construction of a new armory, we amended it for maintenance, preservation, and so forth.

Mr. READINGER. In other words, the House Appropriations Committee cut out any money for new construction.

Mr. WOOD. That is correct.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Mr. READINGER. Mr. Speaker, I have one question I would like to ask the Chairman of the Appropriations Committee.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Lancaster, Mr. Wood, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. WOOD. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. READINGER. Am I correct in believing the Governor's recommendation was $35,000 for this appropriation and the bill calls for an appropriation of $35,000?

Mr. WOOD. That is correct.

Mr. READINGER. I thank the gentleman.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1674, entitled:

An Act making an appropriation to the Pennsylvania Historical and Museum Commission for the maintenance and development of the Pennsylvania Farm Museum of Landis Valley.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. READINGER. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate the gentleman from Lancaster, Mr. Wood.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Lancaster, Mr. Wood, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. WOOD. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. READINGER. Mr. Speaker, I desire to ask the gentleman whether the Governor's recommendation for this appropriation was $100,000 and whether it was not cut to $50,000?

Mr. WOOD. That is correct. I believe the gentleman is hitting below the belt. I will yield to Mr. Hocker.

Mr. READINGER. The gentleman has answered my question, I do not need Mr. Hocker now.

I would like to ask this one question now, what the reason was for cutting this appropriation in half? I understand the Museum Commission has a great need of a building or two to house the exhibits they have ready to display, but cannot for lack of building facilities.

Mr. HOCKER. I will tell you why that was cut, Mr. Speaker, in the Appropriations Committee. This was another one where the boss bled and died. We found out there was some money in this fund and we said he would have to take the same medicine as the rest of the people, so we cut him from $100,000 to $50,000.

Mr. READINGER. May I inquire of the gentleman what happened when the $35,000 for Ephrata Cloisters was up for consideration?

Mr. HOCKER. He does not live in that immediate vicinity, so we were not so rough on him.

Mr. READINGER. I thank the gentleman.

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1675, entitled:

An Act making an appropriation to the Pennsylvania Historical and Museum Commission for the maintenance and development of the Daniel Boone Homestead.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. READINGER. I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Dauphin, Mr. Hocker.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman from Berks, Mr. Readinger, desires to interrogate the gentleman from Dauphin, Mr. Hocker.

Mr. READINGER. May I ask the gentleman whether he was present during the consideration of this bill in the House Committee?

Mr. HOCKER. I think I was because I do not think I missed any.

Mr. READINGER. I desire to ask the gentleman whether the recommended appropriation for the Daniel Boone Homestead in Berks County was $55,000 and whether it was not cut down to $20,000.

Mr. HOCKER. That is right, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. READINGER. May I inquire whether $20,000 was the appropriation for the biennium just ending?

Mr. HOCKER. We found out there is $15,000 of a continuing appropriation, which will bring that up to $35,000, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. READINGER. Continuing from what?

Mr. HOCKER. It is a continuing fund.

Mr. READINGER. Can you give me the page and book number in which I can find that continuing fund?

Mr. HOCKER. No, but you will find the money down there with Daniel Boone.

Mr. READINGER. I thank the gentleman.

Mr. READINGER. Mr. Speaker, I am not going to take any time of the House for this matter, but it has been my understanding as a member of the Board of Trustees of that institution that they have desperate need for some small additional building program to make it a much better shrine for people to visit.

I would like to point out to the House, and I do not think it is hitting below the belt, that Berks County's institution of the Daniel Boone Homestead should sometime be given just a little more than the bare maintenance costs so they can build it as it was originally intended to be built.

I am not opposing this bill, but I do hope some day we have more generous treatment on this homestead.

Mr. WOOD. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate the gentleman from Berks, Mr. Readinger.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Berks, Mr. Readinger, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. READINGER. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. WOOD. Mr. Readinger, are you a member of the General State Authority?

Mr. READINGER. I am.

Mr. WOOD. I have been trying for the last three or four years to get an appropriation out of the General State Authority to rebuild a lot of these historical places.

Mr. READINGER. I appreciate the gentleman's efforts. We will give you every consideration.

On the question recurring,

Anderson, S. A.,	Kornick,	Price,	Wheeler,
Erb,	Mihm,	Strausser,	Williams,
Heavey,

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1688, entitled:

An Act making appropriations to the Department of Public Assistance and providing for certain allocations therefrom for the purpose of carrying out the Public Assistance Law for the two fiscal years beginning June first one thousand nine hundred fifty-seven and for the payment of assistance and expenses accrued or incurred prior to and remaining unpaid on May thirty-first one thousand nine hundred fifty-seven and limiting the amount thereof available for administrative expenses.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to,

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. READINGER. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate either the Chairman of the Appropriations Committee or the gentleman from Dauphin, Mr. Hocker.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Lancaster,

Mr. Wood, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. WOOD. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. READINGER. Will the gentleman inform the House of the amount of the reduction for the Department of Public Assistance and the reasons for it?

Mr. WOOD. It is increased about $7 million over what they spent the last biennium.

Mr. READINGER. There was a reduction from the Governor's budget of approximately $3,280,000, was there not?

Mr. WOOD. It was reduced from $145,881,210 to $144,600,000. That is the big appropriation.

Mr. READINGER. About $1,200,000 on the assistance and administration, is that not right, and exactly $2 million on salaries and expenses?

Mr. WOOD. That is correct.

Mr. READINGER. May I ask whether the Committee considers the amount allotted for salaries and expenses to be sufficient with a $2 million reduction in view of the budget request of $4 million?

Mr. WOOD. They can use money out of the Federal fund. The $2 million is state funds and they can use Federal funds to make up the difference.

Mr. READINGER. Will the gentleman explain why the Budget Office would request $4,118,000 when the House committee considers $2 million sufficient?

Mr. WOOD. It is based on what they spent. They spent $1,530,000 and we gave them $2,118,000.

Mr. READINGER. Does the gentleman desire to amplify the explanation any further?

Mr. WOOD. Their appropriation out of the general Fund last biennium was $1,530,000 and the $2,118,380 was taken out of the big appropriation which includes Federal funds which they use on these county organizations.

Mr. READINGER. Mr. Speaker, I am not trying to delay or be facetious, but there seems to be such a terrific difference between the amount the Governor's budget called for salaries and expenses and the amount the House Appropriations Committee in this bill is recommending, a difference of $2 million. It seems to me to be a matter that should be explained in some way. That is why I asked the gentleman if there were any further statements he would like to make.

Mr. WOOD. The $2,118,800 is in the general appropriations bill; it is not in this bill.

Mr. READINGER. You mean there are other funds appropriated to this department in the general appropriation bill?

Mr. WOOD. The money for the operation of the Department of Public Assistance is in the general appropriation bill at state headquarters, and the rest of the money goes for the subsidies and the operation of the local departments in the counties.

Mr. READINGER. I thank the gentleman.

Mr. TOLL. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate the Chairman of the Appropriations Committee.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Lancaster, Mr. Wood, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. WOOD. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. TOLL. Mr. Speaker, did I understand the gentleman to say that the money for the administration of the counties, as for example Philadelphia County, is contained in this bill which is now before the House?

Mr. WOOD. That is correct.

Mr. TOLL. This particular fund represents more than a 50 percent reduction in the amount needed for administration, is that so?

Mr. WOOD. Will the gentleman repeat the question, please?

Mr. TOLL. The amount available here represents a reduction in the amount requested for administration in Philadelphia County?

Mr. WOOD. This is a subsidy bill and last year they spent $137,387.00 and we are giving them $144,600,000.

Mr. TOLL. How much did they ask for?

Mr. WOOD. $145 million, something like that.

Mr. TOLL. Did they not present it to you, Mr. Speaker, in a manner which indicated that if they had more money for administration they would be able to reduce the case load for the visitors and thereby save money which is being given for assistance?

Mr. WOOD. The case load is decreasing, so they really do not need as much money as they did in the last session.

Mr. TOLL. Thank you, Mr. Wood.

Mr. Speaker, I would like to make this observation. The Chairman of the Appropriations Committee indicates that the case load is decreasing. The members of the Philadelphia delegation were invited to attend a meeting of the Philadelphia County Board, which occurred in December of 1956. It was indicated that the case load is twice as heavy in Philadelphia as it should be and that if the case load was reduced by 50 percent they would be able to do a better job. Instead of giving out as much money as they are giving now because they cannot properly cover the load, they would probably save money for the Commonwealth. This is not just for people who are out of work, this is for old-age, blind, aid to dependent children and the disabled.

I think that cutting in this particular case on administration is false economy, because when you cut on administration you get a poorer job in the field and consequently you are just handing out more money because it is impossible for a visitor to cover the territory.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows:

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS HOUSE

Mr. WOOD asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

Mr. Speaker, I am informed that Governor Leader's Office has been making inquiries at the Auditor General's Department about the staff of the House Appropriations Committee.

If Governor Leader wanted this information, he did not have to go to the Auditor General's Department to get it, all he had to do was to come and ask me.

I understand the Auditor General sent this information over to the Governor this afternoon, but I have later information than you can get there, so I am going to give it to you. I only hope that Governor Leader will reciprocate and tell me who is on his payroll and for what salary and what the other expenses of his office are. As I said this morning, we have been trying all session to get this information, and to date I have not received it.

At present the regular staff of the Appropriations Committee consists of three people who are:

Truman B. Thompson, who received $3,750.03 in salary from January 1st to May 15, 1957.

Barbara H. Salinger, who received $1,874.97 in salary from January 1st to May 15, 1957.

Mary E. Glattacker, who was hired on February 18, 1957 and received $1,000.02 in salary from that date to May 15, 1957.

During the period we were holding budget hearings, there were two additional persons on the staff. They were:

Martin H. Brackbill, who received $2,500.02 in salary from February 16th to May 15, 1957.

Edward S. Ervin, who received $1,278.80 in salary from February 25th to April 30, 1957.

Mr. Brackbill went on the House Appropriations Committee payroll as a budget analyst 1 on February 16, 1957 and worked three months, leaving the Committee on May 15, 1957. At the time I employed him I asked George Bloom, Republican State Chairman, to release him to help the Committee, at the suggestion of a number of Members on this side of the House.

He consented to come with the Committee on the condition he would be completely separated from the Republican State Committee and also at a sacrifice in salary.

The same was true of Mr. Ervin. I requested his services from former Auditor General, Charles R. Barber. Mr. Ervin took leave from the Auditor General's Department and came with the Committee, remaining until May 1st when he returned to the Auditor General's Department.

I requested his services because of his long familiarity with the Department of Welfare where he was Comptroller and later Deputy Secretary for many years. He devoted all his time while with the Appropriations Committee making a complete and exhaustive analysis of present expenditures in that Department and the needs during the coming biennium.

The information he developed along with information developed from many other sources helped the Committee a great deal in its work.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS HOUSE

Mr. ANDREWS asked and obtained unaimous consent to address the House.

Mr. Speaker, The Chairman of the Appropriation Committee has detailed the personnel which has assisted the Committee during recent months. Even though the Committee had the invaluable help of the gentleman from Dauphin, Mr. Hocker, who became the specialist on unexpended balances and has practically, as a result of his researches, managed to finance the next biennium, the fact remains that no Legislature in the United States, in a state comparable in any way with Pennsylvania, endeavors to function through an Appropriations Committee so scantily served by way of staff as the Committee in Pennsylvania.

You have heard a revealing confession, for which the Chairman of the Appropriation Committee is not responsible, but for which over the years this General Assembly has been responsible. I can say to the oldtimers that I have been one of those who through the years has said if this is to be a $2 billion budget state, we need a staff for our Appropriations Committee competent to handle that kind of business. No corporation handling that amount of money would attempt to do it with such a narrow staff of specilists.

If this General Assembly does nothing else, in deference to its duty to the future, in deference to its duty to the taxpayers of this Commonwealth, and in furthering its own dignity and establishing responsibility as a body that speaks with authority, it will proceed in an orderly manner to augment the staff and give the Chairman of the Appropriations Committee an organization that will make it possible to digest the information that comes before it.

The members of the committee will not confess their inability to digest the immense amount of information poured upon them. Perhaps they know they could not digest it. They know that they had to make guesses concerning the allocation of money in the Departments without having the basic information to know whether the statements made by the heads of the Departments were telling the real facts.

I say this confession of our inadequacy having been placed upon the record, I hope this General Assembly proceeds to give the Chairman of the Appropriations Committee, whoever he may be, sufficient tools to do a good job.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS HOUSE

Mr. JOHNSON asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

Mr. Speaker, I am old "Simon Legree" again, driving and pushing.

We would like to announce that we plan on a five-day session next week. If we can have five days next week and six days the following week, that will give us 11 legislative days in which to, we hope, wind up the business of the Session.

It is very important, therefore, that the Membership come prepared to be here five days next week with the view of being here six days the following week so that we can meet our adjournment target date of June 15th.

Mr. READINGER. I desire to interrogate the Majority Leader, Mr. Johnson.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from McKean, Mr. Johnson, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. JOHNSON. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. READINGER. Will the session of next Friday be a no consent, non-controversial day?

Mr. JOHNSON. That particular type of expression has been stricken out of all the annals of the Legislature, and we do not comprehend any such definition.

Mr. READINGER. The gentleman may have misunderstood my question. I realize we have no more consent calendars, but I wanted to know whether it is a no consent, non-controversial day?

Mr. JOHNSON. I think a lot will depend upon the situation next Friday. I realize there have been times on the last day of the week when, while it was not a consent calendar, in effect just non-controversial bills rolled. If it is going to mean losing a legislative day, we would move controversial legislation on Friday.

Mr. READINGER. You reserve the right to move any bill on Friday, is that it?

Mr. JOHNSON. That is about the way it adds up.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the Majority Leader, Mr. Johnson.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from McKean, Mr. Johnson, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. JOHNSON. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. ANDREWS. What are the odds in the Majority Leader's book that this General Assembly adjourns sine die in two weeks? I would like to know, because I would like to speculate a little.

Mr. JOHNSON. In answer to the gentleman, I would say that in my book the odds are pretty good that we will get out.

Of course, I realize that the trump card is held by Mr. Readinger at the present time. When he plays that card, then I tell you whether we are getting out or not, because we have these appropriations bills on the calendar which require 140 votes and we just do not have 140 votes. So over the weekend he is going to search his conscience and if those bills move Monday and Tuesday, why I will say we will be out of here a flyin' on the 15th.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, the Majority Leader has not stated the odds in his book. I want to speculate. If he will state the odds, I will see him privately, if he will just state the odds, what odds he is offering.

The SPEAKER. The Chair would advise the gentleman that the bookmakers are quoting better than even.

Mr. JOHNSON. That is about it, I would say it is a 50-50 chance.

The SPEAKER. What does the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Amarando, think about the odds?

Mr. AMARANDO. The brains back east say it is about 140 to 70.

The SPEAKER. The Chair thanks the gentleman for the expert advice.
